thousand men that drew sword.

6 But the Leuites and Ben amin counted he not among them: for the kings word was abominable to Ioab.

7 ¶ And God was displeased wth th s th ng: therefore he smote Israel.

8 Then Dauid said vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, remove the iniquity of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

Or. Prophet.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids Seer, saying,

10 Go and tell Dauid, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may doe vnto thee.

11 So Gad came to Dauid, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thee,

Or. smite thee.

12 Either three yeres famine, or three moneths to be destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sword of thine enemies to || take thee, or else the sword of the Lord and pestilence in the land three dayes, that the Angel of the Lord may destroy throughout al the coasts of Israel: now therfore aduise thee, what word I shall bring againe to him that sent me.

13 And Dauid said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull straie, let me now fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroy it. And as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and repented of the euill, and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now enough, Let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of || Ornan the Iebusite.

2. 16. g. When God draweth backe his plagues, hee seemeth to repent, Reade Gen. 6. 6. Or. Abramab.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the earth and the heauen, wth the sword drawn in his hand and stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israel which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euill, but these sheepe what haue they done? O Lord my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on me and on my fathers house, and not on thy people for their destruction.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should goe vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about, and saw the Angel, and his four sonnes that were with him hid themselves, and Ornan threshed wheate.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw Dauid, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid said to Ornan, Giue mee the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 Then Ornan said vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King doe that which seemeth him good: loe, I giue thee bullocks for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheate for meate offering, I giue it all.

24 And King Dauid sayd to Ornan, Not so: but I will buy it, or sufficient money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place sixe hundred shekels of gold by weight.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and he answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, hee put vp his sword againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when Dauid saw that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite then he sacrificed there.

29 (But the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moyses had made in the wildeste, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the high place at Gibeon.)

30 And Dauid could not goe before it to aske counsell at God: for hee was afraid of the sword of the Angel of the Lord.)

CHAP. XXII.

a David prepareth things necessary for the building of the Temple. b He commaundeth his sonne Salomon to build the Temple of the Lord, which thing he himselfe is forbidden to doe. c Under the figure of salomon Christ is promised.

AND Dauid said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

3 Dauid also prepared much yron for the nailes of the doores and of the gates, and for the ioyning, and abundance of brasse passing weight.

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians, and they of Tyrus brought much cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid said, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and wee must build an house for the Lord, magnificall, excellent, and of great fame and dignity throughout all countreies, I will therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.

6 Then hee called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And Dauid said to Salomon, My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to build an house to the Name of the Lord my God.

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, * Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt not build an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Behold, a sonne is borne to thee which shall be a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemies round about, therefore his name is Salomon: and I will send peace and quietnesse vpon Israel in his dayes.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Dauid being olde, ordaineth Salomon King. 3 Hee causeth the Leuites to be numbered. 4 And assigneth them to their offices.
13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the hie Priest. 14 The sonnes of Moyses.

So when Dauid was old and full of dayes, * he made Salomon his sonne king ouer Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priests and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbered from the age of thirtie yeere and aboue, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set to aduance the worke of the house of the Lord, and sixe thousand were ouer-seers and Iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, and foure thousand praised the Lord with instruments which † he made to praise the Lord.

6 So Dauid diuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leui, to * Gershom, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershomites were † Laadan and Shimei.
8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Ichiel, and Ietham, and Ioel, three.

9 The sonnes of Shimei, Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haram, three: These were the chiefe fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimei were Tahath, Zina, Ieuth, and Beriah: these foure were the sonnes of Shimei.

11 And Iahiah was the chiefe, and † Zizai the second, but Ieuth & Beriah had not many sonnes:
therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Vzziel, foure.

13 * The sonnes of Amram, Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was separated to sanctifie the most holy place, and his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for euer.

14 ¶ Moses also the man of God and his children were named with the tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moles were Gershom, and Eliezer.

16 Of the sonnes of * Gershom was Shebuel the chiefe.

17 And the sonnes of Eliezer was Rehabiah the chiefe: for Eliezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiah were very many.

18 The sonne of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahziel the third, and Iekamiam the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Michah the first, and Israhiah the second.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahli, and Mushi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar, and Kish.

22 And Eleazar died and had no sonnes, but daughters, and their brethren the sonnes of Kish tookethem.

23 The sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ieremoth, three.

24 The e were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names, and their summe that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord from the age of * twentie yeeres and aboue.

25 For Dauid said, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Ierusalem for euer.

26 And also the Leuites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last wordes of Dauid, the Leuites were numbered from twentie yeere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courts, and chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God.

29 Both for the shewbread, and for the fine floure, for the meat offering, and for the vneleu-ened cakes, and for the fryed things, and for that which was roasted, and for all mea ures and oile.

30 And for to stand euery morning, to giue thanks & to praise the Lord, and likewise at euen,

31 And to offer all burnt offerings vnto the Lord in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and at the appointed times, according to the number, and according to their custome, continually before the Lord.

32 And that they should keepe the charge of the

C H A P. XXIII.

Dauid assigneth offices to the sonnes of Aaron.

THese are also the divisions of the sonnes of Aaron: The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

3 And Dauid distributed them, even Zadok, of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar, according to their offices in their ministration.

4 And they were found moe of the sonnes of Eleazar by the number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar, and they divided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixteen heads, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuary, and the rulers of the house of God were of the sons of Eleazar, and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the sonne of Nathaneele the Scribe of the Leuites, wrote them before the king and the princes, & Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, and before the chiefe fathers of the Priests and of the Leuites, one family being referred for Eleazar, and another referred for Ithamar.

7 And the first lot fell to Iehoiarib, and the second to Jedaiah,

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchiah, the sixth to Miamin,

10 The seventh to Hakkoz, the eight to Abiath,

11 The ninth to Ieshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleventh to Eliahish, the twelfth to Jakim,

13 The thirteenth to Huppa, the fourteenth to Ieshebeab,

14 The fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

15 The seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Hapizzzer,

16 The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Iehzekel,

17 The one and twentieth to Iachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul, 18 The three and twentieth to Deliah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah.

19 These were the orders according to their offices, when they entered into the house of the Lord according to their custom vnder the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

20 ¶ And of the sonnes of Levi that remained of the sonnes of Amram, was Shubael: of the sonnes of Shubael, Jedaiah.

21 Of Rehabiah, even of the sonnes of Rehabiah, the first Ishiah,

22 Of Izhari, Shelomoth, of the sonnes of Shelomoth, Iahath, 23 And his sonnes, Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the third, and Iekameam the fourth,

24 The sonne of Vzziel was Michah, the sonne of Michah was Shamir.

25 The brother of Michah was Ishiah, the sonne of Ishiah, Zechariah.

26 The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi, the sonne of Taathiah, was Beno,

27 The sonnes of Merari, of Iahaziah were Bano, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ibbi, 28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, which had no sonnes.

29 Of Kish, the sonne of Kish was Ierahmeel,

30 And the sonnes of Mushi, were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth: the were sonnes of the Leuites after the household of their fathers.

31 And these also cast lots with their brethren the sonnes of Aaron before King Dauid, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chiefe fathers of the Priests, and of the Leuites, even the chiefe of the families against their younger brethren.

C H A P. XXV.

The fingers are appointed, with their places and lots.

SO Dauid and the captaines of the army separated for the ministry the sonnes of Alaph, and Heman, and Ieduthun, who should sing propheties with harpes, with viols, and with cymbales, and their number was even of the men for the office of their ministry, to wit,

2 Of the sonnes of Alaph, Zaccur, and Ioseph, and Nethaniah, and Asharelai the sonnes of Alaph were vnder the hand of Alaph, which sang propheties by the commission of the king.

3 Of Ieduthun, the sonnes of Ieduthun, Gedaliah, and Zerai, and Ieshiah, Ashabiah, and Matithiah, six, vnder the hands of their father: Ieduthun sang propheties with an harpe, for to give thanks, and to praise the Lord.

4 Of Heman, the sonnes of Heman, Bukkiah Mataniah, Vzziel, Shebuel, and Ierimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eleathath, Giddalti, and Romamti-ezer, Ioshbekuah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

5 All these were the sonnes of Heman, the Kings || Seer, in the words of God to lift up the || borne: and God gaue to Heman fourteene sons and three daughters.

6 All these were vnder the hand of their father, singing in the house of the Lord with cymbals, viols and harps, for the service of the house of God, and Alaph, and Ieduthun, and Heman were at the kings commandement.

7 So was their number with their brethren, that were instructed in the songs of the Lord, even of all that were cunning, two hundred fourscore and eight.

8 And they cast lots, to charge against charge, as well small as great, the cunning man as the scholler.

9 And the first lot fell to Ioseph, which was of Alaph, the second to Gedaliah, who with his brethren and his sonnes were twelve.

10 The third, to Zaccur, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelve.

11 The fourth, to Izzai, he, his sonnes and his brethren twelve.

12 The fifth, to Nethaniah, he, his sonnes and his brethren twelve.

13 The sixth, to Bukkiah, he, his sonnes and his brethren twelve.

3 Elam the fifth, Iehohanan the sixth, and Eliehoenai the seventh.

4 And of the sonnes of Obed Edom, Shemaiah the eldest, Iehozabad the second, Ioah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nehaneel the fifth,

5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peulthai the eighth: for God had blessed him,

6 And to Shemaiah his sonne, were sonnes borne that ruled in the house of their father, for they were men of might.

7 The sonnes of Shemaiah were Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad, and his brethren, strong men: Elihu also, and Semachiah.

8 All these were of the sonnes of Obed Edom, they and their sonnes and their brethren mightie and strong to serue, in three core and two of Obed Edom.

9 And of Mefhelemiah sonnes and brethren, eighteen mightie men,

10 And of Hothah of the sonnes of Merari, the sonnes were Shuri the chiefe, and (though hee was not the eldest, yet his father made him the chiefe.)

11 Helkiah the second, Tehaliah the third, and Zechariah the fourth: all the sonnes and the brethren of Hothah were thirteene.

12 Of these were the divisions of the porters, of the chiefe men, having the charge e against their brethren, to serue in the house of the Lord.

13 And they cast lottes both small and great, for the house of their fathers, for every gate.

14 And the lot on the Eastside fell to || Shelemiah: then they cast lots for Zechariah his sonne for a wise counsellor, and his lot came out Northward:

15 To Obed Edom Southward, and to his sonnes the house of G Assupim:

16 To Shuppim and to Hothah Westward with the gate b of Shallecheth by the paved street that goeth upward, ward over against ward.

17 Eastward were sixe Leuites, and Northward foure a day, and Southward foure a day, and toward Assupim two and two.

18 In b Parbar toward the West were foure by the paved street, and two in Parbar.

19 These are the divisions of the porters of the sonnes of Kore, and of the sonnes of Merari.

20 ¶ And of the Leuites, Ahiah was over the treasures of the house of God, and over the treasures of the dedicate things.

21 Of the sonnes of Laadan the sonnes of the Gerhunnites descending of Laadan, the chiefe fathers of Laadan were Gerhunni and Ieheli.

22 The sonnes of Ieheli were Zethan and Ioel his brother, appointed over the treasures of the house of the Lord.

23 Of the Amramites, of the Izharites, of the Hebronites and of the Ozclites.

24 And Shebul the sonne of Gerthom, the sonne of Moses, a ruler over the treasures.

25 And of his brethren which came of Eliezer, was Rehabiah his sonne, and Teshaiah his sonne, and Ioram his sonne, and Zichri his sonne, and Shelomith his sonne.

26 Which Shelomith and his brethren were over all the treasures of the dedicate things, which David the King, and the chiefe fathers, the captaines over thousands, and hundreths, & the captaines of the armie had dedicated.

27 (For of the battels and of the spoiles they did dedicate to maintain the house of the Lord.)

28 And all that Samuel the Seer had dedicated, and Saul the sonne of Kish, and Abner the sonne of Ner, and Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah, and whoe soever had dedicate any thing, it was vnder the hand of Shelomith, and his brethren.

29 Of the Izharites was Chenaniah and his sonnes, for the businesse without our Irael, for officers and for Iudges.

30 Of the Hebronites, Afhabiah and his brethren, men of actiuite, a thousand and seven hundred were officers for Irael: beyond Iorden Westward in all the businesse of the Lord, and for the seruice of the king.

31 Among the Hebronites was Iediah the chiefe, even the Hebronites by his generations according to the families. And in the fourtieth yere of the reigne of David they were sought for: and there were found among them men of actiuite at Iazer in Gilead.

32 And his brethren men of actiuite, two thousand and seven hundred chiefe fathers, whom king David made rulers over the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, for every matter pertaining to God, and for the kings businesse.

CHAP. XXIX.

2 The offering of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid giveth thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to doe the same. 23 Salomon is created King. 28 Dauid death, and Salomon his sonne reigneth to his blood.

Moreover, Dauid the king said vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely son, yong and tender, and the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the ^e Lord God.

2 Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, gold for vessels of golde, and siluer for ^e items of siluer, and braske for things of braske, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and onyx stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones, and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreover, because I haue ^e delight in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne gold and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuary,

4 Euen ^e three thousand talents of gold of the gold of Ophir, and seuen thousand talents of refined filer to overlay the wallies of the houses,

5 The gold for the things of golde, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is ^e willing to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaines of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God, five thousand talents of gold, and tenne thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eightene thousand talents of braske, and one hundred thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Itiel the Gerssunnite,

9 And the people reioiced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a ^e perfect heart. And Dauid the king also ^e reioiced with great ioy.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the congregation, and Dauid said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of Israel our father, for euer and euer.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse and power, and glory and victory, and praise: for all that is in heaven & in earth ^e thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou excellest as head ouer all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer willingly, after this sort? for all things ^e come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF the Chronicles.

THE ARGVMENT.

THIS second booke containeth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, and the carrying away of the people captive into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered: First, that the goodly kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their country for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remooued. The second, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him, and professe his religion, should ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers euer lo- ued the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion thorowout all their dominions, and contrariwise, the wicked hate his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and word of God, set vp idolatry, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue wee hitherto the chiefe actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Darius, and contesne in the whole, three thousand fins hundred threescore and eightene yeeres and sixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

6 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to Hen Salomon the sonne of Dauid was confirmed in

Lord his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

2 And Salomon^a spake vnto all Israel, to the captaines of thouands, and of ernors in all Israel, even the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon, and all the Congregation with him went to the high place that was at b Gibeon:

for there was the Tabernacle of the Congregation of God, which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-icarim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

5 Moreover, the d^d brasen altar^a that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offered there before the Lord vpon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, even a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

8 And Salomon said vnto God; Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to be gite in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be true for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue mee now wisdom and knowledge, that I may goe out and go in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God said to Salomon, Becau' this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the pleasures of riches, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom and knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I have made thee king,

12 Wisdom and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I wil giue thee riches, and treasures, and honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the Kings which were before thee, neither after thee shalt there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the high place, that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 And Salomon gathered the charets and horsemen: and hee had a thousand and foure hundred charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom he placed in the charet cities, and with the king at Ierusalem.

15 And the king gaue siluer and gold at Ierusalem as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wild fig trees, that are abundantly in the plains.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnen: the kings merchants renewed the fine linnen at a price.

17 They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some charet, worth sixe hundred shekels of siluer, that is, an charet for an hundred and fiftie: and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites, and to the kings of Aram by their means.

CHAP. II.

2 The number of Salomons workmen to build the Temple. 3 Salomon sendeth to Huram the king of Tyre for wood and workmen.

Then Salomon determined to build an house for the Name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdom.

2 And Salomon tolde out seientie thousand that bare burdens, and fourecore thousand men that hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and sixe hundred to ouer see them.

3 And Salomon sent to Huram the king of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and didst send him cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

4 Behold, I build an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, to sacrifice vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shewbread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning and evening, on the Sabbath dayes, and in the new moones, and in the solemne feasts of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he that can be able to build him an house, when the heaven and the heaven of heavens can not containe him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I doe it to burne incense before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in gold, in siluer, and in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and in crimson, and in blue filke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah, and in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send mee also cedar trees, firre trees, and algum trees from Lebanon: for I know that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and behold, my seruants shall bee with thee.

9 That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I doe build, is great and wonderfull.

10 And behold, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timber twentie thousand measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand baths of wine, and twenty thousand baths of oyle.

11 Then Huram King of Tyrus answered in writing which hee sent to Salomon, Becau' the Lord hath loued his people, hee hath made thee king ouer them.

12 Huram and moreover, Blessed bee the Lord God of Israel, which made thee the king of the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a wise sonne, that hath discretion, prudence, and vnderstanding to build an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdom.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Huram,

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, and he can skill to worke in golde, in siluer, in brasse, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue filke, and in fine linnen, and in crimson, and can graue in all grauen workes, and broyder in all broyered worke that shalbe giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheate and the barley, the oyle and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And we wil cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in raftes by the sea to Iapho, so thou mayest cary them to Ierusalem.

17 And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbring that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundred and three and sixe thousand and sixe hundred.

18 And hee fet seientie thousand of them to the burden, and fourecore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and sixe hundred ouerscers to carie the people to worke.

3 And the eare the masures whereon Salomon grounded to build the house of God: the length of cubites after the first measure was threecore cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites:

4 And the porch that was before the length in the front of the breadth was twenty cubites, and the height was an hundred and twenty, and hee overlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater house hee filded with firre tree, which he overlaid with good gold, and graued thereon palme trees and chaires.

6 And hee overlaid the house with precious stone for beautie: and the gold was gold of Parthum.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof, and the doores thereof overlaid hee with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ He made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house twenty cubites, and the breadth thereof twenty cubites: and hee overlaid it with the best gold, of sixe hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie shekels of gold, and hee overlaid the chambers with gold.

10 ¶ And in the house of the most holy place hee made two Cherubims wrought like children, and overlaid them with gold.

11 ¶ And the wings of the Cherubims were twenty cubits long: the one wing was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, ioyning to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twentie cubites, they stood on their feet, and their faces were toward the house.

14 ¶ He made also the vail of blue silke and purple, and crimosin, and fine linen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 ¶ And hee made before the house two pillars: of fine and thirte cubits high: and the chapiter that was vpon the top of each of them was five cubites.

16 Hee made also chaires for the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them among the chaires.

17 And he set vp the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachin, and that on the left Boaz.

CHAP. III.

1 The altar of brasie. 2 The measures. 3 The caldrons. 4 The candlesticks, &c.

And hee made an Altar of brasie twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites high.

2 And he made a molten Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubites high: and a line of thirty cubits did compass it about.

3 And vnder it was the fashion of oxen, which did compass it round about, tenne in a cubite, compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood vpon twelue oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, and three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stood about vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thicknesse thereof was an hand breadth, and the brim thereof was like the work of the brim of a cup, with floures of lillies: it contained three thousand baths.

6 ¶ Hee made also ten caldrons, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them, and to cleane in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings, but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 ¶ And he made ten Candlestickes of golde (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 ¶ And hee made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and he made an hundred basins of gold.

9 And hee made the court of the Priests, and the great court and doores for the court, and overlaid the doores thereof with brasie.

10 And hee set the sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made pots, and besoms, and basens, and Huram finished the worke that hee should make for king Salomon, for the house of God.

12 Two, two pillars, and the bowles, and the chapters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapters, which were vpon the top of the pillars:

13 And foure hundred pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for every grate, to couer the two bowles of the chapters that were vpon the pillars.

14 Hee made also bases, and made caldrons vpon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelue bulles vnder it:

16 Pots also, and besoms, and fleshhookes, and all these vessels made Huram his father to king Salomon for the house of the Lord, of shining brasie.

17 In the plaine of Iorden did the King cast them in clay betwene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasie could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden Altar also, and the tables whereon the shewbread stood.

20 Moreover, the Candlestickes, with their lampes to burne them after the manner, before the oracle, of pure gold,

21 And the flowers, and the lampes, and the snuffers of gold, which was fine gold.

22 And the fleshhookes, and the basens, and the spoones, and the thansps of pure golde: the entry also of the house and doores thereof within, even of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, of the Temple, were of gold.

brought in the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the filuer and the gold, and all the vessels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the Tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the citie of Dauid, which is Zion.

3 And all the men of Israel assemled vnto the king at the feast: it was in the fourth moneth.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Leuites rooke vp the Arke.

5 And they caried vp the Arke and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.

6 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering sheepe and bullocks, which could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the most holy place, even vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboue.

9 And they drew out the barres, that the ends of the barres might be seene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not seene without: and there they are vnto this day.

10 Nothing was in the Arke, save the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horeb, where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel when they came out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuary (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified, and did not waite by course.

12 And the Leuites the fingers of all sortes, of Asaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, and of their sonnes and of their brethren being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, and with viols, and harps at the East end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty Priests blowing with trumpets

13 And they were as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp their voyce with trumpets, and with cymbals, and with instruments of musike, and when they praised the Lord, singing, For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for ever) then the house, even the house of the Lord was filled with a cloud.

14 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomon blest the people. 4 He prayeth for the people. 14 He prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

Then Salomon said, The Lord hath said that he would dwell in the dark cloud.

2 And I have built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, & hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no cite of all the tribes of Israel to build an house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler over my people Israel:

6 But I have chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel,

8 But the Lord sayd to Dauid my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou diddest well that thou wast so minded,

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne, which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall build an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lord hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen vp in the house of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord promised, and haue built an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the couenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel.

12 ¶ And the king stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands,

13 (For Salomon had made a brazen scaffold, and set it in the mids of the court, of five cubites long, and five cubites broad, and three cubites of height, and vpon it he stood, and kneeled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands toward heaven)

14 And said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepeth couenant and mercie vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

16 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel, so that thy sonnes take heed to their waies, to walke in my Law, as thou hast walked before mee.

17 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let thy word be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (Is it true in deede, that God will dwell with man on earth? behold, the heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how much more unable is this house which I haue built?)

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the cry and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, even towards the place, wherof thou hast said, that thou wouldest put thy Name there, that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

1 The first consuetude in sacrifice. 2 The glory of the Lord filled the temple. 3 He heareth his prayer, 47 and promitteth to exalt him and his throne.

And when Salomon had made an end of praying, a fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices: and the glory of the Lord filled the house.

So that the Priests could not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

And when all the children of Israel saw the fire, and the glory of the Lord come downe vpon the house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the earth vpon the pavement, and worshipped and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercie is left for euer.

Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullocks, and an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

And the Priests waited on their offices, and the Leuites with the instruments of musike of the Lord, which king Dauid had made to praise the Lord, because of his mercie left for euer: when Dauid praised God by them, the Priests also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

called vpon, doe humble themselves, and pray and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen, and be mercifull to their sinne, and will ^h heale their land.

15 Then mine eyes shalbe open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now choien and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements,

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, ⁱ Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if yee turne away, and for ^kake my statures, and my commandments which I haue set before you, and shal go and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then will I plucke them vp out of my land, which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue ^l sanctified for my Name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a prouerbe and a common talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most hie, shall be an alms-house to euery one that passeth by it, so that he shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this land and to this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

2 The cities that Salomon built 9 People that were made tributary vnto him. 12 His sacrifices. 17 He sendeth to Ophir.

AND ^a after ^b twentie yeeres when Salomon had builded the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Huram gave to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobah, and ouercame it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderness, and repaired all ^c the cities of store which he built in Hamath,

5 And he built ^d Beth-horon the vpper, and Beth-horon the nether, cities fenced with walkes, gates and barres:

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of store that Salomon had, and all the charret cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to build in Ierusalem, and in ^e Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, euen them did Salomon make tributaries vntill this day,

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes and the captaines of his charrets and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, ^f enen ^g two hundred and fiftie that bare rule ouer the people.

11 ^h Then Salomon brought vp the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cite of Dauid, into the house that he had built for her: ⁱ he sayd, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid king of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 ^j Then Salomon offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, on the ^k altar of the Lord, which he had buil before the porch,

13 To ^l according to the commandement of Moyses || euery day, in the Sabbaths, and in the new moones, and in the solemne reastes, ^m three times in the yeere, ⁿ that is, in the feast of the vneauened bread, and in the feast of the weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacles.

14 And he set the courses of the Priests to their offices, according to the order of Dauid his father, and the Leuites to their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priests euery day, and the porters by their ^o courses, at euery gate:
for so ^p was the commandement of Dauid the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commandement of the king, concerning the Priests and the Leuites, touching all things, and touching the treasures.

16 ^q Now Salomon had made prouision for all the ^r worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, vntill it was finished: ^s so the house of the Lord was perite.

17 Then went Salomon to Ezion-geber, and to Elath by the ^t Sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Huram sent him by the hands of his seruants, ships and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence ^u foure hundredth and fiftie talents of gold, and brought them to king Salomon.

 2 King. 10. 1. wash. 12. 41. Iude 11. 21. a To know whether his wisdom were so great as the report was.*

And * when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, she came to a proue Salomon with hard questions at Ierusalem, with a very great traine. and camels that bare sweete odours, and much gold, and precious stones: and when she came to Salomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was nothing hid from Salomon, which he declared not vnto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba sawe the wisdom of Salomon, and the house that hee had built.

4 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the order of his waiters, and their apparell, and his butlers, and their apparell, and his burnt offerings which hee offered in the house of the Lord, and he was greatly astonished.

5 And he said to the king, It was a true word which I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom:

6 Howbeit I beleued not thy report, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and behold, the one halfe of thy great wisdom was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants, which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on his throne as King, in the stead of the Lord thy God: because thy God loveth Israel, to establish it for euer, therefore hath he made thee king ouer them, to execute iudgement and iustice.

9 Then she gaue the king fixe score talents of gold, and of sweet odours exceeding much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweet odours since, as the Queene of Sheba gaue vnto king Salomon.

10 And the seruants also of Huram, and the seruants of Salomon which brought golde from Ophir, brought Algummin wood and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algummin wood stayres in the house of the Lord, and in the Kings house, and harpes and viols for singes: and there was no such scene before in the land of Iudah.

12 And king Salomong aue to the Queene of Sheba euery pleasant thing that shee asked, besides for that which shee had brought vnto the king: so she returned and went to her owne country, both she and her seruants.

13 Also the weight of gold that came to Salomon in one yeere, was fixe hundred threefcore and fixe talents of golde, 14 Besides that which chapmen and merchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and the princes of the country brought gold and siluer to Salomon.

15 And king Salomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold, and fixe hundred shelds of beaten golde went to one target.

16 And three hundred shelds of beaten gold three hundred shelds of golde went to one shield, and the king put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the king made a great throne of yorie, and overlaid it with pure golde.

18 And the throne had fixe steps, with a footstool of gold fastened to the throne, and stayes on either side on the place of the seate, and two lyons standing by the stayes.

19 And twelue lyons stood there on the fixe steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 And all king Salomons drinking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure golde: for siluer was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tarshish with the seruants of Huram, euery three yeere once came the ships of Tarshish, and brought golde, and siluer, yorie, and apes, and peacocks.

22 So king Salomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom:

23 And all the Kings of the earth sought the preience of Salomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of gold, and rament, armour, and sweet odours, horses and mules, from yeere to yeere.

25 And Salomon had foure thousand stalles of horses, and charrets, and twelue thousand horsmen, whom he bestowed in the charret cities, and with the king at Ierusalem.

26 And he reigned ouer all the kings from the River euen vnto the land of the Philistims, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king gaue siluer in Ierusalem, as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figtrees, that are abundant in the plaine.

28 And they brought vnto Salomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 Concerning the rest of the actes of Salomon first and last, are they not written in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the prophesie of Ahiah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Iseido the Seer against Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat?

30 And Salomon reigned in Ierusalem ouer all Israel fourtie yeeres.

31 And Salomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid his father: and Rehoboam his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous seruitude of thy father, and his sore yoke that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

5 And he said to them, Depart yet three daies, then come againe vnto mee. And the people departed.

the olde men that had stood before Salomon his father, while hee yet liued, saying, What counsell giue ye, that I may answer to this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and please them, and ^cpeake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the young men that were brought vp with him, and ^cenured on him.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsell giue yee, that we may answer to this people which haue spoken to mee, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the young men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauy, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My ^dleast part shall be bigger then my fathers loynes.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grieuous yoke, I will yet increaue your yoke: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will ^ecorrect you with scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the king answered them sharply: and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with rodde, but I will ^fcorrect you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God, that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken by Abijah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ithai. O Israel, euery man to your tents: now see to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tents.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram that was || ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones that hee died: then king Rehoboam made speed to get him vp to his charret, to flee to Ierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

4 Rehoboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam. 5 Cities which hee built. 12 Hee hath euillene wives, and therefore conuincit, and by them eight and twenty sonnes, and therefore daughter.

And ^awhen Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, hee gathered of the house of Iudah and Benjamin nine score thousand chosen men of war to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdom againe to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon king of Iudah, and to all Israel that are in

Iudah, and Benjamin, saying,

4 Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not go vp nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house: for this thing is done of mee. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord, and returned from going againe to Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, and ^cbuilt strong cities in Iudah.

6 Hee built also Beth-Jehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Marehah, and Ziph,

9 And Adoraim, and Alishah, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, and Aialon, & Hebron, which were in Iudah and Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he || repaired the strong holds, and put captaines in them, and store of vitaille, and oyle, and wine.

12 And in all cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong: so Iudah and Benjamin were his.

13 ¶ And the Priests and the Leuites that were in all Israel, || resorted vnto him out of all their coasts.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Iudah and to Ierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priests office vnto the Lord.

15 ¶ And he ordained him Priests for the high places, and for the ^ddeuils & for the calves which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites there came to Ierusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as set their hearts to seeke the Lord God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lord God their fathers.

17 So they strenghtened the kingdom of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon mighty, three yeere long: for three yeere they walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam tooke him Mahalath the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ithai, 19 Which bare him sonnes, Ieusha, and Shemaiah, and Zahan.

20 And after her he tooke Maakah the daughter of Abisalom, which bare him Abijah, and Athai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah the daughter of Abisalom above all his wives and his concubines: for hee took eightene wives and threescore concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made Abijah the sonne of Maakah the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for hee thought to make him king.

23 And hee taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes thorowout all the countries of Iudah and Benjamin vnto euery strong citie: and hee gaue them abundance of vitaille, and ^bdesired many wives.

So * Abiiah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Daud, and Aſa his ſon reigned in his ſtead: in whoſe dayes the land was quiet ten yeeres.

2 And Aſa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he tooke away the altars of the ſtrange gods, and the hie places, and brake downe the images, and cut downe the ^a grones,

4 And commaunded Iudah to ſeek the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the Law and the commandement.

5 And hee tooke away out of all the cities of Iudah the high places, and the images: therefore the kingdom was ^b quiet before him.

6 He built alſo ſtrong cities in Iudah, becauſe the land was in reſt, and he had no warre in thoſe yeeres: for the Lord had given him reſt.

7 Therefore hee ſaid to Iudah, Let vs build theſe cities, and make wallies about, and towers, gates, and baires, while the land is ^c before vs: becauſe wee have fought the Lord our God, wee have fought him, and he hath given vs reſt on every ſide: ſo they build and prospered.

8 And Aſa had an armie of Iudah that bare ſhields and ſpeares, three hundred thouſand, and of Benjamin that bare ſhields and drew bowes, two hundred and foureſcore thouſand: all theſe were valiant men.

9 ¶ And there came out againſt them Zerah d of Ethiopia, with an hoſt of ten hundred thouſand, and three hundred chariots, and came vnto Marehah.

10 Then Aſa went out before him, and they ſet the battell in aray in the valley of Zephathah, beſide Marehah.

11 And Aſa cried vnto the Lord his God, and ſaid, Lord, * it is nothing with thee to helpe ¶ with many, or with no power: helpe vs, O Lord our God: for wee reſt on thee; and in thy Name are wee come againſt this multitude: O Lord, thou art our God, ¶ let not man preuaile againſt thee.

12 ¶ So the Lord ſmote the Ethiopians before Aſa and before Iudah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſa and the people that was with him, purſued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians hoſt was ouerthrowen, ſo that there was no life in them: for they were deſtroyed before the Lord and before his hoſt: and they caried away a mightie great ſpoile.

14 And they ſmote all the cities round about Gerar: for the ¶ ſcare of the Lord came vpon them, and they ſpoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much ſpoile in them.

15 Yea, and they ſmote the tents of cattell, and caried away plentie of ſheepe and camels, and returned to Ieruſalem.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did goe out and goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was deſtroied of nation, and cite of cite: for God troubled them with all ad-neſtice.

7 Bee yee ſtrong therefore, and let not your hands bee weak: for your ^c worke ſhall haue a reward.

8 ¶ And when Aſa heard theſe wordes, and the prophetic of Obed the Prophet, he was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Iudah, and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renewed the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And hee gathered all Iudah and Benjamin, and the ſtrangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manafſeh, and out of ſimcon: for there ſil many to him out of Iſrael, when they ſaw that the Lord his God was with him.

Sam. 14. 6. ^g Or againſt many, without power. ^h Thus the children of God neither traill in their owne power or policie neither feare the ſtrength and ſubtilty of their enemies, but conſider the cauſe and ſee whether their enterpriſes end to Gods glory, and to their owne ſhew of the victory by him which is only Almighty, and conuerne ¶ theſe into doſt with ¶ break of his mouth. ⁱ The Lord had ſtricken them with ſcare.

17 But the high places were not ^ktaken away out of Iſrael: yet the heart of Aſa was ^mperſe all his dayes.

18 Also he brought into the houſe of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that hee had dedicate, ſilver and gold, and velleils.

19 And there was no warre vnto the five and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Aſa.

That God was called the God of Iſrael, by reaſon of his promiſe Iſrael is ſometime taken for Iudah, becauſe Iudah was his in reſpect of his peculiar ſervants.

CHAP. XVI.

a Aſa for feare of Baſha king of Iſrael, maketh a covenant with Ben hadad king of Aram. 7 Hee is reproved by the Prophet, 10 Whom hee perſuades to priſon. 12 He perſuades him to truſt in the Phyſicians. 13 He dieth.

IN the fixe and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Aſa, came ^aa Baſha king of Iſrael vpon againſt Iudah, and built ^bRamah, to let none paſſe out or goe in to Aſa King of Iudah.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and gold out of the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and of the Kings houſe, and ſent to Ben-hadad king of Aram that dwelt at ^cDimasus, ſaying,

3 There ^dis a covenant betweene me and thee, and betweene my father and thy father: behold, I have ſent thee ſilver and gold: come, ^ebreake thy league with Baſha king of Iſrael, that he may depart from mee.

4 And Ben-hadad hearkened vnto King Aſa, and ſent the captains of the armies which he had, againſt the cities of Iſrael. And they ſmote Iion, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the ſtre-cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baſha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his worke ceaſe.

6 Then Aſa the king tooke all Iudah, and carried away the ſtones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baſha did build, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that ſame time Hanani the ^gSeer came to Aſa King of Iudah, and ſaid vnto him, Becauſe thou haſt reſted vpon the king of Aram, and not reſted in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoſt of the king of Aram eſcaped out of thine hand.

8 ¶ The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoſte with charres and horſemen, exceeding many yet becauſe thou diſdeſt reſt vpon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 ¶ For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth to ſhew himſelfe ſtrong with them that are of perſe heart toward him: thou haſt then done fooliſhly in this, therefore from henceforth thou ſhalt haue warres.

10 Then Aſa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into ^ha priſon: for he was ⁱdiſpleaſed with him, becauſe of this thing. And Aſa oppreſſed ^jcertaine of the people at the ſame time.

11 And behold, the actes of Aſa firſt and laſt, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Iſrael.

12 ¶ And Aſa in the nine and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was ^kdiſeaſed in his feet, and his diſeaſe was ^lextreme: yet he ſought not the Lord in his diſeaſe, but to the ^mphyſicians.

13 So Aſa ſlept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth yeere of his reigne.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iehoſaphat truſting in the Lord, ſheweth riches and honour. 6 He abolith idolatry. 7 And cauſeth the people to be taught. 11 Hee receibeth tribute of ſtrangers. 15 His monitions, and men of warre.

AND Iehoſaphat his ſonne reigned in his stead, and prevailed againſt Iſrael.

2 And he put garſions in all the ſtrong cities of Iudah, and ſet bands in the land of Iudah and in the cities of Ephraim, which Aſa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoſaphat, becauſe he walked in the ^pſt wayes of his father David, and ſought not ^qBaalim,

4 But fought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the ^rtrade of Iſrael.

5 Therefore the Lord ſtabliſhed the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudah brought preſents to Iehoſaphat, ſo that hee had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee ^slift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he tooke away moreouer the high places and the groues out of Iudah.

7 ¶ In the third yeere of his reigne hee ſent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nathaneel, and Michaiah, that they ſhould ^tteach in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nathaniah, and Zebadiah, and Aſahel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehonathan, and Adoniah, and Tobiah, and Tob-adoniah, Leuites, and with them Eliſhama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the Law of the Lord with them, and went about thoroughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Iudah, and they ^ufought not againſt Iehoſaphat.

11 And ^vſome of the Philiftins brought Iehoſaphat gifts and tribute ſilver, and the Arabians brought him ſlocks, ſeuē thouſand and ſeuē hundred rammes, and ſeuē thouſand and ſeuē hundred hee goats.

12 So Iehoſaphat prospered and grewe vp on high: and he built in Iudah palaces and cities of ſtore.

13 And hee had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ieruſalem.

14 And theſe are the numbers of them after the houſe of their fathers. In Iudah were captains of thouſands, Adnah the captain, and ^wwith him of valiant men three hundredth thouſand.

15 And ^xat his hand Iehohanan a captain, and with him two hundredth and foureſcore thouſand.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Iehophaphat maketh amittie with Ahab. 20 Four hundred thofand Prophets counſell Ahab to go to Ramoth. 21 Michaiah againſt them. 22 Zedekiah ſmarts him. 23 The king ſmarts him in priſon. 24 The effect of his prophetic.

And Iehophaphat had riches and honour in abundance, but he was ioyned in amittie with Ahab.

2 And after certaine yeeres he went downe to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab ſlew ſheepe and oxen for him in great number, and for the people that he had with him, and enticed him to goe vp vnto Ramoth Gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehophaphat king of Iudah, wilt thou goe with me to Ramoth Gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will ſoygne with thee in the warre.

4 And Iehophaphat ſaid vnto the king of Iſrael, Aſke counſell, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Iſrael gathered of Prophets foure hundred men, and ſayde vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell or ſhall I chaſe? And they ſayd, Goe vp: for God ſhall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iehophaphat ſaid, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehophaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may aſke counſell of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doth not prophetic good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the ſonne of Imla. Then Iehophaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay ſo.

8 And the king of Iſrael called an eunuch, & ſaid, Call quickly Michaiah the ſonne of Imla.

9 And the king of Iſrael and Iehophaphat King of Iudah ſate either of them on his chaire clothed in their apparell: they ſate euen in the ſhreffing floore at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the Prophets prophetic befored them.

10 And Zidkiah the ſon of Chenaanah made him hornes of yron, and ſaide, Thus ſaith the Lord, With theſe ſhalt thou ſmite the Aramites vntill thou haſt confumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophetic ſo, ſaying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and proſper: for the Lord ſhall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 ¶ And the Meſſenger that went to call Michaiah, ſpake to him, ſaying, Behold, the words of the Prophets declare good to the king with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, bee like one of theirs, and ſpeake thou good.

13 And Michaiah ſaide, as the Lord liueth, whatſoeuer my God ſaith, that will I ſpeake.

14 ¶ So hee came to the King, and the King ſayd vnto him, Michaiah, ſhall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or ſhall I leaue off? And he ſaid, I Goe ye vp, and proſper, and they ſhall be deliue-red into your hand.

15 And the King ſaid vnto him, How oft ſhall I charge thee, that thou tell mee nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he ſaid, I ſaw all Iſrael ſcattered in the mountaines, as ſheepe that haue no ſhepherd: and the Lord ſaid, I ſee theſe haue no matter: let them returne euery man to his houſe in peace.

17 And the king of Iſrael ſaid to Iehophaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophetic good vnto me, but euill?

18 Again he ſaid, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I ſawe the Lord ſit vpon his throne, and all the hoſte of heauen ſtanding at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord ſaide, Who ſhall I perſwade Ahab king of Iſrael, that he may goe vp, and fall at Ramoth Gilead? and one ſpake and ſaid thus, and another ſaid that.

20 Then there came forth a ſpirit and ſtood before the Lord, and ſaide, I will perſwade him. And the Lord ſaid vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he ſaide, I will goe out and be a falſe ſpirit in the mouth of all his Prophets. And hee ſaid, Thou ſhalt perſwade, and ſhalt alſo preuaile: goe forth, and doe ſo.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a falſe ſpirit in the mouth of theſe thy Prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill againſt thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the ſonne of Chenaanah came neere and ſmote Michaiah vpon the cheek, and ſaid, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to ſpeake with thee?

24 And Michaiah ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee that day when thou ſhalt goe from chamber to chamber to hidethee.

25 And the king of Iſrael ſaid, Take yee Michaiah, and carie him to Amon the gouernour of the cite, and to Ioſh the kings ſonne.

26 And ſay, Thus ſaith the king, Put this man in the priſon houſe, and feede him with bread of affliction, and with water of affliction vntill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah ſaid, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not ſpoken by mee. And he ſaid, Heare all ye people.

28 So the king of Iſrael, and Iehophaphat the king of Iudah went to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Iſrael ſaid vnto Iehophaphat, I will change my ſelfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparell. So the king of Iſrael changed himſelfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the king of Aram had commanded the captaines of the charrets that were with him, ſaying, Fight you not with ſmall nor great, but againſt the king of Iſrael onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charrets ſaw Iehophaphat, they ſaid, It is the king of Iſrael, and they compaſſed about him to fight. But Iehophaphat cried, and the Lord helped him, and mooued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charrets ſaw that hee was not the king of Iſrael, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man drew a bowe mightily, and ſmote the king of Iſrael betweene the ioynts of his brigandine: Therefore hee ſaid to his charretman, Turne thine hand, and cary me out of the hoſte: for I am hurt.

CHAP. XIX.

^a After Iehoshaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, he called asprine the shepheard to sing praise of the Lord. ^b The appointed iudges and ministers. ^c And exhorted them to feare God.

And Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah returned safe to his house in Ierusalem.

2 And Iehi the sonne of Hanani the Seer went out to meete him, and said to King Iehoshaphat, ^a Wouldst thou helpe the wicked, and loue them that hate the Lord? therefore for this thing the wrath of the Lord is vpon thee.

3 Neuertheles good things are found in thee, because thou hast taken away [†] groues out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seeke God.

4 ¶ So Iehoshaphat dwelt at Ierusalem, and returned and went ^b through the people from Beer-sheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

5 And hee set iudges in the land throughout all the strong cities of Iudah, citie by citie.

6 And said to the iudges, Take heede what yee doe: for yee execute not the iudgements of man, but of the Lord, and he will be ^c with you in the cause and iudgement.

7 Wherefore now let the feare of the Lord be vpon you: take heede and doe it: for there is no ^d iniquitie with the Lord our God, neither ^e respect of persons, nor receiving of reward.

8 Moreover in Ierusalem did Iehoshaphat set of the Leuites, and of the Priests and of the chiefe of the families of Israel, for the iudgment & cause of the Lord, and they returned to Ierusalem.

9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall yee doe in the feare of the Lord faithfully and with a perfite heart.

After this also came the children of Moab & the children of Ammon, & with them of the ^a Ammonites against Iehoshaphat to battell.

2 Then there came that tolde Iehoshaphat, saying, There commeth a great multitude against thee from beyond the ^b Sea, out of Aram: and behold, they be in Hazzon Tamar, which is Engedi.

3 And Iehoshaphat feared, and set himselfe to seeke the Lord, & proclaimed a fast throughout all Iudah.

4 And Iudah gathered themselves together to aske counsell of the Lord: they came euen out of all the cities of Iudah to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Iehoshaphat stood in the Congregation of Iudah and Ierusalem in the house of the Lord before the new court.

6 And sayd, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, and none is able to withstand thee.

7 Diddest not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and ^c gauest it to the seed of Abraham thy friend for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue built thee a Sanctuary therein for thy Name, saying,

9 If euill come vpon vs, as the sword of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine: we will stand before this house & in thy presence (for thy name ^d is in this house) and will cry vnto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

10 And now, behold, the children of ^e Ammon and Moab, and Monnt Seir, by whom thou wouldst not let Israel goe, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them not:

11 Behold, I say, they reward vs, in comming to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherite.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs to stand before this great multitude that commeth against vs, neither doe we know what to doe: but our eyes are toward thee.

13 And all Iudah stood ^b before the Lord with their yong ones, their wiues, and their children.

14 And Iahaziel the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Benaiab, the sonne of Ieiel, the sonne of Mattaniah, a Leuite of the sonnes of Asaph, was ^c there, vpon whom came the Spirit of the Lord, in the middes of the Congregation.

15 And he said, Hearken ye all Iudah, and yee inhabitants of Ierusalem, and thou, King Iehoshaphat: thus saith the Lord vnto you, Feare you not, neither be afraid for this great multitude: for the ^d battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morrow goe yee downe against them: behold, they come vp by the clift of Ziz, and yee shall find them at the end of the brooke before the wildernesse of Ieruel.

17 Yee shall not neede to fight in this battell: ^e stand still, mooue not, and behold the ^f saluation of the Lord towards you: O Iudah, and Ierusalem, feare yee not, neither be afraid: to morrow goe out against them, and the Lord will bee with you.

18 ¶ Then Iehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Korahites, & of the children of the Corbites stood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a lowd voyce on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wildernesse of Tekoa: and as they departed, Iehoshaphat stood and said,

22 And when they began to shoute, and to praise, the Lord layd ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and ^o mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy ^q them; and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, eury one helped to p destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wilderness, they looked vnto the multitude: and behold, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoile of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they tooke for themselves, till they could cary no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoile: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they ^r assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then every man of Iudah and Ierusalem, returned with Iehoshaphat their head to goe againe to Ierusalem with ioy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce over their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols and with harpes, and with Trumpets, ^s even vnto the house of the Lord.

reshah prophced against Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast ^w ioynd thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy workes: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tarshish.

C H A P . XXI.

1 Iehoshaphat dieth. 3 Iehoram succedeth him, 4 which killes his bretheren. 6 He was broughte an idolatric, 11 and seduced the people. 16 He is opposed of the Philistims. 18 His traitorable end.

Iehoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid: and Iehoram his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethern the sonnes of Iehoshaphat, Azariah, and Iehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphat King of Irael.

3 And their fathers gaue them great gifts of siluer and of gold, and of precious stones, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdome gaue he to Iehoram: for he was the eldest.

4 * And Iehoram rose vp vpon the kingdom of his father, and made himselfe strong, and ^x slew all his brethern with the sword, and also of the Princes of Irael.

5 Iehoram was two and thirtie yeere olde, when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned eight yeeres in Ieru alem.

6 And hee walked in the way of the Kings of Irael, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to ^y a wife, and hee wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the ^z covenant that hee had made with Dauid, and because hee had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer.

8 ¶ In his dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his princes, and all his charers with him: and hee rote vp by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captaynes of the charers.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. Then did Libnah rebell at the same time from vnder his hand, because hee had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreover hee made hie places in the mountaynes of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from G Elijah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa King of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Irael, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to goe a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slaine thy brethern of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wiues and all thy substance.

15 And thou shalt bee in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill ^{aa} thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lord stirred vp against Iehoram the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians.

u Thus God would not have his to ioyne in fornicie with idolaters and wicked men.

f Meaning, idolatry, because that the idolaters breake promise with God as doeth the adulteresse to her husband. g Some thinke that this was Elihu, called because he had the Spirit in abundance as had Elihu.

h We see this example daylye practised upon them that fall away from God, and become idolaters and murderers of their brethern. i There were other Arabians in Africa Southward, toward Egypt.

k Called also Ahaziah Chap. 21. 1. or Azariah, verie 6 following.
 l That is, as some write, he was not regarded but deposed for his wickedness and idolatry: so that his sonne reigned 22. yeeres (his father yet living) without honour, and after his fathers death, he was conspired to reigne kill, as Chap. 21. 1.

17 And they came vp into Iudah, and brake into it, and caried away all the substance that was found in the kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wiues, so that there was not a sonne left him, saue Iehohaz the yongest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in processe of time, euen after the end of two yeeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he died of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, hee was two and thirtie yeere old, and reigned in Ierusalem eight yeere, and lined without being desired: yet they buried him in the cite of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigned after Iehoram. 9 Iehu king of Israel kill. lth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings issue. 11 Ioash escapes.

And the inhabitants of Ierusalem made Ahaziah his yongest sonne King in his stead: for the armie that came with the Arabians to the campe, had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and fourtie yeere old was Ahaziah when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned 6 one yeere in Ierusalem. And his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 Hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counselled him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And hee walked after their counsell, and went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael King of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

6 And hee returned to be healed in Izreel, because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when hee fought with Hazael King of Aram. Now Azariah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Izreel, because hee was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah came of God, in that he went to Ioram: for when hee was come, hee went forth with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimhi, * whom the Lord had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Iehu executed iudgement vpon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Iudah, and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

9 And hee sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where hee was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slew him and buried him, because, said they, he is the sonne of Iehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retaine the kingdom.

10 Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her sonne was dead, shee arose and destroyed all the Kings seed of the house of Iudah.

11 But Iehoshabeah the daughter of the king, tooke Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah, and stale him from among the Kings sonnes, that should be slaine, and put him and his nource in the bedde chamber: so Iehoshabeah the daughter of king Iehoram the wife of Iehoiada the Priest (for he was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so hee flew him not.

12 And he was with them hid in the house of God six yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned ouer the land.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah is made king. 15 Athaliah is put to death. 17 The Temple of Beal is destroyed. 19 Iehoiada appoints ministers in the Temple.

And in the seuenth yeere Iehoiada waxed bold, and tooke the captaines of hundredres to wit, Azariah the sonne of Iehoram, and Ishmael the sonne of Iehohanan, and Azariah the sonne of Obad, and Maasiah the sonne of Adaiah, and Eliphath the sonne of Zichri in couenant with him.

2 And they went about in Iudah, and gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudah, and the chiefe fathers of Israel: and they came to Ierusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a couenant with the King in the house of God: and hee sayd vnto them, Behold, the kings sonne must reigne, as the Lord hath sayd of the sonnes of Dauid.

4 This is it that ye shall do, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites shall be porters of the doores.

5 And another third part towards the kings house, and another third part at the gate of the foundation, and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, saue the Priests, and the Leuites that minister, they shall goe in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shall compasse the King round about, and euery man with his weapon in his hand, and he that entereth into the house shall be slaine, and be you with the king when he cometh in and when he goeth out.

8 So the Leuites and all Iudah did according to all things that Iehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke euery man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Iehoiada the Priest deliuered to the captaines of hundredres speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene king Dauids, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (euery man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar, & by the house round about the King.

11 Then they brought out the Kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne and gave him the 7 Testimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiada and his sonnes anointed him, and said, God saue King.

12 But when Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the King, shee came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when shee looked, behold, the King stood by his pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king, and all the people of the land reioyed, and blew the Trumpets, and the fingers were with instruments of musike.

and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah

18 And Iehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, * as it is written in the Lawe of Moyses,

CHAP. XXXIII.

4 Ioshs repaired the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Iehoiada he fastid to destroy. 21 He stoned the high Zachary the Prophet. 25 Ioshs killed of his owne seruants. 27
After some yeeres Amaziah.

I Osh * was seven yeere olde when hee beganne to reigne, and hee reigned fortie yeere in Ieru-salem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-theba.

2 And Ioshs did vprightly in the sight of the Lord all the dayes of ¹ Ichoiada the Priest.

3 And Ichoiada ^{||} tooke him two wiues, and he begate ionnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Ioshs minde to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And he assembled the Priests and the Le-uites, and said to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all ^h Israel money to reaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and haste the thing: but the Leuites hastened not.

6 Therefore the king called Iehoiada the chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem * the taxe of Moyses the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the Testimonie?

7 For ^d wicked Athaliah, and her children, brake vp the house of God and all the things that were dedicated: to the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the king commanded, * and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without,

9 And they made proclamation thorow Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lord * the taxe of Moyses the seruant of God, layd vpon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioiced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, yntill they had finished.

11 And when it was time, ^e they brought the chest vnto the kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they saw that there was much silver, then the Kings Scribe (and one appointed by the high Priest) came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and caried it to his place againe:
thus they did day by day, and gathered silver in abundance.

12 And the king and ^f Iehoiada gaue it to sitch as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hired masons and carpenters to reaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workers of yron and brasie, to reaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke amended through their hands and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the silver before the king and Iehoiada, and hee made thereof ^g vessels for the house of the Lord: ^{men} vessels to minister, both morters and ^{incense} cups, and vessels of golde and of silver: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Iehoiada.

15 ¶ But Iehoiada waxed olde and was full of dayes, and died. An hundred and thirtie yeere olde was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the cite of Dauid with the ^h kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiada, came the princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued grones and idols: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Iehoiada the Priest, which stood about the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse yee the commandements of the Lord? surely yee shall not prosper:
because yee haue forsaken the Lord, hee also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, & stoned him with stones at the ^m commandment of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioshs the king remembered not the kindnesse which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but flew his sonne. And when hee died, hee said, The Lord ⁿ looke vpon it and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the host of Aram came vp against him, & they came against Iudah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king of Damascus.

Then all the people of Iudah tooke Vzziah, which was sixteen yeere olde, and made him king in stead of his father Amaziah.

2 He built Eloth, and restored it to Iudah after that the king slepe with his fathers.

3 Sixteen yeere olde was Vzziah, when hee began to reigne, and he reigned two & fity yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Iecoliah of Ierusalem.

4 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And hee sought God in the dayes of Zechariah (which vnderstood the visions of God); and when as he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went fourth and foughte against the Philistims and brake downe the wall of Gath, & the wall of Iabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and Hammenim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue gifts to Vzziah, and his name prede to the entring in of Egypt: for he d d most valiantly.

9 Moreover Vzziah built towres in Ierusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, & at the turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wilde nesse; and digged many cisternes: for he had much cattell both in the valleys and plaines, plowmen, and dwellers of vines in the mountains, and in Carmel: for he loued husbandry.

11 Vzziah had also an hoist of fighting men that went out to warre by bands, according to the count of their number vnder the hand of Ieiel the Scribe, and Maaciah the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captaynes.

12 The whole number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and fixe hundred.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, three hundred and fuen thousand; & fue hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the king against the enemy.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hostes, shields, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very artificiall engines in Ierusalem, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones: and his name spread farre abroad, because God did helpe him maruellously, till he was mightie.

16 But when he was strong, his heart was lift vp to his destruction: for hee transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him fourescore Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Vzziah the king, and said vnto him, It pertaineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the Iohnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: & goe fourth to the Sanctuarie: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priests, the Iepsoferose vp in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, he had, hec was leprous in his forehead, and they cau ed him hastily to depart thence: and he was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 Vzziah the king was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an house apart, because he was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Iotham his sonne reigned ouer the kings house, and iudged the people of the Land.

22 Concerning the rest of the acts of Vzziah, first and last, did Iahiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Vzziah slepe with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the buriall, which pertained to the kings: for they said, Hee is a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

Iotham was fife and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteen yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Ierimiah the daughter of Zadok.

2 And hee d d vprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Vzziah did. Iane that hee entred into the Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet corrupt.

3 He built the hie gate of the house of the Lord, and hee built very much on the wall of the citie.

4 Moreover he built cities in the mountains of Iudah, and in the forrests he built palaces and towres.

5 And hee fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and preailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon gae him both in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Iotham became mightie, because hee directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iotham and all his warres and his wayes, loe, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel, and Iudah.

8 He was fife and twentie yeere old, when hee began to reigne, and reigned sixteen yeere in Ierusalem.

Ahaz was twentie yeeres old when he began to reigne, and reigned fixtee yeeres in Ierusalem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord, like Dauid his father.

2 But he walked in the waies of the kings of Israel, & made euen molten images for Baalim.

3 Moreover he burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, and Iurut his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Hee sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on hills, and vnder every greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered him into the hand of the King of the Aramites, and they smote him, and tooke of his many prisoners, and brought them to Damascus: and he was also deliuered into the hand of the King of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For Pekah the sonne of Remaliah slew in Iudah sixscore thousand in one day, all valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri a King of Ephraim slew Maafiah the Kings sonne, and Azrikam the gouernour of the house, and Elkanah the second after the King.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, & two hundred thousand of women, sonnes & daughters, and caried away much spoile of them, & brought the spoile to Samaria.

9 But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and sayd vnto them, Behold, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, hee hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And now ye purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as seruants and handmaides vnto you, but are not you such, that finnes are with you before the Lord your God?

11 Now therefore heare mee, and deliuer the captiues againe, which ye haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Iehizkiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stood vp against them that came from the warre, 13 And said vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hither: for thus shalbe a sin vpon vs against the Lord: yee intend to add more to our finnes & to our trespass, though our trespass be great, and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

14 So the army left the captiues and the spoile before the princes and all the Congregation.

15 And the men that were named by name rose vp and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gaue them meate, and gaue them drinke, and anointed them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Iericho the citie of Palme trees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

16 At that time did king Ahaz send vnto the Kings of Ashur to helpe him.

17 For the Edomites came moreover, and slew of Iudah, and caried away captiues.

18 The Philistims also inunded the cities in the low country, and toward the South of Iudah and tooke Bethhemesh, and Aialon, and Gederoth and Shochu, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz King of Israel, for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah, and had grienously trespassed against the Lord.

20 And Tilgath Pileseer king of Ashur came vnto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

21 For Ahaz tooke a portion out of the house of the Lord, and out of the Kings house and of the princes, and gaue vnto the king of Ashur: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did hee yet trespass more against the Lord, (this is King Ahaz)

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of the Kings of Aram helped them, I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will help mee: yet they were his ruine, and of all Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Ierusalem.

25 And in euery citie of Iudah hee made high places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and provoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his acts, and all his waies first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah, and Israel.

27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the Kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 He opened the doores of the house of the Lord in the first yeere, and in the first month of his reigne, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the Priests and the Levites, and gathered them into the East streete,

5 And said vnto them, Heare me ye Levites: sanctifie now your selues, and sanctifie the house of the Lord God of your fathers, and cary forth the filthiuesse out of the Sanctuary.

6 For our fathers haue trespassed and done euill in the eyes of the Lord our God, & haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, and turned their backs.

7 They haue also shut the doores of the porch, and quenched the lampes, and haue neither burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerings in the Sanctuary vnto the God of Israel.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Ioel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Iehaleel: and of the Gershonites, Ioab the sonne of Zimmah, and Eden the sonne of Ioab:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Ieduthun, Shemaiah and Vzziel.

16 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, & came according to the commandement of the King, and [by] the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the vncleanness that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to carie it out vnto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the 8 first month to sanctifie it, and the 8ight day of the month came they to the porch of the Lord. so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first month, they made an ende.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and sayd, Wee haue cleaneed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the [shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king arose early, and gathered the Princes of the city, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullocks, and seven rammes, and seven lambs, and setten he goats, for a * sinne offering for the kingdome, and for the sanctuary, and for Iudah. And hee commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullocks, and the Priests receiued the blood, and i sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rammes, and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goates for the sinne offering before the King and the Congregation, and they layd their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleaneed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering, and the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with viols, and with harpes, * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the * commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Leuites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the * Lord began with the trumpets, & the instruments * of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king and the princes commaunded the Leuites to praise the Lord with the * words of Dauid, and of Alaph the Seer. So they prayed with ioy, & they bowed themselves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now yee haue † consecrate your selues to the Lord: come neere & bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices and offerings of prayes, and euery man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seuentie bullockes, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for † sanctification fixe hundred bullockes, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were too few, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill other Priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were 9 more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselves then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many, with the * fat of the peace offerings and drinke offerings for the burnt offering: so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced and all the people, that God had made the people so ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from Beerſheba even to Dan, that they ſhould come to keepe the Paſſeover vnto the Lord God of Iſrael at Ieruſalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 So the poſtes went with letters by the commiſſion of the king, and his princes, throughout all Iſrael and Iudah, and with the commandement of the king, ſaying, Ye children of Iſrael, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham Iſhak, and Iſrael, and he will returne to the remnant that are eſcaped of you, out of the hands of the kings of Aſſhur.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which treiſſed againſt the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them deſolate, as ye ſee.

8 Be not ye now ſtiffecked like your fathers, but ſigne the hand to the Lord, and come into his ſanctuarie, which he hath ſanctified for ever, and ſerue the Lord your God, and the fierceneſſe of his wrath ſhall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children ſhall finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they ſhall returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 So the poſts went from city to city throughout the land of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, even vnto Zebulun: but they laughed them to ſcorne and mocked them.

11 Neuertheleſſe, diuers of Aſſer, and Manaſſeh, and of Zebulun, ſubmitted themſelues, and came to Ieruſalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, ſo that he gaue them one heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there aſſembled to Ieruſalem much people, to keepe the feaſt of the vnteaſoned bread in the ſecond moneth, a very great aſſembly.

14 And they aroſe and tooke away the altars that were in Ieruſalem: and all thoſe for inſenſe tooke they away, and caſt them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterward they ſlew the Paſſeover the fourteenth day of the ſecond moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were ſlaimed, and ſanctified themſelues, and brought the burnt offerings into the houſe of the Lord.

16 And they ſtood in their place after their maner, according to the Law of Moſes the man of God: and the Priests ſprinkled the blood remeined of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Becauſe there were many in the Congregation that were not ſanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Paſſeover for all that were not cleane, to ſanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, even a multitude of Ephraim, and Manaſſeh, Iſſachar & Zebulun had not cleaſed themſelues, yet did eate the Paſſeover, but not as it was written, wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, The good Lord be mercifull toward them.

21 And the children of Iſrael that were preſent at Ieruſalem, kept the feaſt of the vnteaſoned bread ſeven dayes with great ioy, and the Leuites, and the Priests prayd the Lord day by day, ſinging with loud inſtruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah ſpoke comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to ſing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feaſt ſeven dayes and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole aſſembly tooke counſell to keepe it other ſeven dayes. So they kept it ſeven dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah King of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a thouſand bullockes, and ſeven thouſand ſheepe. And the Priences had giuen to the Congregation a thouſand bullockes, and ten thouſand ſheepe: and many Priests were ſanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Iſrael, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſrael, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioy in Ieruſalem: for ſince the time of Salomon the ſonne of David king of Iſrael, there was not the like thing in Ieruſalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites aroſe, and bleſſed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

3 Then he tooke counsell with his princes and his nobles, to stop the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him,

4 So, many of the people assembled themselves, and stoppt all the fountaines, and the river that ran through the mids of the countrey, saying, Why should the king of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And he tooke courage, and built all the broken wal, and made vp the towres, and another wall without, and repaired * Millo in the b citie of David, and made many darts and shields.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not, neither be afraid for the king of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: * for there be more with vs, then w with him.

8 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah king of Iudah.

9 * After this did Sanherib king of Asshur, send his seruants to Ierusalem, (while he was against Lachih, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah, and vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sanherib the king of Asshur, Wherein doe ye trust, that ye will remaine in Ierusalem, during the siege?

11 Dost not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your felnes vnto death by famine, and by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the king of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places, and his g altars, and commaunded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreys? were the gods of the nations of other lande able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is hee of all the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hand, that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither deceiue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdom was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruants spake more against the Lord God, and against his seruant Hezekiah.

17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations & other countreys could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loud voyce in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them, and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, ^{when the} works of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, prayed against this and cried to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel, which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes, and captaynes of the host of the king of Asshur: so he returned with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord fained Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Saneherib king of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, & maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that he was magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward ^{beside} epon him: for his heart was lifted vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gate him treasures of filver and of gold, and of precious stones, and of sweet odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of store-houses for the increase of wheat and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beasts and for fowes for the stables.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of Gihon, and led them straight vnderneath toward the city of Dauid Westward: so Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

31 But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to trie him, and to know all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnesse, behold, they are written in the vision of Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz, in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death, and Manaffeh his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 Manaffeh an idolater. 9 He casteth Iudah to erre. 11 Hee is set away prisoner into Babylon. 12 He prayeth to the Lord, and is deliuered. 14 Hee aboliseth idolatry. 16 And Ierusalem up true religion. 20 Hee dieth and Ananias his sonne succedeth, 24 Whom his owne Ieremias slay.

Manaffeh was twelue yere old, * when he began to reigne, and hee reigned five and fiftie yere in Ierusalem:

2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, * whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues and worshipped all the hofte of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also hee built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, * In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And hee built altars for all the hofte of the heauen in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 And hee caused his sonnes to passe thorow the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: hee gaue himselfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to forsoene, and hee vied them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: hee did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the carued image, which he had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house, and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither will * I make the foot of Israel to remove any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, and doe all that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Moses.

9 So Manaffeh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake to Manaffeh and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaynes of the hofte of the king of Asshur which tooke Manaffeh and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines and caried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, hee prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe greatly before the Lord God of his fathers,

13 And prayed vnto him: and God was merciefull vnto him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdom: then Manaffeh knew that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this hee built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the West side of Gihon in the valley, even at the entry of the fifth-gate, and compassed about Ophel, and raised it very high, and put captaynes of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And hee tooke away the strange gods and 16 Also hee prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, & of thanks, and commanded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Iirach.

17 Neuertheless the people did sacrifice still in the hie places, but vnto the Lord their God.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and serued them.

23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon trespased more and more.

24 And his seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against King Amon: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne King in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Iosiah destroyed the idoles. 8 And restor'd the Temple. 19 The booke of the Law is found. 31 Hee smiteth to Hilkiah the Prophetesse for counsell. 37 Good letters be prayer. 38 Hee maketh a covenant with God.

Iosiah * was eight yeere old when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned in Ierusalem one and thirtie yeere.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of David his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yeere of his reigne (when hee was yet a childe) hee began to seeke after the God of David his father: and in the twel't yeere hee began to purge Iudah, and Ierusalem from the hie places, and the groues, and the carued images and molten images.

4 And they brake downe e in his sight the altars of Baalim, and hee caused to cut downe the images that were on high vpon them: he brake al o the groues, and the carued images and the molten images, and stamp't them to powder, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto hem.

5 Also hee burnt the 4 bones of the Priestes vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim and Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their maules they brake all round about.

7 And when hee had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, hee turned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when hee had purged the land & the temple, hee sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the gouernour of the cite, and Iosah the son of Iosahaz the Recorder to repara the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high Priest, they deliuered the mony that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Iirael, and of all Iudah and Ecniamin, and of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 And they put in the hands of them that should do the worke and had the oversight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord to repara and amend the house.

11 Euen to the workemen and to the builders gaue they it to buy hewed stone and timber for couples, and for beames of the houses, which the Kings of Iudah had destroyed.

12 And themen did the worke faithfully, and the ouersers of them were Iabath and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to let it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the bearts of burdens, and them that set forward all the workemen in euary worke: and of the Leuites were Scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the booke of the Law of the Lord giuen by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered & said to Shaphan the chancellor, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan carried the booke to the King, and brought the King word againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouersers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chancellor declared to the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the words of the Law, hee tare his clothes

20 And the King commanded Hilkiah and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asaiah the Kings seruant, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for mee, and for the rick in Iirael and Iudah, concerning the words of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the word of the Lord, to doe after all that is writen in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the King had appointed, went to Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tokhath, the sonne of fall vpon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to thou hast heard sh all come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did not melt, and uites, and all the people from the greatest to the smallest, and he read in their eares all the words of the booke of the Covenant, that was found in 5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the diuision of the families of your brethren || the children of the people, and as for the diuision of the family of the Leuites:

6 So kill the Passouer, and sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the people sheep, lambs and kiddes, all for the Passouer, even to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and three thousand bullockes: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Passouer, even two thousand and sixe hundred sheepe, and three hundred bullockes.

9 * Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Netha-neel his brethren, and Hafabiah and Ieiel, and Iozabab, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Le-uites for the Passouer, five thousand sheepe, and five hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stood in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the Kings commandement:

11 And they slew the Passouer, and the Priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Le-uites slayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering, to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullockes.

13 And they roasted the Passouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and cauldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselues and for the Priests: for the Priests the sons of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fat vntill night: therefore the Le-uites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sonnes of Asaph stood in their standing according to the commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Heman, and Ie-duthun the Kings Seer: and the porters at every gate, who might not depart from their seruice: therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So all the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day to keepe the Passouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord
according to the commandement of King Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passouer the same time, and the feast of the vneleavened bread seven dayes.

18 And there was no Passouer kept like that in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet:

¶ The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Hebrew but is translated out of the Grecke.

O Lord Almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and of their righteous seedes, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment, which hast shut vp the deepe, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whom all doe feare, and tremble before thy power: for the Maiestie of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is vnmeasurable and vnsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, and repentest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised^a repentance and forgiveness to them that sin against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, which haue not^b sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned above the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied, my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of the heuens for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnesse. I am bowed down with many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath, and done euill before thee, I did not thy wil, neither kept I thy commandments. I haue set vp abominations, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me: O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with mee for euer by referring euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, euē the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue mee that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life: for all the power of the heuens praye thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer. Amen.

a Thou hast promised that repentance shall be the way for them to returne to thee.
b Hee speaketh this in comparison of himselfe, and those holy fathers which haue their commendation in the Scriptures, so that in respect of himselfe, he calleth their sinnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteousness.

E Z R A.

THE ARGVMENT.

As the Lord is ever mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries and bee exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world, and aspire vnto the heauen: so after that hee had visited the Iewes, and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeeres in a strange country among infidels and idolaters: hee remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake rayed them vp a deliuerer, and mooued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pitee them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding, lest they should grow into a contempt of Gods great benefite, hee kepteth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which inuade as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophet: they went forward by little and little, till their worke was finished. The Authour of this booke was EZRA, who was Priest and Scribe of the Lawe, as Chap. 7. 6. Hee returned to Ierusalem the first yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeere after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. Hee brought with him a great company and much treasures, with letter to the Kings officers for all such things as should bee necessarie for the Temple: and at his coming hee redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

 59 ¶ And these went vp from Telmelah, and from Telharsha, Cherub, Addan, and Immer, but they could not discern their fathers house and their seed whether they were of Israel.
 60 The sonnes of Delaiah, the sonnes of Tobiah, the sonnes of Nekoda, fixe hundred and two and fiftie.
 61 And of the sonnes of the Priestes, the sonnes of Habaiah, the sonnes of Coz, the sonnes of Barzilai: which tooke of the daughters of Barzilai the Gileadite to wife, and was called after their name.
 62 These fought their writing of the genealogies, but they were not found: therefore were they put from the Priesthood.
 63 And Tirshatha said vnto them, that they should not eate of the most holy thing, till there rose vp a Priest with^m Urim and Thummim.
 64 The whole Congregation together was two and fourtie thousand, three hundred and thre score.
 65 Beside their seruants and their maidens: of whom were seven thousand, three hundred and seven and thirtie: and among them were two hundred singing men and singing women.
 66 Their horses were seven hundred, and fixe and thirtie: their mules, two hundred and fife and fourtie:
 67 Their camels foure hundred, and fife and thirtie: their asses, fixe thousand, seven hundred and twenty.
 68 And certaine of the chiefe fathers, when they came to the house of the Lord, which was in Ierusalem, they offered willingly for the house of God to set it vp vpon his foundation.
 69 They gaue after their abilitie vnto the treasure of the worke, even one and thre score thousandⁿ drammes of gold, and fife thousandⁿ pieces of siluer, and an hundred Priestes garments.
 70 So the Priestes and the Leuites, and a certaine of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

CHAP. III.

1 They build the Altar of God. 6 They offer to the Lord. 7 They prepare for the Temple. 11 And sing vnto the Lord.
 And^a when the^a seuenth moneth was come, and the children of Israel were in their cities, the people assembled themselves as one man vnto Ierusalem.

2 Then stood vp Ieshua the sonne of Iozadak, and his brethren the Priestes, & Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, & his brethren, and builded the Altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the Law of Moises the man of God,
 3 And they set the Altar vpon^c his bases (for feare was among them, because of the sonnes of those countreys) therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord, even burnt offerings in the morning, and at euen.
 4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and the burnt offering^a daily, by number according to the custome day by day,
 5 And afterward^d the continuall burnt offering, both in the new moneths and in all the feast dayes that were consecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offered vnto the Lord.
 6 From the first day of the seuenth moneth began they to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not laid.
 7 They gaue money also vnto the masons, and to the workemen, and meate and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Zidon and Tyrus, to bring them cedar wood from Lebanon to the sea vnto Japho, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.
 8 ¶ And in the second yeere of their coming vnto the house of God in Ierusalem, in the second moneth began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Iozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the priests, and the Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Ierusalem, and appointed the Leuites from twentie yeere old, and aboute, to set forward the worke of the house of the Lord.
 9 And Ieshua stood with his sonnes, and his brethren, and Kadmiel with his sonnes, and the sonnes of Iudah together, to set forward the workemen in the house of God, and the sonnes of Henadad with their sonnes, and their brethren the Leuites.
 10 And when the builders layed the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Priestes in their apparell with trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbals, to praye the Lord, * after the ordinance of Dauid king of Israel.
 11 Thus they sang when they gaue praise, and when they gaue thanks vnto the Lord, For hee is good, for his mercy endureth for euer toward Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they prayed the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lord was layed.
 12 Many also of the Priestes & the Leuites and the chiefe of the fathers, ancient men which had sene the first house, (when the foundation of this house was layed before their eyes) ^g wept with a loud voyce, and many shouted aloud for ioy, 13 So that the people could not discern the sound of the shout for ioy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loude cry, and the noise was heard farre off.

l Ebr in the Chalde, We have caused the fall of his palace.

But the adversaries of Iudah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captiuitie builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefe fathers, and said vnto them, We will build with you: nor we ecke the Lord your God as yee doe, and we haue sacrificed vnto him since the time of Elai Haddon king of Asshur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, sayde vnto them, It is not for you but for vs to builde the house vnto our God: b for we our selues together will build it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the King of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land f discouraged the people of Iudah, and troubled them in building.

5 And they hired counsellors against them, to hinder their deuie, all the dayes of Cyrus King of Persia, euen vntill the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of d Ahasueros (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudah and Ierusalem.

7 And in the dayes of e Artahastafte, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahastafte king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the Scibe wrote a letter against Ierusalem to Artahastafte the king, in this ort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions: Dinaï, and Apharathcaie, Tarpelae, Apharsaie, Archeonai, Bablaie, Shushanchaie, Dehaue, Elmale,

10 And the rest of the people whom the great and noble s Alinappar brought ouer, and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the Ruer and i Chenech.

11 ¶ This is the copie of the letter that they sent vnto king Artahastafte. THEY SERVANTS the men beyond the Ruer and Chenech, salute thee.

12 Be it knowne vnto the king that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierualem (a cite rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the walles, and haue ioyued the foundations.

13 Be it knowne now vnto the king, that if this cite be built, and the foundations of the wals layd, they will not keepe tolle, tribute, nor k custome: so shalt thou hinder the kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because f we haue bene brought vp in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for thus can we haue we sent and certified the King,

15 That one may seach in the booke of the Chronicles of the scribes, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this cite is rebellious and noysome vnto kings and prouinces, and that they haue moued edition of olde time, for the which cause this cite was destroyed.

16 Wee certifie the king therefore, that if this cite be build, and the foundation of the walles layd, by this means the portion beyond the Ruer shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The King sent an answer vnto Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the Ruer: Shalam and m Chech.

18 ¶ The letter which yee sent vnto vs, hath bene openly red before mee,

19 And I haue commanded and they haue searched, and found, that this cite of olde time hath made insurrection against kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the Ruer, and tolle, tribute and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree that those men may cease, and that the cite be not built, till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede now that yee faile not to doe this: why should damage grow to hurt the king?

23 When the copie of king Artahastafte's letter was read before Rehū & Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then n ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yeere of Darius king of Persia.

CHAP. V.

1 Haggai and Zechariah are prophets. 2 The work of the Temple goes forward contrary to the will of Darius. 3 His letters to Darius.

Then ¶ Haggai a Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudah, and Ierusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, euen vnto them.

2 Then Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel and Ieshua the sonne of Iozadak arose, and began to builde the house of God at Ierusalem, and with them were the Prophets of God, which a helped them.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyond the Ruer, and Shether-boznai and their companions, and said thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to builde this house, and to lay the foundation of the wals?

4 b Then said we vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that builde this building?

5 But the eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beyond the Ruer, and Shether-boznai and his companions, Apharschaie, (which were beyond the river) sent vnto king Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowne vnto the King, that we went into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with g great stones, and beames are laid in the wals, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we the Elders, and sayd vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of the wals?

l Some reade, for Shalam, salutation or greeting. m Called also Chenech as verse 10.

n Not altogether: for the Prophets exhorted them to continue, but they vied lesse diligence because of the troubles.

10r, Haggai. 11r, Hagg 1. 12r, 13r, 14r, 15r.

a Which encouraged them to goe forward, and accused them that they were more careful to build their own houses, then zealous to builde the Temple of God. b That is, the enemies aske of this, as verse 10. c His fauour and the spirit of strength.

10 We asked their names also that wee might certifie thee, and that we might write the names of them that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of old: and in 170 yeeres agoe, which a great king of Israel builded, and founded it.

12 But a tetter that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel the Chaldean, and he destroyed this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus king of Babel, king Cyrus made a decree to builde this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and silver of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple that was in Ierusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Temple of Babel, & they gaue them vnto me Shehbazzar by his name, whom he had made captaine.

15 And he saide vnto him, Take these vessels an lgo thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Shehbazzar and layde the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that time euen vntill now hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the king, let there bee search made in the house of the kings treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by king Cyrus, to builde his house of God in Ierusalem, and let the King send his mind concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandment of Darius king of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicated, the children of Israel kept the feast of the seventh day.

Then king Darius gaue commandment, and they made search in the library of the treasures, which were there layd vp in Babel.

2 And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall.

3 IN THE FIRST yeere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalem. Let the house be built, and let the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be threecore cubites, and the bredth thereof threecore cubites.

4 Three orders of great stones, and one order of timber, and let the expences be giuen of the kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and silver, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple, which was in Ierusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let him go vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalem to his place, and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shethar Boznai, (and their companions Apharsace, which are beyond the Riuer,) be ye farre from thence.

7 Suffer ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandment what ye shall doe to the Elders of the Iewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the king, which is of the tribute beyond the Riuer, there be incontinently expences giuen vnto these men that they cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue neede of let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rammes, or lambes for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Ierusalem, that there be no fault.

10 That they may haue to offer sweet odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his honours.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whoeuer shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be set vp, and he shall be hanged thereon, and his house shall bee made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his name to dwell there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to destroy this house of God, which is in Ierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speed.

13 Then Tatnai the Captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shethar Boznai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the elders of the Iewes builded, & they prospered by the prophesying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, & they builded and finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commandment of Cyrus and Darius, and Artahastate king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the month of Adar, which was the sixth yeere of the reigne of King Darius.

16 And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Leuites, and the residue of the children of the captiuitie kept the dedication of this house of God with ioy.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullockes, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, and twelue goats for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priests in their order, and the Leuites in their Courses ouer the seruice of God in Ierusalem, as it is written in the booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Passeouer on the foureteenth day of the first moneth.

20 (For the Priests and the Leuites were purified altogether) and they killed the Passeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

21 So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had separated themselves vnto them, from the filthinesse of the heathen of the land, to seeke the Lord God of Israel, did eat.

22 And they kept the feast of vnleauened bread seuen dayes with ioy for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of Assyria vnto them, to incourage them in the worke of the house of God, men the God of Israel.

7 And there went vp certain of the children of Iſrael, and of the Prielts, and the Leuites, and the ſingers, and the porters, and the Nethinims vnto Ieruſalem, in the ſeuenth yeere of king Artahhaſtre.

8 And hee came to Ieruſalem in the 5 fifth moneth, which was in the ſeuenth yeere of the king.

9 For vpon the firſt day of the firſt moneth began hee to goe vp from Babel, and on the firſt day of the fifth moneth came hee to Ieruſalem according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to ſeek the Law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Iſrael.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that king Artahhaſtre gaue vnto Ezra the Prielt and Scribe, when a writer of the wordes of the commandments of the Lord, and of his ſtatutes ouer Iſrael.

12 ARTAHHAſTRE king of kings, to Ezra the Prielt and perſite Scribe of the Lawe of the God of heauen, and to 1 Cheeneth.

3 Dr. captaine of Moab.

9 Of the sonnes of Iosab, Obadiah the sonne of Iehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteene males.

10 And of the sonnes of Shelomith the sonne of Iosiphiah, and with him an hundred and threescor males.

11 And of the sonnes of Bebai, Zechariah the sonne of Bebai, and with him eight and twentie males.

12 And of the sonnes of Azgad, Iohanan the sonne of Hikkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the sonnes of Adonikam, that were the last, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Iehiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threescor males.

14 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Vthai, and Zabbud, and with them seuentie males.

15 And I gathered them to the river that goeth toward Ahava, and there abode we thre dayes: then I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Levi.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, and to Elnathan, and to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chiefe, and to Iochabib, and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding:

17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the chiefe, at the place of Caspisia, and I tolde them the words that they should speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Netthinims at the place of Caspisia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God, which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahli the sonne of Levi the sonne of Israel, and Sherebia with his sonnes and his brethren, even eighteene.

19 Also Hathabiah, and with him Ieshaiah of the sonnes of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes twentie.

20 And of the Netthinims, whom David had for, and the Princes for the seruice of the Levites, two hundred & twentie of the Netthinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the river, by Ahava, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble ^{our} selues before our God, & seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the king an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our God ^{is} vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, but his power and his wrath ^{is} against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chiefe of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Hathabiah, and ten of their brethren with them.

25 And we weighed them the siluer and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the king and his counsellors, and his princes, and all Israel that was present had offered.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand fixe hundred and fiftie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessel, an hundred talents, and in gold, an hundred talents,

27 And twenty basins of gold, of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of shining brasie very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶ And I said vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the gold and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers, 29 Watch yee, and keepe them vntil ye weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Levites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Levites receiued the weight of the siluer, and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelth day of the first moneth, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as laid ^{wait} for the way.

32 And we came to Ierusalem, and abode there thre daies.

33 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the gold, and the vessel, in the house of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabab the sonne of Ioshua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnui the Levites, 34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 All the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, ninee and fixe rammes, seuentie and euen lambes, and twelue hee goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the kings commission vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the river, and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezra complained to the people that had turned themselves from the Law, and married with the Gentiles 5 He prayed vnto God.

WHEN * as these things were done, the rulers came to mee, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests, and the Levites are not separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Iebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seed with the people of the lands, and the hand of the Princes & rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and plucked off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and Iate down ^{cast} down.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sate downe astonished vnto the euening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I rose vp from mine heavinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and pread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for deliuered into the hand of the kings of the lands, vnto the word, into captiuitie, into a spoile, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remanant to escape, and in giuing vs a faine in his giue vs a little reuiuing in our seruitude.

hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath inclined mercy vnto vs in the sight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shall we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy ser-uants the Prophets, saying, * The land whereunto ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane land, because of the filthinesse of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shal ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shal ye take their daughters vnto your sons, nor seeke their peace nor wealth for euer, that ye may be strong and eate the goodnesse of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euil deeds, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed vs from being beneath g for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

14 Should we returne to breake thy com-mandements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldst not thou be angrie toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant, nor any e scape?

haue bin h referred to e scape, as appeareth this day:
behold, we are before thee in our tre paffe: therefore we cannot stand before thee, because of it.

1 The people repen and wept, and put a waxe in their Whiles Ezra prayed thus, and a confessed himself weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel, a very great Congregation of men, and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam answered, and said to Ezra, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiuues of the people of the land, yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away e all the wiuues (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the Commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

4 Arise: for the matter d belongeth vnto thee: we also will be with thee: be of comfort and doe it.

5 ¶ Then arose Ezra, and caused the chiefe Priests, the Leuites, and all Israel, to sweare that they would doe according to this word. So they swore.

6 * And Ezra rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib: hee went euen thither, but he did eat neither bread, nor drinke water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, vnto f all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselves vnto Ierusalem.

8 And whosoever would not come within three daies, according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudah and Benjamin assembled them selves vnto Ierusalem within three daies, which was the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people sate in the street of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the raine.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp, and said vnto them, Yee haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiuues, to g increase the tre paffe of Israel.

11 Now therefore h giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his will, and separate your selves from the people of the land, and from the strange wiuues.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loud voice, So will we doe according to thy words vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a rainie weather, and we are not able to stand without, neither a ii the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore i before all the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wiuues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euery cite, and the Iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Ionathan the sonne of Ashbel, and Iahaziah the sonne of Tiknah ouer this matter, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so, and k departed, then Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the family of their fathers by name, and fate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wiuues.

18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men found, that had taken strange wiuues, to m, n, o the sonnes of Iehua, the sonne of Iozadak, and of his brethren, Maaseiah, Aeliezer, and Iarib, and passed, gaue a ramme for their trespass.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times, for worthy persons for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compass of fiftie yeeres hee raised up divers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zernubbabel, Ezra and Nehemiah. Whereas the first was their Captaine to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their maner, and planted Religion: and the third builded up the walles, delivered the people from oppression, and provided that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man, and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King favoured him greatly, and gave him most ample Letters for the accomplishment of all things which hee could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because hee was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

4 Nehemiah bewailed the calamities of Ierusalem 5 He confesseth the finnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

THe words of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. In the moneth 3 Chisleu, in the twentieth yere as I was in the palace of Shulhan, 2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he and the men of Iudah, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were delivered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they said vnto mee, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the province, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these words, I sat downe and wept, and mourned certaine daies, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And said, * O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his Commandementes,

6 I pray thee let thine eares bee attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daily, day and night for the children of Israel thy seruantes, and confesse the finnes of the children of Israel, which wee haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:

7 Wee haue grievously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the Commandementes, nor the Statutes, nor the Indgements, which thou commandest thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the word that thou commandest thy seruant Moses, saying, Yee will transgresse, and * I will scatter you abroad among the people.

9 But if yee returne vnto mee, and keepe my Commandementes, and doe them, * though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen to place my Name there.

10 Now the e are thy seruantes and thy people whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eares now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruantes, who desire to * feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the Kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained Letters of Artaxerxes, 11 he came to Ierusalem, 17 and builded the walles.

Now in the moneth * Nisan in the twentieth Nyere of King b Artahshashtes the Wine stood before him, and I tooke vp the Wine, and gave it vnto the King. Now I was not beforetime: I hid in his presence:

2 And the King saide vnto mee, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorrow of heart. Then was I fore afraid,

3 And I saide to the King, God saue the King for euer: why should not my countenance be sad, when the cite and house of the sepulchres of my fathers lieth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing dost thou require? Then I prayed to the God of heauen,

5 And said vnto the king, If it please the king, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the city of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the King said vnto mee, (the Queene also sitting by him) How long shall thy journey bee? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

7 After, I sayd vnto the King, If it please the king, let them giue me letters to the capitaines beyond the || river, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iudah,

8 And letters vnto Asaph the keeper of the Kings || parke, that hee may giue mee timber to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) and for the wall of the citie, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gaue mee according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 Then came I to the capitaines beyond the River, and gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent capitaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant and Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them fore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with mee: for I told no man, what God had put in mine heart to doe at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with mee, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the wall of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the ports thereof denoued with the fire.

14 Then I went fourth vnto the gate of the || fountaine, and to the kings fishpoole, and there was no roume for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall and turned backe, and coming backe, I entered by the gate of the valley, and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Yee see the misery that wee are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come, let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the kings words that hee had spoken vnto mee. And they said, Let vs rise, and build. So they strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant and Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, and we his seruants will rise vp and build, but as for you, ye haue no portion, nor right, nor memoriall in Ierusalem.

God (to whom he hath appointed this citie onely) neither did ye build it.

8 Next vnto him fortified Uzziel the sonne of Harhobiah || of the goldsmiths: next vnto him also fortified Hananiah the sonne || of Harakkahim, and they repaired Ierusalem vnto the broad wall.

11 Malchijah the sonne of Harim, and Hashub the sonne of Pahath Moab fortified the second || portion, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 Next vnto him also fortified Shallum the sonne of Halloeh, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah: they built it and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubits on the wall vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Malchiah the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth-hacceram: hee builded it, and set on the doores thereof: the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallum the sonne of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mizpah: hee builded it, and covered it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall

28 From above the horse-gate fourth fortified the Priests, euery one ouer against his house.

29 After them fortified Zadok the sonne of Immer ouer against his house : and after him fortified Sheamaiah the sonne of Shechaniah the keeper of the East gate.

30 After him fortified Hananiah the sonne of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sonne of Zalaph, the sixth, another portion : after him fortified Methusalem, the sonne of Berechiah, ouer against his chamber.

31 After him fortified Malchiah the goldsmiths house, vntill the house of the Nethinims, and of the Merchants ouer against the gate ^b Miphkad, and to the chamber in the corner.

32 And betwene the chamber of the corner vnto the sheepe-gate fortified the goldsmiths and the Merchants.

CHAP. IIIII.

⁷ The building of Ierusalem is hindered. ¹⁵ But God breaketh their enterprise. ¹⁷ The tower build with one hand, and balde their weapons in the other.

BVt when Sanballat heard that wee builded the wall, then was he wroth and fore grieved, and mocked the Iewes,

2 And sayd before his brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus hee sayd, What doe these weake Iewes? will they fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stonnes whole againe out of the heapes of dust, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they build, yet if a foxe goe vp, hee shall euen breake downe their stonie wall.

4 Heare, O our God (for wee are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray^d in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their iniquitie, neither let their sinne bee put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked vs before the builders.

6 So wee build the wall, and all the wall was ioined vnto the ¹¹ halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Athododims heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come and to fight against Ierusalem, and to [†] hinder them.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and let watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah said, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had said, They shal not know, neither see, till wee come into the mids of them, and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they told vs ¹⁰ ten times, ^g From all places, whence yee shall returne, they will bee vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behinde the wall vpon the tops of the stones, and placed the people by their families, with their swordes, their speares, and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and said vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people. Bee not afraid of them: ^h remember the great Lord, and fearefull, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was known vnto vs, then God brought their counsell to nought, and we turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke,

16 And from that day halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shields, and bowes, and habergions: and the rulers stood ⁱ behinde all the house of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders had his sword girt on his loines, and so builded: and hee that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

Of his companions that dwelt in Samaria.

Thus the wicked that consider that Gods power is neuer in a readinesse for the defence of his,

mocke them as though they were weake and feeble.

This is the remedie that the children of God haue against the scurrilous & threatening of their enemies, to see to God by prayer,

Let them bee spoiled and led away captiue.

Let thy plague declare to [†] world that they let themselves against thee, and against thy Church: thus he prayeth, only ha-

They which brought the tidings, said thus.

When you learn your worke, and goe either to cate, or to rell, our enemies will assaile you.

Who is neuer at hand to deliuer his out of danger: and therefore seeing they should fight for maintenance in Gods glory, and for the preservation of their owne liues, and of theirs, he encouraged them to play the valiant men.

To overcome them and to encourage them to their worke.

20 In what place therefore yee heare the found of the tympanet, ^k re'ort yee thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So wee laboured in the worke, and halfe of them held the speares, from the appearing of the morning, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time sayd I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruants, nor the men of the ward (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, sau euery one put them off ^l for washing.

CHAP. V.

^a The people are oppressed and inueterate. ^b Nehemiah remembreth it. ^c Hee doeth not the portion of others that had ruled before, lest he should grieve the people.

Now there was a great crie of the people and of their wiues ^a against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were that sayd, Wee, our sons and our daughters are many, therefore wee take vp ^b corne, that we may eate and liue.

3 And there were that sayd, We must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that said, We haue borrowed money for the kings ^c tribute upon our landes and our vineyards.

5 And now our flesh ^d is as the ^d flesh of our brethren, and our finnes as their finnes: and loe, wee bring into subiection our ^e onnes and our daughter ^f s, as seruants, and there be of our daughters ^g now in subiection, and there ^h no power ⁱ in our hands: for other men ^j haue our landes and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their crie and these words.

7 And I thought in my mind, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and saide vnto them, You lay ^k burdens euery one upon his brethren: and I let a great g assembly against them.

8 And I said vnto them, Wee (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were sold vnto the heathen: and wil you sell your brethren againe, or shall they bee ^l sold vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could not answer.

9 I said also, That which ye do, is not good. Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the ^m reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my seruants do lend them money and corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this ⁿ burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their lands, their vineyards, their oliues, and their houses, and remit the hundredth part of the silver, and of the corne, of the wine, and of the oyle: that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: wee wil doe as thou hast sayd, Then I called the Priests, and caused them to ^o sweare, that they should doe according to this promise.

13 So I shooke my lappe, and sayd, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shaken out and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, & praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue mee charge to be governor in the land of Iudah, from the twentieth yere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yere of King Artahabshite, that is, twelve yere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the ^p bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before mee, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides forty shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule over the people ^q but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of the wall, and wee bought no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreover there were at my Table an hundredth and fifty of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared dayly an ox, and fixe cho'en sheepe, and birds were prepared for me, and ^r within ten dayes wine for all ^s in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodnesse, according to all that I haue done, for this people.

CHAP. VI.

^t Nehemiah answereth with great wisdom, and saith to his aduersary, it is not discouraged by the falsitie of his.

And when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, & the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no moe ^u breaches therein (though at that time I had not let vp the doores vpon the gates.

2 Then sent Sanballat and Gethem vnto me, saying, Come thou that we may meeete together in the villages in the plaine of Ono: and they thought to doe me euill.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I cannot come downe: ^v why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto mee foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same manner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto mee the fift time, with an open letter in his hand.

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the ^w heathen, and ^x Gashmu hath said it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebel, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt bee their King, according to these ^y words.

7 Thou hast also ordeined ^z the Prophets to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There ^z is a King in Iudah: and now according to these words it shall come to the Kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these words that thou sayest: for thou seinest them of thine owne heart.

9 For all they afraid vs, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the worke, and it shal not be done: now therefore ^{aa} encourage thou me.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Sheaniah the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Mehetabel, and hee was ^{ab} shut vp, and he sayd, Let vs come together into the house of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for m I receiued not that portion and diet, which the gouernours that were before me exacted, wherein he declared that he rather sought the wealth of the people than his owne calamitie.

C H A P. VIII.

2 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 13 They rejoice in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keep the feast of Tabernacles for seven daies.

And all the people assembled themselves together, in the streete that was before the watergate, & they pake vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all^b that could heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seventh month.

3 And he read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstood it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Vriiah, and Malkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedajah, and Michael, and Malchiiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for hee was^d aboute all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood vp.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: & they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 All o Ioshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Iamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Iozabab, Hanan, Pelsiah, and the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, & caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and Scribe, and the Leuites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people weept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Goe, and eate of the fit, and drink the sweet, and send part vnto them, for whom none is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sorry therefore: for she c This declareth the great zeale, that the people had to heare the word of God.

the joy of the Lord is your ſtrength.

11 And the Leuites made ſilence throughout all the people, ſaying, Hold your peace: for the day is holy, be not ſad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to ſend away part, and to make great joy, becauſe they had vnderſtood the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the ſecond day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priſtes and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he alſo might inſtruct them in the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law (that the Lord had commanded by Moſes) that the children of Iſrael ſhould dwell in *boothes in the feast of the ſeuenth moneth.

15 And that they ſhould cauſe it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ieruſalem, ſaying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring oliue branches, and pine branches, and branches of myrtus, and palme branches, and branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them boothes, euery one vpon the b^oo^oke of his houſe, and in their courts, and in the courts of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreet by the water gate, and in the ſtreete of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie made boothes, and ſate vnder the boothes: for ſince the time of Ieſhua the ſonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo, and there was very great joy.

18 And hee read in the booke of the Law of God euery day, from the firſt day vnto the laſt day. And they kept the feaſt ſeven dayes, and on the eighth day a ſolemne aſſembly, according vnto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people reuerent, and ſiſke their ſtrange miſes. 2 The Le-uites exhort them to praife God, 3 declaring his wonders, and their ingratitudes, 30 and Gods great mercies towards them.

IN the foure and twentieth day of this ^a mo-neth the children of Iſrael were aſſembled with ^a faſting, and with ſackcloth, and earth vpon them.

2 (And they that were of the ſeede of Iſrael were ſeparated from all the ſtrangers) and they ſtood and confeſſed their ſinnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they ſtood vp in their place and read in the booke of the Law of the Lord their God fourteentimes on the day, and they b^c confeſſed and worſhipped the Lord their God fourteentimes.

4 Then ſtood vp vpon the ſtaires of the Le-uites, Ieſhua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bun-ni, Sheribiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cryed with a loud voyce vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Leuites ſayd, men Ieſhua and Kad-miel, Bani, Haſhabnab, Sheribiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah, Stand vp and praife the Lord your God for euery euer, and let them praye thy glorious Name, O God which excelleth aboue all thankſgiuing and praife.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou haſt made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoſts, the earth, and all things that are therein, the ſeas, and all that are in them, and thou preſerueſt them all, and the hoſts of the heauen worſhippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God that haſt choſen Abram, and broughteſt him out of ^a Vr in Caldea *and madeſt his name Abraham.

8 And foundeſt his heart faithfull before thee, *and madeſt a Couenant with him, to give vnto his ſeede the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, A-morites, and Perizzites, and Iſebutites, and Girgaſhites, and haſt performed thy words, becauſe thou art iuſt.

9 *Thou haſt alſo conſidered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red ſea.

10 And ſhewed tokens & wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his ſeruants, and on all the people of his land: for thou kneweſt that they dealt proudly againſt them: therefore thou madeſt thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 *For thou diddeſt breake vp the Sea before them, and they went through the mids of the ſea on dry land: and thoſe that purſued them, haſt thou caſt into the bottoomes as a ſtoine, in the mighty waters:

12 And *leddeſt them in the day with a pillar of a cloud, and in the night with a pillar of fire to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 *Thou cameſt downe alſo vpon mount Sinai, and *pakeſt vnto them from heauen, and gaueſt them right iudgements, and true lawes, ordinances, and good Commandements,

14 And declaredſt vnto them thine holy Sabbath, and commandedſt them precepts, and ordinances, and Lawes, by the hand of Moſes thy ſeruant:

15 *And gaueſt them bread from heauen for their hunger, *and broughteſt forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirſt: and *promiſedeſt them that they ſhould goe in, and take poſſeſſion of the land, for the which thou haſt liſt vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaued themſelues proudly, and hardened their necke, ſo that they hearkened not vnto thy Commandements,

17 But reſuſed to obey, and would not remember thy marueilous workes: thou haſt done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compaſſion, of long ſuffering, and of great mercy, yet forſookeſt them not.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calfe, (and ſaid, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blaſphemies,

19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forſookeſt them not in the wilderneſſe: *the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to ſhew them light, and the way whereby they ſhould goe.

20 Thou gaueſt alſo thy good Spirit to inſtruct them, and withheldſt not thy MAN from their mouth, and gaueſt them water for their thirſt.

21 Thou diddeſt alſo feed them forty yeeres in the wilderneſſe: they lacked nothing: *their clothes waxed not old, & their ſhoe ſwellen not.

22 And thou gaueſt them kingdoms & people, and ſcatteredſt them into corners: ſo they poſſeſſed *the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heſebon, and the land of Og king of Baſhan.

*Numb. 21. 26.

23 And thou diddest multiply their children, like the starres of the heauen, and broughtest them into the land, whereof thou hadst spoken vnto their fathers, that they should goe, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gauest them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyards and olives, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure thorow thy great goodnesse.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behind their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which thou protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliuerest them into the hand of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them fauours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had rest, they returned to doe euill before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted and cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times.

29 And protestedst among them, that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Lawe: but they behaued themselves proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commandements, but sinned against thy iudgements (*which a man should doe and liue in them) and pulled away the shoulder, and were stiffnecked, and would not heare.

30 Yet thou diddest forbear them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, euery by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Now therefore our God, *thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepst covenant and *mercy, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a little before thee, that is, to our kings, to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the kings of Asshur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou hast dealt truly, but wee haue done wickedly.

34 And our kings and our princes, our priests and our fathers haue not done thy Lawe, nor regarded thy commandements, nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou didst set before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill workes.

36 Behold, we are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodnesse thereof, behold, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeeldeth much fruit vnto the kings whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies, and ouer our cattell at their pleasure, and wee are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this wee make a fire covenant, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites, and our Priests seale vnto it.

CHAP. X.

The names of them that sealed the Covenant let vs see God and the people.

Now they that sealed, were Nehemiah the Tirshatha the sonne of Hachabiah, and Zidkiah,

1 Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah,

2 Pashur, Amariah, Malchiah,

3 Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch,

4 Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah,

5 Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch,

6 Meshullam, Aiah, Miamin,

7 Maaziah, Bilgai, Shebaniah: these are the Priests.

9 ¶ And the Leuites: Ieshua the sonne of Azaniah, Binnui, of the sonnes of Henadad, Kadmiel.

10 And their brethren, Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita, Pelaiiah, Hanan, 11 Micha, Rehob, Hashabiah,

12 Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,

13 Hodiah, Bani, Beninu.

25 Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah,

26 And Abihai, Hanan, Anan,

27 Mailuch, Harim, Baanah.

28 And the rest of the people, the Priests, the Leuites, the porters, the singers, the Nethinims, and all that were separated from the people of the lands vnto the Law of God, their wives, their sonnes, and their daughters, all that could vnderstand.

29 The chiefe of them receiued it for their brethren, and they came to the curse and to the oath to walke in Gods Law, which was given by Moses the seruant of God, to obserue and doe all the commandements of the Lord our God, and his iudgements, and his statutes.

30 And that wee would not giue our daughters to the people of the land, neither take their daughters for our sonnes.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Priestess and Levites which came with Zerubbabel vnto Ierusalem, are numbered, 27 and the wall is dedicated.

These also are the Priestess and the Levites that went vp with Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel, and Iefhua: to wit, Seraiah, Ieremiah, Ezra,

2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattufh,

3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abiah,

5 Miamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,

6 Shemaiah, and Ioiaib, Iedaiah,

7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Iedaiah: these were the chiefe of the Priestess, and of their brethren in the dayes of Iefhua.

8 And the Levites, Iefhua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Iudah, Mattaniah, were over the thanksgivings, he, and his brethren.

9 And Bakkukiah, and Vnni, and their brethren were about them in the watches.

10 And Iefhua begate Ioiakim: Ioiakim also begate Eliasib, and Eliasib begate Ioiada, 11 And Ioiada begate Ionathan, and Ionathan begate Iaddua.

12 And in the dayes of Ioiakim were these, the chiefe fathers of the Priestess: vnder Seraiah was Meraiah, vnder Ieremiah, Hananiah,

13 Vnder Ezra, Meshullam, vnder Amariah, Iehohanan,

14 Vnder Melch, Ionathan, vnder Shebaniah Ioseph,

15 Vnder Harim, Adna, vnder Meraioth, Helkai,

16 Vnder Iddo, Zechariah, vnder Ginnethon Meshullam,

17 Vnder Abiah, Zichri, vnder Miniamin, and vnder Moadiah, Pitai, 18 Vnder Bilgah, Shamnuah, vnder Shemaiah, Iehonathan, 19 Vnder Ioiaib, Mattaniah, vnder Iedaiah, Vzzi,

20 Vnder Sallai, Kallai, vnder Amok, Eber,

21 Vnder Hilkiah, Hashabiah, vnder Iedaiah, Nethanel.

22 In the dayes of Eliasib, Ioiada, and Iohanan and Iaddua were the chiefe fathers of the Levites written, and the Priestess in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Lewi, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen vnto the dayes of Iohanan the sonne of Eliasib.

24 And the chiefe of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Iefhua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to giue praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, ward ouer against ward.

25 Mattaniah, and Bakukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the dayes of: Ioiakim the son of Iefhua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Ierusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalem to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, both with thanksgivings and with songs, cymbals, viols, and with harpes.

28 Then the fingers gathered themelues together, both from the plaine country about Ierusalem, and from the villages of Bethpazathi,

29 And from the house of Githai, and out of the countreys of Geba, and Azmuth for the fingers had built them the villages round about Ierusalem.

30 And the Priestess and Levites were purified, and cleansed the people, & the gates, and the wall.

31 And I brought vp the princes of Iudah vpon the wall, and appointed two great companies to giue thanks, & the one went on their right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshai, and halfe of the princes of Iudah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam,

34 Iudah, Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Ieremiah,

35 And of the Priestess sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

36 And k his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Malalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, and Iudah, Hanani, with the musicall instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them, went they vp by the staires of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto the water-gate Eastward.

38 And the second company of them that gaue thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the tower of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the old gate, and vpon the fishgate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Meah, euen vnto the sheepe gate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gaue thanks in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priestess also, Eliakim, Maadiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, ^e Or, at the great end.

5 And he had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the fingers, and the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

6 But in all this time was not I in Ierusalem : for in the two & thirtieth yeere of ^d Artahastate king of Babel, came I vnto the king, and ^e after certaine dayes I obtained of the king.

7 And when I was come to Ierusalem, I vnderstood ^e the euill that Eliahib had done for Tobiah, in that hee had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

^e Thus we see to what incommenities the people fall into, when they are destitute of one that hath the feare of God, seeing that the chief gouernour was but a while absent, and yet they fell into such great aburdities, as appeareth also, Exod. 32. 1.

8 And it grieved mee forre : therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers : and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense :

10 And I perceived that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euery one was fled to his land, ^m when the Leuites and fingers that executed the worke, 11 Then reprooued I the rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tithes of corne, and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasures ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the Scribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaiah, and vnder their hand Harn the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Mattaniah : for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember mee, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my kindnesse that I haue shewed on the house of my God, & on the offices thereof.

15 In those dayes, law I in Iudah them, that rode winepresses on the Sabbath, & that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Ierusalem vpon the Sabbath day : and I protested to them in the day that they solde vitales.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ierusalem.

17 Then reprooued I the rulers of Iudah, and said vnto them, What euill thing is this that yee doe, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your athers ^b thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie : yet yee increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Ierusalem beganne to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, & charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and ^c some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chappmen and marchants of all merchandise remained once or twice all night without Ierusalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I layd vnto the Leuites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keepe the ^b gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember mee, O my God, concerning this, and pardon mee according to thy great mercie.

23 In those daies also I saw Iewes that married wiues of ^d Ahfod, of Ammon, and of Moab,

24 And their children spake halfe in the speech of Ahfod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the ^e one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and ^m cursed them, and smote certaine of them, and pulled off their haire, and tooke an othe of them by God. Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall yee take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 ¶ Did not Salomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him : for hee was ^a beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Israel : yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, ^m when to marry strange wiues?

^f He protesteth that he did his dutie with a good conscience, yet he deeth not iustifie himselfe herein, but desireth God to fauour him and to be mercifull vnto him for his owne goodnes sake, as verse 22. and 31.
^g I declared vnto them that God would not suffer such transgressions of his Law to be unpunished.

^h Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past, because that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague should be greater.

THE ARGUMENT.

BECAUSE of the diuersity of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supputation of yeeres wherein the Ebrewes and the Grecians doe vary, diuers Authors write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerofh, but it seemeth, Daniel 6. 1. and 9. 1. that he was ^a Darius King of the Medes, and some of Ahyages, called also Ahashuerofh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church : who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he ener stirreth vp some, by whom hee sendeth comfort and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride, and crueltie of the wicked when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at height, and how God preferreth and preserue them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and tenderness toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

3 King Ahashuerofh maketh royall feaft. 12 Whereunto the Queene Vafthi will not come. 19 For which cause, she is diuorced. 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

IN the dayes of a Ahashuerofh, (this is Ahashuerofh that reigned from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and seuea and twentie prouinces)

2 In the dayes when the king Ahashuerofh : sat on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushan.

3 In the third yeere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the capitaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That hee might shew the riches and glorie of his kingdom, and the honour of his great maiesty many dayes, euen an hundred and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, Greene, & blue clothes fastened with cords of fine linnen and purple, in silver rings, and pillars of marble : the beddes were of golde and of silver vpon a pavement of porphyre, and marble, and alabaster, and blue colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in abundance, according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compell : for so the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 ¶ The Queene Vafthi made a feast also for the women in the royall house of king Ahashuerofh.

10 Vpon the seuen day when the King was merry with wine, he commanded Memucan, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen eunuchs that serued in the presence of king Ahashuerofh,

11 To bring Queene Vafthi before the King with the crowne royall, that he might shew the people and the princes her beautie : for shee was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Vafthi refused to come at the Kings word, which he had giuen in charge to the eunuchs : therefore the king was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the king sayd to the women, which knew the times (for so was the kings manner towards all that knew the law and the iudgement :

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Shehtar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Martena, and Memucan the seuen princes of Persia, and Media, which saw the kings face, and fate the first in the kingdom)

15 What shall we doe vnto the Queene Vafthi according to the law, because she did not according to the word of the King Ahashuerofh by the commission of the eunuchs ?

16 Then Memucan answered before the king, and the Princes, the Queene Vafthi hath not only done euill against the King, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in the prouinces of King Ahashuerofh :

17 For the sake of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shall say, the King Ahashuerofh commaunded Vafthi the Queene to be brought in before him, but shee came not.

18 So shall the princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene : thus shall there be much despitefulnessse and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let a royall decree proceed from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia & Media, and let it not be transgressed : that Vafthi come no more before king Ahashuerofh : and let the king giue her royall estate vnto her companion that is better then shee.

20 And when the decree of the King which shall be made, shall be published throughout all his kingdoms (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbands honour, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the King and the princes, and the King did according to the word of Memucan.

22 For he sent letters into all the prouinces of the King, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their language,

18 For which was in the hand of the Eunuchs.

CHAP. II.

1 After the Queene vpon any, certaine young maydes are brought to the king. 2y Ester pleads the king, and vnto 2. sent. 3y Mordecai dispatch into the king too, that woman verrey him.

AFTER these things, when the wrath of the king Ahahuerosh was appealed, he remembered Vabti, and what he had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 And the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, sayd, Let them seeke for the King beautiful young virgins,

3 And let the king appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdom, and let them gather all the beautiful young virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women vnder the hand of Hege the Kings eunuch keeper of the women, to giue them their things for purification.

4 And the maide that shall please the King, let her reigne in the stead of Vabti. And this pleased the King, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the cite of Shushan, there was a certaine Iew whose name was Mordecai, the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Shimei, the sonne of Kish a man of femini,

6 Which had bene caried away from Ierusalem with the captiuitie that was caried away with Ieconiah king of Iudah (whom Nebuchadrezzar, King of Babel had caried away)

7 And he nourished Hadassah, that is, Ester, his vnckes daughter: for shee had neither father nor mother, and the maide was faire and beautifull to looke on, and after the death of her father and her mother, Mordecai took her for his own daughter.

8 And when the kings commandement, and his decree was published, and many maiides were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hand of Hege, Ester was brought also vnto the kings house vnder the hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the maide pleased him, and she found fauour in his sight, therefore he caused her things for purification to be giuen her speedily, and her fstate, and seuen comely maydes to be giuen her out of the kings house, and he gaue charge to her and to her maiides of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Ester shewed not her people and her kintred: for Mordecai had charged her that shee should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked euery day before the court of the womens house, to know if Ester did well, and what should be done with her.

12 And when the course of euery maide came, to goe in to king Ahahuerosh, after that shee had bene twelve months according to the manner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, fixe months with oyle of myrrhe, and fixe months with sweete odours and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maiides vnto the king) what soeuer shee required, was giuen her to goe with her out of the womens house vnto the kings house.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morow she returned into the second house of the women vnder the hand of Shasbazar the kings eunuch, which kept the concubines: shee came in to the King no more, except shee pleased the king, and that she were called by name.

15 Now when the course of Ester the daughter of Abihail the vnckle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that shee should go in to the king, she desired nothing, but what Hege the kings eunuch the keeper of the women laid: and Ester found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 ¶ So Ester was taken vnto king Ahahuerosh into his house royall in the tenth moneth, which is the 12 moneth Tebeth, in the seuenth yere of his reigne.

17 And the King loued Ester aboue all the women, and shee found grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that he set the crowne of the kingdom vpon her head, & made her Queene in stead of Vabti.

18 Then the king made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruants, which was the feast of Ester, and gaue rest vnto the prouinces, and gaue gifts, according to the power of a King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the second time, then Mordecai sate in the Kings gate.

20 Ester had not yet shewed her kintred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Ester did after the word of Mordecai, as when she was nourished with him.

21 ¶ In those dayes when Mordecai sate in the Kings gate, two of the kings eunuchs, Bigthan and Teresh, which kept the doore, were wroth, & sought to lay hand on the king Ahahuerosh.

22 And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, and he told it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the King thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the King.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman, after he was exalted, obtained of the King that all the Iewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as his god.

AFTER these things did King Ahahuerosh promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite and exalted him, and set his seate aboue all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the kings seruants that were at the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the King had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

3 Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, said vnto Mordecai, Why transgresseth thou the kings commandement?

4 And albeit they spake daily vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they tolde Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for hee had told them, that hee was a Iew.

5 And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Now that he thought it too little to lay hands only on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Iewes that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahahuerosh, even the people of Mordecai.

8 Then Haman said vnto king Ahahuerosh, There is a people scattered, and disperied among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the Kings lawes: therefore it is not the kings profit to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it bee written that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents of siluer by the haunces of them that haue the charge of this businesse to bring it into the kings treasure.

10 Then the king tooke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Jewes aduersarie.

11 And the king said vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and the people to doe with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings || Scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) vnto the kings officers, and to the captaiues that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of king Ahahuerosh was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to root out, to kil, and to destroy all the Tewes, both young and olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoile them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should bee given a commandement in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the Kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was giuen in the palace at Shushan: and the king and Haman sate drinking, but the g citic of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. II.

5 Mordecai giveth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Tewes. 16 Shee writeth that she pray for her.

NOW when Mordecai perceiued all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and ashes, and went out into the mids of the citie, and cried with a great crie, and a bitter.

2 And he came euen before the kings gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in euery prouince and place, whither the kings charge and his commission came, there was great forrow among the Jewes, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

4 ¶ Then Esters maides & her Eunuches came and told it her: therefore the Queene was very heauie, and shee sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but he received it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the Kings eunuches, whom he had appointed to serue her, & gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to know what it was and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai, vnto the street of the citie, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the Kings treasuries, because of the Tewes, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gaue him the copie of the writing and commission that was giuen at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might shew it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her that shee should goe in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hatach came, he told Ester the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester said vnto Hatach, and commanded him to go vnto Mordecai, 11 All the Kings seruants & the people of the Kings prouinces doe know, that whosoever man or woman, that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod, that hee may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the king these thirtie daies.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters words.

13 And Mordecai said, that they should answer Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Tewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, thy comfort and deliuerance shall appeare to the Jewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commanded to answer Mordecai,

16 Goe, and assemble all the Jewes that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and eat not, nor drinke in three dayes, day nor night. I also & my maids will fast likewise, and so will goe into the King, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, so I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entrest in to the King, and sheweth him and Haman to a feast. 12 Haman prepareth a banquet for Mordecai.

AND on the third day Ester put on her royall apparell, and flood in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the King sate vpon his royall throne in the Kings palace, ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King law Ester the Queene standing in the court, shee found anour in his sight, and the king held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew neere, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then said the king vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be giuen thee, as thou shalt desire to the halle of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the king, let the King and Haman come this day vnto the banquet, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may doe as Ester hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Ester had prepared.

6 And the king said vnto Ester at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? It shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdom.

7 Then answered Ester, and said, My petition, and my request,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the king, and if he please the king to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will doe to morow according to the kings saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull, and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the kings gate, that he stood not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Neui thelesse, Haman refrained himselfe: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zereih his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how that hee had set him aboute the princes and seruants of the king.

12 Haman said moreover, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the king to the banquet that shee had prepared, fauour, and to morrow am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaile mee, as long as I see Mordecai the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then said Zereih his wife and al his friends vnto him, Let the king make a tree of fiftie cubites hee, and to morrow speake thou vnto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou goe ioyfully with the king vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

3 The king smeth out the chronicles, and biddeth the scribes of Mordecai, to and commendeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be hanged.

THe same night the king slept not, and hee commanded to bring the booke of the Records, and the Chronicles: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigtana & Zereih, two of the kings eunuchs keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the king Ahafueroh.

3 Then the king said, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this? And the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in the court? (Now Haman was come into the inner court of the kings house that hee might speake vnto the king to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king said vnto him, What shall bee done vnto the man whome the king will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king doe honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the King, The man whom the king would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparell, which the king useth to weare, and the horie that the king rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horie be deliuered by the hand of one of the kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the king will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horie through the street of the citie, & proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man whom the king will honour.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horie, as thou hast said, and doe so vnto Mordecai the Iewe, that sitteth at the kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment and the horie, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horse-backe thorow the street of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king will honour.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the kings gate, but Haman halted home mourning, and his head couered.

13 And Haman told Zereih his wife, and all his friends, al that had befallen him. Then said his wife men and Zereih his wife, vnto him, If Mordecai be of the seede of the Iewes, before whome thou hast begun to fall, then shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings eunuchs, and hastened to bring Haman vnto the banquet that Ester had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

3 The Queen biddeth the king and Haman arise, and prayeth for her selfe and her people. 4 Shee accuseth Haman, and hee is hanged on the gallows which hee had prepared for Mordecai.

SO the King and Haman came to banquet with the queene Ester.

2 And the king said againe vnto Ester on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? It shall be euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdom.

3 And Ester the queene answered, and said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, O King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For we are Iold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine, and to perish: but if we were sold for seruants, & for handmaids, I would haue held my tongue, although the aduersary could not recompense the Kings losse.

5 Then king Ahafueroh answered, and said vnto the queene Ester, Who is hee, and where is he that presumeth to doe thus?

6 And Ester said, The aduersarie and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet of wine, in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman stood vp, to make request for his life to the queene Ester: for hee saw that there was a mischief prepared for him of the king.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they drank wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed where 10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that he had prepared for Mordecai: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

a After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

The same day did King Ahasuerus giue the house of Haman the aduersarie of the Iewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester tolde what he was vnto her.

2 And the King tooke off his ring, which hee had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his feet weeping, and besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuiice that hee had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King helde out the golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester and stood before the King,

5 And said, If it please the King, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it bee written that the letters of the deuiice of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the Kings provinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kined?

7 And the King Ahasuerus saide vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iewe, Behold, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whome they haue hanged vpon the tree, because he had hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring, (for the writings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings riug, may no man reuoke)

9 Then were the Kings Scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded vnto the Iewes, and to the princes, and captains and rulers of the provinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and seuen and twentie provinces, vnto every province, according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their speech, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And hee wrote in the King Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: and hee sent letters by postes on horsebacke and that rode on beasts of price, as dromedaries and coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to root out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the province that vexed them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

12 Vpon one day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, euen in the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The copie of the writing was, how there should be a commandement giuen in all & every province, published among all the people, and that the Iewes should bee ready against that day to auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beasts of price and dromedaries, and went forth with speed, to execute the Kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royall apprell of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linnen and purple, and the cite of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Tewes was comelight and ioy and gladnes and honour.

17 Also in all and every province, and in all and every cite and place, wherethe Kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

a At the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

So in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the Kings commandement and his decree drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered themselves together into their cities throughout all the provinces of the King Ahasuerus, to lay hands on such as sought their hurt, and no man could vnderstand them, for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the provinces, and the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King, exalted the Iewes for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him went through all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slew the Iewes and destroyed nine hundred men,

7 And Parthandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha, 9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaieratha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersarie of the Iewes slew they: but they laid not their hands on the spoile.

11 On the same day came the number of those that that were slaine, vnto the palace of Shushan before the King.

12 And the king sayd vnto the queene Ester, The Iewes haue slaine in Shushan the palace, and destroyed fise hundred men, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request moreover, that it may be performed?

13 Then sayd Ester, If it please the King: let it be granted also to morrow to the Iewes that are in Shushan, to doe according vnto this daies decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans tenne sonnes.

14 And the king charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushan, assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, & slew three hundred men in Shushan, but on the spoile they layd not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled themselves, and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them, seuentie and fise thousand: but they laidenot their hand on the spoile.

17 Thy they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, & they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwell in the vnwalld townes, kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, even a ioyfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote these words, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the king Ahahuerosh, both neere and farr, 21 Inioyning them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euery yeere.

22 According to the dayes where in the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorrow to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting, and ioy, and to send presents euery man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Becau' Haman the ionne of Hammedatha the Agagite al the Iewes aduerfary, had imagined against the Iewes to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

25 And when o free came before the king, he commanded by letters, Let his wicked deuise (which he imagined against the Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, and becaufe of all f words of this lett. r, & of that which they had sene besides this, and of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordeined, and promised for them and for their seede, and for all that ioyned vnto them, that they would not faille to obserue tho e 9 two dayes euery yeere, according to their writing and according to their season.

28 And that these dayes should be remembred and kept throughout euery generation and euery family, and euery prouince, and euery city: euen these dayes of Purim should not faile among the Iewes, and the memoriall of them should not perish from their feed.

29 And the queene Ester the daughter of Abihail and Mordecai the Iew wrote with all authoritie (to confirme this letter of Purim the second time.)

30 And he sent letters vnto al the Iewes to the hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahahuerosh, with words of peace and trueth,

31 To confirme these dayes of Purim according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Iew and Ester the queene had appointed them, and as they had promised for them selves and for their seede with fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Ester confirmed the words of Purim, and was written in the booke.

I O B.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Job was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his mind and conscience, by the sharperpenations of his wife, and chiefe friendes: which by their vehement wordes, and subtil disputes brought him almost to despayre: for they set forth God as a furiere Judge, and mortall enemy vnto him, which had cast him off, therefore in vaine hee should seeke vnto him for succour. These friendes came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction, Notwithstanding hee did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this story wee haue to marke that Job maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euill: againe his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defend it craftily. For Job helde that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that hee had secret iudgements, wherof man knew not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be consulted. Moreover, hee was assured that God had not reuelled him, yet through his great torments and affliction hee brast forth into many inconueniences both of wordes and sentences and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handle will. Again, the aduersaries maintaine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods providence, his iustice, and many sinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despaire, and so they maintaine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezek. 14. 14. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iam. 5. 11.

CHAP. I.

10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 12 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

THere was a man in the land of Uz called Iob, and this man was an vpright and iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

2 And hee had seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

3 His substance also was seuen thousand sheepe, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred asses, and his familie was very great, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

4 And his sonnes went and banketed in their houses, euery one his day, and sent, and called their three sisters to eat and drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketing were gone about, Iob sent, and sanctified them, and rose vp early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may be that my sonnes haue sinned, and ^b blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob ^c euery day.

6 ¶ Now on a day when ^k the children of God came and stood before the Lord, Satan came also among them.

7 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, Doest Iob feare God for naught?

10 Hast thou not made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath, on euery side? thou hast blessed the way of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand, and touch all that he hath, & see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Loe, all that he hath is in thine hand, onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the sheepshears came violently, and tooke thee: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and said, The fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Caldeans set out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles hee was yet speaking, came another, and said, Thy sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and rent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And said, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne: bither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God foolishly.

CHAP. II.

6 Satan hath permission to afflict Iob. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 21 His three friends visite him.

AND on a day the children of God came and stood before the Lord, and Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, and said, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill? for yet he continueth in his vprightnesse, & although thou moudest me against him, to destroy him & with out cause.

God giueth not Satan power ouer man to grieve him, but to declare that hee hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him. That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to doe: for hee hee can neuer goe out of Gods presence. That is, the Arabians.

Why which was also done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Iob the more grievously, forasmuch as hee might see, that not onely men were his enemies, but that God made warre against him.

The last plague declared, that when one plague is past which is hard to be borne, God can send vs another farre more grievous to trie his, and teach them obedience.

Which came not of impatience, but declareth that the children of God are not inflexible like blocks, but that in their patience they leaue affliction and griefe of minde, yet they keepe a meane here, and rebell not against God.

That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all. c Herby hee confesseth that God is iust, and good, although his hand be sore vpon him. b But hee declareth that God did all things according to iustice and equitie.

That is, the Angels, as Chap. 1. 6. b Chap. 1. 6. b Res. 1. 1.

Ezek. 14. 4. c He psonally Iob integrity by this that hee ceased not to feare God when his plagues were grievously vpon him.

b Forasmuch as he was a Gentle, and not a Jew, and yet is pronounced vpright, and without hypocrisy, it declarerh that among the heathen God hath his.

c Herby is declared what is meant by an vpright and iust man.

d His children and his wives are declared, to commend his vertue in his prosperity, and his patience, and constancie, when God had taken them from him.

e His children e Meaning, the Arabians, Chaldeans, Idumeans, &c.

f That is, commendeth them to be sanctified: meaning that they should consider the faults that they had committed, and reconcile themselves for the same.

g That is, hee offered for every one of his children an offering of reconciliation, which declared his religion toward God, and the ease that hee had toward his children. h In Ebrew it is, and blessed God, which is sometime taken for blaspheming and cursing, as here, and 1 Kings 21. 10. and 13. 8. i While the feast lasted. k Meaning the Angels, which are called the sonnes of God, because they are willing to execute his will. l Because our infirmities cannot comprehend God in his maiestie, hee is less than vnto vs as a King, that our capacity may be able to understand that which is spoken of him. m This declareth, that although Satan be aduersary to God, yet hee is compelled to obey him, and doe him all homage, without whose permission and appointment hee can doe nothing. n This question is asked for our infirmities for which we knew whence hee came. o Herby is described the nature of Satan, which is euer ranging for his prey, 1 Pet. 5. 8. p Hee searcheth there not for thine owne sake, but for the commediate that hee receiveth by thee. q Meaning, the gift of God, which Iob as a rampart against all temptations. r This significeth, that Satan is not able to touch vs, but it is God that maketh us. s Satan noteth the vice, whereunto men are commonly subiect: that is, to hide their rebellion, and to be content with God in the time of prosperitie, which vice is discovered in the time of their aduersities.

e Hereby hee
murthereth a mans owne soules deareth vnto him then another mans.
f Meaning, his owne perion.

thee, as though hee were thine enemy? This is the most grievous temptation of the faithful, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan getteth about to persuade them that they trust in God in vaine. m For death was appointed to the blasphemers, and for the meane that he should soone be rid out of his paine. n That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as wee reioyce when hee lengtheneth prosperitie, and to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust. o He fo bridled his affections, that his sinnes. q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in holie conceyses, as the their life, and enfeble, because of the infirmities that it is subiect vnto, but because they are giuen to sone and rebellion against God, d Let it be put out of the number of dayes, and let it not haue the light of the Sunne to separate it from the night. e That is, most obscure darke-nesse, which maketh them afraid of death that are in it.

f This hee con-cludeth that Job was
but an hypocrite,
and had no true
fearre nor trust in God.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, e Skinne for skinne, and all that euer a man hath,
will hee giue for his life.

5 But stretch out now thine hand, and touch his f bones and his flesh, so see if hee will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but saue g his life.

7 ¶ So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore h boyles, from the sole of his foot vnto his crowne.

8 And he tooke a i potsherd to scrape him, and hee sat downe among the ashes.

9 Then sayd his k wife vnto him, Doeest thou l continue yet in thine vprightness? ¶ Blaspheme God and die.

10 But hee said vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and not m receive euill? In all this did not Job sinne with his o lips.

11 Now when Jobs three p friends heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to viz, El phaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zo-phar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes as farre off, they knew him not: therefore they lift vp their voyses and wept, and euery one of them rent his garment, and sprinkled q dust vpon their heads toward the heauen.

13 So they fate by him vpon the ground seuen dayes, and seuen nights, and none spake a word vnto him: for they saw that the grieue was very q great.

¶ This is the most grievous temptation of the faithful, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan getteth about to persuade them that they trust in God in vaine. m For death was appointed to the blasphemers, and for the meane that he should soone be rid out of his paine. n That is, to be pa-

CHAP. III.

1 Job complaineth, and curseth the day of his birth, 21 Hee desireth to die, although death were the end of all mans enferie.

A fterward a Job opened his mouth, and b cursed his day.

2 And Job cried out, and said,
3 Let the day e perish wherein I was borne, and the night when it was said, There is a man-childe conceived.

4 Let that day bee darkenesse, let not God d regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let darkenesse and the e shadow of death staine it: let the cloude remaue vpon it, and let them make it fearful as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenesse possesse that night, let it not bee ioynted vnto the dayes of the yeere, nor let it come into the count of the month.

¶ This hee con-
cludeth that Job was
but an hypocrite,
and had no true
fearre nor trust in God.

7 Yea, desolate bee that night, and let no ioy be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being f ready to renew their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight bee dimme through darknesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it see f the dawning of the day,

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.

11 ¶ Why did I not in the birth? or why did
I not when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees praient mee? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For so should I now haue i lien and bene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest,

14 With the Kings and Counsellors of the earth, which haue builded themselves k desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had golde, and haue filled the houses with silver.

16 Or why was I not hid as an vttermost birth, either as infants which haue not seene the light?

17 The wicked l haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at rest.

18 The m prisoners rest together, and heare not the voice of the oppressour.

19 There are small and great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and n life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not,
they would ensearch it more then treasures:

22 Which ioy for gladnesse, and reioyce, when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose way is o hid, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing cometh before I eat, and my moanings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I feared, is come vpon me,
& the thing that I was afraid of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, neither had I quietnesse, neither had I rest, y yet trouble is come.

¶ This hee con-
cludeth that Job was
but an hypocrite,
and had no true
fearre nor trust in God.

CHAP. IIII.

4 Job is reprehended of impietie. 7 and iustitie, 17 and of thepe ioynts on of his owne righteousness.

T hen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 If we asay to commune with thee, wilt thou bee giuen? but a who can withhold his life from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast taught many, and h hast strengthened the weary hands,

4 Thy wordes haue confirmed him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the weak knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieved: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

patience, and the vprightnesse of thy waye?

it declare that when man giueth place to his passions, he is not able to stay, nor keepe measure, nor run headlong into all euill, except God call him back.

i The vehemencie of his afflictions made him to wote
these wordes, as though death were the end of all mi-series, and as if there were no life after this, which he speaketh not as though it were so,

but the infirmities of his flesh causd him to burst out into this error of the wicked.

k Hee noteth the ambition of them, which for their pleasure, as we see, chenge the order of nature,
and build to mobatten places, because they would hereby make their names immortal.

of calamitie and
miserie in this world:

n Hee sheweth that the benefits of God are not comfortable, except the heart be ioyfull, and the conscience quieted. o That leeth not how to come out of his miseries, because hee dependeth not on Gods prosperitie. p In my prosperitie
I looked euer for a fall, as it is come now to passe. q The feare of troubles that should enue, caused my prosperitie to seeme to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

forted others in their afflictions, and couldst not now comfort thy selfe.

c This hee con-cludeth that Job was
but an hypocrite,

God.

d He concluded that Iob was re-prouded, seeing that God handled him so extremely, which is their gumment that the carnall men make ren of God.

tion to destroy cording to their office doe not punish tyrants (whom for their cruelty he commaundeth to lions, and their

both is able, and his iustice will

image was before mine eyes, and in k silence heard
I a voyce, saying,

17 Shall man be more iust than God? or shall a man be more pure than his maker?

18 Behold, he found no stedfastnesse in his ser-uants, and laid iolly vpon his m Angels.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moth?

20 They be destroyed from the morning vnto the evening: they perish for euill, f without regard.

doe they not die, and that without g widome?

ereth water vpon the trees,

11 And fetcheth vp on him them that be low, that the sorrowfull may be exalted to saluation.

12 He scattereth the deuiles of the craftie: so that their handes cannot accomplish that which they doe enterprise.

13 He taketh the wife in their craftinesse, and the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.

19 He shall deliuer thee in f fixe troubles, and in the seventh the euill shall not touch thee.

20 In famine he shall deliuer thee from death:
and in battell from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it commeth.

22 But thou shalt l laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the fildes m shall bee in league with thee, and the beasts of the fild shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not f finne.

25 Thou shalt perceive also that thy seede shall be great, and thy posteritie as the grasse of the earth.

26 Thou shalt go to thy graue in y a full age, as a ricke of corne commeth in due season into the barnes.

solation at your

of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him comfortable words. o Show me wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault. p Hee that hath a good conscience, doth not shrinke at the sharpe words or reasonings of others, except they be able to perswade him by reason. q Doe you call at my words because I should bee thought to speake foolishly, which am now in miserie.
r Consider whether I speake as one that is deuen to this impatience through very sorrow, or as an hypocrite, you condemne me.

5 Doth the wilde asse bray when hee hath graffe? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?
6 That which is vsuall, shall it be eaten without fault? or is there any taite in the white of an egge?
7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were forrowes, are my meat.
8 Oh that I might haue my desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!
9 That is, that God would destroy me: that he would let his hand go, and cut me off.
10 Then should I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorrow, let him not spare) because I haue not denied the words of the Holy one.
11 What power haue I that I should endure?
or what is mine end, if I should prolong my life?
12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?
13 Is it not so, that there is in me no helpe?
and that my strength is taken from me?
14 He that is in misery ought to be comforted of his neighbor: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty.
15 My brethren haue deceiued me as a brook, and as the rising of the riuers they passe away.
16 Which are blackish with yce, and wherein the snow is hid.
17 But in time they are dried vp with heate, and are consumed: and when it is hote, they faile out of their places, 18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perish.
19 They that go to Tema, I considered them, and they that goe to Sheba, waited for them.
20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither, and were ashamed.
21 Surely now are ye like me vnto it: yee haue seene my fearefull plague, and are afraid.
22 Was it because I said, Bring vnto mee? or giue a reward to me of your substance?
23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ransome me out of the hand of tyrants?
24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue, and cause me to vnderstand wherein I haue erred.
25 How I stood fast are the words of righteous-nesse? and what can any of you iustly reprove?
26 Do ye imagine to reprove words, that the talke of the afflicted should bee as the wind?
27 Yea make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherlesse, and digge a pit for your friend.
28 Now therefore be content to looke vpon me for I will not lye before your face.
29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none iniquitie: returne, I say, and ye shall see yet my righte-ousnesse in that behalfe. Is there iniquity in my tongue? doth not my mouth feele forrowes?

CHAP. VII.

Job sheweth the shortnesse and vniuersality of mans life.

I S there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his daies as the daies of an hiring?

Is this my continuall torment I am worse then an hiring.

2 As a seruant longeth for the shadow, and as an hiring looketh for the end of his worke, 3 So haue I had as an inheritance the momenths of vanity, and painefull nights haue bene appointed vnto me.
4 If I laid mee downe, I said, When shall I arise? and measuring the euening I am euil full with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.
5 My flesh is clothed with wormes and filthinesse of the dust: my skin is rent and become horrible.
6 My daies are swifter then a weauers shuttle, and they are spent without hope.
7 Remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.
8 The eye that hath seene me, shall fee mee no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shall bee no longer.
9 As the cloud vanishest, and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shall come vp no more:
10 He shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.
11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and mule in the bitterness of my mind.
12 Am I a sea? or a whale-fish, that thou keepest me in ward?
13 When I say, My couch shall releue me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then searest thou me with dreames, and altonishest me with visions.
15 Therefore my soule chuseth rather to bee strangled and to die, then to be in my bones.
16 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: spare me then, for my daies are but vanitie.
17 What is mine say, that thou m doest magnifie him, and that thou testest thine heart vpon him?
18 And doest visite him euery morning, and triest him euery moment?
19 How long wilt it bee yet thou depart from me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallow my spittle.
20 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee?
O thou preseruer of men, why hast thou set me as a make against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?
21 And why doest thou not pardon my tref-passe? and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me in the morning, I shall not be found.
hee might say his hand. n After all tentations, faith breaste tho to euerance; yet it was not in such perfection, that hee could behold his sinne, because that hee still tried his faith to be dead.

CHAP. VIII.

Bildad sheweth that Job is a sinner, because God punisheth his sinne, and preferreth the good.

T Hen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,
2 How long wilt thou talke of these things?
and how long shall the words of thy mouth be as a mightie wind?
3 Doth God peruert iudgement? or doth the Almighty subuert iustice?
4 If thy ionnes haue sinned against him, and hee hath sent them into the place of their bini-quie, warded them according to their iniquity: meaning that Job ought to be an example of his children, that hee offend not God.

d Is it agreeable to my iudice to do me wrong?

e Wilt thou be without compassion?

f Wilt thou gratifie the wicked and comfort the counsellors of iniquitie?

g Doest thou this of ignorance?

h Art thou inconsistent and changeable as the times, to day a friend, to morrow an enemy?

i By affliction thou keepst me as in a prison, and restrainest me from doing euill, neither can I yett come to libertie.

k In these eight verses following he describeth the mercy of God, in the wonderful creation of man: and then groundeth that God should not shew him euill, rigorous against him.

l As brittle as a pot of clay.

m That is, reason and vnderstanding, and many other gifts, whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.

n That is, thy fatherly care and providence whereby thou reuerenst me, and without the which I should perish straightway.

o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things yet I must needs confesse that it is so.

p I will alway walke in feare and humilitie, knowing that none is iust before thee.

q Iob heere is discomfited in this battell betwene the flesh and the spirit, brasteth out in these afflictions, wishing rather short daies then long paine.

r That is, diuersitie of diseases and in great abundance: shewing that God hath infinite measures to punish man.

s He willeth that God would leave off his affliction, considering his great miserie and the breuitie of his life.

in the bitterneffe of my soule.

2 I will say vnto God, c Condemne me not shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Thinkest thou it good to oppress me, and to cast off the labor of thine hands, and to fauour the counsell of the wicked?

4 Hast thou carnall eyes? or doest thou see as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as mans dayes? or thy yerres as the time of man?

6 That thou inquirest of mine iniquitie, and searchest out my sinne?

7 Thou knowest that I cannot doe wickedly: for none can deliner me out of thine hand.

8 Thine hands haue made me, and fashioned mee wholly round about, and wilt thou destroy mee?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as I the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred me out as milk? and turned me to curds like cheefe?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and joined mee together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, and grace: and thy visitation hath preferred my spirit.

13 Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I know that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt streightly looke vnto me, and wilt not hold me guiltlesse of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, woe vnto me: if I haue done righteously, I will not lift vp mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lyon: returne and shewe thy selfe a maruelous vpon mee.

17 Thou renewest thy plagues against mee, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: changes and armies of sorowes are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had seene me!

19 And that I were as I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue!

20 Are not my dayes few? let him cease, and leave off from me, that I may take a litle comfort,

21 Before I goe and shall not returne, euen to the land of darkenesse and shadow of death.

22 Into a land, I say, darke as darkenesse it selfe, and into the shadow of death, where is none order, but the light is there as darkenesse.

CHAP. XI.

1 Iob is vniuersally reprehended of Zophar. 2 God is incomprehensible. 3 He is mercifull to the repentant. 4 His assurance is but lye vngodly.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, & said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? or should a great talker be iustificed?

3 Should men hold their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, b My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But, oh that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That he might shew thee the secrets of wisdom, how thou hast desired double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heavens are his, what canst thou do? it is deeper then the hell, how canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut off and c shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For hee knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man new borne is like a wilde asse cole.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hand toward him.

14 If iniquitie be in thine hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine as bee at the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pittes, and shalt lie downe safely.

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 2 He declarerh the might and power of God. 3 And how bee changed the course of thovne.

Then Iob answered, and said,

2 In deede because that yee are the people onely, a wisdom must die with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as you, and am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 * As hee as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and hee heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.

7 Aske now the beasts, e and they shall teach thee indeed they had, and hee other, that in stead of true consolation, they did deride and despite their friend in his aduersitie. e The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods favour but hee, because hee hath all things that hee desireth. d Aske rich people, not a light or torch that goeth out, is hee that is despised: for hee from prosperitie to aduersitie. f Heb. 11. 35. whom God hath brought in with his hand. e Hee declarerh to them that did dispute against him, that their wisdom is common to all, and such as the very brute beasts doe daily teach.

b Hee chargeth Iob with this, that he should say, that the thing which hee saith, was true, and that he was without sinne in the sight of God.

c Which is not to stand in iustifying of thy selfe, hee significeth that man will neuer be overcome, while hee reasoneth with another, and therefore God must breake off the answerer, and stop mans mouth.

d That is, this perfection of God, and it may be notable to comprehend the height of the heaven, the depth of the hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can hee attaine to the perfection of the Creator.

e If God should turne the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controule him?

thou louest the worke of thine owne hands.
16 But now thou numbrest my steppes, and dost not delay my finnes:
17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a bagge, and thou addest vnto my wickednesse.
18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, cometh to nought, and the rocke that is remoued from his place:
19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which grow in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man,
20 Thou pretailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face when thou castest him away.
21 And hee knoweth not if his finnes shall be honourable, neither shall hee vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall be of low degree, 22 But while his flesh is vpon him, hee shall be sorrowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

CHAP. XV.

Eliphaz reprehendeth Job, because he ascribed wisdom and power to his idols. 1. Hee desireth therein that justice on the wicked, reckoning Job to be one of the number.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,
2 Shal a wise man speake words of the wind, and fill his belly with the East winde?
3 Shall hee dispute with words not comely?
or with talke that is not profitable?
4 Surely thou hast cast off feare, and restrain-est prayer before God.
5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen the tongue of the craftie.
6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lips testifie against thee.
7 Art thou the first man that was borne?
and wast thou made before the hills?
8 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God, and dost thou reframe wisdom to thee?
9 What knowest thou that wee know not?
vnderstand, if that is not in vs?
10 With vs are both ancient and very aged men, farre older then thy father.
11 Seem the consolations of God small vnto thee? Is this thing strange vnto thee?
12 Why doeth thine heart take thee away, and what doeth thine eyes meane, 13 That thou answerest to God, that at thy pleasure, and bringest such words out of thy mouth?

14 By Gods, nor by their counsell, b Why doest thou stand in fear, in thy spirit.

14 What is man, that hee should be cleane?
and hee that is borne of woman, that hee should be iust?

15 Behold, hee found no stedfastnesse in his Saints: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthie, which drinketh iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee, heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wife men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:

19 To whom alone the land was giuen, and no stranger passed thorow them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that trauileth of child, and the number of yeeres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares, and in his properitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 He beleueth not to returne out of dark-nesse: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 He wandereth to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darknesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and pangs shall make him afraid: they shall preuaile against him as a king ready to the battell.

25 For he hath stretched out his hand against God, and made himselfe strong against the Al-mightie.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, as vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shield.

27 Because he hath couered his face with his fatnesse, and hath collops in his flanke.

28 Though he dwell in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes.

29 Hee shall not berich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the perfection thereof in the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darknesse: the flame shall drie vp his branches, and hee shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 He beleueth not that he erreth in vanity:
therefore vanity shall be his change.

32 His branch shall not be Greene, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her sowe grape, and shall cast him off, as the oliue doeth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shall be defolate, and fire shall deuoure the houses of bribes.

35 For they conceiue mischief, and bring forth vanitie, and their belly hath prepared deceit.

buildings should neuer come to perfection. r He standeth so that he will giue no place to good counsell, therefore his owne pride to destruction. v A vane that gathereth grapes before they be ripe. x Which were built or maintained by polling and bribery. y And therefore all their vaine devices shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Job moued by the importunitie of his friends, 7 Counteth in what extremities he is. 19 And taketh God to witness of his innocencie.

But Job answered, and said,
2 I haue oftentimes heard such things:
miserable comforters are ye all.

of God.

r Though he

CHAP. XIX.

2 Iob reprobeth his friends. 15 and receiueh his miſeries and grievous paines. 25 He ſheweth himſelfe of the gen. eall reſurrection.

B^T Iob answered, and ſaid,
2 How long will yee vex me ſoule, and torment me with words?

3 Ye haue now ten times reproched me, and are not aſhamed: ye are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had indeed erred, mine error remaineth with me.

5 But indeed if ye will aduance my felues againſt me, and rebuke me for my reproch,

6 Know now, that God hath ſ^e overthrown me, and hath compaſſed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of violence, but I haue none anſwere: I cry, but there is no iudgement.

8 Hee hath hedged vp my way that I cannot paſſe, and he hath let darkneſſe in my paths.

9 He hath ſpoiled me of mine honour, and taken the crowne away from mine head.

10 He hath deſtroyed me on euery ſide, and I am gone: and he hath remooued mine hope like a tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath againſt me, and counted me as one of his enemies.

12 His armies came together, and made their way vpon me, and camped about my Tabernacle.

13 He hath remooued my brethern farre from mee, and alſo mine acquaintance were ſtrangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forſaken mee, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine houſe, and my maids tooke me for a ſtranger: for I was a ſtranger in their ſight.

16 I called my ſeruant, but hee would not anſwere, though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 My breath was ſtrange vnto my wiſe, though I prayed her for the childrens ſake of mine owne body.

18 The wicked alſo deſpiſed mee, and when I roſe, they ſpake againſt me.

19 All my ſecret friends abhorred me, and they whom I loued are turned againſt me.

20 My bone & cleaue to my ſkinne, and to my fleſh, and I haue eſcaped with the ſkinne of my teeth.

21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue ^m pitie vpon me, (O ye my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why doe ye perſecute mee as ⁿ God? and are not aſſaied with my ⁿ fleſh?

23 Oh that my wordes were now written! oh that they were written euen in a booke, 24 And grauen with ⁿ an yron pen in lead, or in ſtone for euer!

25 For I am ſure that my ^r Redeemer liueth, and he ſhall ſtand the laſt on the earth.

26 And though after my ſkin, worms deſtroy this body, yet ſhall I ſee God ^r in my fleſh.

27 Whom I my ſelfe ſhall ſee, and mine eyes ſhall behold, and none other for mee, though my reines are conſumed within me.

28 But ye ſaid, Why is he perſecuted? And there was a deepe matter in me.

29 Bee ye afraid of the ſword: for the ſword will bee ^r aunged of wickedneſſe, that yee may know that there is a iudgement.

perſecuted of God for his ſins, yet he declareth that there was time to wit, the trial of his faith and patience, and ſo to bee an example for others. ^r God will be reuenged of this haſtie iudgement, whereby you condemne me.

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar ſheweth, that the wicked and the conſcientious ſhall haue a ſtrife, 22 though for a ſtime they ſtrife.

T^Hen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and ſaid,

2 Doubtleſſe my thoughts cauⁿ mee to anſwere, and therefore I make haſte.

3 I haue heard the correktion of my reproch: therefore the ſpirit of mine vnderſtanding canſeeth me to anſwere.

4 Knowſt thou that this of olde? and ſince God placed man vpon the earth,

5 That the reioycing of the wicked is ſhort, and that the ioy of hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though his excellencie mount vp to the heauen, and his head reach vnto the clouds,

7 Yet ſhall he periſh for euer like his dung, and they which haue ſeene him, ſhall ſay, Where is he?

8 He ſhall ſee away as a dreame, and they ſhall not finde him, and ſhall paſſe away as a viſion of the night.

9 So that the eye which had ſeene him, ſhall do ſo no more, and his place ſhall ſee him no more.

10 His children ſhall flatter the poore, and his hands ſhall ^r reſtore his ſubſtance.

11 His bones are full of the ſume of his youth, and ſit ſhall lie downe with him in the duſt.

12 When wickednes was ^r ſweet in his mouth, and he did it vnder his tongue,

13 And fauoured it, and would not forſake it, but kept it clo^e in his mouth, 14 Then his meate in his bowels was turned: the gall of aſpes was in the midſ of him.

15 Hee hath deuoured ſubſtance, and hee ſhall vomit it: for God ſhall draw it out of his belly.

16 He ſhall ſucke the gall of aſpes, and the viſper tongue ſhall flay him.

17 He ſhall not ſee the ^r huiers, nor the floods and ſtreames of hony and butter.

18 Hee ſhall reſtore the labour, and ſhall deuore no more: euen before the ſubſtance, ſhall be his exchange, and hee ſhall enioy it no more.

19 For hee hath vndone many: he hath forſaken the poore, and hath ſpoiled houſes which hee builded not.

20 Surely hee ſhall feele no quietnes in his body, neither ſhall hee reſume of that which hee deſired.

21 There ſhall none of his ^r meate bee left: therefore none ſhall hope for his goods.

22 When hee ſhall be filled with his abundance, hee ſhall be in paine, and the hand of all the wicked ſhall aſſaile him.

did plague him moſtly for theſe. ^r Though God giue to the beſieging, yet he ſhall haue no part thereof. ^r That is, the ſpoilers of the poore ſhall enioy their ſpoils but for a time: for after, God will rake it from them, and canſe them to make reſtitution, ſo that it is but an exchange. ^r He ſhall haue nothing to his poſteritie. ^r The wicked ſhall neuer bee in triſt: for one wicked man ſhall ſeeke to deſtroy another.

e Herein Iob declareth plainly that hee had a full hope, that both the ſoule and body ſhould enioy the preſence of God in the laſt reſurrection. ^r Though his friends thought that he was but a deepe conſiderer, example for others, you condemne me.

a Hee declareth that two things moue him to ſpeake: to wit, becauſe hee ſeemeth to conſcience him, and becauſe he thought he had knowne ſufficiently conſure him. ^r His purpoſe is to proue Iob to be a wicked man, and an hypocrite, becauſe God puniſhed him, & changed his proſperitie into aduerſitie.

e Whereas the ſatiſfaction through ambition and tyranny oppreſſed the poore, the children through povertie and miſery, ſhall ſerke fauour at the poore. ^r So that the thing which hee hath taken away by violence, ſhall be reſtored againe by force.

e Meaning, that hee ſhall enioy nothing away with him, but his ſinful ^r Aſpicion that is ſweet in the mouth, bringeth deſtruction when it cometh into the body: ſo all vice at the firſt is pleaſant, but afterward God turneth it to deſtruction.

C A H P. XXI.

7 Iob declares how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 15 In somuch that they blaspheme God. 16 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for a little, or rather good for prosperitie.

But Iob answered, and said,
2 Heare diligently my wordes, and this shall be in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer mee that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I dreame I talke to man? If it be were so, how should not my spirit be troubled?
5 Marke me, and bee abashed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraide, and feare taketh hold on my fleeth.

7 Wherefore doe the wicked liue, and waxe old, and grow in wealth?

8 Their feed is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendereth, and faileth not: their cow calueth, and casteth not her calfe.

11 They send forth their children like sheepe, and their fannes daunce.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the organs.

C H A P. XXII.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 8 He accuseth him of ynnocentifullnesse. 12 And that he deuided Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,

2 Maya man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise may be profitable to himselfe?

3 * Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou maketh thy wayes vpright?

4 Is it for feare of thee that hee will accuse thee? or goe with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednes great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were weary thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawn bread from the hungry.

8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in authority, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes empty, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.

10 Therefore sinnes are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:

11 Or, darkeneth that thou shouldst not see, and abundance of wayes shall couer thee.

23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt bee built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp gold for thy dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flints of the riuers.

25 Yea, the Almighty shalbe thy defence, and thou shalt haue plenty of siluer.

26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy praiere vnto him, & he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine vpon thy wayes.

29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall laue the humble person.

30 The innocent shall deliuer himselfe, and it shall be preferred by the purenesse of thine handes.

a Job affirmeth that hee hath knowen his power, and presence of his iudge, 10 and that hee was punished onely for his sinnes.

B Vt Job answered, and said,

2 Though my talke be this day in a bitterness, and my plague greater then my groining,

3 Would God yet I knew how to finde him, I would enter vnto his place.

4 I would plead the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would know the words, that hee would answer me, and would vnderstand what he would say vnto me.

6 Would hee plead against me with his great power? No, but he would set strength in me.

7 Therefore the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for euer from my Iudge.

8 Behold, if I go to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him:

9 If to the North where hee worketh, yet I cannot see him: he will hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

The constancie and perfection of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

Moreouer Job proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgment: for the Almighty hath put my ioule in bitterness.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in mee, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, and my tongue shall vtter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine innocence from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteoussnesse, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove mee of my dayes.

7 Mine enemie shall be as the wicked, and he that shall fight against me, as the vnrightheous.

8 For what I hope hath the hypocrite when hee hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his ioule?

9 Will God heare his cry, when trouble cometh vpon him?

10 Will he set his delight on the Almighty? will he call vpon God at all times?

11 I will teach you what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.

12 Behold, all yee your selues haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish in vanitie?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.

g After that he hath declared the wisdom of God in the secrets of nature, he desireth his power. h Though Gods power and wisdom may be vnderstood in earthly things, yet his heavenly wisdom cannot be attained vnto. i It is too high a thing for man to attain vnto in this world.

k It can neither be bought for gold nor precious stones, but is vnto the gift of God. l Which is thought to be a kind of precious stone.

m Meaning, that there is no natural means, whereby man might attain to the heavenly wisdom, which he meaneth by the fables that say he in Hemioketh God only the author of this wisdom and the giver thereof.

16 It shall not bee valued with the wedge of gold of Ophir, nor with the precious onyx, nor the laphir.

17 The gold nor the chrysell shall bee equall vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine golde.

18 No mention shall be made of corall, nor of the gabfish: for wisdom is more precious then pearls.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equall vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence then commeth wisdom? & where is the place of vnderstanding.

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the fowles of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, Wee haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.

23 But God vnderstandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For hee beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen,

25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders, 27 Then did hee see it, and counted it: hee prepared it, and also considered it.

28 And vnto man he said, Behold, the feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

Iob complaineth that the prosperitie of some is unpast. 7. 21 His auersitie, 12 Justice and equitie.

S O Iob proceeded, and continued his parable, saying,

2 Oh that I were as I in times past, when God preferred me!

3 When his light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked thorow the darkness,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rocke powered mee out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, when to the iudgement seate, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the streete.

8 The young men saw mee, and hid themselves, and the aged arose, and stood vp.

9 The Princes staid talke, and layed their hand on their mouth.

10 The voyce of P. inces was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the rooffe of their mouth.

11 And when the g. are heard mee, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me it gaue witness to b me.

12 For I deliuered the poore that cried, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was ready to perishe, came vpon mee, and I called the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put I on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne:

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the iawes of the vnrighteous man, and plucked the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my dayes as the fane.

19 For my roote is spread out by the water, and the deaw shall lie vpon my branch.

20 My glory shall renew toward me, and my bowe shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue care, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my words they replied not, and my talke dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for mee, as for the raine, an they opened their mouth for as for the latter raine.

24 If I laughed on them, they beleued it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.

25 I appointed out their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Iob complaineth that he is counted of the most contemptible, 1. 2. because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

B Vt now they that are younger then I, mocke me: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the dogges of my flockes.

e That is, their fathers did for him before they came to age. d Iob ſleweth that theſe that mocked him in his affliction, were like to their fathers, wicked, and lewd fellows, ſuch as he here deſcribeth.

e They make ſongs of me, and mocke at my miſerie.
 f God hath taken from me the force credit & authoritie wherewith I kept them in ſubjection.

g He ſaid that the young men when they ſaw him, bid themſelves, as cha. 29. 8. and now in his miſerie they were impudent and licentious.
 h That is, they fought by all means how they might deſtroy me.
 i They need none to helpe them.

 l My liſt ſhall me ſlay, and I am as halfe dead.
 m Meaning, sorrow.

n That is, God hath brought me into contempt.

 s In ſtead of comfort, they mocked at me.

t Not delighting in any worldly thing, no nor ſo much as in the ſyre of the ſunne.

u Lamenting them that were in affliction, & mouing others to pity them.

v I am like the wilde beaſts that deſire ſolitary places.

x With the heate of affliction,

2 For whereto ſhould the ſtrength of their hand haue ſerued mee, ſeing age & periſhed in them?

3 For pouerty and famine they were ſolitarie, fleeing into the wildeerneſſe, which is darke, deſolate and waſte.

4 They cut vp || nettles by the buſhes, and the iuniper rootes was their meate.

5 They were & chafed forth from among men: they ſhouted at them, as at a thiſfe.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.

7 They roared among the buſhes, and vnder the thiſſes they gathered themſelues.

8 They were the children of foolles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now I am their ſong, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from mee, and ſpare not to ſpit in my face.

11 Becauſe that God hath looſed my ^f corde and humbled mee, g they haue looſed the bridle before me.

12 The youth riſe vp at my right hand: they haue puſh't my feete, and haue trode on mee as on the ^h pathes of their deſtruction.

13 They haue deſtroyed my paths: they tooke pleaſure at my calamitie, they had none ⁱ helpe.

14 They came as a great breach of waters, and ^k vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon me: and they purſue my ſoule as the winde, and mine health paſſeth away as a cloud.

16 Therefore my ſoule is now ^l powred out vpon me, and the daies of affliction haue taken hold on me.

17 ^m It pearceth my bones in the night, and my ſinewes take no reſt.

18 For the great vehemency is my garment changed, which compaſſeth me about as the collar of my coate.

19 ⁿ He hath caſt me into the mire, and I am become like aſhes and diſt.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou doeſt not heare me, neither regardſt mee, when I ſtand vp.

21 Thou turneſt thy ſelfe ^o cruelly againſt me, and art enemy vnto mee with the ſtrength of thine hand.

22 Thou takeſt mee vp and cauſeſt me to ride vpon the ^p winde, and makeſt my || ſtrength to faile.

23 Surely I know that thou wilt bring mee to death, and to the houſe appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doubtleſſe none can ſtretch his hand ^{vnto} the graue, though they cry in his deſtruction.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? Was not my ſoule in heauineſſe for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, & euill came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkneſſe.

27 My bowels did boile without reſt: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning ^{without} ſunne: I ſtood vp in the congregation ^t and cryed.

29 I am a brother to the ^u Dragons, and a companion to the Oſtriches.

30 My ſkiuine is blacke vpon mee, and my bones are burnt with ^v heate.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

C H A P. XXXI.

1 Iob reciteth the innocency of his liuing, and ſumme of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be ſeek't of the ſai. fulfill.

I Made a couenant with mine ² eyes: why then ſhould I thinke on ^b a maide?

2 For what portion ſhould I haue of God from aboute? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked, & ſtrange puniſhment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he behold my waies and tell all my ſteps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foot hath made haſt to deceit,

6 Let God weigh me in the juſt balance, and he ſhall know mine ^v vprightneſſe.

7 If my ſteppe hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath ^w walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaued to mine hands,

8 Let me ow, and let another ^e eate: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceived by a woman, or if I haue laid waite at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife ^g grinde, vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her.

11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned.

12 Yea, this is a fire that ſhall deuoure ^h to deſtruction, & which ſhall root out all my increaſe.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my ſeruant, and of my maide, when they ⁱ did contend with me, 14 What then ſhal I do when ^k God ſtandeth vp? & when he ſhall viſit me, what ſhal I anſwer?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath he not made ^l him? hath not he alone faſhioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I reſtrained the poore of their deſire, or haue cauſed the eyes of the widow ^m to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morſels alone, and the fatherleſſe hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hee hath growne vp with me ⁿ as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her.)

19 If I haue ſcene any periſh for want of clothing, or any poore without couering, 20 If his loynes haue not beene ſleepe, becauſe he was warmed with the fleece of my ſheepe.

21 If I haue liſt ^o vp mine hand againſt the fatherleſſe, when I ſaw that I might helpe him in the gate, 22 Let mine ^p arme fall from my ſhoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods puniſhment was ^q ſearefull vnto mee, and I could not be ^{deliuered} from his highneſſe.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue ſaid to the wedge of gold, ^r Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reiocied becauſe my ſubſtance was great, or becauſe mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the ſunne, when it ſhined, or the moone walking in ^s her brightneſſe,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in ſecret, or if my mouth did kiſſe mine ^t hand,

28 (This alſo had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denied the God ^{above})

29 If I reiocied at his deſtruction that hated me, a I kept mine eyes from all wanton looks.

b Would not God then haue puniſhed me?

c Iob declareth that the feare of God was a briſtle to ſtay him from all wickedneſſe.

multitude, yet the most contemptible of the fa-

THE f WORDS OF IOB ARE ENDED.

Meaning, that hee was no briber nor extortioner. f That is, ad with his three friends.

CHAP. XXXII.

a Elihu reprehendeth them of folly. b Age maketh not a man wise, but the spirit of God.

*S*O these three men ceased to answer Iob, because he f esteemed himselfe iust.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Ba-rachel the a Buzite, of the familie of b Ram, was kindled: his wrath, f for, was kindled against Iob, because he iustified himselfe c more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not finde an answer, and yet condemned Iob.

4 (Now Elihu had waited till Iob had spoken:
for d they were more ancient in yeeres then hee)

5 So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, answered and said, I am young in yeeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraid to shew you mine opinion.

7 For I said, The e dayes shall speake, and the multitude of yeeres shall teach wisdom.

8 Surely there is a spirit in man, f but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstand-ing.

9 Great men are not alway wise, neither doe
the aged alway vnderstand iudgement.

10 Therefore I say, Heare mee, and I will shew al o mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did waite vpon your words, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whyles you sought out g reasons.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, loe, there was none of you that reproued Iob, nor answered his words.

13 Left ye should say, Wee haue h found wise-dom: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.

14 Yet hath i he not directed his words to mee, neither will I answer k him by your words.

15 Then they fearing answered no more, but left off their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still and answered no more)

17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am ful of l matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottels that brast.

20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lips and will answer.

21 I will not now accept the person of man, neither will I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue n titles, lest my Maker should take me away suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu describeth Iobs ignorance. 14 Hee sheweth that God hath diuers means to retriue man, and to draw him to a finis. 19 39 Hee afflicth man and suddenly deliuereth him.
26 Man being deliuered, giueth thanks to God.

*W*herefore Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke, and hearken vnto my words.

2 Behold now, I haue opened my mouth:
my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My words are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, and my lips shall speake pure knowledge.

4 The a Spirit of God hath made me, and the breach of the Almighty hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answere, prepare thy selfe and stand before me.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wish in b Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand c be heauie vpon thee.

8 Doubtlesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voice o my words:

9 I am d cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Loe, he hath found occasions against mee, and counteth mee for his enemie.

11 Hee hath put my feete in the flockes, and looketh narrowly vnto all my paths.

12 Behold, in this hast thou not done right:
I will answer thee that God is greater then man.

13 Why dost thou strue against him? For he doeth not e giue account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh f once or twice, and one seeth it not.

15 In dreames and g visions of the night, when sleepe filleth vpon men, and they sleepe vpon their beds.

16 Then he openeth the eares of men, and they sleepe vpon their beds.

3 For the care tryeth the words, as the mouth tasteth meate.

4 Let vs seeke ^ab iudgement among vs, and let vs know among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hath said, I am righteous, and God hath taken ^aaway my iudgement.

6 Should I lie in my ^aright? my wound of the arrow is ^agruenous without ^asinne.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh scorn-fullnesse like water?

8 Which goeth in the company of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath said, I will professe a man nothing that he should ^awalk with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wis-dome, God forbid that wickednesse should bee in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For hee will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to find according to his way.

12 And certainly God will not do wickedly,
neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.

13 Whom ^ahath appointed our the earth beside him, selfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 And certainly God will not do wickedly,
neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.

15 Whom ^ahath appointed our the earth
beside him, selfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

16 And certainly God will not do wickedly,
neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.

17 Whom ^ahath appointed our the earth
beside him, selfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If ^ahee set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto him selfe his spirit, and his breath,

15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust.

16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this,
and hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

17 Shall he that hateth iudgement, ^agouerne?
& wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a king, Thou art ^awicked?
or to princes, Take away godly.

19 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich more then the poore? for they bee all the worke of his handes.

20 They shall ^adies suddenly, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall passe forth and take away the mighty without hand.

21 For his eyes ^are vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenesse nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For hee will not lay on man so much, that he should ^aenter into iudgement with God.

24 Hee shall breake the mighty without seeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.

25 Therefore shall he declare their ^aworks: he shall turne the night, and they shall be destroyed.

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the ^ascars.

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes.

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to ^acome vnto him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when hee giueth quietnesse, who can maketrouble? and when hee hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man only?

30 Because the ^ahypocrite doeth reigne, and because the people are inare.

31 Surely ^ait appeareth vnto God ^ato say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 ^aBut if I see not, teach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will do no more.

33 Will hee performe the thing through bthee?
for thou hast reprobud it, because that thou hast chosen, and not I: now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not poken of knowledge, he therfore his words according to wisdom.

36 I desire that Iob may be ^atried vnto the end touching the answers for wicked men.

37 For he ^aaddeth rebellion vnto his sinne: he clappeth his hands among vs, and multiplieth his words against God.

38 Thus hee blasphemeth in the person of God as though Iob should suffer, and hee pleases ^ahimselfe. Therefore may speake as much as he can, that hee may make his cause to be maintained.

13 The wicked cry vnto God and are not heard.*

Elihu spake moreouer, and said,
2 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast sayd, I am ^amore righteous then God?

3 For thou hast sayd, What profiteth it thee, and what availleth it mee, to purge me from my sinne?

4 Though he would say, that God tormented him without iust cause, 4 Therefore

Why God punisheth.

b Such as are in the like error.

c If thou canst not controul the clouds wilt thou presume to instruct God? d Neither doeth thy fine hurt God, nor thy iustice profit him: for he will be glorified without thee.

e The wicked may hurt a man, and cause him to cry, who if hee sought to God, which sendeth comfort, should be deliuered.

f Because they pray not in faith, as feeling Gods mercies.

g Gods iust, howeuer thou iudget of him. h For if he did punish thee as thou deservest, thou shouldst not be able to open thy mouth.

4 Therefore will I answer thee, & thy companions with thee,
5 Look vnto the heauen, and see and behold, the c loudes which are hier thou.
6 If thou fainest, what doest thou against him, yea, when thy finnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?
7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiuest he at thine hand?
8 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art, & thy righteousness may profite the sonne of man.
9 They cause many that are oppressed, to cry, which cry out for the violence of the mighty.
10 But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giueh songs in the night?
11 Which teacheth vs more then the beastes of the earth, and giueh vs more wisdom then the foules of the heauen.
12 When they cry because of the violence of the wicked, but hee answereth not.
13 Surely God will not heare vanitie, neither will the Almighty regard it.
14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, yet iudgment is before him: trust thou in him.
15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the euill with great extremity, 16 Therefore Iob openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elia sheweth the power of God & Ananias iustice. 2 And therefore he punieth. 13 The prosperitie of the wicked.

E Lihu also proceeded and sayd,
2 Suffer me a little and I will instruct thee: for I haue vnto to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I will fetch a my knowledge as farre off, and will attribute righteousness vnto my maker.

4 For truly my words shall not be false, and hee that is perfect in knowledge, speaketh wth thee.

5 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is mightie, and valiant of courage.

6 He maintaineth not the wicked, but hee giueh iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with kings in throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters and tyed with the cords of affliction,

9 Then will he shew them their worke and their finnes, because they haue bene proud.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquity.

11 * If they obey and serue him, they shall end their dayes in prosperitie, & their yerres in pleasures.

12 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by the sword, and perish without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites of heart increafe the wrath: for they call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their foule dieth in youth, and their life among the wretched mongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would he haue taken thee out of the strait place: to a broad place, and not shut vp beneath: and that which releeueth vnto thy table, had bene full of far.

17 But thou art full of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie maintaine all things.

18 For Gods wrath is: left hee should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth not gold, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 Be not carefull in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heed: looke not to p^riniquity: for thou hast cholen it rather then affliction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men behold.

25 All men see it, and men behold it q a farre off.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, and wee know him not, neither can the number of his yerres be searched out.

27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the raine powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the clouds doe droppe and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can know the deuisions of the clouds, and the thunders of his Tabernacle?

30 Behold, hee spreadeth his light vpon it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.

31 For thereby hee iudgeth y the people, and giueh mear abundantly.

32 He conereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to goe against it.

33 His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is anger in rising vp.

hth double: the one that it declareth Gods iudgements, when it drieth againe another. 2 The cold vapour sheweth him: that is, the cloud of the boate exaltation, which being taken in the cold cloud mounteth vp toward the place where the fire is, and so anger is ingendred: that is, noise

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Elia propheseth that the unsearchable wisdom of God is manifested by his works. 4 At by the thunders. 6 The snow. 8 The whirlwinde, 11 And the raine.

A T this also mine heart is astonished, and is mooned out of his place.

2 Heare the sound of his voyce, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

4 After it a noyse foundeth: hee thundereth with the voyce of his maiestie, and hee will not stay e them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundereth maruellously with his voyce: hee worketh great things which wee know not.

6 For he saith to the snow, Be thou vpon the earth: likewise to the smale raine & to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof he shutteth vp euerie man, that all men may know his worke.

8 Then the beasts goe into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirlewind cometh out of the South, the cold from the Northwinde.

ment. e By eases and thunders God causeth men to keepe their houses. f In Ebrew it is called the scattering winde, wher the cloudes and purgeth the aire, m Thus art altogether after the manner of the wicked: for thou dost murmur against the iustice of God. n God doth punish thee, if thou shouldst forget God in thy wealth and ioseph. o Be not thou curious in seeking the scale of Gods iudgements, when he destroyeth any. p And so murmur against God through impatience.

q The workes of God are manifold, that a man may see them a farre off, and know God by the same. r Corioliensis hinder they, fo, that we cannot attaine to the perfit knowledge of God.

10 At the breath of God the frost is given, and the breadth of the waters is made narrow.

11 He maketh also the cloudes to labour, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloudes of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may do whatsoeuer hee commaundeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it bee for punishment, or for his land, or of mercy, hee causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Diddest thou know when God disposed them? and caused the light of the cloud to shine?

16 Haft thou known the variety of the cloud, and the wonderous workes of him, that is perfect in knowledge?

17 Or howe thy clothes are warme, when hee maketh the earth quiet through the South-winde?

18 Haft thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, and as a molten glasse?

19 Tell vs what we shall say vnto him: for we cannot dispoſe our matter because of darkeſnes.

20 Shall it be tolde him when I ſpeake? or ſhall man ſpeake when hee ſhall be deſtroyed?

21 And now men ſee not the light, which ſhineh in the cloudes, but the winde paſſeth and cleareth them.

22 The brightnes cometh out of the North: the praiſe thereof to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: wee cannot finde him out: hee is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iuſtice: hee affieth them not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wiſe in their owne conceit.

25 If a man ſhould hee repine? ſ The cloud ſtoppeth the ſunne cannot ſee: till the wind haue chaſt away the cloud: ſo able to attaineto the knowledge of theſe things, how much leſſe can? c In Ebrew, gold: meaning faire weather and cleare as g without cloude.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

2 God ſpeaketh to Iob, and declareth the great wiſſe of man in the conſideration of his creatures, by whole excellencie ſee power iuſtice, and prouidence of the Creator is knowne.

Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the a whirlwind, and ſaid,

C H A P. XXXIX.

The louie and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the young rauen, giueth vsan full occasion to put his confidence in God.

37 Iob confesseth and bewaileth his sinne.

After he had declared Gods workes in the heauens hee sheweth his maruolous prouidence in earth, euen toward the beastes.

He chiefly maketh mention of wilde goates and bindes, because they bring forth their yong with most difficultie. d That is, how long they goe with yong e. They bring forth with great difficultie.

f That is, the barren ground where no good fruites grow.

g Is it possible to make the vncomely thing, that is man, come to rule a creature, that is it much more impossible that the should appoint the wisdom of God whereby he goetheth the low world.

h They write that the ostrich couereth her egges in the sand, and because the countrey is hote and the sunne still keepeth them warme, they are hatched. i. The should take care for them. k That is, to haue a care and natural affection toward his yong. l When the yong ostrich is grown vp, hee outrunneeth the beaust. m That is, giuen him courage? which is meant by meying and thal king his manes for with his breath he couereth his necke. n A beaust with his hoofs. o He forsideth the ground that is beneath nothing vnder him.

Wilt thou hunt the pray for the lion? or fill the appetite of the lions whelpes,

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the couert to lie in wait?

3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meate; when his birdes^b crie vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?

4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goats bring forth yong? or doest thou marke when the hindes do calue?

5 Canst thou number the monethes that they d fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

6 They bowe themselves: they c bruse their yong, and cast out their forrowes.

7 Yet their yong waxe fatte, and grow vp with corne: they goe forth and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hath set the wilde asse at libertie? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde asse?

9 I: u i which haue made the wilde nesse his house, and the f salt places his dwellings.

10 He derideth the multitude of the city: hee heareth not the crie of the driuer.

11 Hee seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.

12 Will the vnlicorne^c serue thee? or will hee tary by thy crib?

13 Canst thou binde the vnlicorne with his band, or la^d in the furrow? or will he plow the valleys after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleue him, that hee will bring home thy seed, and gather it vnto thy barne?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocke? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?

17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth, and maketh them^b hot in the dust.

18 And forgetteth that the foot might scatter them, or that the wild beaust might breake them.

19 He sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if hee travelled in vaine.

20 For God hath deprived him of^k wisdom, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When timeⁿ hee mounteth on high: hee mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength, or couered his necke with^m meying?

23 Hast thou made him afraid as the grasshopper? his strong meying is fearefull.

24 Heeⁿ diggeth in the valley, and reioyceeth in his strength: hee goeth soorth to meet the harne^{ssed} man.

25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword, 26 Though the quier rattel against him, the glittering speare and the shield.

27 He swalloweth the ground for fiercenesse and rage, and he beleueth not that it is the noise of the trumpet.

28 He faith among the trumpet, Ha, ha: hee smelleth the battell afarre off, and the noise of the captaines, and the shouting,

29 Shall the hauke flie by thy wisdom, first^{ch}ing out his wings toward the p South?

30 Doeth the eagle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on high?

31 She abideth and remaineth in the rocke, and upon the top of the rocke, and the tower.

32 From thence she spieth for meate, and her eyes behold afarre off.

33 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: and where the flaine are, there is she.

34 Moreover the Lord spake vnto Iob, and sayd,

35 Is this^q to learne, to striue with the Almighty? that thou reproveest God, let him answer to it.

36 ¶ Then Iob answered the Lord, sayd,

37 Behold, I am vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answer no more, yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.

A Gaine the Lord answered Iob out of^{*} the whirlwind, and sayd,

2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

3 Wilt thou disanull^a my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy selfe now with^b maiestie and excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beautie and glory.

16 Leth he vnder the trees in the couert of the reede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadow? or can the willowes of the riuer compass him about?

18 Behold, he spoileth the riuer, and hasterh not: he trusteth that hee can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

19 Hee taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him.

his eyes are like the eye lids of the morning.

fire leape out.

11 Out of his nostrils commeth out smoke, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coales burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and his labour is reiected before his face.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 His prayer for his friends. 12 His goods are restored double vnto him. 13 His children, age and death.

Then Iob answered the Lord, and said,
2 I know that thou canst doe all things and that there is no a thought hid from thee.

3 Who is hee that hideth counsell without b knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vn-derstood not, & when things too wonderful for mee, c and which I knew not.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ Now after that the Lord had spoken these words vnto Iob, the Lord also sayd vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not ipoken of mee the thing that is right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now seuen bul-locks, and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seru-ant Iob shall pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of mee the thing which is right, like my seru-ant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lord had saide vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise as much as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eate bread with him in his house, & had comp^{is}ion on him, and comforted him for all the euill that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a piece of money, and euery one an euing of gold.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob, more then the first: for he had fourteen thousand sheepe, and sixe thou^sand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand shee asses.

13 He had also seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of one Lemimah, and the name of the second Keziah, & the name of the third Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Iob, & their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this Iob lived Iob an hundred and fourtie yeeres, and saw his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen four generations.

17 So Iob died, being old, and full of dayes.

THE PSALMES OF DAVID.

THE ARGVMENT.

IO. prayes, according to the Brewes: and were chiefly instituted to praise and giue thanks to God for his benefites.

They are called the Psalmes or songs of David, because the most part were made by him.

THis booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost, to be esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicitie, as well in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heavenly wisdom, are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great and high maiestie of God, here we may see the brightness thereof shine most clearly. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the schoole of the Iames profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bounty, and approch nere thereunto, and fill our hands with that treasure, here we may haue a most liuely and comfortable taste thereof. If we would know wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life everlasting, here is Christ our onely redeemer, and mediator most evidently described. The rich man may learne the true vs of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. Hee that will reioyce, shall know the true ioy, and how to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall see wherein standeth their comfort, and how they ought to prayse God when he sendeth them deliverance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shall see how the hand of God is euil against them: and though he suffer them so prosper for a while, yet he bridleth them, in so much as they cannot touch an haire of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here we may haue most present remedies against all tentations and troubles of mind and conscience, so that being well practised herein, wee may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare and love of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glory, which is layd up for all them that leaue the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

PSAL. I.

Whether it was Elias, or any other that ascribed the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth he did let this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to wisdom and wisdom, the heavenly wisdom. For the first hereof is, That they be diligent which giue themselves wholly all their life to the holy scriptures: and that the wicked countenance of God, though they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

Blessed is the man that doeth not walke in the counsell of the wicked nor stand in the way of sinners nor sit in the seat of the scornfull.

But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doeth he meditate day and night.

For he shall be like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring forth her fruits in due season: whose leafe shall not fade: so whatsoeuer he shall doe, shall prosper.

The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the wind drieth away.

Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the iudgment, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

PSAL. II.

The Prophet David saith, that when he saw the rage of God will constrain his kingdomes for iure and iudicium to the end of the world, to and therefore he saith: that he and his people would be worthy to submit themselves vnder Gods yoke, because it is to praise and thank God, for his great and glorious kingdom.

Why doe the heathen rage, and the people murmur in vaine?

The Kings of the earth band themselves, and the Princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

Let vs breake their bands, and cast their coards from vs.

But hee that dwelleth in the heauen, shall laugh: the Lord shall haue them in derision.

Then shall hee speake vnto them in his wrath, and vexe them in his fore displeasure, saying,

When I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

I will declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath said vnto mee, Thou art my sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

Aske of mee, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of yron, and breake them in pieces like a potters vessel.

Be wise now therefore, ye kings: be leauned ye Iudges of the earth.

Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

Kisse the Sonne, lest he bee angry, and ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne. Blessed be all that trust in him.

He exhorteeth all rulers to repent in time, he sheweth of howage, i. When the wicked shall fall, Peace and rest, seeming yet to be out in the mid way, of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come, i. Thieff. c. 3.

PSAL. III.

David saith, that he hath beene sore vexed in mind for his sinnes against God: And therefore he saith vpon God, and was his holie strength his promise: and the great railing words of his enemies, yea against all his people, which he saith, before his eyes. Finally, he saith, that he is not vexed, but that he hath put his trust in God, and in all the Church.

For, enuied, b. Thus the wicked say that they will cast off the yoke of God, and of his Christ.

From, c. 26. c. Gods plagues will declare, that in reflecting his Christ, they loughed against him.

d. To shew that myocation to the kingdom, is of God.

Acts, 1. 26. e. That is to say, as touching mans knowledge, because it was the first time that David appeared to be elected of God.

So it is applied to Christ in his first comming and manifestation to the world.

f. Not only the Tewes, but the Gentiles also.

1. Reuel. 2. 27.

a. When a man hath giuen one place to euil, conuictor, so to his owne concupiscence hee beginneth to forget himselfe in his sine, and to fall into contempt of God, which contempt is called the seat of sinners.

Deut. 6. 5. b. In the holy Scriptures.

1. Pet. 1. 7. c. Gods children are so mistaken euil with his grace, that whatsoever commendeth vnto their saluation.

d. Though the wicked seeme to beare the blessing in this world, yet the Lord drieth them downe, if they shall not rise, nor stand in the company of the righteous. e. But tremble when they see the Kings wrath.

f. Doth approve and prosper, like as not in know, is to reprove and reioice.

a. The conspiracie of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the Iewes, and power of Kings cannot preuaile against Christ.

g A Psalm of David, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

Lord, how are mine aduersaries ^aincreased? how many rife against me?

2 Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God, b Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me, my glorie, and the lifter vp of mine head.

4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy mountaine, Selah.

5 I laid me downe and slept, and rose vp againe for the Lord sustained me:

6 I will not be afraid for I seeke thousand of the people that should befriend about.

7 O Lord arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 d Salvation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy blessing e vpon thy people. Selah.

PSAL. IIII.

When Saul persecuted him he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reproves his enemies who wilfully resisted his dominion, and finally protesteth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

g A To him that exelleth on Neginoth.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me when I call, b O God of my righteousness: thou hast set me at libertie, when I was c in distress: haue mercie vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O yee d lonnes of men, how long will ye burne my glorie into shame, e louing vanitie, and seeking lies? f Selah.

3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe f a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.

4 g Tremble, and sinne not: examine your own heart vpon your bed, and be h still. Selah.

5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousnesse, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, Who will shew vs any k good? but Lord, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou hast giuen me more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their wheate and their wine did abound.

8 I will lay me downe, & also sleepe in peace: for thou, Lord, l onely makest me dwell in safetie.

David oppressed with the cruelty of his enemies, and fearing great reproaches, calleth to God for succour, shewing how he requirerh it, as when God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. After, being assured of prosperous success, he commendeth comforts, concluding, that when God shall deliver him, others also shall be partakers of the same mercie.

PSAL. V.

David oppressed with the cruelty of his enemies, and fearing great reproaches, calleth to God for succour, shewing how he requirerh it, as when God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. After, being assured of prosperous success, he commendeth comforts, concluding, that when God shall deliver him, others also shall be partakers of the same mercie.

g To him that exelleth vpon l Neginoth.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me words, O Lord: vnderstand my meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voice of my crye, my king and my God: for vnto thee doe I pray.

3 Heare my voice in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I will b wait.

4 For thou art not a God that loueth wickednesse, neither shall euill dwell with thee.

5 d The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: thou wilt most ragingly after their carnall affections.

for thou hatest all them that worke iniquity.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lies: the Lord will abhorre the bloodie man and deceitfull.

7 But e I will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worship toward thine holy Temple.

8 Leade me, O Lord, in thy righteousnesse, because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For no constancie is in their mouth: within they are very corruption: their throat is an open sepulchre, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God, l let them g fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.

11 And h let all them that trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, and couer thou them: and let them that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lord wilt l bleffe the righteous, and with fauour i wilt compass him, as with a shield.

PSAL. VI.

When David by his sinnes had provoked Gods wrath, and now sit not only but hand and eye a nill him but also concerned the horrors of death exceeding, he desireth forgiveness. He bewaileth that if God took him away in his indignation, he should lacke occasion to praise him for his mercie to doe whilst hee was among men. Then suddenly feeling Gods mercie, he sharply rebuketh his enemies which reioiced in his affliction.

g To him that exelleth on Neginoth vpon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.

O Lord, a rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord heale me, for my b bones are vexed.

3 My soule is also sore troubled: but Lord how long wilt thou delay?

4 Returne, O Lord: deliver my soule: saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in d death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I cause my bed every night to swimme, and water my couch with my teares.

7 l Mine eye is dimmed for despayre, and sunken because of all mine enemies.

8 e Away from me all ye workers of iniquity: for the Lord hath heard f my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receive my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and fore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame g suddenly.

David thought that the godly shall perish, God delivereth them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

PSAL. VII.

Being falsly accused by Chush one of Sauls kinsmen, he calleth to God to be his defender, 3 to whom he commendeth his innocencie, 9 shewing that his conscience did not accuse him of any euill toward Saul. 10 Next claime the Lords glory to award sentence against the wicked, 12 And for entering into consideration of Gods mercies and promise, he waxeth bold and denieth the same excuse of his enemies, 16 shewing that those that shall fall on their own necke who they haue purposed for others.

g Shigion of David, which hee sang vnto the Lord, concerning the l words of h Chush the sonne of Jemini.

O Lord my God, in thee I put my trust: saue me from all that persecute me, and deliver me.

2 Left e hee deuoure my soule like a lion: and tear it in pices, while there is none to helpe.

3 O Lord

a This was a toke of his stable faith, for all his troubles he had his recourse to God. b Selah here signifieth a lifting vp of the voice, to ensure vs to consider the sentence, as a thing of great importance. c When he considered the truth of Gods promise and tried the same, his faith increased maruailously. d He the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God hath euer means to deliver his.

e When he considered the truth of Gods promise and tried the same, his faith increased maruailously. f He the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God hath euer means to deliver his.

g Among them h were appointed to sing i Psalms, and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chief to fit the tune and to begin: who had j charge, because hee was most excellent, and he began this Psalm on the instrument called Neginoth or lute a talle called.

PSALM VIII.

1 The Prophet considering the excellent liberallitie and fastely providence of God towards man whom he made as it were a god our all his workes, doth not only give great thanks, but astonishe i with the admiration of the same, as one nothing able to compass i in his great mercie.

g To him that excelleth on i Gittith,
A Psalm of David.

O Lord our Lord, how i excellent is thy Name in all the world! which hast set thy glory about the heauens.

2 Out of the mouth a of babes and sucklings hast thou i ordained strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest i still the enemy, and the auenger.

3 When I beholde thine heauens, euen the workes of thy fingers, the moone and the starres which thou hast ordained,

4 What is b man, ysa I, that thou art mindefull of him? and the sonne of man that thou vi-sitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower then c God, and crowned him with glory and worship.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the works of thine hands: thou hast put all things vnder his feet:

7 All d sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:

8 The fowles of the ayre, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth thorow the paths of the seas.

9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world!

PSALM IX.

1 After he had given thanks to God for the many victories that hee had wonne against his enemies, and as is proved by manifest experience, how ready God was to be mercie to his seruants:
2 Hee being now likewise in danger of new enemies, desired God to helpe him according to his word, 17 and to destroy the malignant arrogancie of his adversaries.

g To him that excelleth vpon i Muth Labben,
A Psalm of David.

I will praise the Lord with my a whole heart: i will speake of all thy marvellous workes.

2 I will be gladd, and reioyce in thee: i will sing praise to thy Name, O most high,

3 For that mine enemies are turned backe:
they shall fall and perish at thy preference.

4 For b thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in the throne, and iudgeth right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 c O enemy, destructions are come to a perpetuall end, and thou hast destroyed the cities:
their memoriall is perished with them,

7 But the Lord i shall sit for euer: hee hath prepared his throne for iudgement.

8 For hee shall iudge the world in righteoufnesse, and shall iudge the people with equitie.

9 The Lorde also will be a refuge for the poore, a refuge in due time euen in affliction.

10 And they that know thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seeke thee.

11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: shew the people his workes.

12 For e when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth it, and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord: consider my trouble which i suffer of them that hate mee, thou that liftest me vp from the gates of death.

14 That I may shew all thy praises within the gates of the daughter of Zion, and reioyce in thy saluation.

15 The heathen are g sunken downe in the pit that they made: in the net that they hid, is their foot taken.

16 h The Lord is known by executing iudge-ment: the wicked is snared in the worke of his owne hands: i Higgaion, Selah.

17 The wicked shall turne into hell, and all nations that forget God.

18 For the poore shall not be alway forgotten:
the hope i of the afflicted shall not perish for euer.

then be iudged in thy sight.

may know that they are but k men, Selah.

a So soon as we enter into affliction, we think, God should help vs; but that is not always his due time.

Why standest thou farre off, O Lord, & hidest thee in a due time, when in affliction?
2 The wicked with pride doth persecute the poore: let them be taken in the crafts that they haue imagined.

3 For the wicked haue made boast of his owne hearts desire, & the couetous blesteth himselfe, he contemneth the Lord.

4 The wicked is so proude, that he seeketh not for God: hee thinketh alwayes, There is no God.

5 His wayes alway proper: thy iudgements are high aboue his sight: therefore he despiseth he all his enemies.

6 Hee saith in his heart, I shall neuer bee moued, nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is full of cursing, and deceite, and fraud: vnder his tongue is mischief and iniquitie.

8 He lieth in waite in the villages: in the secret places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are bent against the poore.

9 He lieth in waite secretly, when as a lyon in his denne: he lyeth in wait to spoile the poore. he doth spoile the poore, when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth and boweth: therefore heaps of the poore doe fall by his might.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth away his face, and will neuer see.

12 Arise, O Lord God, lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

13 Wherefore doeth the wicked contemne God? hee saith in his heart, Thou wilt not regard.

14 For thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest mischief and wrong, that thou mayest take it into thine hands: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherlesse.

15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: search his wickednesse, and thou shalt find none.

16 The Lord is King for euer and euer: the heathen are destroyed iorth of his land.

17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart: thou benedict thine care to them.

18 To iudge the fatherlesse and poore, that earthly man if cause to feare no more.

PSAL. XI.

This Psalm consisteth of two parts. In the first David sheweth how hard afflictions & persecutions hee sustained, and in how great number of minds he was, when he said and perswaded him, A true man that receiveth that God put him succour in his necessity, declareth his justice of such in governing the good, and the wicked men, as the whole world.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

In the Lord put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, a flee to thy mountain as a bird?

2 For loe, the wicked bend their bow, and make ready their arrowes vpon the string, that they may secretly shoot at them which are vp-right in heart.

3 For the foundations are cast downe, what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holy palace: the Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes will consider: his eye lids will trie the children of men.

5 He will execute iudgement from heauen.

5 The Lord will try the righteous: but the wicked, and him that loueth iniquitie, doth his soule hate.

6 Vpon the wicked he shall raine snares, & fire, and brimstone, and stormie tempest: thus the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loueth righteounes: his countenance doth behold the iust.

PSAL. XII.

The Prophet lamenting the multitude of false oaths, and the decay of all good order, desires God speedily to send succour to his children. 7 Those comforting himselfe and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, he commeth to the constant verity, that Gods word is keeping his promise.

To him that excelleth vpon the right tyme.

A Psalm of David.

Helpe Lord, for there is not a godly man left: for the faithfull are failed from among the children of men.

2 They speake deceitfully euery one with his neighbour, flatter with their lips, and speake with a double heart.

3 The Lord cut off all flattering lip, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:

4 Which haue said, With our tongue will we preuaile: our lips are our owne: who is Lord ouer vs?

5 Now for the oppression of the needy, and for the sighs of the poore, I will vp, saith the Lord, and will be set at libertie him, whom the wicked hath snared.

6 The words of the Lord are pure wordes, as the siluer, tryed in a fornae of earth, fined seven fold.

7 Thou wilt keepe them, O Lord: thou wilt preferre him from this generation for euer.

8 The wicked walke on euery side, when they are exalted, it is a shame for the sonnes of men.

9 For they wicked generation, For that is, thine thought he were but one man, For they suppress the goodly, and maintain the wicked.

PSAL. XIII.

David as it were comes with sundry and new afflictions, fleeth to God as his only refuge, 3 and as at the length being encouraged with Gods promise, hee cometh to more confidence against his extreame horrors of death.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, for euer? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I take b counsell within my selfe, hauing wearinesse daily in mine heart? how long shall mine enemy be exalted aboue me?

3 Beholde, and heare mee, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death:

4 Let mine enemy say, I haue preuailed against him: and they that afflict me reioyce when I slide.

5 But I trust in thy mercy: mine heart shall reioyce in thy saluation: I will sing to the Lord, because he hath dealt louingly with me.

PSAL. XIIII.

He describes the peruerseness of sinners, which were grown to licentiousness, that God was brought to utter contempt, 7 For the which thing, although he was greatly grieved, yet being perswaded that God would send some person to reuenge, hee comforteth himselfe and others.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Hee foole hath said in his heart, There is no God: they haue corrupted, & done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.

2 There is nothing but disorder and wickednesse among them.

Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 10. d Where they thinke themselves holie, e You mock them that port their unit in Gods. f He prayeth for the whole Church whom hee has assured God will deliuer: for none but hee only can doe it.

2 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand and seeke God.
3 All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

8 I haue set the Lord alwayes before mee: for hee is at my right hand: therefore I shall not slide.
9 Wherefore b mine heart is glad, and my tongue reioyceth: my Reft also doth rest in hope.

11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for euermore.

g The faithful are sure to preferre to the end. h That is, i reioice both in body and soule. i This is chiefly meant of Christ, by whose redemption all his members haue immortality. k Where God fauoureth, there is perfect felicity.

PSAL. XVII.

e Heere see complaint: to God of the cruell pride and arrogancie of Saul, and the risk of his enemies, who thus ragged without any cause giuen on his part. f Therefore he desireth Gods to reuenge his innocencie and deliuer him.

¶ The prayer of David.

Hear e the right, O Lord, consider my cry: b Hearken vnto my prayer of lips vnfeined.
2 Let my b sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes behold equity.
3 Thou hast proued and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tried me, and foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my mouth should not offend.
4 Concerning the workes of men, by the words of thy lips I kept mee from the pathes of the cruell man.
5 Scay my steps in thy paths, that my feet doe not slide.
6 I haue called vpon thee: f surely thou wilt heare me, O God: encline thine eare to mee, and hearken vnto my words.
7 Shew thy marueilous mercies, show that art the Sauour of them that trust in thee, from such as resist thy right hand.
8 Keepe mee as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the shadow of thy wings.
9 From the wicked that oppresse mee, from mine enemies, which compass me round about for b my soule.

a My righteous cause. b The vengeance that thou shalt shew against mine enemies. c Wherthy Spirit examined my confidence. d I was innocent toward mine enemies both in deed and thought. e Though the wicked provoked mee to doe euill for euill, yet thy word kept me backe. f He was assured that God would not forsake his request. g For all rebell against thee, which trouble thy Church.

¶ Note that of this 17. Psalm, the 5. 6. and 7. verses which are put into the common translation, and my scene vnto some to belete out in this, are not in the first Psalm in the Hebrew text, but are rather put in more fully to expresse the manner of the wicked, and are gathered out of the 5. 24. and 10. Psalms, the 59. of the Prophet Iesaiab, and the 36. Psalm, and are all eadged by S. Paul, and placed together in the 3. to the Romanes.

PSAL. XV.

e This Psalm is written on what condition God did chuse the iustes for his peculiar people, and where they are placed in Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing vprightly and godly, might witness that they were his special and holie people.

¶ A Psalm of David.

Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thine holy Mountaine?
2 He that a walketh vprightly and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.
3 He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiueh a falsie report against his neighbour.
4 b In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but hee honoureth them that feare the Lord: hee that sweareth by his owne hinderance and changeth not.
5 He that receiueh not his money vnto vsury, nor taketh reward against the innocent: hee that doeth these things, d shall neuer be moued.

a God first requieth rightnesse of life, next doing well to others, and thirdly, truth and simplicity in our words. b He that slandereth not the vngodly in their wickednesse. c To the hinderance of his neighbour. d That, is, shall not be cast forth of the Church, as hypocrites.

PSAL. XVI.

e David prayeth to God for succour, not for his workes, but for his faiths sake. a Presuming that hee hath all idollatry, taking Godouerly for his comfort and felicitie. b Who iustifieth him to looke nothing.

¶ Michatam of David.

PSAL. XVIII.

e This Psalm is the first beginning of his gratulation and thanksgiving in entering into his kingdom, wherein hee exulteth and prayeth most highly the marueilous mercies and graces of God, who beath thus preferred and defended him. f Also hee setteth forth the image of Christes kingdom, that the faithful may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquer and overcome by the vnspokeable power of this Easter, though all the whole world shall rise against.

l By thine heavenly power. m Or, my strength. n And long endured. o And leaue not the smart of these Gods children of times does. p This is the full felicity, comforting against all assaults, to haue the face of God and fauourable countenance opened vnto vs.

g To him that exalteth. A Psalm of Dauid the servant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lord the words of this song (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and sayd,

I Will loue thee dearly, O Lord my strength.

2 *^a The Lord ^a my rocke, and my fortress, and he that deliuereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the horn also of my saluation, and my refuge.

3 I will call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to be ^b prayed. so shall I bee late from mine enemies.

4 *^c The sorrowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednesse made me afraid.

5 The [sorrows] of the graine haue compassed me about the snares of death ootooke me.

6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cried vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, ^e and he deliuered me.

7 *^f Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountaines moued and shooke, because he was angry.

8 Smoke went out of his nostrils, and a ^g consuming fire out of his mouth, coales were kindled thereat.

9 He bowed the heauens also & came downe, and ^h darknesse was vnder his feet.

10 And hee rode vpon ⁱ Cherub, and did flie, and hee came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darknesse his ^k secret place, and his paulion round about him, ^l euen darknesse of waters, and clouds of the aire.

12 At the brightnes of his preface his clouds passed, hailestones and coales of fire.

13 The Lord also thundred in the heauen and the Higheest gaue ^m his voyce, hailestones and coales of fire.

14 Then he sent out ⁿ his arrowes and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

15 And the chanel of waters were scene, and the foundations of the world were discouered at thy rebulking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 Hee hath sent downe from aboue and taken mee: hee hath drawen mee out of many waters.

17 Hee hath deliuered me from my ^o strong enemy, and from them which hate mee: for they were ^p to strong for me.

18 They persecuted mee in the day of my calamity: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place: he deliuered me because he favoured me.

20 The Lord rewarded mee according to my righteousness: according to the purenesse of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his lawes were before mee, and I did not cast away his ^q commandements from me.

23 I was vpright also with him, and haue kept me from my wickednesse.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded mee according to my righteousness, and according to the purenesse of mine hands in his sight,

25 With the ^r godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shewe thy selfe froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt ^s cast downe the proud lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darknesse.

29 For by thee I haue ^t broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The way of God is incorrupt: thy word of the Lord is tried in the fire: hee is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty like our God?

32 God directeth me with strength, and maketh my ^u way vpright.

33 Like maketh my feete like hinds feete, and setteth me vpon mine ^v high places.

34 Hee reacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of [braile] is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giuen me the ^w shield of thy saluation, and thy right hande hath stayed mee, and thy ^x louing kindnesse hath caused mee to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and my heeles haue not slid.

37 *^y I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I haue consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise, they are fallen vnder my feete.

39 For thou hast girded mee with strength to battell: them that roie against mee, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast ^z giuen mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They ^a cried, but there was none to saue them, ^b euen vnto the Lord, but hee answered them not.

42 Then I did beate them small as the dust before the wind: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou hast deliuered mee from the contentions of the people: thou hast made mee the head of the ^c heathen, a people, whom I haue not ^d known, shall serue me.

44 As soone as they heare thee, they shall obey me: the stranger shall be in subiection to me.

45 Strangers shall ^e shrink away, and feare in their priue chambers.

46 Let the Lord liue, and blessed bee my strength, and the ^f G O D of my saluation be exalted.

47 ^g It is God that giueth mee power to aunge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.

48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast fer mee vp from them that roie against mee: thou hast deliuered mee from the ^h cruell man.

49 Therefore, ⁱ I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.

To the intent he might moue the faithful to a deeper consideration of Gods glory, he setteth before their eyes the exquisite workmanship of the heauens, with their proportion & ornaments. P S A L. XXXIII.

1 *Hee exulteth good vnto 10 praise God, for that hee hath not only created all things, and by a providence gouerneth the same, but also is faithful in his promises, 10 hee will stand fast in his heart, and scattereth the counsel of the wicked, 16 so that no man can be preferred by any creature or mans strength:
but they that put their confidence in his mercie, shall bee preferred from all aduersities.*

R Eioyce in the Lord, O yee righteous: for it is becommeth vp right men to be thankfull.

2 Praise the Lord with harpe: sing vnto him with viole and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a new song: sing cheerefully with a loud voyce.

4 For the word of the Lord is righteous, and all his works are faithful.

5 He loueth righteousness and iudgement:
the earth is full of the goodnesse of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the hea-uens made, and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 Hee gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and layeth vp the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all them that dwell in the world, feare him.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood.

10 The Lord breaketh the counsell of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the devices of the people.

a It is the desire of the godly to set forth the praises of God for his mercy and power shewed toward them.

b To sing in instruments, was a part of the cere-moniall seruice of the Temple, which doth no more appertaine vnto vs then the sacrifices, censings, and lights.

c That is, consil or commandment in gouerning the world.
d That is, the effect and execution.

e Whatsoeuer the world inuents, the Gods workers yet be doth all things
according to instruction, with the gathering aloft of the waters, hee fettereth forth the power of God, that all creatures might feare him psa 136. vers 1. 10. g No counsel can prevail against God, but hee delecteth it, and it shall haue euill successe.

h He sheweth that all our felicitie (andeth in this,
that the Lord is our God.

i He proueth that all things are go-uerned by Gods providence, and not by fortune.
k The cleare he knowe that his wicked enterprises.

l Kings and the mighty of the world cannot be sued by worldly meanes, but onely
by Gods providence, wher-in others trouble themselves, that have not like meanes.
m God sheweth that outward his mercy, which man by no means is able to compass.
n Thus he speaketh in the name of the whole Church, which onely depend on Gods providence.

11 The counsell of the Lord shall stand for e-uer, and the thoughts of his heart throughout all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose God is the Lord: even the people that he hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord looketh downe from heauen, and beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all that dwell in the earth.

15 He kfishioneth their hearts euery one, and vnderstandeth all their works.

16 The King is not suued by the multitude of an hoste, neither is the mighty man deliuered by great strength.

17 A horse is a vaine thing, and shall not deli-uer any by his great strength.

18 Behold, in the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, and vpon them that trust in his mercy.

19 To deliuer their soules from death, and to preserue them in famine.

20 Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shield.

21 Surely our heart shall reioyce in him, because we trusted in his holy Name.

22 Let thy mercy, O Lord, bee vpon vs, as wee trust in thee.

P S A L. XXXIII.

1 After David had escaped Achish, according as is written in the 1. Sam. 21. 11. whome in this title hee calleth Achimelech (which was a general name to all the kings of the Philistines) hee praises God for his deliuerance, 3. promising all others by his example to trust in God, so ferre and ferue him. 7. who defendeth the godly with his Angel, 16. and vnderly destroyeth the wicked in their sinnes.

¶ A Psalme of David, when hee changed his behauiour before Achimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

I Will alway giue thanks vnto the Lord: his praise shall be in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shal glorie in the Lord: the humble shall heare it, and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with me: and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I fought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.

5 They shall looke vnto him, and run to him: and their faces shall not be ashamed, saying,

6 This poore man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lord pitcheth round about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.

8 Taste ye and see, how gracious the Lord is:
blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

10 The Lions doe lacke, and suffer hunger, but they which fecke the Lord, shall want nothing that is good.

11 Come, children, hearken vnto mee: I will teach you the feare of the Lord.

12 What man is he that desireth life, and lo-ueth few dayes for to see good?

13 Keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lips, that they speake no guile.

g If they abide the last triall h. That is, the true religion and worship of God.

i Per. 3. 10. i Seeing all men naturally desire felicitie, he wandereth why they cast themselves willingly into uicities.

14 Eschew euill and doe good: seeke peace and follow after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their cry.

16 But the face of the Lord is against them that doe euill, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

17 The righteous crie, and the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lord is neere vnto them that are of a contrite heart, and will saue such as be afflicted in spirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of them all.

20 Hee keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay all the wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord redeemeth the soules of his ser-uants: and none that trust in him, shall perish.

P S A L. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was an enemy to David, all that had any authori-tie and honour, to flatter their king (as we see by the words) did also malicefully persecute David: against whom hee prayeth God to plead and to avenge his cause, 8. that they may be return in this misadventure, which they layd for him, that his innocence may be declared, 27. and that the innocent, which taketh part with him, may reioyce and praise the Name of the Lord: that thus deliuereth his servants. 28. And so hee promiseth to speake forth the iustice of the Lord, and to magnifie his Name all the dayes of his life.

¶ A Psalme of David.

Lead thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strive with mee: fight thou against them that fight against mee.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

3 Bring out also the speare, and stop the way against them that persecute mee, say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the wind, and let the Angel of the Lord scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke and slippery: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For without cause haue they hid the pit and their net for me: without cause haue they dig-ged a snare for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon him at vn-wares, and let his net, that hee hath layd priuily, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shall be ioyfull in the Lord:
it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is too strong for him! yea, the poore and him that is in miserie, from him that spoileth him!

11 Cruell witnesses did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me euill for good, to keepe spoiled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with sacke: I humbled my selfe with fasting:

and body i That would not suffer mee to purge my selfe, from me all comfort, and brought me into despise.

I prayed or them with inward affliction, as I would have done for myself. h For I declared mine affliction with bowing down mine head. i When they saw me ready to slip, & as one that halted for infirmities. k With their railing words. l The word signifieth chafers: meaning that the proud courtiers at their dainty feast, m feast, n feast, o feast, p feast, q feast, r feast, s feast, t feast, u feast, v feast, w feast, x feast, y feast, z feast.

and¹ my prayer was turned vpon my bofome. 14 I behaued my selfe as to my friend or as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mourning, as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine² aduersitie they reioyced, and gathered themfelues together: the abjects assembled themfelues againſt me, and I knew not: they tare³ me and caſed not.

16 With the falſe coſſers at⁴ bankers, gnawing their teeth againſt me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou behold this? deliuer my ſoule from their tumult, even my deſolate ſoule from the lions.

18 So will I giue thee thanks in a great Congregation: I will praife thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, vnſuſtably reioyce ouer me, neither let them pwinke with the eye, that hate me without a cauſe.

20 For they ſpeake not as friends: but they imagine deceitful words againſt theſe quiet of the land.

21 And they gaped on me with their mouthes, ſaying, Aha, aha, o our eye hath ſeene, 22 Thou haſt ſeene it, o Lord: keepe not ſilence: be not farre from me, o Lord.

23 Ariſe and wake to my iudgement, even to my cauſe, my God, and my Lord.

24 Iudge me, o Lord my God, according to thy righteouſneſſe, and let them not reioyce ouer me.

25 Let them not ſay in their hearts, f Our ſoule reioyce: neither let them ſay, Wee haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be confounded, and put to ſhame together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed⁵ with conſuſion and ſhame, that liue vp themſelues againſt me.

27 But let them bee ioyfull and glad, x that loue my righteouſneſſe: yea, let them ſay alway, Let the Lord bee magnified, which loueth the y perpetuities of his ſeruant.

28 And my tongue ſhall vtter thy righteouſneſſe, and thy praife euery day.

y See exhorteth the Church to praife God for the deliuerance of his ſeruants, and for the deſtruction of his aduerſaries.

PSALM. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grievouſly vexed by the wicked, doth complaine of their malicious wickedneſſe. 2 Then hee ſearcheth to conſider the unſpeakable goodneſſe of God toward all creatures: 3 But ſpecially toward his children, that by the faith thereof may be comforted and aſſured of his deliuerance by ſin ordinarie courſe of Gods worke. 13 Where in the end the Proſpect is the wicked and ſaueſeth the iuſt.

q To him that excelleth APſalme of David the ſeruant of the Lord.

Wickedneſſe ſaith to the wicked man, 2 even in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

3 For he¹ flattereth himſelfe in his own eyes, while his iniquities are found worthy to be hated.

4 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and deceit: he hath left off to vnderſtand and to doe good.

5 He² imagineth miſchiefe vpon his bed: he ſereth himſelfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

6 He³ imagineth miſchiefe vpon his bed: he ſereth himſelfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

7 By deſcribing at large the nature of the reprobate, he admoniſheth the godly to beware of theſe vices.

5 Thy⁴ mercy, o Lord, reacheſh vnto the heauens, and thy faithfullneſſe vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteouſneſſe is like the⁵ mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, doſt ſaue man and beaſt.

7 How excellent is thy mercy, o God! therefore the children of men truſt vnder the ſhadowe of thy wings.

8 They ſhall be ſatiſfied with the fruitneſſe of thine houſe, and thou ſhalt giue them drinke out of the riuier of thy pleaſures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light ſhall we ſee light.

10 Extend thy louing kindeneſſe vnto them that know thee, and thy righteouſneſſe vnto them that are vpright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come againſt me, and let not the hand of the wicked man moue me.

12 There they are fallen that worke iniquities: they are caſt downe, and ſhall not be able to riſe.

h See ſheweth who are Gods children to wit, they that know him, and leadeth their liues vprightly. i Let not the proud advance himſelfe againſt me: neither the power of the wicked diſturb me away. k That is, in their pride where in they flatter themſelues.

PSALM. XXXVII.

1 This Pſalme containeth exhortation & conſolation for the weak, that are grieved at the proſperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 2 For how proſperouſly ſoever the wicked do liue for the time, he doth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and tranſitorie, becauſe they are not in the ſeuour of God, but in the end they are deſtroyed as his enemies. 11 And how miſerable that the righteous ſeemeth to liue in the world, yet his end is peace, and he is in the ſeuour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked and preferred.

q A Pſalme of David.

Ret not¹ thyſelfe becauſe of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.

2 For they ſhall ſoone bee cut downe like graſſe, and ſhall wither as the Greene herbe.

3 Truſt thou in the Lord and do good: dwell in the land, and thou ſhalt be fed abundantly.

4 And delte thy ſelfe in the Lord, and he ſhall giue thee thine hearts deſire.

5 Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and truſt in him, and he ſhall bring it to paſſe.

6 And he ſhall bring forth thy righteouſneſſe as the light, & thy iudgement as the noone day.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lord, and hope in him: fret not thy ſelfe for him which proſpereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterpriſes to paſſe.

8 Ceafe from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy ſelfe alſo to doe euill.

9 For euill doers ſhall be cut off, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they ſhall inherit the land.

10 Therefore yet a little while and the wicked ſhall not appeare, and thou ſhalt looke after his place, and he ſhall not be found.

11 But meeke men ſhall poſſeſſe the earth, and ſhall haue their delite in the multitude of iuſt.

12 The wicked practiſeth againſt the iuſt, and gnaſheth his teeth againſt him.

13 But the Lord ſhall laugh him to ſcorne: for he ſeeeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked haue drawn their ſword and haue bent their bowe, to caſt downe the poore their doinge, Job. 1. 2. &c. Meaning, except hee moderate his affliction, hee ſhall be led to doe as they doe. h Hee correcteth the impatience of our nature, which cannot abide till the fullneſſe of Gods time be come. 1 The godly are aſſured that the power and craſt of the wicked ſhall not preuaile againſt them, but fall on their owne necke: and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while be waile theſe ſinners, and offer vp their teares as a ſacrifice of their obedience.

15 But their ſword ſhall enter into their owne heart, and their bowes ſhall be broken.

16 A ſmall thing vnto the iuſt man is better then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked ſhall bee broken: but the Lord vpholdeh the iuſt men.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance ſhall be perpetuall.

39 But the ſaluation of the righteous men ſhall be of the Lord: hee ſhall be their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord ſhall helpe them, and deliuer them: he ſhall deliuer them from the wicked and ſhall ſaue them, becauſe they truſt in him.

David ſingeth ſicke of ſome grievous diſeaſe, acknowledgeth himſelfe to bee cheſed of the Lord, or his ſinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 5 Hee ſeruech the greivouſſe of his grieſe by many words and circumſtances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forſake of his friends, euill inſtrument of his enemies. 22 But in the end with firme confidence hee commendeth his cauſe to God, and ſeeketh for ſpeedie helpe at his hand.

g Apſalme of David for a remembrance.

Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chaſtiſe me in thy wrath.

2 For thine c arrowes haue light vpon mee, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

3 There is nothing found in my fleſh, becauſe of thine anger: neither is there reſt in my bones, becauſe of my finne.

4 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weightie burden they are to haue for me.

5 My woundes are putrified, and corrupt becauſe of my ſouliſhneſſe.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very fore: I goe mourning all the day.

7 For my reimes are full of burning, and there is nothing found in my fleſh.

8 I am weakened and fore broken: I g roare for the very grieſe of mine heart.

9 Lord, I powre my whole deſire before thee, and my ſighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart *pa*ueth: my ſtrength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen thou are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends ſtand aſide from my plague, and my kinmen ſtand a ſarre off.

12 They alſo that ſeeke after my life, lay ſnares, and they that goe about to do me euill, talke wicked things and imagine deceit continually.

13 But I as a deaf man heard not, and am as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in who's mouth are no reproofes.

15 For on thee, O Lord, doe I waite: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I ſaid, Heare me, leaſt they reioyce ouer me: for when my foot ſlippeth, they extoll themſelues againſt me.

17 Surely I am ready to halt, and my ſorrow is euer before me.

18 When I declare my paine, and am ſorie for my ſinne,

19 Then mine enemies are alieue, and are mightie, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.

20 They alſo that reward euill for good, are mine aduerſaries, becauſe I follow a goodneſſe.

21 Forſake mee not, O Lord: bee not thou ſarre from me, my God.

22 Haſte thee, to helpe mee, O my Lord, my ſaluation.

ſee that ſoon ſuccour me not in time, they will mocke and triumph had forſaken mee. in I am without hope to recouer my ſtrength. in my greateſt miſerie they moſt reioyce. o Hee had rather haue the hatred of all this world, then to ſaile in any peril of his dutie to God ward. p Which art the authour of my ſaluation, and this declareth that he prayed with ſure hope of deliuerance.

To the excellent musician. A Psalm of David.

I thought, ^b I will take heed to my waies, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my fight.

I was dumb & spake nothing: I kept silence ^c euen from good, & my sorrow was more stirred.

Mine heart was hot within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, ^d and I spake with my tongue, saying,

Lord, let me know mine end, and the measure of my dayes, what is it: let me know how long I haue to liue.

Echolede, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breath, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best state is altogether ^e vanitie. Selah.

Doublet he man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine he heapech vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

And now Lord, what waite I for? mine hope is euen in thee.

Deliuer mee from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the ^f foolish.

I should haue bene dumbe, and not haue opened my mouth, because ^g thou didst it.

Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquity, thou as a moth ^h makest his beautie to consume: surely euery man is vanitie. Selah.

Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my cry: keep not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers.

Stay thine anger from me, that I may recover my strength, ⁱ before I go hence and be not.

P S A L. XL.

David deliuered from great danger, doth magnifie & praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, and commendeth his prouidence to man's thankfullnes. 3 When danger he promitteth to himselfe wholy to Gods trust, and doth declare how God is truly worshipped. 14 Afterwards he giueth thanks & praises God, and bringeth complaint of his enemies with good courage, he calleth for ayde and succour.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Waited ^a patiently for the Lord, and he inclined vnto me and heard my cry.

He brought me also out of the ^b horrible pit, out of the mirie clay, and let my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

And he hath put in my mouth ^c a new song of praise vnto our God: mine eye shall see it and feare and shall trust in the Lord.

Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth ^d not the proude, nor such as turne aside to lies.

E Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes, ^e so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts towards vs: I would declare and speake of ^f them, but they are more then I am able to expresse.

Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire:

(for mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offering and incense offering hath thou not required.

Then said I, Lo, I come: ^g for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me,

I desired to do thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.

I haue declared thy righteousness in the great Congregation: loe, I will not refrain my lips, O Lord, thou knowest.

I haue not hid thy righteousness within mine heart, ^h but I haue declared thy truth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercy & thy truth from the great Congregation.

Withdraw not thou thy tender mercy from me, O Lord, let thy mercy and thy truth alway preferre me.

For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my sinnes haue taken such hold vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are more in number then the haire of mine head: therefore mine heart hath ⁱ failed me.

Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer mee: make halfe, O Lord, to help me.

Let them be confounded and put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

Let them bee destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto me, Aha, Aha.

Let all them that seeke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee, and let them that loue thy saluation, say alway, ^j The Lord be praised.

Though I bee poore and needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no taryng.

Hee desireth that Gods mercy may extend for him against the rage of his enemies. In Let the same thank and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me. ^k As the faithfull alway praise God for his benedictions: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

P S A L. XLI.

David being grievously afflicted, beseecheth them that piue his case, 9 And complaineth of the reason of his own friends & familiars, as come to passe in Iudas, Iohn 13. 18. After he feelinge the great mercie of Gods mercy chastising him, & not suffering his curse to trine him, giueth hym. 13 Griefe must beare thanks vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Blessed is he that is iudgeth wisely of the poore: ^a the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

The Lord will keepe him, and preserve him aliuie, he shall be blessed vpon the earth: and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.

The Lord will strengthen him vpon the bed of sorrow: thou hast turned all his ^b bed in his sicknesse.

Therefore I said, Lord haue mercy vpon me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

Mine enemies ^c spake euill of mee, saying, When shall he dye, and his name perish?

And if he come to see me, he speakech ^d lies: but his heart heapech iniquitie within him, and when he cometh forth, he telleth it.

All they ^e hate me, whisper together against me: euen against me do they imagine mine hurt.

A mischief is I sight vpon him, and he that lyeth shall not more rise.

Yea, my familiar friend, whom I trusted, which did eate of my bread, ^f hath lifted vp the heele against me.

thereof. I. The enemies thought by his sharpe punishments that he was become his mortal enemy. 2 Shew it man of thy peace. 3 As David felt this likelihood, and azar was chiefly accomplished in Christ, Iohn 13. 18. To shew his members continually proue the same.

^a This was one of the chiefe fingers, a Chron. 16. 4. 1. b Albeit he had appointed with himselfe patiently to haue rated Gods lesure, yet the vehemencie of his paine caused him to breake his purpose. c Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to haue kept silence, yet his zeale caused him to change his minde. d He confesseth that he giuded against God, considering the greatness of his sorrows, & the shortnesse of his life. e Yet David offered in that that he reasoned with God as though that he were no sener to his weak creature. f Make me not a mocking stocke to the wicked, or wrap me out vp with the wicked, when they are put to shame. g Seeing my troubles came of thy prouidence, I ought to haue endured them patiently. h Though thine open plagues light not euermore vpon them, yet thy secret curse continually fretteth them. i The word signifieth all that he desireth, as health, force, strength, beauty, and in whatsoeuer he hath desired, Iohn: the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world. k For his sorrow caused him to thinke that God would destroy him utterly: whereby we see how hard it is for the very Saints to keepe a measure in their words, when death doth despise afflie them.

^l Thou hast opened mine eares to vnderstand the spiritual meaning of the sacrifices, and here David commendeth the ceremonies of the Law nothing in respect of the spiritual familie. g When thou haddest opened mine eares and heard, I was ready to obey thee being assured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this end. h In the Church assembled in the audience. i David receiued breath, a degree of our saluation. Gods mercy, whereby he piuech vs his righteousness, which signifieth his continual protection: and his reueth, whereby appeareth his constant favour, for that hereof proceeded our saluation. k As touching the iudgement of the flesh, I was victoriously acquitted of all counsell: yet faith inwardly moved mine heart to pray. l Hee desireth that Gods mercy may extend for him against the rage of his enemies. In Let the same thank and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me. n As the faithfull alway praise God for his benedictions: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

^a Not condemning him as accused when God doth visit, knowing that there are diuers causes why God layeth his hand vpon vs, yea, and as a reward be rethore vs. b When for sorrow and griefe of mind he calleth himselfe vpon his bed, c Though he rested him in a sick bed, and sent him comfort. d That is curse me and cannot haue their euill hate quenched, but with my thankfull death. e For pretending to comfort me he conspitieth my death in his heart and braggeth. f For pretending to comfort me he conspitieth my death in his heart and braggeth.

b Meaning either in prosperitie of life, or in the true care of God against all temptations.

c Shewing me euident signes of thy fatherly providence
k By this repetition he sheweth vs the laichfull vs praise God.

10 Therefore, O Lord, haue mercie vpon me, and raise me vp: so I shall reward them.

11 By this I know that thou fauourest me, because mine enemy doth not triumph against me.

12 And as for me thou vpholdest me in mine integrity, & dost set me before thy face for euer.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel without end. So be it, euen so be it.

P S A L M. XLIII.

1 The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being lested by his persecutors, he could not be present in the Congregation of Gods people, protesting that althow he was separated, yet he was not alone, yet his heart as a shuter was afflicted. 7 And all of a sudden, that he was not so lone, overcome with these sorrows and thoughts. 8 But that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

9 I do him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the tones of Kora.

As the Hart brayeth for the riuers of water, so let my heart cry for thee, O God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the living God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night, while they daily say vnto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remembered these things, I powred out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the House of God with the voice of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and vnquiet within mee? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the help of his presence.

6 My God, my soule is cast downe within me, because I remember thee, from the land of Iordan, and Hermonian, and from the mount Mizar.

7 One deepe calleth another deep by the noise of thy water spouts: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord will grant his louing kindnesse in the day, & in the night shall I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.

9 I will say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten mee? why goe I mourning, when the enemy oppresth me?

10 My bones are cut a sunder, while mine enemies reproch me, saying daily vnto me, where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks: he is my present help, and my God.

12 And send remedy. he Afforsh himselfe of Gods help in time to come. I that I am most grievously tormented. k This repetition doth declare that David did not succome at once, to teach vs to be constant, for as much as God will certainly deliuer his.

P S A L M. XLIII.

1 He prayed to be deliuered from them that conspire against him, that he might worship God in his holy Congregation.

2 Iudge me O God, and defend my cause against the vnmercifull people: deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.

3 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me away? why goe I mourning, when the enemy oppresth me?

4 Send thy light and thy truth: let them lead me: let them bring mee vnto thine holy Mountaine, and to thy tabernacles.

5 Then will I goe vnto the Altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the harpe will I giue thanks vnto thee, O God my God.

6 Sacrifice of thanksgiving in token of his great deliuerance,

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? e waite on God: for I will giue him thanks, he is my present help and my God.

P S A L M. XLIIII.

1 The faithfull remember the great mercie of God toward his people. 2 After they complain, because they teene no more. 3 Also they allege the covenant name with Afforsh, for the keeping mercies: they shew what grievous things they suffered. 4 Finally, they pray vnto God not to consume their afflictions, seeing the same redunndeth to the conquest of his enemies.

5 To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the tones of Kora.

WE haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue told vs the workes that thou hast done in their daies, in the old time:

2 How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thine hand, and planted them: how thou hast destroyed the people, and cauled them to grow.

3 For they inherited not the land by their owne sword, neither did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hand, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance, because thou didst fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: send help vnto me, Iacob.

5 Through thee haue we thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy Name haue we troden downe them that rose vp against vs.

6 For I doe not trust in my bow, neither can my sword saue me.

7 But thou hast saued vs from our aduersaries, and halt put them to confusion that hate vs.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually, and will confesse thy Name for euer. Selah.

9 But now thou art farre off, and puttest vs to confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest vs to turn backe fro the aduersary, & they, which hate vs, spoile for themselves.

11 Thou giuest vs as sheep to be eaten, and doest scatter vs among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people without gaine, and doest not increase their price.

13 Thou makest vs a reproch to our neighbours, a iest and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.

14 Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, and a nodding of the head among the people.

15 My confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath couered me, 16 For the voice of the slanderer and rebuker, for the enemy and auenger.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe we not forget thee, neither deale we falsely concerning thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy paths, 19 Albeit thou hast smitten vs downe into the place of dragons, and couered vs with the shadow of death.

20 If we haue forgotten the Name of our God, and holden vp our hands to a strange god, o They boast not of their vertues, but declare that they rely vpon God in the midst of their afflictions: who punished not now their sinnes, but by hard afflictions called them to the consideration of the heavenly ioyes. Ior, wales meaning is that most feare of sinners: here we see the power of faith, which can leaue come by no peris. p They shew that they honored God aright, because they trusted in him alone. q They take God to witness that they were vpright to him wales.

10 *H*earken, O daughter, and consider, and encline thine eare: forget also thine owne people and thy fathers house.

11 So shall the king haue pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the k daughter of || Tyrus with the rich of the people shall doe homage before thy face with presents.

13 The Kings daughter is all glorious l within: her clothing is of broided gold.

14 She shall be brought vnto the King in raiment of needle worke: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall be brought vnto thee.

15 With ioy and gladnes shall they be brought, l and shall enter into the Kings palace.

16 In stead of thy fathers shall thy m children be: thou shalt make them princes a through all the earth.

17 I will make thy n Name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall the people giue thanks vnto thee world without end.

P S A L. XLVIII.

1 A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the hand of many Kings is mentioned, for the which thanks are giuen to God, and the state of that citie is praised, that hath God for present aid at times ready to defend them. The Psalm is intended to be made in ioint of Aiaz, Iosaphat, Aza, or Ezechias: for in their stores chiefly was the cure by foreiue princes assaulted.

¶ A song or Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the Citie of our God, even vpon his holy Mountaine.

2 Mount Zion, lying Northward, is faire in situation: is it the ioy of the whole earth, and the Citie of the great King.

3 In the palaces thereof God is known for a refuge,

4 For loe, the kings were e gathered, and went together.

5 When they saw f it, they marueiled: they were astounded, and suddenly driuen backe.

6 Feare came there vpon them, and sorrow, as vpon a woman in trouble.

7 As with an East wind they did breake the ships of Tarshish, so were they destroyed.

8 As we haue h heard, so haue we seene in the Citie of the Lord of hostes, in the citie of our God: God will establish *h*ie for euer. Selah.

9 We wait for thy louing kindnesse, O God, in the middes of thy people.

10 O God, according to thy Name, so is thy praise vnto the i worlds end: thy right hand is full of righteousnesse.

11 Let k mount Zion reioyce, and the daughters of Iudah bee glad, because of thy iudge-ments.

12 l Compassate about Zion, and goe round about it, and tell the towers thereof.

13 Marke well the wall thereof: behold her towers, that ye may tell your posterity.

14 For this God is our God for euer and e-uer: he shall be our guide vnto the death.

P S A L. XLIX.

1 The holy Ghost calleth all men to the consideration of mans life, 9 shewing them that is to bee most blessed that are most wealthe, and the effer not to be feared: but conuinceth *h*is best self vpon our minds to consider how all things are ruled by Gods prouidence:
14 Who is the iudge both worldly matters in our living ser-uants, 15 So bee doeth prosper him, and will reward them in the day of their resurrection, 2. be 1. 6.

¶ To him that excelleth, A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

Hear e this, all ye people: giue eare, all ye that dwell in the world,

2 As well low as high, both rich and poore, 3 My mouth shall *s*peake of wisdom, and the meditation of mine heart is of knowledge.

4 I will incline mine eare to a parable, and utter my graue matter vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore should I b feare in the euil daies, when iniquitie shall compass me about, as at mine heelles?

6 They trust in their e goods, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches.

7 Yet a man can by no meanes redeeme *h*is brother: he cannot giue his ranfome to God,

8 (So d precious is the redemption of their soules, and the continuance for euer.)

9 That he may liue full for euer, and not see the graue.

10 For hee seeth that wise men f die, and also that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leaue their riches for g others.

11 Yet they thinke their houses and their habitations shall continue for euer, even from generation to generation, and ll call their lands by their names.

12 But man shall not continue in honour: he is like the h beastes that die.

13 This their way *o*uereth their foolishnesse:
yet their posterity i delight in their talke. Selah.

14 k Like sheepe they lie in graue: i death deuoureth them, and the righteous shall haue dominion ouer them in the n morning: for their beautie shall consume, when they *l*ayd goe from their houe to graue.

15 But God shall deliuer my soule from the power of the graue: ll for he will reeuiue me. Selah.

16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, and when the glory of his house is increased.

17 * For he shall take nothing away, when he dieth, neither shall his pompe defend after him.

18 For while he liued, f he reioiced himselfe:
and men will praise thee, when thou makest much of thy selfe.

1 He describeth the crooked nature, & the cruelty, 5 And promi seth the deliuerance of the godly, that they may reioyce therein.

To him that excelleth in Mahanath. A Psalm of David to give instruction.

The fool hath said in his heart, There is no
God, they have corrupted and done abomi nable wickednesse, there is none that doth good.

2 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would understand, and seeke God.

3 Every one is gone backe: they are altogether corrupt: there is none that doth good, nor one.

4 Doe not the workers of iniquity know that they eate vp my people as they eate bread?

5 There they were afraide, for feare, where no feare was. for God hath scattered the bones of him that besieged thee: thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath cast them off.

6 Oh giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion:
when God turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iakob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad.

7 When they thought there was none occasion to feare, the sudden vengeance of God lighted vpon them. I Bee the enemies power neuer so great, nor the danger so fearefull, yet God deliuereth his in due time.

PSAL. LIIII.

1 David becometh into great danger by the reason of the Ziphites, 5 calleth vpon the Name of God to destroy his enemies, 6 Pro mising sacrifice and free offerings for so great deliuerance.

To him that excelleth on Neginath. A Psalm of David to give instruction when the Ziphites came and said vnto Saul, * Is not David hid among vs?

Sue me, O God, by thy Name, and by thy power iudge me.

2 O God, heare my prayer: hearken vnto the words of my mouth.

3 For b strangers are risen vp againt me, and c tyrants seeke my soule: they haue not set God before them. Selah.

4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with d them that vphold my soule.

5 Hee shall reward euill vnto mine enemies:
Oh cut them off in thy wrath!

6 Then I will sacrifice freely vnto thee: I will praise thy Name, O Lord, because it is good.

7 For he hath deliuered me out of all trouble, & mine enemies haue been my desire vpon mine enemies.
8 According to thy faithfull promise for my deliuer. e For the hypocrites seeke God for feare or vaine conditions. g Wee may lawfully reioyce for Gods iudge ments againt the wicked, if our affections be pure.

PSAL. LV.

1 David being in great heavnesse and distress, complaineth of the cruelty of Saul, 12 and of the faithfull of his familiar acqui sances: 13 Warning most ardent affections to moue the Lord to pittie him, 14 After being assured of deliuerance, he testeth forth the grace of God as though he had already obtained his request.

To him that excelleth on Neginath. A Psalm
of David to give instruction.

Hear me, my prayer, O God, and hide not thy selfe from my supplication.

2 Hearken vnto me, & answer me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noyse.

3 For the voice of the enemy, and for the vexation of the wicked, because they haue brought iniquity vpon me, & furiously hate me.

4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrours of death are fallen vpon me.

5 Feare and trembling are come vpon me, and an horrible feare hath covered me.

6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove:
then would I flee away and rest.

7 Behold I would take my flight farre off, and lodge in the wilderness. Selah.

8 Hee would make haft for my deliuerance from the stormy winde and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lord, and giue diuine thy tongues:
for I haue scene cruelty and strife in the citie.

10 Day and night they goe about it vpon the walles thereof: both iniquitie & mischief are in the middes of it.

11 Wickednesse is in the middes thereof: de ceit and guile depart not from her streets.

12 Surely mine enemy did not defame mee:
for I could haue borne it: neither did mine aduer sary exalt him selfe againt me: for I could haue hid me from him.

13 But it was thou, O man, euen my compa nion, my guide and my familiar:

14 Which delited in consoling together, and went into the house of God as companions.

15 Let death lease vpon them: let them I goe downe quicke into the graue: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, euen in the middes of them.

16 But I will call vnto God, and the Lord will saue me.

17 Euening & morning, and at noone will I pray, and make a noyse, & he will heare my voyce.

18 He hath deliuered my soule in peace from the battell that was againt mee: for many were with me.

19 God shall heare and assist him, euen hee that reigneth of olde. Selah, because they haue no changes, therefore they feare not God.

20 He laid his hand vpon such as be at peace with him, and he brake his couenant.

21 The words of his mouth were softer then butter, yet warre was in his heart: his words were more gentle then oyle, yet they were swords.

22 Cast thy burthen vpon the Lord, and he shall nourish thee: he wil not suffer the righteous to fall for euer.

23 And thou, O God, shalt bring them downe into the pit of corruption: the bloody, and de ceitfull men shall not liue halfe their daies: but I will trust in thee.

Be mercifull vnto me, O God, for b man would swallow mee vp: he lighteth continually and vexeth mee.

2 Mine enemies would dayly swallow mee vp: for many fight against me, O thou most High. 3 When I was afraid, I trusted in thee. 4 I will reioyce in God, because of his word, I trust in God, and will not feare what flesh can doe vnto me.

5 Mine owne d words grieve mee daily: all their thoughts are against me to doe me hurt. 6 e They gather together, and keepe themselves close: they marke my steps, because they wait for my foule.

7 f They thinke they shall escape by iniquitie: O God, cast these people downe in thine anger. 8 Thou hast counted my wandrings: put my steares into thy bottell: are they not in thy register?

9 When I cry, then mine enemies shall turne backe: this I know, for God w with me.

10 I will reioyce in God because of his word: in the Lord will I reioyce because of his word.

11 In God doe I trust: I will not be afraid what man can doe vnto me.

S Aueme, O God: for the waters are entered vnto my soule.

2 I stucke fast the deepe myre, Where no stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 No semitic or stablepede to take my feet,

3 I am weary of crying: my throate is dry: mine eyes faile whiles I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are more then the haire of mine head: they that would destroy mee, and are mine enemies: fillily, are mightie, so that I reioiced that which I tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnes, and my faults are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of holies, be ashamed for mine hel: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffred reproofe: shame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, even an aliant vnto my mothers ionnes.

9 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I keept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that haue in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time, even in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare mee in the truth of thy saluation.

14 Deliuer mee out of the myre, that I sinke not: let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood drowne me, neither let the deepe swallow mee vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is good turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy seruuant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare mee.

18 Draw neere vnto my soule and redeeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

6 Vpon thee haue I bene stayed from the wombe: thou art he that tooke me out of my mothers bowels: my praise shall be alwayes of thee.

7 I am become as it were a monster vnto many: but thou art my sure trust.

8 He strengtheneth his faith by the experience of Gods benefices, who did not only prefer him in his mothers belly, but tooke him thence, and curf his hath preferred him. f All the world wondred at mee because of my miseries as well they in authority as the common people, yet being assured of thy saueur, I remained steadfast.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, and with thy glory every day.

9 Calt me not off in the time of age: forsake me not when my strength faileth.

10 For mine enemies speake of me, & they that lay wait for my soule, take their counsel together, 11 saying, ¶ God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.

12 Goe not farre from mee, O God: my God halfe thee to helpe me.

13 Let them be confounded and confumed that are against my soule: let them bee couered with reproofe and confusion, that seeke mine hurt.

14 But I will wait continually, and will praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall daily rehearse thy righteousnesse, and thy saluation: * for I know not the number.

16 I will ¶ goe forward in the strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousnesse, ¶ when of thine only.

17 O God, thou hast taught mee from my youth euen vntill now: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes.

18 Yea euen vnto mine olde age and gray head, O God: forsake me not, vntill I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, and thy power to all them that shall come.

19 And thy righteousnesses, O God, I will exalt on high: for thou hast done great things: O God, who is like vnto thee!

20 Which hath shewed me great troubles and p aduerties, but thou wilt returne and reuiue me, and wilt come againe, and take mee vp from the depth of the earth.

21 Thou wilt increase mine honour, and returne and comfort me.

22 Therefore will I praise thee for thy faithfulness, O God, vpon instrument and viole: vnto thee will I sing vpon the harpe, O Holy one of Israel.

23 My lips will reioyce when I sing vnto thee, and my * soule which thou hast deliuered.

24 My tongue also shall talke of thy righteousnesse daily: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seeke mine hurt.

25 That his longtariance was well recompened, when God performed his promise.

26 For there is no true praising of God, except it come from the heart, and therefore he promisseth to delight in nothing but wherein God may be glorified.

PSAL. LXXII.

Hee prayeth for the prosperitie of the Kingdome of Salomon who was the figure of Christ. 4. Under whom shall be righteous iustice, peace, and felicitie. 10. Vnto whom all King and nations shall doe homage. 17. Whose name and power shall endure for euer, and in whom all nations shall be blessed.

¶ A Psalm of Salomon.

G Iue thy iudgments to the King, O God, and thy righteousnesse to the Kings * sonne.

2 Then shall hee iudge thy people in righteousnesse, and thy poore with equity.

3 The mountains, and the hills shall bring peace to the people by iustice.

4 He shall iudge the poore of the people: he shall saue the children of the needy, and shall subdue the oppressour.

5 They shall feare thee as long as the sunne shall be enriched with the blessings. e Hee therewith wherefore the sword is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocent, and suppress the wicked. f The people shall embrace thy true religion, when thou giuest a King that ruleth according to thy word.

g Thou that didst helpe me in my youth, when I had more strength, helpe me now in mine olde age and weaknesse.
 h Truste the wicked both blasphemous God, and triumph against his Saints, as though he had forsaken them: if he suffer them to fall into their hands.
 i In calling him his God, he putteth backe the false reproaches of the aduersaries, that said, God had forsaken him.

k Because thy benefices toward me are innumerable, I cannot but continually meditate and rehearse them.

l I will remaine steadfast, being vpholde with the power of God.

m He desireth that as he hath begun, he would so continue his benefices, that his liberality may haue perfit praise.

n Thyselfe performance of thy promise.

o His faith breaketh through all generations, and by this exclamation he praisth the power of God.

p As he confesseth that God is the only author of his deliuerance: so he acknowledgeth that these euils were sent vnto him by Gods providence.

q He confesseth that his longtariance was well recompened, when God performed his promise.

r For there is no true praising of God, except it come from the heart, and therefore he promisseth to delight in nothing but wherein God may be glorified.

s Composed by David as touching the reign of the sonne Salomon.

t Endue the king with the Spirit of wisdom and iustice, that he reigne not as doe the worldly tyrants.

u To wit, to his posteritie.

v When iustice reigneth, even the places most barren shall be enriched with the blessings.

w Hee therewith wherefore the sword is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocent, and suppress the wicked.

2 In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord:
 || my sore ran & ceased not in the night: my soule refused comfort.

3 I did thinke vpon God, and was troubled;
 I prayed, and my spirit was full of anguish. Selah.

4 Thou keepst mine eyes waking: I was astonished, and could not speake.

5 Then I considered the dayes of olde: and the yeeeres of ancient time.

6 I called to remembrance my sorrowe long in the night: I communed with mine owne heart, and my spirit searched diligently.

7 Will the Lord abate himselfe for ever? and will he shew no favour?

8 Is his mercie cleane gone for ever? doeth his promise faile for evermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be mercifull? hath he shut vp his tender mercies in displeasure? Selah.

10 And I said, This is my death: yet I remembered the yeeeres of the right hand of the most High.

11 I remembered the workes of the Lord: certainly I remembered thy wonderes of olde.

12 I did also meditate all thy workes, and did devise of thine actes, saying,

13 Thy way, O God, is in the Sanctuary: who is so great a God as thy God!

14 Thou art the God that doest wonderes: thou hast declared thy power among the people.

15 Thou hast redeemed thy people with thine arme, men the sonnes of Iakob & Ioseph. Selah.

16 The waters flow thee, O God: the waters saw thee, and were afraid: yea, the depths trembled.

17 The cloudes poured out water: the heauens gaue a sound: yea, thine arrowes went abroad.

18 The voyce of thy thunder was round about: the lightninges lightened the world: the earth trembled and shooke.

19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy paths in the great waters, & thy footsteps are not known.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

Hee sheweth how God of mercie chose his Church of the posterity of Abraham. 8 Reprobing the foolish rebellion of thine fathers, that the children might not err any more. 14 That God of his free mercie made his Covenant with their ancestors. 17 Also shewing them so malicious and perverse, might be ashamed, and so turneably to God. In the Psalm the holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were the summe of all Gods benefits, to the intent the ignorant and grosse people might learn few words the efflu of the whole histories of the Bible.

Q A Psalm to give a instruction, committed to Asaph.

Hear my doctrine, O my people: incline your eares vnto the words of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare hid sentences of old.

3 Which we haue heard and knownen, and our fathers haue told vs.

4 We will not hide them from their children, nor to the generation to come we will shew the prayes of the Lord, his power also, and his wonderfull workes that he hath done:

5 How he established a testimony in Iakob, and ordeined a law in Israel which hee commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children:

6 That the posterity might know it, and the children which should be borne should stand vp, and declare it to their children:

7 That they might let their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God, but keepe his commandments:

8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that let not their heart aight, and whole spirit was not faithfull vnto God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battell.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law, 11 And forgate his actes, and his wonderfull workes that he had shewed them.

12 Hee did marvellous things in the fight of their fathers in the lande of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.

13 He diuided the sea, and led them thorow: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 In the day time also hee led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light fire.

15 Hee claued the rocks in the wilderness, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 Hee brought floods also out of the stony rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they sinned still against him, and provoked the Highight in the wilde nesse, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in requiring meat for their lust.

19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, hee smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can hee giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry, and the fire was kindled in Iakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel.

22 Because they beleued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the clouds aboue, and had opened the doores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heauen.

25 Man did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meat euen.

26 Hee caused the East winde to passe in the heauen: and through his power he brought in the South winde.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered fowle as the fane of the sea.

28 And hee made it fall in the middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their lust, but the meat was yet in their mouthes,

31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon was necessary & sufficient. but their lust made them to forget that which they knew God had denied them. * Iohn. 6. 31. 1. cor. 10. 3. p. God feed the meates of the winde, to teach them that all the elements were at his commandment, and that no distance of place could let his working. q Such is the nature of concupiscence, that the more it hath, the more it loseth, e Hee sheweth where in should be like their fathers: that is, in wanting Gods pure religion.

f He sheweth wherein the vlew of this ordinance standeth: in faithfull meditation of Gods benefits, and in obedience.

g I brought these fathers were the seed of Abraham and the chosen people: yet hee sheweth by their rebellion, pronocation, fallowd, and hypocrisie, that the children ought not to follow their examples.

h By Ephraim he meant all the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: wher punishment declareth that they were vniuile to God, and by their multitude and authority had corrupted all others.

i He reprocheth that they only sought pleasure, but also their fathers were wicked and rebellious to God.

them, and slew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they sinned still, and beleevd nor his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their dayes did not consume in vanitie, and their yeeres haitly.

34 And when hee slew them, they sought him, and they returned and sought God early.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not upright with him: neither were they faithfull in his covenant.

38 Yet he being mercifull, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his anger, & did not furre vp all his wrath.

39 For hee remembered that they were flesh: yea, a waste that passeth and commeth not againe.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness? and grieue him in the desert?

41 Yea, they returned, and tempted God, and limited the Holy one of Israel.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when hee delivred them from the enemy.

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan.

44 And turned their rivers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drinke.

45 Hee sent a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, and frogs, which destroyed them.

46 Hee gaue also their fruites vnto the caterpillar, and their labour vnto the grasshopper.

47 Hee destroyed their vines with haille, and their wilde figge trees with the hailstone.

48 Hee gaue their cattell all to the haille, and their flocks to the thunderbolts.

49 Hee cast vpon them the fiercenesse of his anger, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the sending out of euill Angels.

50 He made a way to his anger: he spared not their soule from death, but gaue their life to the pestilence.

51 And smote all the first borne in Egypt, even the beginning of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham.

52 But hee made his people to goe out like sheep, and led them in the wilderness like a flocke.

53 Yea, hee caried them out safely, and they feared not, and the Sea covered their enemies.

54 And he brought them vnto the borders of his Sanctuary: even to this Mountaine, which his right hand purchased.

55 Hee cast out the heathen all before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies.

57 But turned backe, and dealt falsly like their fathers: they turned like a deceitfull bow.

58 And they prouoked him to anger with their high places, and moued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard this and was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel.

60 So that hee forsooke the habitation of Shiloh, even the Tabernacle where hee dwelt among men.

61 And deliuered his power into captivity, and his beautie into the enemies hand.

62 And hee gaue vp his people to the sword, and was angry with his inheritance.

63 The hre deuoured their chosen men, and their maids were not praised.

64 Their Priests fell by the sword, and their widowes lamented not.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of sleepe, and as a strong man that after his wine cryeth out.

66 And smote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a per petuall shame.

67 Yet he refused the tabernacle of Ioseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Iudah, and mount Zion which hee loued.

69 And hee built his Sanctuary as an high place, like the earth, which hee established for euer.

70 Hee chose Dauid all his seruant, and tooke him from the sheepefolds.

71 Euen from behinde the ewes with young brought he him to feed his people in Iakob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So hee fed them according to the simplicity of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

73 Hee and take sudden vengeance: shewing that he spared Israelites, though he punished their enemies.

74 By building the Temple, and establishing the kingdom, hee declared that the signes of his fauour were among them.

75 Hee theweth wherein a kings charge standeth in wit, to prouide carefully for his people, to guide them by counsell, and defend them by power.

¶ A Psalm committed to Asaph.

O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Ierusalem heapes of stones.

2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meate vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy saints vnto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood haue they shed like waters, round about Ierusalem, and there was none to bury them.

^c Being assured of this protection, he prayeth vnto the Lord.

^d That is, Gods helpe is most ready for vs, whether Satan assailes secretly, which he calleth a snare : or openlie, which is here meant by the pestilence.

^e That is, his faithfull keeping of promise to help thee in thy necessity.

^f The creature that God hath ouer him, is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers.

^g The godly shall haue some experience of gods iudgement against the wicked, euen in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day when all things shall be reuealed.

^h God hath not appointed euery man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his providence.

ⁱ Hee calls, and defendeth them from the wrath of God, which is the way to walke in without tempting God.

^k Thou shalt not be secret or open.

^l To assure the faithfull of Gods protection, hee bringeth in God to confirme the same.

^m For he is contented with that life that God giueth : for by death the shortness of his life is recompensed with immortalitye.

ⁿ This Psalm was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stir up the people to acknowledge God, and to praise him in his works : the Prophet reioyces therein.

^o But the wicked is not able to consider, that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shall shortly perish.

^p In the end it is described the felicity of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

^q A Psalm or song for the Sabbath day.

^r It is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most high,

^s To declare thy louing kindnesse in the morning, and thy truth in the night,

^t Vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viole, with the song vpon the harpe.

^u For thou Lord, hast made me glad by thy works, and I will reioyce in the works of thine hands.

^v O Lord, how glorious are thy workes : and thy thoughts are very deepe.

^w An vnwise man knoweth it not, and a

^x Which teacheth that the vile of the Sabbath hardeth in praising God, and not only in ceasing from worke.

^y For Gods mercy and fidelity in his promises toward his, bindeth them to praise him continually both day and night.

^z These instruments were then permitted, but at ^a Christ coming abolished, d He sheweth what is the vile of the Sabbath day to wit, to meditate Gods worke.

^b That is, the wicked consider not Gods workes, nor his iudgements against them, and therefore most iustly reuile, f Thy iudgements are most count against the wicked, and passe our reach.

g Thou wilt strengthen them with all power, & bless them with all felicity.

h Though the faithful seeme to wither, and bee cut downe by the wicked, yet they shall grow againe, and flourish in the Church of God as the Cedars do in mount Lebanon.

i The children of God shall have a power above nature, and their age shall bring forth most fruitful fruit.

foole doth not vnderstand this,

7 (When the wicked grow as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednesse do flourish) that they shall be destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art most High for euermore.

9 For Ioe, thine enemies, O Lord: for Ioe, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be destroyed.

10 g But thou shalt exalt mine horne, like the vnicornes, and I shall be anointed with fresh oyle.

11 Mine eye also shall see my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shall heare my voyce against the wicked that rise vp against me.

12 The righteous shall flourish like a palme tree, and shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Such as be planted in the house of the Lord, shall flourish in the courts of our God.

14 They shall still bring forth fruit in their age: they shall be fruitful and flourishing.

15 To declare that the Lord my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

The Lord reigneth, and is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power, the world also shall be established, that it cannot be moued.

2 Thy throne is established of old: thou art from euerslating.

3 The floods haue lifted vp, O Lord: the floods haue lifted vp their voyce: the floods lift vp their waues.

4 The waues of the sea are marvellous through the noise of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mighty.

5 Thy testimonies are very true: holinesse becometh thine house, O Lord, for euer.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy law, 13 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely the Lord will not faile his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.

15 For iudgement shall returne to iustice, and all the vpright in heart shall follow after it.

16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquitie?

17 If the Lord had not helped me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.

18 When I said, My foot slideth, thy mercie, O Lord, stayed me.

19 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioiced my soule.

20 Hath the throne of iniquity fellowship which foregoeth wrong for a Law?

21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.

23 And he will recompence them their wickednesse, and destroy them in their owne malice, yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

o It is a great token of Gods iudgement when the purpose of ken, but most when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

4 In whose hand are the deepe places of the earth, and the heights of the mountaines are his.

5 To whom the Sea belongeth, for he made it, and his hands formed the dry land.

6 Come, let vs worship and fall downe, and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his hand: to day, if we will heare his voyce,

P S A L. XCVI.

An exhortation both to the Iewes and Gentiles to praise God for his mercie. And this especially ought to be referred to the Kingdom of Christ.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and praise his Name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is great, and much to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.

6 Strength and glory are before him: power and beautie are in his Sanctuary.

7 Giue vnto the Lord, yee families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory and power.

8 Giue vnto the Lord the glory of his Name: bring an offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the Nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall bee stable, and not mooue, and he shall iudge the people in righteousness.

11 Let the heavens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyfull, and all that is in it: let all the trees of the wood then reioyce

13 Before the Lord: for hee cometh, for hee cometh to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousness, and the people in his truth.

P A L. XCVII.

The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the coming of the Kingdom of Christ, 7 dreadeth to the rebels and idolaters, 8 and ioyfull to the iust, whom hee exhorteth to innocencie, 12 to reioycing and thanksgiuing.

The Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the multitude of the yles be glad.

2 Cloudes and darkenesse are round about him: righteousness and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings gaue light vnto the world: the earth saw it and was afraid.

5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory.

7 Confounded be all they that serue graven images, and that glorie in idols: worship him all yee gods.

8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudah reioycied, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou, Lord, art most high above all the earth: thou art exalted above all gods.

10 Ye that love the Lord, hate euill: hee preferreth the foules of his Sainis: hee will deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

¶ A Psalm of David.

I will sing mercy and iudgement : vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 I will doe wisely in the perfect way, b till thou comest to me : I wil wake in the vprightnesse of mine heart in the mids of mine house.

3 I wil let no wicked thing before mine eyes : I hate ^e the worke of them that fall away : it shall not cleaue vnto me.

b Though as yet thou desirest to place mee in the Kingly dignitie, yet will I giue my selfe to wisdom and vprightnesse being a private man.
c Hee sheweth that Magistrates doe not their duties, except they be enemies to all vice.
d In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about kings, hee declarath that he will punish all. e He sheweth what is the true vse of the sword : to punish the wicked and to maintaine the good. f Magistrates must immediately punish vice, lest it growe to further incontinence : and if heathen magistrates are bound to doe this, how much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God ?

1 It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the firstfruits to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon. 18 A consolation for the building of the Church : 18 whereof followeth the praise of God to be published vnto all posteritie, as the thanksgiving of the Gentiles, as an acknowledgement of the Church.

¶ A prayer of the afflicted, when hee shall bee in distresse, and pouere forth his meditation before the Lord.

d My sorrowes were so great, that I missed not my mine ordinary food.
e Euen inspired my death,

9 Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping,

10 Because of thine b indignation and thy wrath : for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast mee downe.

11 My dayes are like a shadow that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou, O Lord, dost ^c remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

13 Thou wilt arise and haue mercie vpon Zion : for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the ^d appointed time is come.

15 Then the heathen shall feare the Name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

16 When the Lord shall build vp Zion, and shall appeare ^f in his glory, 17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come : and the people which shall see ^g created, shall praise the Lord.

God miraculously giveth strength to his Church above all mans expectation.

e As his chiefe minister, and next to his people.

f He the first his severe iudge-ment, but so soone
as the sinner is humbled, he reneweth him to mercy.

g We have proued
by continual experience that his mercy hath euer prevaile agaynst our offences.

h As great as the world is, so all is it of signes of Gods mercies toward his Church when he hath renewed their finnes.

i He declareth that man hath nothing in himself to moue God to mercy, but onely
the confession of his infirmities and misy.

k His iust and faithfull keeping of his promise.

l To whom he giveth grace to fear him, and to obey his word.

m In that that we which naturally are slow to praise
God, exhort the Angels, which willingly doe it,
we stirre vp our selues to consider

our duty, and awake out of our sluggish-nesse.

n As the Prophet sheweth that we need not to enter into the heauens to seeke God for as much as all the order of nature,
with the prophety and placing of the elements are most lively mirrors to see his maiestie in.

o As the Prophet here sheweth that all visible powers are ready to serue
God: so the Apostle to the Hebr.
2. 7. beholde it in this glasse how the very Angels also are obedient to his commandement.

p Thou makest
the sea to be an argument vnto the earth. d If by thy power thou diddest not ridle the age of the waters, it were not possible, but the whole world should be destroyed.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy youth is renewed like the eagles.
6 The Lord executeth righteousness and iudgment to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his wayes knowne vnto Moses, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercy, slow to anger and of great kindeesse.

9 He will not alwaye chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he remoued our sinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we bee made: he remembereth that we be but dust.

15 The dayes of man are as grasse: as a floure of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the louing kinde of the Lord endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him, and his righteousness vpon childrens children.

18 Vnto them that keepe his couenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to doe them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdom ruleth ouer all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that excell in strength, that do his commandment in obey-ing the voice of his word.

21 Praise the Lord all ye his hostes, ye his ser-uants that doe his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord all ye his works, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord.

PSAL. CIII.

A newe Psalm to praise God for the creation of the world and the gouernance of the same: by his marvellous prouidence, 35 ye which the Prophet prayeth agaynst the wicked, who are occusions that God diminisheth his blessing.

MY soule, praise thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art clothed with glory and honour.

2 Which couereth himselfe with light, as with a garment, and spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the clouds his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the wind.

4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his minister.

5 He setteth the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shall neuer moue.

6 Thou couerest it with the deepe as with a garment: the waters stand about the mountaines.

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder they haste away.

8 And the mountaines ascend, and the valleys descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bound, which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer the earth.

10 Hee sendeth the springs into the valleyes, which runne betwene the mountaines.

11 They shall giue drinke to all the beastes of the field, and the wilde asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these springs shall the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 Hee watereth the mountaines from his chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruit of thy workes.

14 Hee causeth grasse to grow for the cattell, and herbe for the vse of man, that hee may bring forth bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth mans heart.

16 The big trees are satisfied, even the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted.

17 That the birds may make their nests there:
the stork dwelleth in the fire trees.

18 The hie mountaines are for the goats: the rockes are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the moone for certaine seasons: the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darknes, & it is night, wherein all the beastes of the forest creepe forth.

21 The Lyons roare after their pray, and seeke their meat at God.

22 When the Sun riseth, they retire, and couch in their denes.

23 In the morning goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the euenig.

24 O Lord, how manifold are thy workes!
in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is the sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beastes and great.

26 There goe the ships, ye that Leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 All these wait vpon thee, that thou mayest giue them food in due season.

28 Thou givest it to them, and they gather it, thou openest thy hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if they hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they die and returne to their dust.

30 Again, if thou send forth thy spirit, they are created, & thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glory be to the Lord for euer: let the Lord reioyce in his workes.

32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth:
hee toucheth the mountaines and they smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my wordes bee acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners bee consumed out of the earth: and the wicked it there be no more: O my soule, praise thou the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

He prayeth the singular grace of God, who hath of his benevolence chosen a peculiar people to himselfe, and bawing chose them, neuer ceaseth to doo this good, euen for the prophets sake.

Praise

a Forasmuch as the Israelites were exempted from the common condemnation of the world, and were called to be Gods people, y^e Prophet wthin them to see themselves guiltfull by thanksgiving. b By the strength and force he wrought y^e Ark: where God declared his power and his presence. c Which he hath wrought in the deliverance of his people. d Because his power was thereby as lively declared, as if he should have declared by mouth. e The promise which God made to Abraham to be his God, and the God of his seed after him, he renewed and repeated it againe to his seed after him. f He sheweth that they should not enjoy the land of Canaan by any other means, but by the favour of his covenant made with their fathers. g That is, the king of Egypt, and the king of Gerar. Gen. 11, 17, and 20, 3. h Those whom I have justified to be my people. i Meaning the old fathers to whom God showed himselfe plainly, and who were fathers of his word. k Either by sending carcity, or by taking away the strength and nourishment thereof. l I long have suffered adversity as God his appointed me, till he had tried sufficiently his patience. m That the very prices of the country should be at Iosephs commandment, and I became wise to him. n So it is in God, either to moone, or the heaver of the wicked to love or to hate Gods children. o Meaning, Moses and Aaron.

P Rayle the Lord, and call vpon his Name: a declare his works among the people.
2 Sing vnto him, sing prayte vnto him, and talke of all his wonderous works.
3 Reioyce in his holy Name, let the heart of them that seeke the Lord, reioyce.
4 Seeke the Lord and his strength seeke: his face continually.
5 Remember his maruileous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the iudgments of his mouth.
6 Ye seed of Abraham his seruant, ye children of Iacob, which are his elect.
7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgments are through all the earth.
8 Hee hath alway remembered his covenant, and promise, that he made to a thousand generations.
9 Euen that which he made with Abraham, and his oath vnto Izhak.
10 And since hath confirmed it to Iacob for a law, and to Israel for an euerlasting covenant.
11 Saying, Vnto thee will I geue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.
12 Albeit they were few in number, yea, very few, and strangers in the land, 13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people.
14 Yet suffered he no man to doe them wrong, but reproc^d kings for their fakes, saying,
15 Touch not mine annoynted, and doe my iProphets no harme.
16 Moreover, he called a famine vpon the land, and utterly brake the staffe of bread.
17 But he sent a man before them: Ioseph was fold for a slaue, 18 They held his feet in the stocks, and he was layd in yrons,
19 Vntill his appointed time came, and the counsell of the Lord had tried him.
20 The king sent and loosed him: euen the ruler of the people deliuered him.
21 He made him Lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance.
22 That he should bind his princes vnto his will, and teach his Ancients wisdom.
23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.
24 And hee encreased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressours.
25 Hee turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his seruants.
26 Then sent he Moses his seruant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.
27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the land of Ham.
28 He sent darknesse and made it darke: and they were not disobedient vnto his commision.
29 Hee turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.
30 Their land brought forth frogs, euen in the kings chambers.
31 He spake, and there came swarms of flies and lice in all their quarters.
32 He gaue them hail for raine, and flames of fire in their land.
33 Hee smote their vines also and their figge trees, and brake downe the tree in their coastes.

34 He spake and the grasshoppers came and caterpillers innumerable.
35 And did eate vp all the grasse in the land, and deuoured the fruit of their ground.
36 Hee smote also all the first borne in their land, euen the beginning of all their strength.
37 Hee brought them forth also with silver and golde, and there was none feeble among their tribes.
38 Egypt wast glad at their departing: for the feare of them that had fallen vpon them.
39 He spread a cloud to be a covering, and fire to geue light in the night.
40 They asked, and he brought quails, and he filled them with the bread of heauen.
41 He opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, and ran in the dry places like a riuier.
42 For he remembered his holy promise to Abraham his seruant, 43 And he brought forth his people with ioy, and his chosen with gladnes.
44 And gaue the lands of the heathen, and they tooke the labours of the people in possession.
45 That they might keepe his statutes, and obserue his lawes. Praise ye the Lord, and were destroyed. z This is the end, why God preferreth his they should worship and call vpon him in this world.

PSAL. CVI.

1 The people dispersed vnder Antiochus, doe magnifie the goodness of God among the iust and repentant: 2 Desiring to see brought againe the lande by Gods mercifull visitation. 3 And first the manifold varieties of God wrought in their deliuerance from Egypt, and the great multitude of the people released. 4 The supplicy and desire to be gathered from among the heathen, to the iuuent they may praise the Name of the God of Israel.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

P Rayse ye the Lord because he is good, for his mercy endureth for euer.
2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shew forth all his praise?
3 Blessed are they that keepe iudgment, and doe righteouses at all times.
4 Remember me, O Lord, with the fauour of thy people: visit me with thy saluation.
5 That I may see the felicity of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioy of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.
6 We haue sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquity, and done wickedly.
7 Our fathers vnder stood not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembered they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.
8 Neuertheless hee saved them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be knowne.
9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dried vp, and heeled them in the deepe, as in the wilderness.
10 And hee saved them from the aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemy.
11 And the waters covered their oppressors: not one of them was left.
12 Then bleeseth they his wordes, and sing praise vnto him.
13 But incontinently they forgate his workes: they waited not for his counsel.

c He sheweth that all creatures are armed against him when God is his enemy, as in his commandment the grasshoppers destroyed the land. Exod. 10, 9. d When their enemies felt Gods plagues, his children by his providence were exempted. e For Gods plagues caused them rather to depart with the Israelites, then with their lies. f Not for necessity, but for satisfaction of their lust. g Which hee commeth to the posterity in whom after a sort the dead liue and enjoy the promises. h When the Egyptians lamented the Church, because a The Prophet exhorted the people to praise God for his benefits past, that thereby their minds may be strengthened against all present troubles and despair. b He sheweth that it is not enough to praise God with mouth except the whole heart agree thereto, and all our life be directed vnto him. c For the good will that he beareth to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I may be received into the number of thine. d By earnest confession as well of their own, as of their fathers finnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promise would pity them. e The impossibility of gooddeeds of God appeareth in this that he would change the order of nature, rather then his people should not be deliuered, although they were wicked. Exod. 14, 27. f The wonderful workes of God caused them to beleeue for a time, and to praise him. g They would present his iudgement and providence.

1 The Prophet extorted all those that are redeemed by the Lord and gathered unto him to give thanks. 9 for it is mercifull providence of God governing all things at his good pleasure, 10 sending good and euill, prospering and prospering to bring men unto him 11 Therefore as the righteous thereat saye, y.e. so shall the wicked haue their mouthe. Roper.

Praise the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let ^b them which have bin redeemed of the Lord, shew how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour,

3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East, and from the West, from the North, and from the ^{||} South.

4 When they wandered in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and found no citie to dwell in,

5 Both hungry and thirstie, their soule fainted in them.

6 They cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, and his wonderfull works before the sonnes of men.

9 For hee fastidied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungry soule with goodnes.

10 They that dwell in darkenesse and in the shadowe of death, being bound in misery and yron,

11 Because they ^d rebelled against the wordes of the Lord, and despised the counsell of the most High,

12 When hee humbled their heart with heavynesse, then they fell downe and there was no helpe.

13 Then they ^e cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble & he deliuered them out of their distresse.

14 He brought them out of darknesse, and out of the shadow of death, and brake their bands asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For he hath broken the gates of brasse, and braist the barres of yron asunder.

23 They that goe downe to the sea in ships, and occupy by the great waters, 24 They see the workes of the Lord, and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For he commandeth and raiseth the stormie winde, and it lifteth vp the waues thereof.

26 They mount vp to the heauen, and descend to the deepe, so that their soule melteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their cunning is gone.

28 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresse.

29 He turneth the storme to calme, so that the waues thereof are still.

30 When they are quieted, they are glad, and hee bringeth them vnto the haven, where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindeesse and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods into a wilderness, and the springs of waters into drinsse.

34 And a fruitful land into barrennesse for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein.

35 As he turneth the wilderness into pools of water, and the dry land into water springs.

36 And there he placeth the hungry, and they build a citie to dwell in.

37 And sow the felde, and plant vineyards, which bring forth fruitfull increase.

38 For hee blesteth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and he diminisheth nor their cattell.

39 Againe men are diminished, and brought low by oppression, euill and sorrow.

40 He powreth contempt vpon princes, and causeth them to erre in desert places out of way.

41 Yet he raiseth vp the poore out of misery, and maketh him families like a flocke of sheepe,

42 The righteous shall see it, and reioyce, and all iniquitie shall stop her mouth, 43 Who is wise that hee may obserue these things? for they shall vnderstand the louing kindeesse of the Lord.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalm is composed of two other Psalms before, the seven and thirtieth and thirtieth. The matter here contained is, That David greiue himselfe with heart and voice to praye for the Lord, and affirmeth his hope of the promise of God concerning his kingdome ouer Israel, and in power against other nations: 1. Who though hee seeme to forsake vs for a time yet hee will in the end cast downe our enemies.

A Song of Psalme of David.

O God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I will sing and giue praye.

For my glory, because it chiefly testifies the glory of God.

2 Awake viole and harpe, I will awake early.

3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great aboue the heauens, and thy truth vnto the cloudes.

5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth,

6 That thy blouded may be deliuered: shewe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his holinesse: therefore I will reioyce, I shall diuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manassih shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iudah is my lawgiuer.

9 Moab shall be my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will leade mee into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 Wilt thou not, O God, which haddest forsaken vs, and diddest not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God wee shall doe valiantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

shalbe subiect vnto me. Psal. c. 8. f From the sixt verse of the last, reade the exposition in the 60. Psalme and 5. verse.

PSAL. CIX.

David being lastly accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him, and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them he setteth up his lawe the righteous vnto Iesus Christ, & of all the liars enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be delivered, that his enemies may know the works to be of God, 30 Then doth he promise to giue praye vnto God.

Q To him that exalteth. A Psalme of David.

H Old not thy tongue, O God of my praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened vpon mee: they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me aboute also with words of hatred, & fought against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were my aduersaries, but I gaue my selfe to prayer.

5 And they haue rewarded me euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersary stand at his right hand.

7 When hee shall be iudged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer be turned into sinne.

8 Let his dayes be few, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his chldren be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be vagabons, & beg, and seeke bread, comming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath, and let the frangers spoyles his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy vnto him: neither let there be any to shew mercy vpon his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posterity be destroyed, and in the generation following, let their name be put out.

14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: & let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

15 But let them alway be before the Lord, that he may cut off their memoriall from the earth.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with mee according vnto thy Name: deliuer me (for thy mercy is good)

22 Because I am poore and needy, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like the shadow that declineth, & am shaken off as the grasshopper.

24 My knees are weak through fasting, and my flesh is hath lost all farnesse.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: o saue me according to thy mercy.

27 And they shall knowe that this is thing hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though p they curse, yet thou wilt blesse:
they shall arise, and be confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them couer themselves with their confusion as with a cloke.

30 I will giue thanks vnto y Lord greatly with my mouth, and praise him among the multitude.

31 For he will stand at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them that would condemne his soule, to doe with them that were of little power, but with iudges and princes of the world.

right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of Zion: he be thou ruler in the mids of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling thine army in holy beauty: the youth of thy wombe shalbe as the morning dew.

hath his dwelling on high, 6 Who abaseth himselfe to behold things in the heauen and in the earth?
7 He raiseth the needy out of the dust, and lifeth vp the ^c poore out of the dung,

How the Israelites were deliuered forth of Egypt, and of the wonderfull miracles that God wrought at that time, which was in remembrance of Gods great mercy toward his Church, who were in the course of nature sinners, yet were miraculously

When Israel went out of Egypt, and the house of Iakob from the ^a barbarous people,

2 Iudah was his sanctification, and Israel his dominion.
3 The sea saw it, and fled: Iorden was turned backe.
4 The ^c mountaines leaped like rammes, and the hills aslambes?
5 What ayled thee, O sea, that thou fleddest?
O Iorden, why wast thou turned backe?
6 Ye mountaines, why leaped ye like rammes, and ye hills aslambes?
7 The ^d earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Iakob.

A prayer of the faithful offered by idolatrous gentes, against whom they desire that God would iudgew them, a Trusting most confidently that God will preserve them in this their neede seeing that he hath adoped and redeemed them to his fauour, as promising finally that they will not be vniuersally of great benefit, if it would please God to heare their prayer, and deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

Not a vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name give the glory, for thy louing mercy, and for thy truths sake.

2 Wherefore shall the heathen say, ^b Where is now thy God?
3 But our God is in heauen: he doeth whatsoeuer he will.
4 Their idoles are ^d filter and golde, ^{euen} the worke of mens hands.
5 They haue a mouth, and speake not: they haue eyes, and see not.
6 They haue eares, and heare not: they haue noses, and smell not.
7 They haue hands, and touch not: they haue feete, and walke not: neither make they a sound with their throat.
8 They that made them are ^f like vnto them:
so are all that trust in them.
9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for hee is their helpe and their shield.

That there is nothing why they should be effeemed, c He sheweth what great vanitie it is to aske helpe of them, which not onely haue no helpe in them, but lacke sense and reason, f As much without sense, as blocks and stones,

10 O house of Aaron trust ye in the Lord, for he is their helpe, and their shield.

11 Ye that feare the Lord, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper and their shield.

12 The Lord hath ben diuinitie of vs, he will blesse, hee will blesse the house of Israel, hee will blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He will blesse them that feare the Lord both small and great.

David being in great danger of Saul in the desert of Maan, precising the great and inestimable loue of God toward him, magnifying such great mercies, as a protesteth that hee will be thankfull for the same.

I loue the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him ^b in my dayes.

3 When the snares of death compassed me, and the griefes of the graue caught me: when I found trouble and sorrow,

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseech thee, O Lord, deliuer my soule.

a In all ages thou hast plagued all flesh which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy wrath.
d When the powers of the world gave false testimony against mee, thy word was a guide and counsellor to teach me what to doe, and to comfort mee.

21 Thou hast destroyed the proud: cursed are they that doe erre from thy commandments.
22 Remouee from me shame and contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.
23 O Princes also didst, and speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.
24 Alho thy testimonies are my delight, and my counsellors.

DALETH.

25 My soule cleaueth to the dust: quicken me according to thy word.
26 I haue declared my wayes, and thou heardest me: reach me thy statutes.
27 Make mee to vnderstand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate in my wondrous works.
28 My soule melteth for heavinesse: raise mee vp according vnto thy word.
29 Take from mee the way of lying, and grant mee graciously thy Law.
30 I haue chosen the way of truth, and thy iudgements haue I laid before me.
31 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord confound me not.
32 I will runne the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

HE.

33 Teach mee, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keepe it vnto the end.
34 Giue me vnderstanding, and I will keepe thy Law, yea, I will keepe it with my whole heart.
35 Direct me in the path of thy commandments: for therein is my delight.
36 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies: and not to couetousnesse.
37 Turne away mine eyes from regarding vanitie, and quicken me in thy way.
38 Stablish thy promise to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.
39 Take away my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.
40 Beholde, I desire thy commandments: I quicken me in thy righteousnesse.

VAV.

41 And let thy louing kindeesse come vnto mee, O Lord, and thy saluation according to thy promise.
42 So shall I make answer vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy word.
43 And take not the word of truth vterly out of my mouth: for I waite for thy iudgements.
44 So shall I alway keepe thy Law for euer and euer.
45 And I will walke at liberty: for I seeke thy precepts.
46 I will speake also of thy testimonies before d Kings, and will not be ashamed.
47 And my desire shall be in thy Commandments, which I haue loued.
48 Mine handes also will I lift vp vnto thy Commandments, which I haue loued, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

a I was secured by the vaine pompe of princes,

Z A I N.
49 Remember the promise made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused me to trust.
50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promise hath quickened me.
51 The proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Law.
52 I remembered thy iudgements of olde, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.
53 O Feare is come vpon mee for the wicked, that forsake thy Law.
54 Thy statutes haue bene my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.
55 I haue remembered thy Name, O Lord, in the night, and haue kept thy Law.
56 This I had because I kept thy precepts.

a In the course of full exile. b Euen when other sleepe. c That is, all these benefits.

CHEM.

57 O Lord, that art my portion, I haue determined to keepe thy words.
58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be mercifull vnto mee according to thy promise.
59 I haue considered my wayes, and turned my feet into thy testimonies.
60 I made haste and delayed not to keepe thy commandments.
61 The bands of the wicked haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Law.
62 At midnight will I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.
63 I am a companion of all them that feare thee, and keepe thy precepts.
64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: teach me thy statutes.

TEH.

65 O Lord, thou hast dealt graciously with thy seruant according to thy word.
66 Teach me good iudgement & knowledge: for I haue beleueed thy commandments.
67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray: but now I keepe thy word.
68 Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.
69 The proud haue imagined a lie against me: but I will keepe thy precepts with my whole heart.
70 Their heart is fat as greafe: but my delight is in the Law.
71 It is good for me that I haue bene afflicted, that I may learne thy statutes.
72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto mee then thousands of gold and silver.

a And vaine estimation of themselves. d He confessed that before he was rebellious, as man by nature is.

I O D.

73 Thine handes haue made me & fashioned me: giue me vnderstanding therefore, that I may learne thy commandments.
74 So they that feare thee, seeing mee, shall reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy word.
75 I know, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou hast afflicted me justly.
76 I pray thee that thy mercy may comfort me according to thy promise vnto thy seruant.
77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto mee, that I may liue: for thy Law is my delight.
78 Let the proude be ashamed: for they haue despised thy word.

e He declared, that when he felt not Gods mercies, he was as dead.

a Though I seele Gods hand full to life vpon him, yet he reflecteth on his promise, and comforteth himselfe therein.
b Meaning, the wicked, which contemne Gods word, and tread his religion vnder foote.
c That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy selfe to be iudge of the world.
d That is, the element zale to this life and sorrow.

a I am perswaded that to keepe thy Law is an heritage and great gain for me.
b He sheweth that none can imbrace the word of God, except he consider his imperfections & wayes.
c They haue gone about to draw me into their company.
d Not only in mutual consent, but also with ayde and succour.
e For the knowledge of Gods word is a singular token of his fauor.

a Having proued by experience that God was true in his promise, he desired that hee would increase in him knowledge and iudgement.
b So I remember that before the Lord touched him, he was like a calfe vntamed so that the vice of Gods rods is to call vs hometo God.
c Their hearts are indurated and hardened, so that they with prosperitie, before that he was chastened.

a Because God leaueh not his worke that hee had begun, hee desired a new grace: that is, that he would continue his mercies.
b When God sheweth his grace toward any, he respecteth to others, that he faileth not them that trust in him.
c I pray in times of death.

a That is, I shall not brought to the grave & with earthly word I cannot liue.
b I haue confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thy mercy.
c If God did not maintain vs by his words, our life would drop away like water.
d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my mind may be purged from vanity, and taught to obey thy will.
e By this he runne forward in his will, and willing to obey.

a He sheweth that he cannot follow on to the end except God teach him oftentimes, and leade him forward.
b Not only in outward conversation, but also with inward affection.
c Hereby meaning all other uices, because that couetousnesse is the roote of all euill.
d Meaning all his finnes.
e Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let mine heart be filled with thy word even to the end.

a He sheweth that God's mercie and loue is the first cause of our saluation.
b By trusting in Gods word he assured himselfe to be able to conclude the fanders of his adversaries.
c They that simply walke after Gods word, haue no leueto intangle them, whereas they that doe contrary are euen in nettes and liures.
d Hee sheweth that the children of God ought not to suffer their fathers glory to be obscured by the vaine pompe of princes.

d That is, be comforted by mine example.
e He sheweth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his word.

a Though my strength faile me, yet my soule groweth and figheth, resting still in thy word.

b Like a skinned bottle, or bladder that is parched in the smoke.

c How long wilt thou afflict thy servant?

d They have not only oppressed me violently, but also cruelly conspired against me.

e He accuseth himselfe that God will deliver him, and destroy his adversaries.

f Finding no help in earth, he lifteth up his eyes to heauen.

g Because none should esteeme Gods word according to the changes of things in this world, he sheweth that it abideth in heauen, and therefore is immutable.

h Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate wherein thou hast created them, much more thy truth remaineth constant and vnderchangeable.

i He proeth by effect, that is Gods child, because he seeketh to vnderstand his word. d There is nothing so perfect in earth, but it hath an end: but Gods word is after that nature.

j Oh how loue I thy Law! a it is my meditation continually.

k By thy commandments thou hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

He sheweth that his godly affections are not to all manner of joy, but to them only that fear the Lord, and walke in his wayes.

A Song of degrees.

Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord, and walketh in his wayes.

2 When thou eatest the Labours of thine hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine on the sides of thine house, and thy children like the olive plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord our of Zion shall ^dblasse thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of ^e Ierusalem all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israel.

^a God approoveth not our life, except it be reformed according to his word.

^b The world esteemeth them happy, which live in wealth and idleness: but the holy Ghost approoveth them better: that live of the meane profit of their labours.

^c Because Gods favour appeareth in none outward thing, more then in the case of children, he promisseth to enrich the faithfull with this gift. ^d Because of the spiritual blessing which God hath made to his Church, these temporall things shall be granted. ^e For except God blessed his Church publicly, this private blessing were nothing.

A Song of degrees or Psalme of David.

Behold, how good and how comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euery together.

^a That is, with how great difficulty he came to the kingdom, & with how great care and labour he went about to build the Temple.

^b Because the chiefe charge of the king was to set forth Gods glory, he sheweth that he could take no rest, neither would goe about any worldly thing, were it neuer so necessary, before he had executed his office.

^c That is, the Aarke, which was a signe of Gods presence.

^d The common bruit was that the Aarke should remaine in Ephrathah: that is, in Beth-lehem a plentiful place: but after we perceived that thou wouldst place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a forest, and compassed about onely with hills.

^e That is, Ierusalem, because that a tearward his Aarke should remove to none other place. ^f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priests and in the people.

in the mids thereof.

3 Then they that led vs captiues, required of vs songs and mirth, when we had hanged vp our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Zion.

4 How shall wee sing, said we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Ierusalem, let my right hand forget to play.

6 I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleane to the roofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Ierusalem to my chiefie joy.

7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Ierusalem, which said, Raie it, raie it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthy to be destruyed, blest be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed shall be he that taketh and dasheth thy children against the stones.

P S A L. CXXXVIII.

David with reason reioysed in the goodness of God toward him, the which he forgets, 4 That it is a mercie to turning princes who shall praise the Lord together with him. 6 And he afforded to beare the like comfort of God in the same following, as he hath here before.

A Psalm of David.

I will praise thee with my whole heart: even before the gods will I praise thee.

2 I will worship toward thine holy Temple, and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kin-dnesse and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy Name above all things by thy word.

3 When I called, then thou heardest mee, and hast increased strength in my soule.

4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard the wordes of thy mouth.

5 And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because the glory of the Lords is great.

6 For the Lord is high, yet he beholdeth the lowly: ut the proud he knoweth as farre off.

7 Though I walke in the mides of trouble, yet wilt thou reuine me: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall slay me.

8 The Lord will performe his worke toward mee: O Lord, thy mercy endureth for euer: for-saake not the workes of thine hands.

P S A L. CXXXIX.

David to cleare his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth vs, 13 Which he confirmeth by the creation of man, 14, after declaring his zeale and fearre of God, he protesteth to be content to all beuailous conscience Gods.

O To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Lord, thou hast tried me, and known me.

2 Thou knowest my sitting and my rising: thou vnderstandest my thought as farre off.

3 Thou becompassed my pathes, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but loe, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.

5 Thou knowest my meaning before I speake.

5 Thou holdest me strait behind and before, and layest thine hand vpon me.

6 Thy knowledge is too wonderfull for mee:
it is so high that I cannot attaine vnto it.

7 Whither shall I goe from thy Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I lie downe in hell, thou art there.

9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the vttermoost parts of the sea:

10 Yet thither shall thine hand leade mee, and thy right hand hold me.

11 If I say, Yet the darkenesse shall hide mee, euen the night shall be light about me.

e He calleth to God with lively faith, being assured of his mercies because he had beforetime proued, that God helped him euery in his dangers.

f For it is in Gods hand to overthrow the counsels and enterprises of the wicked.

g It seemeth that hee alledeth to Saul.

h To wit, God: for David saweth that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them.

i Gods plague shall light vpon him in such sort, that he shall not escape. k That is, shall be defended and preserved by thy faithfully providence and care.

P S A L. CXLII.

David being grievously persecuted vnder Saul, sendeth vnto God to haue succour. 2 Desiring him to riddle his afflictions, that hee may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

¶ A Psalm of David.

O Lord, I call vpon thee: hast thee vnto me: heare my voice, when I cry vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and the lifting vp of mine handes as an evening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the doore of my lips.

4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not care of their delicacies.

5 Let the righteous min the use: for that is a benediction: and let him reprove me, and it shall be a precious oyle that shall not breake mine head: for with in a while I shall euen pray in their miseries.

6 When their iudges shall be cast downe in stonie places, they shall heare my wordes, for they are sweet.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the graves mouth, as he that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.

8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: leave not my soule desolate.

9 Keepe mee from the snare, which they haue layd for me, and from the gremmes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let The wicked fall into his nettes together whiles I escape.

P S A L. CXLIII.

The Prophet miseth against with fere, now caried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul: but with a good minde directed his carnest prayer to God, who did preserve him.

¶ A Psalm of David, to giue instruction, and a prayer when he was in the cave.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I prayed vnto the Lord.

2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 Though my spirit was in perplexitie in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily laid a snare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would know mee: all refuge failed me, and none cared for my soule.

5 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord, and sayd, Thou art mine hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Hearken vnto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may praise thy Name: then shall the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

8 Either to reioyce at my wonderfull deliuerance, or to mine head.

P S A L. CXLIII.

An earnest prayer for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgements. 8 He desireth to be restored to grace, 10 To be governed by his holy spirit, that he may be the remnant of iust life in the true faine and seruice of God.

¶ A Psalm of David.

Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answer mee in thy truth, and in thy righteousnesse.

2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall none that liueth, be iustified.)

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to the earth: hee hath laid mee in the darknesse as they that haue bene dead long agoe.

4 And my spirit was in perplexitie in me, and mine heart within me was amazed.

5 Tet doe I remember the time I past: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I doe meditate in the workes of thine hands.

6 I stretch forth mine handes vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirstie land. Selah.

7 Heare mee speedily, O Lord, for my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from mee, else I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Let mee heare thy louing kindnesse in the morning, for in thee is my trust: b shew mee the way, that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer mee, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I hid mee with thee.

10 Teach mee to doe thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good spirit leade mee vnto the land of righteousness.

11 Quicken mee, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousness bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercy may mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppress my soule: for I am thy seruant.

13 Let thine holy spirit counsel mee how to come forth of these great cares and troubles, I hid my selfe vnder the shadow of thy wings, and might be defended by thy power. k He confesseth that both the knowledge of Gods will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth vnderstanding by his Spirit, and smothereth our hearts by his grace to obey him. l That is, iustly and aright: for so fone as wee decline from Gods will, wee fall into error. m Which shall be a signe of thy faithfully kindnesse toward mee. n Refusing my selfe wholly vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a pleasant thing a praise is comely.

2 The Lord doth build vp b Ierusalem, and gather together the disperfed of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are c broken in heart, and bindeth vp their fores.

a He sheweth what hee ought to exercise our selues continually, and to take our partime: to wit, in praifing God.
b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be disperfed, and seeme a wit were for a time to be cut off.
c With affluen, or law for sinners.
d Though it seeme to man incredible, that God should assemble his Church, being so disperfed, yet nothing can be too hard to him that can number and name all the starres.
e For the more high that the wicked climb, the greater is their fall in the end.
f He sheweth by the examples of Gods mightie power, goddaffe and wisdom, that we must want most in oft occasions to praise God.
g For their crying is as it were a confession of their need, which cannot be refused, but by God onely, then f God shew himselfe mild of all the most contemptible foules, can he suffer them to die with famine, whom hee hath assured of life everlasting? h Though to vse lawfull meanes is both profitable and pleashful God, yett put our trinit to them, is to defraud God of his honour. i He doth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessary, but preferreth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force. k f. 6. 1. 1. k His secret working in all creatures is as a commandment to keepe them in order, and to giue them mouling and letter. l For immediately and without resting all things obey him. m As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: hee hath left to his Church as a most precious treasure. n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercy, which hath elcted his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluation, and his iust iudgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

THE PROVERBS OF SALOMON.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE wonderfull love of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these briefe sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to both: whereof the nine first chapters are as a Preface full of grave sentences and deepe mysteries to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most preciousewel to the Church of those three thousand parables mentioned, i Kings 4. 32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons servants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and use of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his word. 10 Wayes to comfort in the tribulations of sinners. 12 Wisdomes counsel that it is conten-
ned. 24 The punishments of them that contemner her.

HE Parables of Salomon the sonne of David king of Israel, 2 To know wisdom, 2 and instruction, to understand the words of knowledge, 3 To receive instruction to doe wisely, 4 of iustice and iudgement and equitie, 4 To give vnto the simple sharpenes of wit, and to the child knowledge and discretion.

5 A wife man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of understanding shall attaine vnto wise counsels.

6 To understand a parable, & the interpretation, the words of the wife, and their darke sayings.

7 ¶ The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisdom and instruction.

8 My sonne, heare thy fathers instruction, and forsake not thy mothers teaching,

9 For they shalbe thy comely ornament vnto thine head, and as chaires for thy necke.

10 ¶ My sonne, if sinners do entice thee, consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with vs, we will lay way for blood, and lie prively for the innocent with our cause:

12 We will swallow them vp alive like a graue,
euen whole, as those that goe downe into the pit.

13 We shall finde all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoile:

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we will all haue one purpose.

15 My sonne, walke not throu in the way with them: refrain thy foot from their path.

16 The power and use of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his word. 10 Wayes to comfort in the tribulations of sinners. 12 Wisdomes counsel that it is conten-
ned. 24 The punishments of them that contemner her.

16 For their feet run to euil, and make haste to shed blood.

17 Certainly as without cause the net is spread before the eyes of all that hath wing:

18 So they lay waite for blood, and lie prively for their liues.

19 Such are the waies of euery one that is greedy of gaine: he would take away the life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ Wisdomes cryeth without: the vttereth her voyce in the streets.

21 Shee calleth in the high streete, among the prease in the entrings of the gates, and vttereth her words in the city, saying,

22 O ye foolish, how long will ye loue foolish-nesse? and the scornfull take their pleasure in scorning? and the fooles hate knowledge?

23 (Turne you at my correction: loe, I will pouere out my minde vnto you, and make you vn-derstand my words)

24 Because I have called, & ye refused: I have stretched out mine hand, & none would regard.

25 But ye haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction,

26 I will also laugh at your destruction, and mocke when your feare cometh.

27 When your feare cometh like sudden deffolation, and your destruction shall come like a whirlwinde when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you,

28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not answer: they shall seeke me early, but they shall not find me.

29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsell, but y despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuises.

32 For as they slayeth the foolish, and the pro-peritie of fooles destroyeth them.

33 But he that obeyeth mee, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

* This word Pro-uerbe, or Parable, signifieth a graue
and notable sentence, worthy to be kept in memory: & is sometime taken in the euill part for a mocke or simple which erre of ignorance, and the mockers

that cannot suffer to be taught, & the fooles which are godliness.

t This is spoken
according to our capacitie, signifying that the wicked which mocke, and despise at Gods word, shall haue the iust reward of their mockings.

struction, which

CHAP. II.

1 Wisdomes exhorteth to obey her. 5 She teacheth the feare of God & sheweth of God, 10 Shee prefaceeth from wickednes.

a That he keeps them in thine heart.
b If thou give thy selfe to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisy.

c Meaning that we must feele the knowledge of God with due and diligence.

d Seeing that no labour must be spared.

e This faith here is the true wisdom to know and feare God.

f Or faith the faith.

g The word of God shall teach thee and counsell thee how to gouerne thy selfe.

My sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and hide my commandments within thee,
2 And caule thine eares to hearken vnto wisdom, and encline thine heart to vnderstanding,
3 For if thou callest after knowledge, and cryest for vnderstanding:

4 If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for treasures,
5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth cometh knowledge and vnderstanding.
7 He'll preuent the state of the righteous, he'll a shield to them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudgement: and he preuenteth the way of his Saints.
9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousness and iudgement, and equite, and euery good path.

10 ¶ When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge deligheth thy soule, 11 Then shall counsell preuent thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euill way, and from the man that speaketh froward things, 13 And from them that leaue the wayes of righteousness to walke in the wayes of darkness:

14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delight in the frowardnesse of the wicked, 15 Whose wayes are crooked, and they are lewde in their paths.

16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.

17 Which forsaketh the guide of your youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.
18 Surely her mouth is full of tenders to death, and her paths vnto the dead.

19 All they that goe vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they hold of the wayes of life.
20 Therefore walke thou in the way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.

21 For the iust shall dwell in the land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.
22 But the wicked shall be cutt off from the earth, and the transgressour shall be rooted out of it.

To them that are dead in body and soule. o They shall enjoy the promises of God, as the wicked shall be void of them.

CHAP. III.

a The word of God giueth life. b Trust in God. c Feare him. d Honour him. e Suffer his affliction. f To them that follow the word of God, all things shall succede well.

My son, forget not my law, but let thine heart keepe my commandments.
2 For they shall increase the length of thy dayes, and the yerres of thy life, & thy prosperity.

3 Let not mercie and trueth forsake thee: bind them on thy necke, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.
4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust in the Lord, with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.
6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.

7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne wayes: but feare the Lord and depart from euill.
8 So health shall be vnto thy soule, and many shall be thy bones.

9 Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase.
10 So shall thy barnes be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall burst with new wine.

11 ¶ My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither bee grieved with his correction.
12 ¶ For the Lord correcteth him whom hee loveth, even as the father doeth the child, and hee chasteneth him.

13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.
14 For the merchandise thereof is better than the merchandise of silver, and the game thereof is better then gold.

15 It is more precious then pearles, and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

16 Length of dayes is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and glory.
17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperity.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.
19 The Lord by wisdom hath laid the foundation of the earth, and hath established the heauens through vnderstanding.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken vp, and the clouds drop down the dew.
21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, nor obserue wisdom and counsell.

22 So they shall be life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy necke.
23 Then shalt thou walke safely by thy way, and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not bee afraid: and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shall be sweet.
25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked when it cometh.

26 For the Lord shall bee for thine assurance, and shall preuent thy foot from taking.
27 ¶ Withholde not the good from the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to doe it.

28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go and come againe, and to morrow will I giue thee, if thou haue it.
29 ¶ Intend none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he doth dwell without feare by thee.

30 ¶ Strive not with a man causelesse, when he hath done thee no harme.
31 ¶ Be not enuious for the wicked man, neither chafe any of his wayes.

32 For the froward abomination vnto the Lord: but his secret is with the righteous.
33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked, but hee blesteth the habitation of the righteous.

34 With the scornfull he scorneth, but hee giueth grace vnto the humble.
35 The wicked shall inherite glory: but foolles dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIII.

a Wisdom and lawe giue strength to the froward. b The way of the wicked man shall be refused. c By the word of God the heart is cured, and the conscience must be guided.

Hear, O yee children, the instruction of a father, and giue care to learne vnderstanding. And Miniſter, which is a father vnto the people, telle Chapter i. verse 8.

a As was commanded in the Law, Exodus 23. 19. Deut. 20. 2. and by the church acknowledged that God was the giuer of all things, & that they were created to be for mans commandment.

b By the faithfull continuance of goodnes in greater abundance.

c Verse 12. 50. 100. 100. 100.

d Meaning, that he that receiue wisdom, must be directed by the word of God, shall haue all prosperitie both corporall and spirituall.

e Which bringeth forth much fruit, that they that care thereof haue life, and be able to stand in the time of life in paradise.

f Hereby he sheweth that this wisdom doeth much to the speaking, because it was before all creatures, even the things which the whole world were made by it.

g For thou shalt see, Chapter 9.

h For when God deliueyth the wicked, he will save his, as he did Lot in Sodom.

i Not only from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also those that haue kept it from them, which haue used of the vice thereof.

k That is, putting his trust in thee.

l Desire not to be like vnto him.

m That is, his companions and labellers, which are foolish and froward from the word.

b In Ebreweic is Only: for though the had three others, as a. Ginos: 5 yet for tenderly the loved Salomon, that he was more her, he only soue. c Meaning, Dauid his father. d He hath with that we must begin at Go word: it so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of the world which make it their last bud, or else care not for it: 2 all. e Salomon declareth what care his father had in bring him up in the true feare of God: for this was Dauid's protestation. f Thou shalt walke at libertie without offence.

g Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper & naturall to the wicked than to the sleepe, care or drinke. h Gotten by wicked means and cruel oppression. i Signifiyng, that the godly increase daily in knowledge and perfection, as fillyngs come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be content in their head in the heaues. k That is they shall have health of body: vnder the which all other blessings promised in the law are contained. l For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life. m Keepe a measure to all thy doings.

2 For I doe giue you a good doctrine therefore forsake ye not my Law.
3 For I was my fathers soune, tender and deare in the sight of my mother.
4 When hee taught me, and sayd vnto mee, Let thine heart holde fast my words: keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.
5 Get wisdom: doe vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.
6 Forake her not, and shee shall keepe thee: loue her and shee shall preserve thee.
7 Wifedome is the beginning: get wifedome therefore: and aboute all thy possession get vnderstanding.
8 Exalt her, and shee shall exalt thee: shee shall bring thee to honour, if thou imbrace her.
9 Shee shall giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, shee shall giue thee a crowne of glory.
10 Heare, my sonne, and receiue my words, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe many.
11 I haue taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.
12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not bee f strait, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fal.
13 Take hold of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for shee is thy life.
14 Enter not into the way of the wicked and walke not in the way of euill men.
15 Auoyde it, and goe not by it: turne from it, and passe by.
16 For they cannot sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth except they cause some to fall.
17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of violence.
18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that it shineth more and more vnto the perfect day.
19 The way of the wicked is as the darkenesse: they know not wherein they shall fall.
20 My sonne, hearken vnto my words, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the mids of thine heart.
22 For they are liue vnto those that find them, and health vnto all their flesh.
23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh l life.
24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips farre from thee.
25 Let thine eyes behold the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.
26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.
27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remooue thy foot from euill.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden. 4 And prouerbially. 5 He willeth a man to liue on his labours: and to helpe vnto. 13 To loue his wife. 20 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

MY sonne, hearken vnto my wifedome, and incline thine eare vnto my knowledge.
2 That thou mayest regard counsell, and thy lips obserue knowledge.
3 For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honey combe, and her mouth is more soft then boye.
4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and sharpe as a two edged word.
5 Her feet goe downe to death, and her steps take hold on hell.

6 Shee we geth not the way of life: her path is as mouebale: thou canst not know them.
7 Heare yee mee now therefore, O children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.
8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doore of her house.
9 Left thou gine thine honour vnto others, and thy yeeres to the crull:
10 Left the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy labours bee in the house of a stranger, 11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body)
12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!
13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!
14 I was almost brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation and assembly.
15 Drinke the water of thy cistern, and of the riuers out of the mids of thine owne well.
16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the riuers of waters in the streetes.
17 But let them bee thine, euem thine onely, and not the strangers with thee.
18 Let thy fountain bee blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy youth.
19 Let her be at the louing hind and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfie thee at all times, and delight in her loue continually.
20 For why shouldst thou delicate, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?
21 For the wayes of man are before the meyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.
22 His owne iniquities shall take the wicked him selfe, and hee shall be holden with the cordes of his owne finne.
23 He shall die for fault of instruction, and shall goe afraigh through his great folly.
24 decloyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conversation: not cleaue the iudgements of God. Because hee will not giue eare to Gods word and be admonished.

MY sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neighbor, and hast stricken hands with the stranger,
2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euem taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.
3 Doe this now my Sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, goe, and humble thy selfe, and sollicit thy friends.
4 Giue no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eye lids.
5 Deliuer thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
6 Goe to the pismire, O sluggard: behold her wayes, and be wise.

1 For, vnder standing. a That is, an harlot which giueth her selfe to another euen to her husband. b By oyle and honie, hee meaneeth flattery and crafty enticements. c All these dolours lead to destruction.

* Chap. 24. 33. c He expieth lively the nature of the fluggards which though they sleepe neuer lo long yet haue neuer enough, but euer keepe occasions thereof. d That is iudgement when thou lookest not for it. e It shall come in such sort as thou art not able to resist it. f He sheweth to what incontinence the idle persons come, by calling them vntirisy, or the men of Belial, and slanderous. g That is, good. h Thus all his goodnes tenneth to wickednes. i Meaning, the raging affections, which carry a man away in such sort, that he cannot tell what he doeth. Or, it becometh. i. Read chap. 3. 3. k By the commandment he meaneth the word of God, and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church. l And reprehensions when the word is preached bring vs to life. m With her wanton looker and gesture. n Meaning, that she will neuer cease till she haue brought them to beggary and then seeketh thy destruction. o He expieth not herself, but sheweth it is not so abominable as whoredome, forasmuch as she might be redeemed: but adultery was a perpetual infamy & death by the law of God. p Meaning, for very necessity. q Is false in heart. r That is death appointed by the Law. s He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death, that hath abused his wife, and so conclude that neither Gods Law, nor the law of nature admitteth any when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe? 10 * Zei a little sleepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleepe. 11 Therefore thy poverty commeth as one that strauaileth by the way, and thy necessitie like an armed man. 12 The vntirisy man, and the wicked man walketh with a toward mouth. 13 He maketh a signe with his eyes: he signifieth with his feet: he is instructed with his fingers. 14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and raiseth vp contentions. 15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recovery. 16 ¶ The sixe things doeth the Lord hate: yea his soule abhorreth euil: 17 The haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood. 18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, bleethes that bee swift in running to mischief. 19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that raiseth vp contention among brethren. 20 ¶ My sonne keepe thy fathers commandment, and forsake not thy mothers instruction. 21 Binde them alway vpon thine heart, and tie them about thy necke. 22 It shall leade thee when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee. 23 For the commandment is a lanterne, and instruction a light: and corrections for instruction are the way of life. 24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman. 25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her eyes. 26 For because of the whoissh woman, a man is brought to a morsell of bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man. 27 Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burne? 28 Or can a man goe vpon coales, and his feet not be burne? 29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife shall not be innocent, who soeuer toucheth her. 30 Men do not despise a thiefe, when he stealeth to satiate his soule, because he is hungry. 31 But if she be found, he shall restore seuen fold, or he shall giue all the substance of his house. 32 But hee that committeth adultery with a woman, he is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doth it, destroyeth his owne soule. 33 He shall find a wound and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer bee put away. 34 For ielousie is the rage of a man: therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance. 35 He cannot beare the sight of any ranisme: neither will he consent, though thou augment the gifts.

CHAP. VII.

An exhortation to wisdom, to the word of God, which will preserve us from sinne, and from all manner of destruction.

My sonne, keepe my words, and hide my commandments with thee. 2 Keepe my commandments, and thou shalt live, and mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes. 3 Bind them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart. 4 Say vnto wisdome, thou art my sister: and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman. 5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, when from the stranger that is smooth in her words. 6 ¶ As I was in the window of mine house, I looked thorow my window. 7 And I saw among the fooles, and considered among the children a young man destitute of vnderstanding, 8 Who passed thorow the streete by her corner, and went toward her house. 9 In the twilight in the evening, when the night began to be blacke, and darke. 10 And beholde, there met him a woman with an harlots behaviour, and full till in heart. 11 (She is babbling and lowde, whose feet can not abide in her house. 12 Now she is without in the streetes, and lieth in wait at every corner) 13 So she caught him and kissed him, & with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I haue peace offerings: this day haue I payed my vowes. 15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee. 16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, carpets and laces of Egypt. 17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrhe, aloes and cynamon. 18 Come, let vs take our fill of lone vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in dalliance. 19 For my husband is not at home: hee is gone a journey farre off. 20 Hee hath taken with him a bag of silver, and will come home at the day appointed. 21 Thus with her great craft she caught him to yeeld, and with her flattering lips she enticed him. 22 And hee followed her straightwayes, as an ox that goeth to the slaughter, and as a foole to the stocks for correction. 23 Till a dart strike thorow his liuer, as a bird hasteth to the snare, not knowing that hee is in danger. 24 ¶ Heare we now therefore, O children, and hearken to the words of my mouth. 25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes: wander thou not in her pathes. 26 For she hath caused many to fall downe wounded, & the strong men are slaine by her. 27 Her house is the way vnto the graue which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

CHAP. VIII.

Wisdome declareth her excellencie, in riches, in power, in eternitie. 3 Shee sheweth all to loue and follow her.

Doth not wisdom cry? and vnderstanding utter his voyce? 2 She standeth in the top of the high places by the way in the place of the paths. 3 She crieth besides the gates before the city at the entry of the doores. 4 O men, I call vnto you, and utter my voice to the children of men. 5 I wisdome, and shee from vice, 6 Where the people did most reioyce, and which was the place of iustice,

2 By this diversity of word, he meaneth that nothing is sought to be deate victors, as the word of God, nor that we looke on any thing more, nor mende anything so much. b Solomon yeth this parable to describe thine folly, that thou dost thyselfe to be abused by harlots. c He sheweth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seene & also their owne foolishnes did accuse them which caused them to seeke the night to tene their foolishnes. d Hee sheweth certain conditions, which are peculiar to harlots. e For, the strength of her force. f Because that in peace offerings a portion is returned to them that offered, the sheweth him that the harlot meat at home to make good cheer with, or else he would vnderstande the cloke of his sinne till he had gotten him in her snare. g Which declareth that harlots outwardly will seeme holy and religious: both because they may be the better deceiue others, and also thinking by offering of ceremonies and offerings to make satisfaction for their sinnes. h Or, carried away. i For, as hee said, which thine hand, hee goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to all men by his owne delusion. k Which goeth cheerfully, not knowing that hee is in danger. l Strength also deliue her.

12 I wifdome dwell with prudence, and I finde forth knowledge and counfels.

13 The feare of the Lord is to hate e euill, as 15 By mee f kings reigne, and princes decree iuflice.

16 By mee princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue mee: and they that feeke me earlie, shall finde mee.

18 Riches and honour are with me: h ches durable riches and righteoufnes.

22 The Lord hath poffeffed mee in the beginning of his way: was k before his workes of old.

23 I was let vp from euertlafting, from the beginning, and before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were fetled: and be- fore the hills was I begotten.

26 Hee had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the duft in the world.

27 When he prepared the heauens, I was there, when he fet the compaffe vpon the deepe:

28 When hee eftablifhed the cloudes aboue:
when he confirmed the fountaines of the deepe:

29 When he gaue his decree to the fea, that the waters fhould not paffe his commandement, when he appointed the foundations of the earth.

30 Then was I with him as a noui her, and I was daily but delight, reioycing alway before him,

31 And tooke my n folace in the compaffe of his earth: and my delight as with the children of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto me: for bleffed are they that keepe my wayes.

33 Heare inftitution, and be ye wife, and refufe folace, and paffime whereof is he reftpoken.

it noe bleffed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendance at the poftes of my doore.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, & fhall
obtaine fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that finneth againft mee hurteth his owne foule: and all that hate me, loue death.

7 The memoriall of the iust shall bee blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot.

8 The wife in heart will receiue commandements: but the foolish in talk shall be beaten.

9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh boldly: but hee that peruerteth his wayes, shall bee knowne.

10 Hee that winketh with the eye, worketh sorrow, and hee that is foolish in talke, shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wellspring of life: but iniquity couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding, wisdom is found, and a rod shall be for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his strong city: but the feare of the needie is the r pouerty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, and he that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many words there cannot want iniquitie: but he that refrained his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as a fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe feede many: but fooles shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doeth adde no sorrowes with it.

23 It is as a pastime to a foole to doe wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerslasting foundation.

26 As a vineger is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothful to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yeeres of the wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall neuer be remoued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitfull in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

C H A P. XI.

F Alse balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfit weight please him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The vprightnesse of the iust shall guide them: but the trowardnesse of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 Riches auale not in the day of wrath: but righteoussesse deliuerech from death.

5 The righteousnesse of the vpright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteoussesse of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their owne wickednesse.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vniust shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his stead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurtech his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie is reioyceth: and when the wicked perish, there is ioy.

11 By the blessing of the righteous the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding will keepe silence.

13 Hee that goeth about as a slanderer, discouereth a secret: but he that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsell is, the people fall: but where many counsellers are, there is health.

15 He shall bee fore vexed, that is surety for a stranger, and he that hateth friendship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman attaineth honour, and the strong men attaine riches.

17 He that is mercifull, rewardeth his owne soule: but hee that troubleth his owne self, is cruell.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull worke: but he that soweth righteoussesse, shall reape a sure reward.

19 As righteoussesse leadeth to life: so he that followeth euill, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delight.

21 Though hand vsyne in hand, the wicked shall not be vnpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a iewell of gold in a swines snout: so is a faire woman which lacketh discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked is indignation.

24 There is that scattereth, and is more increased: but hee that spareth more, then is right, surely cometh to pouerty.

25 The liberal person shall haue plenty: and he that watereth, shall also haue raine.

26 He that withdraueth the corne, the people will curse him: but blessing shall be vpon the head of him that selleth corne.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shall fall: but the righteous shall flourish as a leafe.

29 He that troubleth his owne house, shall inherit the winds, and the foole shall be a servant to the wife in heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is as a tree of life, and he that is fruitful in word, is wise.

31 Behold the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: how much more the wicked and the sinner.

CHAP. XII.

H E that loveth instruction, loveth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth favour of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginatōis will be cōdemne.

3 A man cannot bee established by wickednesse: but the roote of the righteous shall not be mooved.

4 A vertuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitfull.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will b deliuer them.

7 God overthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shall be despised.

9 He that is despised, and is his owne servant, is better then he that boasteth himselfe, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruell.

11 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is destitute of all vnderstanding.

12 The wicked desireth the net of euils: but the roote of the righteous giueth fruit.

13 The euil man is snared by the wickednes of his lips: but the iust shall come out of aduersitie.

14 A man shall be satiate with good things by the fruit of his mouth, and the recompence of a mans hand shall God giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is right in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counsel, is wise.

16 A foole in a day shall be known by his anger: but he that couereth shame, is wise.

17 He that speaketh truth, will shew righteousness: but a false witness will deceit.

18 There is that speaketh wordes like the prickings off a sword: but the tongue of wise men is healeth.

19 The lip of truth shall be stable for euer: but a lying tongue vnderth incontinently.

20 Deceite is in the heart of them that imagine euill: but to the counsellors of peace shall be toy.

21 There shall none iniquity come to the iust: but the wicked are full of euill.

22 The lying lips are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truly are his delite.

23 A wise man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of the foolies publisheth foolishnesse.

24 The end of the diligent shall be fruit: but the idle shall be vnder tribuce.

25 Husbands in the heart of man doth bring it downe: but a good word reioyceth it.

26 The righteous is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked will deceiue them.

27 The deceitfull man resteth not that hee mooke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteousness, and without path way there is no death.

get much by volawell means yet will he not spend it vpon himselfe.
 CHAP. XIII.

A Wife sonne will obey the instruction of his father: but a corner will heare no rebuke.

2 A man shall eat good things by the fruit of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shall suffer violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lips, destruction shall be to him.

4 The sluggard is lusteth, but his soule hath nought: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plenty.

5 A righteous man hateth lying words: but the wicked catcheth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnesse preserveth the vpright of life: but wickednesse overthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man shall giue his riches for the ranlome of his life: but the poore cannot heare the reproch.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth: but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

10 Only by pride doeth man make contention: but with the well aduised is wisdom.

11 The riches of vanity shall diminish: but hee that gathereth with the hand, shall increate them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart, but when the desire cometh, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that despiseth the word, he shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandement, he shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wife man is as the well-spring of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the diobedient is hated.

16 Euery wise man will worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abroad folly.

17 A wicked messenger filleth his into euill: but a faithful ambassadour is preferuatiō.

18 Prouerbie and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth correction, shall be honoured.

19 A desire accomplished delighteth the soule: but it is an abomination to fooles to depart from euill.

20 He that walketh with the wise shall be wise: but a companion of fooles shall be afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God will recompense good.

22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children and the riches of the sinner is layd vp in the iust.

23 Much food is in the field of the poore: but the field is destroyed without discretion.

24 He that spareth his rod hateth his sonne: but he that loveth him, chasteneth him betime.

25 The righteous careth to the contention of his mind: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

CHAP. XIII. 13. 1. 2.
A Wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.

2 He that walketh in his righteousnesse, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewd in his waies, despiseeth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the rodde of pride: but the lips of the wise preferre them.

4 Where none oxe are, there the cribe is empty: but much increase cometh by the strength of the oxe.

5 A faithfull witnesse will not lie: but a false record will speake lies.

6 A corner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that will vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent, is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnes of the fool is in deceit.

9 The foole maketh a mocke of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soule, and the stranger shall not meddle with his ioy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be destroyed:
but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the wayes of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowfull, and the end of that mirth is heauinesse.

14 The heart that declineth, shall be satiate with his owne wayes: but a good man shall depart from him.

15 The foolish shall beleue every thing: but the prudent will consider his steps.

16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from euill: but a foole rageth, and is careless.

17 He that is hasty to anger, committeth folly, and a fustie bodie is hated.

18 The foolish do inherit folly: but the pre-udent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The euill shall bow before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the rich are many.

21 The finner despiseeth his neighbour: but he that hath mercie on the poore, is blessed.

22 Do not they erre that imagine euill? but to them that thinke on good things, shall be mercie and truth.

23 In all labour their is abundance: but the talke of the lips bringeth onely want.

24 The crowne of the wise is their riches, and the follie of the fool is in foolishnesse.

25 A faithfull witnesse delineth soules: but a deceiuer speakeeth lies.

26 In the feare of the Lord is an assured strength, and his children shall haue hope.

27 The feare of the Lord is as a wellspring of life to auoide the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of the people is the honour of a king, and for the want of people commeth the destruction of the prince.

29 He that is slow to wrath, is of great wisdom:
but he that is of a hasty minde, exalteth folly.

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but enue is the rotting of the bones.

31 He that oppresseth the poore, reproveth him that made him: but he honoureth him, that hath mercie on the poore.

32 The wicked shall be cast away for his mal-lices: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdometh retheth in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, and is knowen in the mids of foolcs.

34 Iustice exaleth a nation, but sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a king is in a wise seruant:
but his wrath shall be toward him that is lewd.

CHAP. XV.

A Soft answer putteth away wrath: but grie-uous words stirre up anger.

2 The tongue of the wise vseth knowledge aright: but the mouth of foolcs babbleth out foolishnesse.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euery place behold
the euill and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnesse thereof is the breaking of the mind.

5 A foole despiseeth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is trouble.

7 The lips of the wife do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him that followeth righteousnesse.

10 Instruction is euill to him that forsaketh the way, and he that hateth correction, shall die.

11 Hell and destruction are before the Lord:
how much more the hearts of the sonnes of men?

12 A corner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither will he goe vnto the wise.

13 A ioyful hart maketh a cheerefull countenance: but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is heauie.

14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnesse.

15 All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good conscience is a continual feast.

16 Better is a little with the feare of the Lord, then great treasure, and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of greene herbes where loue is, then a stalled oxe and hatred therewith.

18 An angry man stirreth up strife: but he that is slow to wrath, appeaseth strife.

19 The way of a slothfull man is as a hedge of thornes: but the way of righteous is plaine.

20 A wise sonne reioyceth the father: but a foolish man despiseeth his mother.

21 Foolishnesse is ioy to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vprightly.

22 Without counsell, thoughts come to nought: but in the multitude of counsellors there is steadfastnesse.

23 A ioy cometh to a man by the answer of his mouth: so how good is a word in due season?

24 The way of life is high to the prudent, to auoide from hell beneath.

25 The Lord will destroy the house of the proude man: but he will stablish the borders of the widow.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are abomination to the Lord: but the pure heart is pleasant words, teth vnderstanding.

CHAP. XVI.

He preparations of the hart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.
2 All the waies of a man are cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.
3 Commit thy works vnto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be directed.
4 The Lord hath made all things for his own lake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of euill.
5 All that are proude in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: though a hand ieyne in hand, he shall not be vn Timer.
6 By mercy and truth iniquitie shall be forgiuen, and by the feare of the Lord they depart from euill.
7 When the wayes of a man please the Lorde, he will make all his enemies at peace with him.
8 Better is a little with righteousness, then great revenues without equity.
9 The heart of a man purporeth his way: but the Lord doth direct his steps.
10 A diuinefence shall be in the lips of the king: his mouth shall not transgresse in iudgment.
11 A true waighe and ballance are of the Lord: all the waights of the bag are his worke.
12 It is an abomination to kings to commit rightednesse: for the throne is stablished by iustice.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings, and the king loueth him that speaketh right things.
14 The wrath of a king is as his messengers of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.
15 In the light of the kings countenance is life:
and his fauour is as a cloud of the latter raine.
16 * How much better is it to get wisdom then gold: and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then siluer.
17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euill, & he keepeth his soule that keepeth his way.
18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an high minde before the fall.

19 Better it is to be of humble minde with the lowly, then to diuide the spoiles with the proude.
20 He that is wise in his busines, shall find good:
and he that trusteth in the Lord he is blessed.
21 The wife in heart shall be called prudent:
and the sweetnesse of the lips shall increase doctrine.
22 Vnderstanding is a well-spring of life vnto the that haue it, and the instruction of foolcs is folly.
23 The heart of the wife guideth his mouth, and addeth doctrine to his lips.

24 The sweet words of consolation, which cometh of a mouth, either that which the wicked teach others, or else it is folly to teach them that are malicious.

24 Faire words are as an hony combe, sweetnesse to the soule, and health to the bones.
25 * There is a way that seemeth right vnto man, but the issue thereof are the wayes of death.
26 The person that traualleth, traualleth for himselfe: for his mouth travaileth of him.
27 A wicked man diggeth vp euill, and in his lips is like a burning fire.
28 A froward person soweth strife: and a tale-teller maketh diuision among princes.
29 A wicked man deceiveth his neighbour, and leadeh him into the way that is not good.
30 * He fluteth his eyes to deuis wickednes:
he moueth his lips, and bringeth euill to passe.
31 Age is a crowne of glory, when it is found in the way of righteousness.
32 Hee that is slow vnto anger, is better then the mighty man: and hee that ruleth his owne minde, is better then he that winneth a citie.
33 The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

Better is a dry morrell, if peace be with it, then Banhouse full of sacrifices with strife.
2 * A discreet seruant shall haue rule ouer a lewde sonne, and hee shall diuide the heritage among the brethren.
3 As is the fining pot for siluer, and the furnace for gold, so the Lord tryeth the hearts.
4 The wicked giueth heed to false lips, and a liar hearkeneth to the naughty tongue.
5 * Hee that mocketh the poore, reproacheth him that made him: and he that reioyceth at destruction, shall not be vn Timer.
6 Children children are the crowne of the elders: and the glory of the children are their fathers.
7 * High talke becommeth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke a prince.
8 A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: it prospereth, whither soeuer it cometh.
9 Hee that couereth a transgression, seeketh loue: but he that repeareth a matter, separateth the prince.
10 A reproofe entrench more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundred stripes into a foole.
11 A feditious person seeketh onely euill, and a cruell messenger shall be sent against him.
12 It is better for a man to meet a beere robbed of her whelpes, then a foole in his folly.
13 * Hee that rewardeth euill for good, euill shall not depart from his house.

neth the waters: therefore or the contention bee nation to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and he hath none heart?

22 * A ioyfull heart causeth good health: but a sorrowfull mind drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the ^lbo-some to wrest the wayes of iudgement.

24 * Wisdome is in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the corners of the world.

25 A foolish sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and a ^hheauinesse to her that bare him.

26 Surely it is not good to condemne the iust, nor that the princes should smite such ^a for equitie.

27 He that hath knowledge, spareth his words, and a man of vnderstanding ^{is} of an excellent spirit.

28 Euen a foole, (when he holdeth his peace) is counted wise, and hee that stoppeth his lips, prudent.

CHAP. XVIII.

FOR the desire thereof hee will ^a separate himselfe to seeke it, and occupy himselfe in all wisdome.

2 A foole hath no delight in vnderstanding: but that his heart may be ^b discovered.

3 When the wicked commeth, then commeth contempt, and with the vile man reproch.

4 The words of a mans mouth are like deepe d waters, and the welspring of wisdome is like a flowing riuier.

5 It is not good to ^c accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in iudgment.

6 A fooles lips come with strife, & his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A fooles mouth is his owne destruction, and his lips are a snare for his soule.

8 The words of a tale-bearer are as flatterings, and they goe downe into the ^b bowels of the belly.

9 Hee also that is slouthfull in his worke, is enen the brother of him that is a great waster.

10 The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth ^g vnto it, and is exalted.

11 * The rich mans riches are his strong citie: and as an high wall in his imagination.

12 * Before destruction the heart of a man is haucie, and before glory getteth lowlinesse.

13 * Hee that answereth a matter before hee heare it, is folly and shame vnto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustaine his infirmities: but ^a a wounded spirit, who can beare it?

15 A wise heart getteth knowledge, and the care of the wise seeketh learning.

16 A mans gift ^a enlargeth him, and leadeth him before great men.

17 * He that is first in his owne cause, is iust: then commeth his neighbour and maketh enquire of him.

conque, and they that ^a loue it, shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Hee that findeth a ^w wife, findeth a good thing, and receiueth fauour of the Lord.

23 The poore speaketh with prayers: but the rich answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends ought to shew himselfe friendly: for a friend is neerer ^a then a brother.

19 14. 9 That is, oft times such are found which are more sure, then he that is more bound by dutie.

CHAP. XIX.

BETTER ^a is the poore that walketh in his vp-rightnesse, then hee that abuseth his lips, and is a foole.

2 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and he that hasteth with his feet, sinneth.

3 The foolishnesse of a man peruerteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 Riches gather many friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

5 * A false witness shall not be vn Timer: and he that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

6 Many reuerence the face of the Prince, and every man is friend to him that giueth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him: how much more will his friends depart farre from him? though he be instant ^a with words, yet they will not.

8 He that possesseth vnderstanding, loueth his owne soule, and giueth wisdome to find goodnesse.

9 A false witness shall not be vn Timer: and he that speaketh lies, shall perish.

10 Pleasure is not comely for a foole, much lesse for a seruant to haue rule ouer princes.

11 The discretion of a man deferreth his anger: and his glory ^a to passe by an offence.

12 * The Kings wrath is like the roaring of a lion: but his fauour is like the dew vpon the grasle.

13 * A foolish sonne is the calamitie of his father, * and the contentions of a wife are like a continuall ^c dropping.

14 House and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but ^a prudent wife cometh of the Lord.

15 Slothfulness causeth to fall asleepe, and a deceitfull person shall be afflicted.

16 He that keepeth the commandement, keepeth his owne soule: but hee that despiseth his wayes, shall die.

17 Hee that hath mercy vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord will recompense him that which he hath giuen.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope, and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.

19 A man of much anger shall suffer punishment, and though thou ^a deliuer him, yet will his anger come againe.

20 Heare counsell and receiue instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.

21 Many deuices are in a mans heart: but the counsell of the Lord shall stand.

22 That that is to be desired of a man, is his goodnesse, and a poore man is better then a lye.

23 The feare of the Lord leadeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, shall continue, and shall not be visited with euill.

24 * The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bo-

CHAP. XX.

Wine is a mocker, and strong drinke is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby, is not wise.

2 The feare of the King is like the roaring of a lyon: hee that prouoketh him vnto anger, is sinneth against his owne soule.

3 It is a mans honour to cease from strife: but euery foole will be meddling.

4 The fouthfull will not plow, because of winter: therefore shall hee begge in summer, but haue nothing.

5 The counsell in the heart of a man is like deepe waters, but a man that hath vnderstanding, will draw it out.

6 Many men will boast euery one of his owne goodnesse: but who can find a faithfull man?

7 He that walketh in his integritie, is iust, and blessed shall his children be after him.

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of iudgement, shall chaſtise away all euill with his eyes.

9 Who can say, I haue made mine heart cleane, I am cleane from my sinne?

10 Diuers weights, and diuers measures, both these are euen abomination vnto the Lord.

11 A child also is known by his doings, whether his worke be pure and right.

12 The Lord hath made both these, euen the eare to heare, and the eye to see.

13 Loue not sleepe, lest thou come vnto pouertie: open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

14 It is naught, It is naught, saith the buyer: but when he is gone apart, hee boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of precious stones: but the lips of knowledge are a precious iewell.

16 Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

17 The bread of deceit is sweet to a man: but afterward, his mouth shall be filled with grauell.

18 Establish the thoughts by counsell: and by counsell make warre.

19 Hee that goeth about as a slanderer, discouereth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips.

20 Hee that curseth his father or his mother, his light shall be put in obscure darkenesse.

21 An heritage is hastily gotten at the beginning, but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

22 Say not thou, I will recompense euill: but wait vnto the Lord, and he shall save thee.

23 Diuers weights are an abomination vnto the Lord, and deceitfull balances are not good.

24 The steps of a man are ruled by the Lord: how can a man then vnderstand his owne way?

25 It is a destruction for a man to g denoure that which is sanctified, and after the vowes, to enquire.

26 A wise King scattereth the wicked, and causeth the wheele to turne ouer them.

27 The light of the Lord is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the belly.

28 Mercy and truth preferre the King: for his throne shall be established with mercy.

29 The beauty of yong men is their strength, and the glory of the aged is the gray head.

30 The bluenesse of the wound serueth to purge the euill, and the stripes within the bowels of the belly.

CHAP. XX.

The Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the ringes of waters: he turneth it whithersoever it pleaseth him.

2 Euery way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 To doe iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A hautie looke, and a proud heart, which is the light of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent do surely bring abundance: but whosoever is haultie, cometh surely to pouertie.

6 The gathering of treasures by a deceitfull tongue, is vanitie tossed to and fro of them that seeke death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shall destruy them: for they haue refused to execute iudgement.

8 The way of some is peruered and strange: but of the pure man, his worke is right.

9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house poore, then with a contentious woman in a large house.

10 The soule of the wicked witheth euill: and his neighbour hath no fauour in his eyes.

11 When the corner is punished, the foolish is wise, and when one instructeth the wife, he will receive knowledge.

12 The righteous teacheth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euill.

13 Hee that floppeth his eare at the crying of the poore, he shall also crye, and not be heard.

14 A gift in secret pacifieth anger, and a gift in the boosome, great wrath.

15 It is ioie to the iust to doe iudgement: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquitie.

16 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom, shall remaine in the congregation of the dead.

17 Hee that loueth pastime, shall bee a poore man: and he that loueth wine and oyle, shall not be rich.

18 The wicked shall be a ranſome for the iust, and the transfereur for the righteous.

19 It is better to dwell in the wilderness, then with a contentious and angry woman.

20 In the house of the wife is a pleasant treasure and oyle: but a foolish man denoureth it.

21 Hee that followeth after righteousnesse and mercy, shall finde life, righteousnesse and glory.

22 A wife man goeth vp into the cite of the mightie, and casteth downe the strength of the confidence thereof.

23 Hee that keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soule from afflictions.

24 Proud, hautie, and scornfull is his name, that worketh in his arrogancie wrath.

11 Hee that loveth pureness of heart, to the grace of his lips, the King shall be his friend.

12 The eyes of the Lord preserue knowledge:
but he ouerthroweth the words of the transgressor.

13 The slouthfull man saith, I a Lyon is without, I shall be slaine in the street.

14 The mouth of strange women is as a deepe pit: he with whom the Lord is angry, shall fall therein.

15 Foolishnesse is bound in the heart of a child: but the rod of correction shall driue it away from him.

16 Hee that oppresseth the poore to increase himselfe, and giueth vnto the rich, shall surely come to pouertie.

17 * Encline thine eare, and heare the words of the wife, and apply thine heart vnto my knowledge.

18 For it shall be pleasant, if thou keepe them in thy belly, and if they bee directed together in thy lips.

19 That thy confidence may be in the Lord,
I haue shewed thee this day: thou therefore take heede.

20 Haue not I written vnto thee a three times in counsels and knowledge,

21 That I might shewe thee the assurance of the words of truth, to answere the words of truth to them that fend to thee?

22 Robbe not the poore because hee is poore, neither oppresse the afflicted in iudgement.

23 For the Lord will defend their cause, and spoil the soule of those that spoil them.

24 Make no friendship with an angry man, neither goe with the furious man,

25 Left thou learne his wayes, and receiue destruction to thy soule.

26 Be not thou of them that touch the hand, nor among them that are suretie for debts.

27 If thou hadst nothing to pay, why compass-test thou that hee should take thy bedde from vnder thee?

28 Thou shalt not remove the ancient boundes which thy fathers haue made.

29 Thou seest that a diligent man in his businesse standeth before kings, and standeth not before the bale for.

C H A P. XXIII.

W hen thou sittest to eate with a ruler, consider diligently what is before thee,

2 And put the knife to thy throat, if thou be a man giuen to the appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his daintie meates: for it is a deceitfull meate.

4 Trauaile not too much to be rich: but cease from thy wisdom.

5 Wilt thou cast thine eyes vpon it, which is nothing? for riches takeeth her to her wings, as an Eagle, and flieth into the heauen.

6 Eate thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye, neither desire his daintie meates.

7 For as though he thought it in his heart: so will he fay vnto thee, Eate and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou shalt vomit thy morsels that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt loose thy sweete words.

9 Speake not in the eares of a foolle: for hee will despise the wisdom of thy words.

10 Remove not the ancient boundes, and enter not into the fields of the fatherlesse.

11 For hee that redeemeth them, is mightie:
he will defend their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart to instruction, and thine eares to the words of knowledge.

13 Withhold not correction from the child:
if thou smite him with the rod, he shall not die.

14 Thou shalt intimate him with the rodde, and shalt deliuer his soule from hell.

15 My sonne, if thine heart be wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also.

16 And my reines shall reioyce, when thy lips speake righteous things.

17 Let not thine heart be enuious against sinners: but let it be in the feare of the Lord continually.

18 For surely there is an end, and thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 O thou my sonne, heare, and bee wise, and guide thine heart in the way.

20 Keepe not company with drunkards, nor with gluttons.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall bee poore, and the sleeper shall bee clothed with ragges.

22 Obey thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.

23 Buy the truth, but sell it not: likewise wisdom, and instruction, and vnderstanding.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce, and he that begetteth a wife child, shall haue ioy of him.

25 Thy father and thy mother shall bee glad,
and he that bare thee shall reioyce.

thine eyes delight in my wayes.

q And so is in extreme danger.

13 As the cold of the snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithfull messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.

14 A man that boasteth of false liberalitie, is like clouds and wind without raine.

15 A Prince is pacified by staying of anger, and a soft tongue breaketh the wrong bones.

16 I know have found honey, eat that is sufficient for thee, lest thou be ouerfull, and vomit it.

17 Withdrow thy foot from thy neighbours house, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is like an hammer and a sword, and a sharpe arrow.

19 Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth & a sliding foot.

20 Hee that taketh away the garment in the cold season, shaketh vnder him a cloud of nitre, or like him that singeth songs to an heauie heart.

21 If he that hateth thee, be hungry, giue him bread to eat, and if he be thirsty, giue him water to drinke.

22 For thou shalt lay thy coales vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.

23 The North wind driueth away the raine, so doeth an angry countenance the flattering tongue.

24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

25 As are the cold waters to a weary soule, so is good newes from a farre country.

26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, & a corrupt spring.

27 It is not good to eat much hony: so to search their owne glory, is not glory.

28 A man that refraeth not his appetite, is like a citie which is broken downe and without walles.

CHAP. XXVI.

As the snow in the Summer, and as the raine in the Harvest are not meet, so is honour vnmeetly for a foole.

2 As the parrow by flying, and the swallow by flying escape, so the curle that is causelesse, shall not come.

3 Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, and a rod to the fooles backe.

4 An were not a foole? according to his foolishnesse, lest thou also be like him.

5 Answer a foole? according to his foolishnesse, lest he be wise in his owne conceit.

6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a foole, is as hee that cutteth off the feet, and drinketh iniquitie.

7 As they that list vp the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is hee that giueth glory to a foole.

9 As a thorne standing vpon the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

10 The Excellent that formed all things, both rewardeth the foole, and rewardeth the transgressors.

11 As a dog turneth againe to his owne vomite, so a foole turneth to his foolishnesse.

12 Seest thou a man wise in his owne conceit? more hope of a foole than of him.

13 The foolish full man saith, A Lyon in the way; a Lyon in the streets.

14 As the doore turneth vpon his hinges, so doeth the slothfull man vpon his bed.

15 The slothfull hideth his hand in his bosome, and it griueth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceit, then seven men that can render a reason.

17 Hee that passeth by and meddeth with the stuffe that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dog by the eares.

18 As hee that smiteth himselfe mad, casteth firebrands, arrows, and mortall things.

19 So doeth the deceitfull man with his friend, and saith, Am not I in sport?

20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a tale-bearer strife ceaseth.

21 As the coale maketh burning coales, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.

22 The words of a tale-bearer are as flatterings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the billy.

23 As silver drosse overlaid vpon a potsherd, so are burning lips, and an euill heart.

24 Hee that hateth, will counterfeite with his lips, but in his heart he layeth vp deceit.

25 Though hee speake fauourably, beleue him not: for there are many abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred may be couered by deceit: but the malice thereof shall be discovered in the congregation.

27 He that diggeth a pit shall fall therein, and he that collecteth a stone, it shall returne vnto him.

28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth caueth reue.

CHAP. XXVII.

Knowest thou thy selfe of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth, a stranger, and not thine owne lips.

3 A stone is heauie, and the sand weightie: but a fooles wrath is heauier then them both.

4 Anger is cruell, and wrath is raging: but who can stand before enuie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.

6 The wounds of a loner are faithfull, and the kisses of an enemy are pleasant.

7 The person that is full, despiseth an hony combe: but vnto the hungry soule, euery bitter thing is sweet.

8 As a bird that wandreth from her nest, so is a man that wandreth from his owne place.

9 As oyntment and perfume reioyce the heart, so doeth the sweetnesse of a mans friend by heartie counsel.

10 Thine owne friend and thy selfe friend forsake thee not: neither enter into thy brothers house in the day of thy calamitie: for better is a neighbour that is neere, then a brother farre off.

11 My sonne, be wise, and reioyce mine heart, that I may answer him that reprocheth me.

12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish goe on full, and are punished.

13 Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

19 As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.

20 The graue and destruction can neuer be full, so the eyes of man can neuer be satisfied.

21 As is the lining pot for silver, and the furnace for gold, so is euery man according to his dignity.

22 Though thou shouldest bray a foole in a mortar among wheat brayed with a pestill, yet will not his foolishnesse depart from him.

23 Be diligent to know the state of thy flocke, and take heed to the herds.

24 For riches remaine not alway, nor the crowne from generation to generation.

25 The hay discouereth it selfe, and the grass appeareth, and the herbes of the mountaines are gathered.

26 The kumbe are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.

27 And let the milke of the goats be sufficient for thy food, for the food of thy familie, and for the sustenance of thy maids.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The wicked flee, when none pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lyon.

2 For the transgression of the land there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding and knowledge, a realme likewise endurith long.

3 A poore man, if he oppress the poore, is like araging raine that leaueth no food.

4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keepe the Law, praise themselves against them.

5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgment: but they that seeke the Lord, vnderstand all things.

6 Better is the poore that walketh in his vp-rightnesse, then hee that peruerteth his wayes, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but hee that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.

8 He that increaseth his riches by vsurie and interest, gathereth c them for him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.

9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, even his prayer shalbe abominable.

10 He that catcheth the righteous to goe astray by an euil way, shall fall into his own pit, and the vpright, shall inherite good things.

11 The rich man is wise in his own conceit: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can trie c him.

12 When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tried.

13 Hee that hideth his finnes, shall not prosper: but hee that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.

14 Blessed is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.

15 As a roaring lyon, and an hungry beare, so is a wicked ruler over the poore people.

16 A Prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressour: but hee that hateth couetousnesse, shall prolong his dayes.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall flee vnto the graue, and they shall not stay him.

18 He that walketh vprightly shall bee sined: but hee that is froward in his wayes, shall once fall.

19 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread, but he that followeth the idle, shall be filled with pouertie.

20 A faithfull man shall abound in blessings, and hee that maketh haste to bee rich, shall not be innocent.

21 To haue respect of persons is not good: for that man will transgresse for a piece of bread.

22 A man with a wicked eye haste to riches, and knoweth not that pouertie shall come vpon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man, shall finde more fauour at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robbeth his father and mother, and saith, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 Hee that is of a proud heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall bee safe.

26 Hee that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but hee that walketh in wisdom, shall bee deliuered.

27 Hee that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shall haue many curies.

28 When the wicked rise vp, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increafe.

CHAP. XXIX.

A Man that hardeneth his necke when hee is rebuked, shall suddenly bee destroyed, and cannot be cured.

2 When the righteous are in authority, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: but hee that feedeth harlots, wasteth his substance.

4 A king by iudgement maintaineth the country: but a man receiving gifts, destroyeth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an euill man is his snare: but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornefull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wife man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule.

11 A foole powreth out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 Of a Prince that hearkeneth to lies, all his seruants are wicked.

13 The poore and the vsurer meete together, and the Lord highneth both their eyes.

14 A King that iudgeth the poore in truth, his throne shall be established for euer.

CHAP. XXX.

To humble ourselues in consideration of Gods workes. 5 The word of God is perfect. 11 Of the wicked and hypocrites. 15 Of things that are neuer faile. 18 Of others that are wonderfull.

THE WORDES OF A AGUR THE SONNE OF IAKEN.

The prophesie which the man spake vnto Ithiel, and to Ucal.

2 Surely I am more foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in mee.

3 For I haue not learned wisdom, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath ascended vp to heaven, and descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fist? Who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the ends of the world? What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

5 Euery word of God is pure: he is a shield to those that trust in him.

6 Put nothing vnto his wordes, lest hee reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things haue I required of thee: denie me them not before I die.

8 Remove me farre from mee vanitie and lyes: giue me not powertie, nor riches: feede mee with food conuenient for me.

9 Left I be full and denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or left I be poore and steale, and take the name of God in vaine.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee: when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation whose eyes are hauty, and their eye lids are lifted vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their chawes as knives to eat vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

15 The horseleech hath two daughters which it giue giue. There be three things that will not be punished: yea, foure that say nor, It is enough.

16 The graue, and the barren wombe, the earth, that cannot be satisfied with water, and the she that saith nor, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father, & despiseth the destruction of his mother, let the rauen of the valley picke it out, and the yong eagles eat it.

18 There be three things hid from mee: yea, foure that I know not.

19 The way of an eagle in the ayre, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a hippo in the mids of the sea, & the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: shee eateth and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

21 For three things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it cannot sustaine it selfe.

22 For a seruant when hee reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meate.

23 For a hatefull woman, when she is married, & for a handmaid that is heiress to her mistress.

24 These be foure small things in the earth, yet they are a wife, and full of wisdom.

25 The pigmies are people not strong, yet prepare they their meate in summer.

26 The conies are people not mighty, yet make they their houses in the rocke.

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet goe they forth all by bands.

28 The spider taketh hold with her handes, and is in kings places.

29 There be three things that order well their going: yea, foure are comely in going.

30 A lion which is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any.

31 A lusty grayhound, and a goat, and a king against whom there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

33 When one churneth milke, hee bringeth forth butter, and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out, so he that foreth wrash, bringeth forth strife.

CHAP. XXXI.

THE WORDES OF KING ALEMUEL.

The prophesie which his mother taught him.

What my sonne! & what the sonne of my wombe! & what, O sonne of my desires!

3 Giue not thy strength vnto women, & nor thy wayes, which lead to destroy kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drinke wine, nor for princes strong drinke.

5 Left hee drinke and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

6 Giue yee strong drinke vnto him that is ready to perish, and wine vnto them that haue griefe of heart.

CHAP. II.

Pluribus sumptibus laudantur, et per has et possessiones est lux vanitatis. 15. Ter uide et sic pona bene laudat enim conuincit et laudat deus.

I Said in my heart, Goe to now, I will prooue a thee with ioy: therefore I take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioy, what is this that thou doest?

3 I fought in mine heart to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in wisdom, and to take hold of folly, till I might see where is that goodnesse of the children of men, which they haue vnder the Sunne, the whole number of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue planted me vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens and orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruit.

6 I haue made me cisterns of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruaunts and maids, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possessions of beees and sheepe above all that were before me in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto mee also silver and gold, and the chiefe treasures of Kings and prouinces: I haue prouided me men singers, and women singers, and the delights of the sonnes of men, and a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and increased at ouer all that were before mee in Ierusalem: also my wife-dome I remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from me: I withheld not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauel.

11 Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauel that I had laboured to doe: and behold, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profit vnder the Sunne.

12 And I turned to behold wisdom, and madnes, and folly: (for who is the man that will come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I saw that there is profit in wisdom, more then in toyl: as the light is more excellent then dar knesse.

14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the fooles walke in dar knesse: yet I know all o that the same condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the fooles. Why therefore doe I then labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For the e shall bee no remembrance of the wise nor of the fooles: for euery for that that now is, in the dayes to come, shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the Sunne, is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the Sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be wife or foolish? yet shall hee haue rule ouer all my labour: wherein I haue trauailed, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wife vnder the Sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine hearte to abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the Sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauaile is in wisdom, and in knowledge: againe enquier yet to a man that hath not trauailed herein, that hee giue him his portion: this also is vanitie, and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauaile and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauailed vnder the Sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorrowes, and his trauaile griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profit to man, but that he eate and drinke, and delight his soule with the profite of his labour: I also saw this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eat, and who could haue to outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, Gouerneth wisdom, & knowledge, and ioy: but to the finner hee giueth paine to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, and vexation of Spirit.

CHAP. III.

1. All things haue their time. 14. The wordes of God are perfect, and his way to feare him. 17. God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

TO all things there is an appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to bee borne, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to loofe: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sow: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath he that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seen the trauell that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made euery thing beautiful in his time: also hee hath set the world in their heart, yet cannot man find out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eatch and drinke, and seech the commoditie of all his labour: this is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoever God shall doe, it shall bee for euery: to it can no man adde, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare to becom him.

15 What is that that hath bene? that is now: and that that shall bee, hath now bene: for God requieth that which is past.

16 And moreover, I haue seene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice, where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust

That I might seeke the vniust, licentious in his God.

o Among other grieues, this was the last, to leaue that which hee had gotten by great trauell, to one that had taken no paine therefor, and whom hee knew not whether hee were a wife man or a foole.

p When a man hath all laboured, hee can get no more then food and refreshment, yet hee confesseth also that this cometh of Gods blessings, as Chap. 3. 12.

q Meaning, to pleasures.

r He speaketh of this indifferencie of time, for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in this: secondly, to reuolt the heart to reuolt, as to reuolt was not to be grieved if wee haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither eny thing so long as we would wish.

s Read Chap. 1. 12.

t God hath giuen man a desire, and affection to seeke out the things of this world, and to labour therein.

u Read Chap. 2. 21, and the places declare that we should doe all things with sobriety, and in the feare of God, forasmuch as hee hath set his gifts to the iust, that they should be abused.

v Thus, man shall not be able to get Gods worke, but as hee hath determined, so it shall come to passe.

w God only knoweth what which is past, to reuente.

x Meaning, of the seruants or slaves, which hee had bought: for the children borne in their seruitude, were the maisters, as Chap. 1. 14.

y For all this God did not take his gift of wisdom from mee.

z This was the fruit of all my labour, a certaine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse.

^g Meaning, with God, howsoever man neglect his duty.

^h And made them pure in their first creation.

ⁱ May be movable by reason, and by arguments put different, because between man and beast, as touching those things which are common to both, as abstinence, for the eye cannot judge any superiority of a man being dead, then of a beast, which is dead, yet by the word of God and faith, we can know the difference, as ver. 24.

^j Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleeueth herein.

^k By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2. 24. and Chap. 3. 12. 22. Chap. 5. 17. and Chap. 8. 16. he declares that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life, for the gift of God revealed by his Spirit.

^l He maketh here another difference with himself, concerning the tyranny of them that oppressed the poor.

^m He saith they be no more justified in their oppressions.

ⁿ He speaketh according to the judgement of the flesh, which cannot abide to feel or see troubles.

^o The more perfect that the wicked is, the more it is enuied of the wicked.

^p For idleness he is compelled to destroy himselfe.

^q Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither help himselfe nor others, he sheweth that men ought to live in mutual society, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

^r By this Proverbe he declareth how necessary it is, that men should live in society.

^s That if one a poore and base estate, or out of trouble, and imprisonment, as Ioseph did, Geo. 4. 12.

^t Meaning that is borne a blig.

just and the wicked: for time is there for every purpose and for every worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men, that God had purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselves beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are even as one condition vnto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: or they have all one breath, & there is no excellencie of man above the beast: for all is vanity.

20 All go to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend upward, and the spirit of the beast descend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

CHAP. III.

¹ The innocents are oppressed. ² Men labourers are full of sorrow and vanitie. ³ Man's justice is necessary. ⁴ A poore man's mouth and his lips are to be preferred to an old king that is false.

SO I turned and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them, and for the strength of the hand of them that oppress them, and none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praised the dead which are now dead, above the living which are yet alive.

3 And I counted it better then them both, which hath not yet bene: for hee hath not seene the euil works which are wrought vnder the sun.

4 Also I beheld all traualle, and all perfection of workes, that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbour: this also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

5 The foolke foldeth his handes, and eateth vp his owne flesh.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnesse, then two handfulls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7 Again I returned, and lase vanity vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet where none end of all his traualle, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither doth hee thinke, For whom doe I traualle & defraud my soule of pleasure? this also is vanity, & this is an euill traualle.

9 Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellow: but wee vnto him that is alone: for hee falleth, and there is not a second to lift him vp.

11 Also if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heate: but to one how should there be heate?

12 And if one overcome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefold cord is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an old and foolish king, which will no more bee admonished.

14 For out of the prison he cometh forth to reigne: when as he that is borne in his kingdom, is made poore.

15 I beheld all the living, which walke vnder the sunne with the second childe, which shall stand vp in his place.

16 There is none end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

17 Take heed to thine foot when thou enterest into the house of God, and bee more nere to heare: then to giue the sacrifice of fools: for they know not that they doe euill.

For, they thinke themselves abused, as others haue bene in time past. ¹⁸ That is, with what affliction thou comest to the word of God. ¹⁹ Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to be rich in commodities, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

¹ Not to speake lightly, euilly in Gods matters. ² The courteous can neuer be angry enough. ³ The labourers stripe is sweete. ⁴ Men may see the death, taking nothing with him. ⁵ To love justice, and with a conscience make, is the gift of God.

Be not rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart bee hastie to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be few.

2 For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of businesse: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of words.

3 When thou hast vowed a vow to God defer not to pay it: for hee delighteth not in fooles: pay therefore that thou hast vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldst not vow, then that thou shouldst vow and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thee a flesh to sinne: neither say before the Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God be angry by thy voice, and destroy the worke of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities are also many words: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou felt the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, be not astonished at the matter: for he that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the abundance of the earth is ouer all the king: also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and hee that loueth riches, shall be without the fruit thereof: this also is vanity.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eate them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The sleepe of him that traualleth, is sweete, whether hee eate little or much: but the facience of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 There is an euill sicknesse that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches refused to the owners thereof for their euill.

13 And these riches perish by euill trauell, and hee begetteth a lone, and in his hand is nothing.

14 As he came forth of his mothers belly, shall he returne naked to goe as he came, and that hee auaie nothing of his labour, which hee had caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euill sicknesse, that in all points as he came, so shall he goe, and what profit hath hee that hee hath trauailed for the wind?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in a darkenesse.

1 Hee doth not enjoy his fathers riches. ² Job. 2. 1. w/d. 7. 6. 1. in vain, and without profit. ³ Is affliction and griefe of mind.

^k Which follow and flatter the Kings countenance, in that they flatter, to enter into credit with them in hope of gaine.

^l They neuer create by all means to creepe into labour, but when they obtayne their greedy desire.

^m Hee that is made pale, and so care himself to heare the word of God, which God will cause.

ⁿ Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to be rich in commodities, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

^o Either in uowing or in praying, meaning that we should vie all reference to Godward.

^p He heareth thee not for thy many words take, or often repetition, but considering the faith and few words made.

^q Dru. 32. 2. c He speaketh of vows, which are approved by Gods word, and serue to his glory.

^r Cause not thy selfe to sinne by vowing rashly: as they doe which make a vow to live married, and such like.

^s That is, before Gods messenger, when hee shall examine thy doing, as though thy ignorance should be a iust excuse.

^t Meaning, that God will redresse the things, and therefore we must depend vpon him.

^u The treasures of the earth, to be preferred above all things which appertaine to this life.

^v Kings and Princes cannot maintain their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of his tillage.

^w That is, his great abundance of riches, or the flourishing, which commendeth by his great feeding.

^x When conetous men heape vp riches which turne to their destruction.

^y Job. 2. 1. w/d. 7. 6. 1. in vain, and without profit. ^z Is affliction and griefe of mind.

^{aa} Meaning, that God will redresse the things, and therefore we must depend vpon him.

^{ab} The treasures of the earth, to be preferred above all things which appertaine to this life.

^{ac} Kings and Princes cannot maintain their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of his tillage.

^{ad} That is, his great abundance of riches, or the flourishing, which commendeth by his great feeding.

with much griefe, and in his sorrow and anger.

17 Behold then, what I haue seene good, that it is comely to eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein hee trauaileth vnder the Sunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him for this is his portion.

18 Also to euery man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to ioy in his labour : this is the gift of God.

19 Surely he wil not much remember the daies of his life, because God answereth to the ioy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable state of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to use them.

Here is an euill which I saw vnder the sunne, and it is much among men :

2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that he desireth : but God giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a strange man shall eate it vp : this is vanitie, and this is an euill sicknesse.

3 If a man beget an hundred children and liue many yeres, and the daies of his yeres be multiplied & his soule be not satisfied with good things, and he be not buried, I say that an vtimately fruit is better then he.

4 For he commeth into vanitie, and goeth into darkenes, and his name shall be couered with darkenesse.

5 Also he hath not seene the sun, nor knowen it : therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeres twife told, and had seene no good, shall not al go to one place ?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth : yet the soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more then the fooles ? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing ?

9 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lustes : this also is vanitie, and vexation of spirit.

10 What is he that hath bene ? the name thereof is now named : and it is known that it is man : and he cannot strue with him that is stronger then he.

CHAP. VII.

Diuerse precepts to follow that which is good, and to avoid that which is contrary.

Surely there be many things that increase vanitie : and what auaileth it a man ?

2 For who knoweth what is good for a man in the life, and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seeing he maketh them as a shadow ? For who can find vnto man what shall be after him vnder the sunne ?

3 A good name is better then a good oymment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting, because this is the ende of all men : and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter : for by a sad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wife is in the house of mourning : but the heart of fooles is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wife man, then that a man should heare the song of fooles.

8 For like the noise of the thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the fooles : this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wife man mad : and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The ende of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

11 Bee not thou of an hasty spirit to be angry : for anger resteth in the bosome of fooles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these ? for thou doest not enquire wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdom, and in the shadow of filer : but the excellency of the knowledge of wisdom giueth life to the possessours thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God : for who can make straight that which he hath made crooked ?

16 In the day of wealth bee of good comfort, and in the day of affliction : consider : God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should find nothing a ter him.

17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie : there is a iust man that perisheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Bee not thou iust : ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouer wife : wherefore shouldest thou bee desolate ?

19 Bee not thou wicked : ouermuch, neither bee thou foolish : wherefore shouldest thou perish not in thy time ?

20 It is good that thou lay hold on this : but yet withdraw not thine hand from that : for be that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisdom shall strengthen the wife man more then ten mighty princes that are in the city.

22 Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine heart also to all the words that men speake, least thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For oftentimes also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.

25 All this haue I prooued by wisdom : I thought, I will be wife, but it went farre from me.

26 It is far off, what may it be ? and it is a profound deepnesse, who can find it ?

27 I haue compassed about both I & mine heart to know and to enquire, and to search wisdom and reason, and to know the wickednesse of folly, and the foolishnesse of madnesse.

28 And I find more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nets and snares, and her hands as bands : he that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Behold, saith the Preacher, this haue I found seeking one by one to find the court.

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I find it not, I haue found one man of a thousand : but one woman among them all haue I not found.

31 Only loe, this haue I found, that God hath made man righteous : but they haue sought many inventions, a To be prynces and magistrates, by The worke of God passe mans meeleige.

C H A P. VIII.

Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisdom of a man doeth make his face ^a shine: and the strength of his face shall be changed.

^b 1 I ^a advertiseth thee to take heed to the mouth of the king, and to the word of the oath of God.

^c 2 Haste not to go forth of his sight: stand not in an euill thing: for he will doe whatsoeuer please him.

^d 4 Where the word of the King is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

^e 5 Hee that keepeth the commandement, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall know the time and iudgement.

^f 6 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the misery of man is great vpon him.

^g 7 For he knoweth not that which shalbe: for who can tell him when it shalbe?

^h 8 Man is not lord ouer the spirit to retaine the spirit: neither hath hee power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessors thereof.

ⁱ 9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne hurt.

^j 10 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and they returned, and they that came from the holy place, were yet forgotten in the cite where they had done right: this also is vanity.

^k 11 Because sentence against an euill worke is not ^l 1 executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

^m 12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundred times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it shalbe well with them that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

ⁿ 13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall hee prolong his dayes: hee shall be like a shadow, because he feareth not before God,

^o 14 There is a vanity, which is done vpon the earth, that there bee righteous men to whom it commeth accord^g to the worke of the wicked: and there bee wicked men to whom it commeth according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanity.

^p 15 And I praied ioy: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the sunne, saue ^q 1 to eat and to drink and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

^r 16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to behold the businesse that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe,

^s 17 Then I beheld the whole worke of God, that man cannot finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man drinke to know it, he cannot finde it.

C H A P. IX.

1 ^a Drum outward this can man knowe whom God loueth or hate, 12 ^b Man knoweth his ende, 16 ^c Wisdom exceedeth strength.

I haue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their works are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue or hatred of all that is before them.

^d 2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, & to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good so is the finner, he that sweareth, as he that leareth an oath.

^e 3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnes is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

^f 4 Surely whosoever is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to be liuing dog, then to a dead lion.

^g 5 For the liuing know that they shall die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

^h 6 Also their loue and their hatred, and their enuy is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

ⁱ 7 Goe, eat thy bread with ioy, and drink thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God now ^j 4 accepteth thy workes.

^k 8 At all times let thy garments bee white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

^l 9 [†] Reioyce with the wife whom thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanity, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanity: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy trauaile wherein thou labourst vnder the sunne.

^m 10 All that thine hand shall find to doe, doe it with all thy power: for there is neither worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whither thou goest.

ⁿ 11 I returned, and I saw vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance commeth to them all.

^o 12 For neither doeth man know his time, ^p 1 ^q 1 as the Fishes which are taken in an euil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

^r 13 I haue also seene this wisdom vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

^s 14 A little cite and few men in it, and a great king came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it,

^t 15 And there was found therein a poore, and wise man, and he deliuered the city by his wisdom, but none remembered this poore man.

^u 16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

^v 17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnesse, then the cry of him that ruleth among fooles.

^w 18 Better is wisdom then weapons of warre: but one finner destroyeth much good.

C H A P. X.

1 ^a The difference of foolishnesse and wisdom, 12 ^b A slanderer is like a speere, he cannot be harmed, 16 ^c Foolish kings and drunken priests, 17 ^d And of good kings and priests.

^b In outward things, as riches, and power, sickness, neede and health, there is no difference between the goodly and the wicked: but the difference is, that the goodly are assured by faith of Gods fauour and assistance.

^c He mocketh the Epicures and carnal men which made their belly their god, and had no pleasure but in this life, withing eather to be an abject and vile person in this life: then a man of authority, and so to die, which is meant by the dog & lion.

Dead flies cause to stinke, and putrifie the oymment of the apothecary: so doeth a little folly him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leave not thy place: for gentleness pacifieth great finnes.

5 There is an euill that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the rich set in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he that breaketh y^e hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Hee that remoueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, & one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed; no better is a babbler.

12 The words of them out of a wife man haue grace: but the lips of a foole deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishnesse, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnesse.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shalbe: and who can tell him what shalbe after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to goe into the citie.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy King is a childe, and thy princes eate in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy King is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength, and not for drunkenesse.

18 By slothfulnesse the rooofe of the house goeth to decay, and by the idleness of the hands the house droppeth thorow.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the soule of the heauen shall cary the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal to the poore, 2 Not to doubt of Gods providence, 3 All worldly prosperity is but vanity, 4 God will iudge all.

Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what euill shall bee vpon thee the earth.

3 If the clouds be full, they will powre forth raine vpon the earth: and if the tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that obserueth the wind, shall not sowe, and he that regardeth the clouds, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with child: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the evening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shalt prosper, this or that, or whether both shall be alight good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the Sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he shall remember the dayes of his darkenesse, because they are many, all that cometh a vanity.

9 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the light of thine eyes: but know that for all these things, God will bring thee to judgement.

10 Therefore take away griefe out of thine heart, and cause euill to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on Gods youth, and not to forgette till age, 2 The soule returneth to God, 3 Why we are the gift of God, and howe to keepe it in fearing him and keeping his commandment.

Remember now thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth, whiles the will dayes come not, nor the yeres approach, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the cloudes returne after the raine.

3 When the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders shall cease, because they are few, and they waxe darke that looke out by the windowes:

4 And the doores shall be shut without by the bafe sound of the grinding, and he shall rise vp at the voyce of the bird, and all the daughters of singing shall be abased.

5 Also they shall be afraid of the biting thing, and feare shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners goe about in the streets.

6 Whiles the silver cord is not lengthened, nor the golden ewer broken, nor the pitcher broken at the well, nor the wheele broken at the cistene.

7 And dust returne to the as earth it was, and the spirit returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, and canied them to heare, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to finde out pleasant words, and an vpright writing, even the words of truth.

AN EXCELLENT SONG which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Song, Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and paraboles describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faithfull soule or his Church, which hee hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, body, chaste and without reprobation. So that hee declared the singular loue of the bridegrome to the bride, and his great and excellent benefits wherewith hee doeth enrich her of his pure beauty and grace without any of her deservings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the spirittuall loue betwixt Iesus Christ and his Church. 5 The domesticall sweetnes that perleure the Church.

Let him kisse mee with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Because of the fauour of thy good oynments, thy name is as an oynment powred out: therefore the virgins loue thee.

3 Draw me: we will run after thee: the King hath brought mee into his chambers: wee will reioyce and be glad in thee: we will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous doe loue thee.

4 I am blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tents of Cedar, and as the curtains of Salomon.

5 Regard yee mee not because I am blacke: for the Kingne hath looked vpon me. The sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I kept not mine owne vine.

6 Shew me, O thou whom my soule loueth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I be as the that turneth aside to the flockes of thy companions?

7 If thou know not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and feede thy kids by the tents of the shepherds.

8 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the chariots of Pharaoh.

9 Thy cheekes are comely with rowes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.

10 We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

11 While the King was at his repast, my spikenard gaue the smell thereof.

12 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betweene my breasts.

13 My welbeloued is as a cluster of camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.

14 My loue, behold, thou art faire: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doves.

15 My welbeloued behold thou art faire, and pleasant: also our bed is Greene.

16 Whom thou hast called to the dignity of pastors, and they set forth thine owne dreames in stead of thy doctrine. 17 Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant to goe to the pastors to learne. 18 For thy spirituall beauty and excellencie there was no worldly treasure to be compared vnto thee. 19 The Church: loyeth that she is admitted to the company of Christ. 20 Hee shall be made deare vnto me. 21 Christ accepteth his Church, and commendeth her beauty. 22 That is, the heart of the faithfull, wherein Christ dwelleth by his Spirit.

16 The beames of our house are cedars, our rafters are of firre.

CHAP. II.

1 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadow of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the dove. 15 And the cunietie to the fowles.

I Am the rose of the fieldes, and the lillie of the valleys.

2 Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my loue among the daughters.

3 Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadow had I delute, and satte downe: and his fruit was sweete vnto my mouth.

4 Hee brought mee into the wine cellar, and loue was his banner ouer me.

5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sick of loue.

6 His left hand vnder mine head, and his right hand doeth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes & by the hinds of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill she please.

8 As is the voyce of my welbeloued: behold, he commeth leaping by the mountaines, and climbing by the hills.

9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong hart: loe, hee standeth behind our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing himselfe through the grates.

10 My welbeloued spake and sayd vnto mee, Arise, my loue, my faire one, and come thy way.

11 For behold, winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.

12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The figtree hath brought forth her yong figs: and the vines with their small grapes haue cast a fauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

14 My doue, that art in the holes of the rocke, in the secret places of the staires, shew mee thy sight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweete, and thy sight comely.

15 Take vs the foxes, the little foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines haue small grapes.

16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: hee feedeth among the lillies.

17 Vntill the day break, and the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, and be like a roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bethel.

1 The beautie of the Church in all her members. 2 She is offered to Christ: right lone towards her.

How beautiful are thy goings with shooes,
O princes daughter! the ioints of thy thighs are like iewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workeman.

2 Thy nappill is as a round cup that wanteth not liquor, thy belly is as an heape of wheat compassed about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are as two yong roes that are twinnes.

4 Thy necke is like a towre of yuorie: thine eyes are like the fish pooles in Heshbon by the gate of Bach-rabbim: thy nose is as the towre of Lebanon, that looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head vpon thee is as skarler, and the tush of thine head like purple: the king is tied in thee still fasters.

6 How faire are thou, and how pleasant art thou, O my loue, in pleasures!

7 This thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breasts like clusters.

8 I said, I will goe vp into the palme tree, I will take hold of her boughes: thy breasts shall now be like the clusters of the vine: and the fauour of thy nose like apples,

9 And the rooffe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth streight to my welbeloued, and causeth
the lips of the ancient to speake,

10 I am my welbeloueds, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come my welbeloued, let vs go forth into the field: let vs remaine in the villages.

12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs see if the vine flourish, whether it hath budded the small grape: or whether the pomegranates flourish:
there will I giue thee my loue.

wildernesse, leaning vpon her welbeloued? I raised thee vp vnder an apple tree: there thy mother conceiued thee: there she coineid that bare thee.

6 Set mee as a seale on thine heart, and as a signet vpon thine arme: for loue is strong as death:
iellousie is cruel as the graue: the coles thereof are ferie coles, and a vehement flame.

7 Much water cannot quench loue, neither can the floods drowne it: if a man should giue all the substance of his house for loue, they would greatly contemne it.

8 Wee haue a little sifter, and shee hath no breasts: what shall we doe for our sister, when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, wee will build vpon her a for the fruit thereof, a thousand pieces of silver.

12 But my vineyard which is mine, is before me: to thee, O Salomon appertineth a thousand pieces of silver, and two hundredeth to them that keepe the fruit thereof.

13 O thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken vnto thy voyce: cause me to ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD, according to his promise, Deuter. 18. 15. that he would never leave his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not only to declare unto the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall revelation, but also to interpret and declare the Lawe, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the vilitie and profite of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe, they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First, to the doctrine contained briefly in the two Tables: secondly, to the promises and threatnings of the Lawe: and thirdly, to the Covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded upon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the ende of the Lawe. Wherunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gave them understanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearely vntreated it then Moses, and set forth more lucely Iesus Christ, in whom this Covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Iseah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: ener applying the doctrine, as hee saue that the disease of the people required. Hee declareth also many notable propheties which he had received of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office and his kingdomes. Also of the future of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their union with the Lawes. Which are as most principall points contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that hee preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stood upon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to sit up the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes, that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8. 1. and Habak. 2. 2.) the Priests tooke it down, and referred it among their Registers: and so by Gods providence these booke were preserved as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, hee was of the Kings Roocke (for Amos, his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best Writers doe agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeeres, from the time of Uziah, vnto the reigne of Manasseh whose father in lawe hee was (as the Hebrews write) and of whom hee was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this one thing among others is to be observed, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof: and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordained them in his secret counsell, and so revealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

1 Iseah reprooveth the Times of their ingratitude and stubbornness that neither for Lambes nor punishment would move, 11. He sheweth why their sacrifices are refused, and wherefore Gods true service standeth, 23. He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem, 25. and of the restitution thereof.

A Vision of Iseah, the sonne of Amoz, which hee saw concerning Iudah and Ierusalem, in the dayes of Uziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Iudah.

3 The Foxe knoweth his owner, and the asse his masters crib: but Israel hath not knownen: my people hath not vnderstood.

4 Ah, sinfull nation, a people laden with iniquitie: as seede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lord: they haue prouoked the Holy one of Israel to anger: they are gone backward.

5 Wherefore should ye be smitten any more?

for ye fall away more and more: the whole head is sicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

6 From the sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein: but wounds and swelling, and sores full of corruption: they haue not bene wrapped, nor bound vp nor mollified with oyle.

18 Come now, and let vs reaſon together, ſaith the Lord: though your ſinnes were as crimſen, they ſhall be made white as ſnow, though they were red like ſcarlet, they ſhall be as wholl.

19 If ye conſent and obey, yee ſhall eate the good thing of the land.

23 Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thees: euery one loatheth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherleſſe, neither doeth the widowes cauſe come before them.

24 Therefore ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes the Mighty one of Iſrael, Ah, I will leaue mee of mine aduerſaries, and auenge mee of mine enemies.

25 Then I will turne mine hande vpon thee and burne out thy droſſe, till it be pure, and take away all thy thynne.

26 And I will reſtore thy iudges as at the firſt, and thy counſellers as at the beginning: afterward ſhalt thou be called a citie of righteouſnes, and a faithfull citie.

3 Now therefore, O inhabitants of Ieruſalem and men of Iudah, Iudge I pray you, ^c betwene me and my vineyard.

4 What could I haue done any more to my vineyard that I haue not done vnto it? why haue I looked that it ſhould bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wilde grapes?

5 And now I will tell you what I will doe to my vineyard: I ^d will take away the hedge thereof, and it ſhall be eaten vp: I will breake the wall thereof, and it ſhall be troden downe:

6 And I will lay it waſte: it ſhall not be cut, nor digged, but briars, and thornes ſhall grow vp: I will alſo commaund the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

12 And the Lord haue remoued men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the mids of the land.

13 But yet in it shall bee a tenth, and shall returne, and shall be eaten vp as an olme, or as an oke, which haue a substance in them, when they cast their leaues: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

14 This declarerth, that man cannot render true obedience to God, till hee hath purged vs. o Whereby is declared, that for the malice of man God will not immediately take away his word, but he will saue it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learne thereby to obey his will, and bee freed: hereby hee exhorteth the Ministers to doe their duty, and answereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their owne malice their heart is hardened. Matth. 13. 13. 128. 18. 36. 11. 8. p As he was moued with the zeale of Gods glory, so was hee touched with a charitable affection toward the people. q Meaning, the tenth part; or as some write, it was reuealed to Isaiah for the confirmation of his prophetic that ten thousand should come before their captiuitie, as were from Vzziah to Zedekiah. r For the lowliness they shall seeme to be eaten vp: yet they shall after flourish as a tree which in winter loseth his leaues, and seemeth to be dead, yet in summer is fresh and green.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ierusalem besieged. 4 I as he comforteth the King. 14 Christ is promised.

And in the dayes of * Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, the sonne of Vzziah King of Iudah, Rezin, the king of ¶ Aram came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah king of Israel, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but he could not ouercome it.

2 And it was tolde the house of b David, saying, Aram is ioyned with c Ephraim: therefore his heart was e moued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forrest are moued by the winde.

3 ¶ Then said the Lord vnto Isaiah, Goe forth now to meeke Ahaz (thou and d Shear-iashub thy sonne) at the end of the conduit of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers field.

4 And say vnto him, Take heed, and be still.

5 For he said, I will not, to signifie that the rest of the people should returne out of their captiuitie.

fear not, neither bee faint hearted for the two tailles of these smoking f firebrands: for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliahs sonne:

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsell against thee, and Ephraim and Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs goe vp against Iudah, and let vs waiken them vp, and make a breach therein for vs, and set a King in the mids thereof, euen the sonne of g Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within fise and threescore yeere Ephraim shall be destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleeue not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske i a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it either in the depth beneath, or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz said, I wil not aske, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 Then he said, Heare you now, O house of David, is it a small thing for you to giueue I men, that ye will also grieue my God?

14 Therefore the Lord m himselfe will giue you a signe, Behold, the virgin shall conceive and beare a sonne, and shee shall call his name ¶ Immanuel.

15 ¶ Butter and hony shall hee eat, till hee haue knowledge to refuse the euill, and to chule the good.

16 For afore the o childe shall haue knowledge to eschew the euill, and to chuse the good, the land that thou abhorrest, shall be forsaken of both her kings.

17 The Lord shall bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house (the dayes that haue not come from the day that ¶ Ephraim departed from Iudah) euen the King of ¶ Ashur.

18 And in that day shall the Lord haffe for the r fie that is at the vttermost part of the floods of Egypt, and for the Bee which is in the land of Ashur,

19 And they shall come and shall light all in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks and vpon all thornie places, and vpon all bushie f places.

20 In that day shall the Lord shau with a razor that is hired, euen by them beyond the Riuer, by the king of Ashur, the head and the haire of the feet, and it shall consume the beard.

21 And in the same day shall a man n nourish a yong kow and two sheepe.

22 And for the x abundance of milke, that they shall giue, hee shall eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left within the land.

23 And for the x abundance of milke, that they shall giue, hee shall eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left within the land.

24 And for the x abundance of milke, that they shall giue, hee shall eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left within the land.

25 And for the x abundance of milke, that they shall giue, hee shall eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left within the land.

f Which haue but a little smoke, and shall goe chy be quenched.

g Which was an Israelite, and as seemeth, enemy to the house of David.

h Counting from the sixe and twentieth yere of the reigne of Vzziah, at what time Amos prophesied this thing, and now I saith confirmeth that the Israelites should be led into perpetual captiuitie, which came to passe within twenty yere after that I saiah did this message.

i For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed and thou preiueced.

k Not to beleeue Gods word without a signe, into tempt: Gods but to receive a signe when God offereth it for the ayde and helpe of our infirmities, into rebell against him.

l You thinke you haue to doe with men, when ye come to me, I will be a father to the fatherless, and a husband to the weepers: but it is God against whom you beare your yoke.

m Forasmuch as thou art vnworthy, the Lord for his owne promise sake will giue a signe, which shall be that Christ the Saviour of his Church, and the effect of all signes and miracles shall be reuealed.

1 The captiuitie of Israel and Iudah by the Assyrians. 6 The wilde life of the leues. 9 The dereliction of the Assyrians.
14 Corie the stumbling stone to the wicked. 19 The word of God was heereingured at.

Moreouer the Lord said vnto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a mans pen, Make speed to the spoile: haste to the pray.

2 Then I tooke vnto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Iebereiah.

3 After, I came vnto the Prophetesse, which conceiued and bare a sonne. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name, || Maher-shalhash-baz.

4 For before the childre shall haue knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, he shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoile of Samaria, before the king of Asshur.

5 ¶ And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of y Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of the Riuier mighty and great, euen the king of Asshur with all his glory, and he shall come vp vpon all their riuers, and goe ouer all their bankes,

8 And shall breake into Iudah, and shall ouerflow and passe through, and shall come vp to the necke, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.

9 Gather together on heapes, O ye people:
and ye shall be broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shall be broken in pieces: giue your selues, and you shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shall be brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to mee in taking m of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A confederacie, to all them to whom this people hath a confederacie, neither feare you their leare, nor be afraid of them.

13 Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread,

14 And he shall be as a Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall and shall be broken and shall be snared and shall be taken.

16 Binde vp the testimony: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will waite vpon the Lord that hath hid his face from the house of Iakob, and I will looke for him.

18 Beholde, I and the children whom the Lord hath giuen me, we as signes and as wonders in Israel, by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and at the Soothsayers, which whisper and in murmur, shalt not a people enquire at their God? from the living to the dead?

20 To the y Law, and to the Testimony, if they speake not according to this word: is it because there is no light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted and famished, shall goe to and fro in it: and when he shall be hungry, he shall euen feed himselfe, and curse his king, and his gods, and shall looke vponward.

22 And when he shall looke to the earth, behold trouble, and darkness, vexation, and anguish, and he shall be driuen to darkness.

e The armie of the Medes and the Persians against Babylon.
f Ye Babylonians.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like a great people: a tumultuous voice of the kingdomes of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hostes numbeth the hoste of the battell.

5 They come from a farre country, from the end of the heauen: run the Lord with the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle you for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraide: anguish and for-row shall take them, and they shall haue paine, as a woman that travaileth: euery one shall bee amazed at his neighbour, and their faces shall be like flames of fire.

9 Behold, the day of the Lord commeth, cruell, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the stars of heauen and the planets thereof shall not giue their light: the sunne shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moone shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will visite the wickednesse vpon the i world, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, & I will cause the arrogancie of the proud to cease, and I will cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a man more precious then fine gold, euen a man aboue the weight of gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heauen, and the earth shall remoue out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be as a chafed doe, and as a sheep that no man taketh vp: euery man shall turne to his owne people, and flee each one to his owne land.

15 Euery one that is found, shall bee stricken through: and whosoever ioyneth himselfe, shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shall bee broken in pieces before their eyes: their houses shall be spoiled, and their wines rauished.

17 Behold, I will stirre vp the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, nor bee desirous of gold.

18 With bowes also shall they destroy the children, and shall haue no compassion vpon the fruit of the wombe, and their eyes shall not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glory of the kingdomes, the beautie and pride of the Caldeans shall bee as the destruction of God in Sodome and Gomorah.

20 It shall not be inhabited for euer, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation:
neither shall the Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall the shepherds make their folds there.

21 But y Zim shall lodge there and their houses shall be full of Ohim: Ostriches shall dwell there, and the Satyrs shall daunce there.

22 And Im shall crye in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is ready to come, and the dayes thereof shall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The desolation of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Poles.

Or the Lord will haue compassion of Iakob, and will yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land and the stranger shall ioine himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleaue to the house of Iakob.

2 And the people shall receaue them & bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the Lord, for ser-uants and handmaidens: and they shall take them prisoners whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressors.

3 And in that day when the Lord shall giue these rest from thy sorrows, and from thy care, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou diddest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouer begainst the King of Babel, and say, How hath the oppreffour ceased? and the gold thirstrie Babel rested?

5 The Lord hath broken the rod of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continual plague, and ruled the nations in wrath:
if any were persecuted he did not let.

7 The whole worlde is at rest and is quiet:
they sing for ioy.

8 Al o the fire trees reioyced of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art layde downe, no better came vp against vs.

9 Hell benighted is moued for thee to meete thee at thy coming, raising vp the dead for thee, euen all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

10 All they shall crye and say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is brought downe to the grau, and the found of thy violes: the wor-me is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O h Lucifer, sonne of the morning? and cut downe to the ground, which diddest cast lots vpon the nations.

13 Yet thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascend into heauen and exalt my throne aboue beside the starres of God: I will sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the i North.

14 I will ascend about the height of the clouds, and I will be like the most High.

15 But thou shalt be brought downe to the grau, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall looke vpon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdomes.

17 Hee made the worlde as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 And the Kings of the nations, euen they all sleep in glory, euery one in his owne house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy graue like an abominable branch: like the raiment of those that are flaine, and thou shalt thorow with a sword, which go downe to the staves of the pit, as a carkeise tro-den vnder feet.

shall not be renowned for euer.

21 ¶ Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 ¶ For I will rise vp against them (saith the Lord of hostes) & will cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the sonne, and the nephew, saith the Lord.

23 And I will make it a possession to the hedgehog, and pooles of water, and I will sweepe it with the besome of destruction, saith the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lord of hostes hath sworne, saying, Surely like as I haue purposed, so shall it come to passe, and as I haue consulted, it shall stand:

25 ¶ That I will breake to pieces Alishur in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I tread him vnder foote: so that his yoke shall depart from them, and his burden shall bee taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsell that is consulted vpon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations;

CHAP. XV.

A prophesie against Moab.

THE burden of Moab. Surely y Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 He shall goe vp to the Temple, & to Dibon to the hie places to weepe: for y Nebo and for Medeba shall Moab howle: vpon all their heads shall he baldnesse, and euer beard shauen.

3 In their streetes shall they be girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their houses, and in their streetes euer one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voyce shall be heard vnto Lahaz: therefore the warriours of Moab shall shoute: the sould of eu-ery one shall lament in himselfe.

5 Mine heart shall cry for Moab: his fugitious shall flee vnto Zoar, as an heifer of three yere olde: for they shall goe vp with weeping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Ho-ronaim they shall raise vp a crie of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be dried vp:
therefore the graile is withered, the herbes conumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what euery man hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the brooke of the willows.

8 For the crie went round about the borders of Moab, and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the (kriking thereof vnto Beer-Elim.

9 Because the waters of Dimon shall bee full of blood: for I will bring more vpon Dimon, euen lions I vpon him that escapech of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

SEND yee a lambe to the ruler of the world from the rocke of the wilderness, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shall be as a bird that flyeth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall bee at the foordes of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement, make thy shadow as the night in y mid day: hide them, that are chased out, bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab be chow thy couer from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall end: the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressor shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the throne be prepared, and he shall sit vpon it in stedfastnesse in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement and having iustice.

6 Wee haue heard of the pride of Moab (hee is very proud) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Moab, euery one shall howle: for the foundations of Kirharez shall yee mourne, yet they shall be g stricken.

8 For the vineyards of Heshbon are cut down, and the vine of Sibmah: the Lords of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof:
they are come vnto y Laazer: they wandered in the wildernesse, their goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore wil I weepe with the weeping of Laazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruits, and vpon thy harvest I a flourishing is fallen.

10 And gladnes is taken away, and ioy out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyards shall bee no singing nor shouting for ioy: the treader shall not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my bowels shall sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kirharez.

12 And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be weary of his high places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not preiuaile.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lord hath spoken, saying, and shout for ioy, when they carrie by common ities from thee.

A prophesie of the destruction of Damascus and Ephraim. 7 Calamity moueth to deperance.

THe burden of ^bDamascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, for it shall be a ruinous heape.

2 The cities of ^aArer shall be forsaken: they shall be for the flocks; for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraid.

3 The munition also shall cease from ^dEphraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, faith the Lord of hosts.

4 And in that day the glory off Iacob shall be impoverished, and the fainesse of his flesh shall be made leane.

5 And it shall be as when the haruest man gathereth ^athe corne, and repeth the eares with his arme, and hee shall be as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of ^bRephaim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the top of the ymoth boughes, and foure or fve in the hie branches of the fruite thereof, faith the Lord God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man look to his maker, and his eyes shall looke to the holy One of Israel.

8 And hee shall not looke to the alters, the works of his owne hands, neither shall he looke to those things which his owne fingers have made, as grones and images.

9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughes & branches, which ^athey did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembered the God of thy strength, therefore shall thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange vine branches:

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to growe, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the haruest shall be gone in the day of possession, and there shall be deperate sorrow.

12 ^aAh, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sound like the noise of the sea: for the noise of the people shall make a sound like the noise of mighty waters.

13 The people shall make a sound like the noise of many waters: but God shall rebrenke them, and they shall see farre off, and shall bee chased as the chaffe of the mountaine before the wind, and as a routing thing before the whirlwind.

and the fruit is riping in the floure, then hee shall cut down the branches with hooks, and shall take away, and cutt off the boughes.

6 They shall be left together vnto the fowles of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth:
for the fowle shall summer vpon it, and euery beast of the earth shall winter vpon it.

7 At that time shall a present be brought vnto
the Lord of hostes (a people y is scattered abroad,

Ethiopsians, Chap. 8. 7. f When the Lord prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians, g I will lay away from punishing the wicked. h The two nations are most profitable for the riping of vniuers, whereby hee meaneth, that he will further to fauour them, and giue them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off. i Notely men shall consume them, but the bruite beasts. k Meaning, that God will pittie his Church, and recueie that little remnant as an offering vnto himselfe.

7 The grasse in the river, and at the head of the rivers, and all that groweth by the river shall wither, and be drinen away and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angell into the river, shall lament, & they that spread their net vpon the waters, shall be weakened.

9 Moreover, they that worke in flaxe of diuers sorts, shall be confounded, & they that weaue nets.

10 For their nets shall be broken, and all they that make ponds shall be heavy in heart.

11 Surely the princes of Zoan are fooles: the counsell of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say we vnto Pharaoh, I am the sonne of the wife? I am the sonne of the ancient kings?

12 Where are now thy wise men, that they may tell thee, or may know what the Lord of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of I Noph are deceived, they have deceived Egypt, upon the corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirit of errors: and they have caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof as a drunken man erreth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may do, nor the tale, the branch nor the rush.

16 In that day shall Egypt bee like vnto women: for it shall be afraid and feare, because of the mouing of the hand of the Lord of hostes, which he shaketh out er.

17 And the land of Iudah shall be a feare vnto Egypt: euery one that maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereat, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which he hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Canaan, and shall sweare by the Lord of hostes: one shall be called the cite of destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord be in the mids of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall be for a signe and for a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall crie vnto the Lord, because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a Saviour, and a great man, and shall deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shall be known of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and do sacrifice and oblation, and shall vow vowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heale it: for he shall returne vnto the Lord, & he shall be intreated of them, and shall heale them.

23 In that day shall there bee a path from Egypt to Ashtur, and Ashtur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Ashtur: so the Egyptians shall worship with Ashtur.

24 In that day shall Israel bee the third with Egypt and Ashtur, euen a blessing in the mids of the land.

25 For the Lord of hostes shall blese it, saying, Blessed be my people Egypt & Ashtur, the worke of mine hands, and Israels mine inheritance.

CHAPTER XX.

The three yeeres capacity of Egypt and Ethiopia described by the three yeeres going naked of Isaiah.

IN the yeere that a Tartan came to Ashtod, (when Sargon king of Ashtur lent him) and had fought against Ashtod, and taken it.

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Go, and loofe the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shoe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked, and barefoot.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three yeeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So shall the king of Ashtur take away the captivity of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both yong men and old men, naked and barefoot, with their buttocks vncouered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall feare, and bee ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.

6 Then shall the inhabitant of this yle say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, which we fled for helpe to be deliuered from the king of Ashtur, and how shall we be deliuered?

CHAPTER XXI.

Of the destruction of Babylon by the Persians and Medes. 15 The ruines of Iudaea, 17 and of Arabia.

THE burden of the desert feare. As the whirlwinds in the South vse to passe from the wilderness, so shall it be come from the horrible land.

2 A grievous vision was shewed vnto mee, The transgressour against a transgressour, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Go vnto Elam, besiege Media: I have caused all the mourning thereof to cease.

3 Therefore are my loines filled with sorrow: sorrowes have taken me as the sorrowes of a woman that traueleth: I was bowed downe when I heard it, and I was amazed when I saw it.

4 Mine heart failed: fearfullnes troubled me: the night of my pleasures hath beene turned into feare vnto me.

5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch tower: cate, drinke: arise ye princes, anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said vnto mee, Go, set a watchman, to tell what he seeth.

7 And he saw a charret with two horsmen: a charret of an asse, and a charret of a camel: and he hearkened and tooke diligent heed.

8 And he cri'd, A lion: my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch tower in the day time, and I am set in my watch eyeright:

9 And behold this mans charret cometh with two horsmen, And he answered and said, Babel is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath beene broken vnto the ground.

10 Omny threshing, and the corn of my floor, That which I have heard of the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, haue I shewed vnto you.

11 The burden of Dumah. He calleth vnto king they shall be commanded to runne to their weapons. I to wit, in a vision by the spirit of prophetic.

2 Meaning, charres of men of war, and others that carried the baggage. 3 Meaning Darius, which ouercame Babylon. 4 The watchman, whom Isaiah set vp, told him who came toward Babylon, and the Angel declared that it should be destroyed: all this was done in a vision. 5 Ier. 51. 38. 1. 14. 8. 6 Meaning Babylon. 7 Ier. 51. 38. 1. 14. 8. 8 which was a city of the Elamites, and was besieged of Dumah, Gen. 14.

a Who was a captaine of Sanechib a King 18. 17. b A cite of the Philistins. c The Ebrews writeth: Sanechib was so called. d Which signifieth that the Prophet did lament the misery that he saw prepared before the three yeeres that he went naked and barefooted.

e In whole sayde they trusted. f Of whom they boasted & gloried. g Meaning, Iudaea, which was com- pilled about with their enemies, as an yle with waters.

a On the sea side betweene Iudaea and Cilicia was a wilderness, where- by he meateh Caldea. b That is, the ruine of Babylon by the Medes and Persians. c The Assyrians & Caldees, which had destroyed other nations, shall be overcome of the Medes and Persians: and this he prophesied an hundred yere before it came to passe. d By Elam he meane the Persians. e Because they shall find no succour, they shall mourne no more, or, I have caused them to cease mourning, whom I had caused to be grieved. f This the Prophet speaketh in the person of the Babylonians. g He prophesied the death of Belshazzar, as Dan. 5. 30. who in 7 yeres of his pleasures was destroyed. h Whither they are exiled & drin- king I to wit, in a vision by the spirit of prophetic.

p A mountaine of the Idumeans. q He defeb: both the quietnes of the people of Dumah, who were night and day in fear of their enemies, and enquire to and fro to enquire newes. r For feare the Arabians shall flee into the woods, and he appointeth what way they shall take. s Signifying, that for feare they shall not ary to eat or drinke. t He appointeth them to expiate for one yeere only, & then they should be destroyed. u Reade Chap. 16. 14. x Which was the name of a people of Arabia: and by the horrible destruction of all these nations, he teacheth the Iewes that there is no place for refuge, or to escape Gods wrath, but only to remaine in his Church, and to liue in his feare.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Hee prophesie the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchadnezzar. 15 A threatening against Shebna. 20 To whose office Eliakim is preferred.

The burden of the valley of vision. What bayleth thee now that thou art wholly gone vp vnto the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of noyse, a citie full of bruit, a ioyous citie: thy slaine men shall not be slaine with sword, nor die in battell.

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bow: thy shalbe bound: all that shalbe found in thee, shalbe bound together, which haue fled from Ierusalem.

4 Therefore, said I, Turne away from mee, I will weepe bitterly: labour not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it was day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexitie by the Lord God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a heruing vnto the mountaines.

6 ¶ And Elam bare the quier in a mans chariet with horsemen, and Kir yncouered the shield.

7 And thy chiefe valleyes were full of chariets, and the horsemen for themselues in aray against the gate.

8 And he discovered the couering of Iudah: and thou diddest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 And ye haue fence the breaches of the city of Dauid: but they were many, and ye gathered the waters of the lower poole.

10 And ye numbered the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses haue ye broken downe to fortifie the wall.

11 And haue also made a ditch betweene the two wallies, for the waters of the old poole, and haue not looked vnto the maker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that formed it of old.

¶ By returning to God succide that great plague which they should els suffer by Nebuchadnezzar. k The secret place where the armour was to wit in the house of the forest. l King. 22. 1 Ye leaue the famous places which were neglected in times of peace: meaning the whole Citie and the City of Dauid which was within the compass of the citie. m Either to pull downe such as hurt, or els to know what men they were able to make. n To prove if it need should be of water. o To God that made Ierusalem: that is, they trusted more in their worldly means, then in God.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call vnto weeping and mourning, and to baldnes, and girding with sackcloth.

13 And behold ioy and gladnes, slaying oxen, and killing sheepe, eating flesh, & drinking wine, & eating and drinking for to morrow we shall die.

14 And it was declared in the eares of the Lord of hostes, Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord God of hosts.

15 Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, goe get thee to that treasure, to Shebna, the steward of the house, and say, 16 What hast thou to do here? and whome hast thou here? that thou shouldst here heve thee out a sepulchre, as he that heueth out his sepulchre in an hie place, or that graue an habitation for himselfe in a rocke?

17 Behold, the Lord will cary thee away with a great captivity, and will surely couer thee.

18 Hee will surely rolle and turne thee like a ball in a large countrey. there shalt thou die, and there the charies of thy glory shall be the shame of thy Lords house.

19 And I will drie thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling will he destroy thee.

20 And in that day will I call my seruant Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah,

21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also will I commit into his hand, and he shall be a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iudah.

22 And the key of the house of Dauid will I lay vpon his shoulder: so hee shall open, and no man shall shut, and hee shall shut, and no man shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a nayle in a sure place, and hee shall be for the throne of glory to his fathers house.

24 And they shall hang vpon him all the glory of his fathers house, euen of the nephewes and posteritie: all small vessels, from the vessels of the cups, euen to all the instruments of musike.

25 In that day saith the Lord of hosts, shall a nail be fastened in the sure place, depart, & shalbe broken, and fall, & the burden that was vpon it, shalbe cut off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

¶ By the craft of Shebna. x I will commit vnto him the full charge & gouernment of the kings house. y I will establish him, and confirme him in his office: of this phrase, reade Ezra 9. 9. z Meaning that both small and great that shall come of Eliakim, shall haue praise and glory by this faithful officer. a He meaneth Shebna, who in mans iudgment should neuer haue fallen.

1 A prophesie against Tyrus. 17 A promise that it shall be reuered.

The burden of Tyrus. Howe ye ships of Tarshish for it is destroyed, so that there is none house: none shall come from the land of Chittim: it is reuealed vnto them.

2 Be still, ye that dwell in the yles: the merchants of Zidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue I replenished thee.

3 The seed of Nilus growing by the abundance of waters, and the harvest of the riuer was her reuenues, and she was a mart of the nations.

4 Be haught, thou Zidon: for the sea hath spoken, euen the strength of the sea, saying, I haue not trauelled, nor brought forth childre, neither p In Reade of repentance, ye were ioyfull and made great cheere, concerning the destruction of the Prophets, saying, Let vs eate and drinke: for our Prophets say, that we shall die to morrow.

q Because the Ebrew word doth also signifie one that doth nourish and chee the, there are of the learned that thinke that this wicked man did nourish frendship with the Assyrian & Egyptian to betray the church, and to provide for himselfe against all dangers in the meane season he kept craftily, and gate of the best offices to his hand under Ezekiel, euer aspiring to the height. r Meaning, that hee was a stranger, and came vp of nothing.

s Whereas he thought to make his name immortal by his famous sepulchre, hee died most miserable among the Assyrians.

t Signifying, that whatsoever dignity the wicked attained vnto, at length it will turne into the shame of those princes, by whom they are preferred.

u To be steward againe, out of the which office he had bene put by the craft of Shebna.

5 When the time cometh to the Egyptians they shall be ^k forry, concerning the rumour of Tyrus.

6 Goe youe ouer to Tarshish: howle ye that dwell in the yles.

7 Is not this that your glorious city: her antiquitye of ancient dayes: her owne leete shall leade her a farre off to be a iourner.

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyrus (that ^m crowneth ⁿ men) whose merchants are princes? whose chapmen ^r the nobles of the worlde?

9 The Lord of hostis hath decreed this: to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Passe through thy land like a flood to the daughter of Tarshish: there s no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand vpon the sea: he shooke the kingdomes: the Lord hath giuen a commaundement concerning the place of merchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And he saide, Thou shalt no more reioyce when thou art oppressed: O virgin daughter of Zidon, rise vp goe ouer vnto Chittim: yet there thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Caldeans: this was no people: q Asur founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderness: they set vp the towers thereof: they raised the palaces thereof, and he brought it to ruine.

14 Howle yee shippes of Tarshish, for your strength is destroyed.

15 And in that day shall Tyrus be forgotten seventy yeeres (according to the yeeres of one king) at the ende of seventy yeeres shall Tyrus ^uing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe and go about the city: (thou harlot that hast been forgotten) ^v make sweete melody, sing mo songs that thou mayest be remembered.

17 And at the end of seventy yeeres shall the Lord visit Tyrus, & the shal returne to her wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages shall be ^z holy vnto the Lord: it shall not be layd vp nor kept in store: but her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eate sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

19 When she is long forgotten, seeketh by all means to entertaine her louers: y Though she haue been chastised of the Lord, yet she shall returne to her olde wicked practices, and for gaue shall giue her telle to all mens looke like an harlot. ^z He tweeth that God yet by the preaching of the Gospel will call Tyrus to repentance, and turne her heart from auarice and alicy gaue, vnto the true worshiping of God, and liberality toward his Saints.

CHAP. XXIIII.

A prophesie of the curse of God for the sinnes of the people. 13 A remnant reuered shall praise the Lord.

1 Beholde the Lord maketh the earth empty, and he maketh it waste: hee turneth it vpside downe, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shall be like people, like ^b Priest, and like seruant, like master, like maide, like mistresse, like buyer, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to vury.

3 Because of this name of dignity, it was also applied to them, which were net of Acazons family, and so signified a man of dignity. ^a 3 Sam. 8. 18. and 20. 25. 1. Chron. 18. 17. and by these words the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shall be neither religion, order, nor policie, ^a Hef. 4. 9.

3 The earth shall bee cleane emptied, and vterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word

4 The earth lameneth and fadeth away, the world is feeble and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth also deceiveth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerslasting Couenent.

6 Therefore hath the curse denoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are ^e burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, doe mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noise of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the harpe ceaseth.

9 They shall not drinke wine with mirth: strong drinke shall be bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe: euery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streetes: all ioy is darkened: the mirth of the worlde is gone away.

12 In the citie is left desolation, and the gate is shitten with destruction.

13 Surely thus shall it be in the mids of the earth, among the people, ^h as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift vp their voyce: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall reioyce from ⁱ the sea.

15 Wherefore praise yee thee Lord in the valleys, ⁱ in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the vttermost part of the earth wee haue heard prayes, ⁱ wee glorie to the ^k iust, and I said, My leanness, my leanness, woe is mee: the transgressors haue offended: yea, the transgressors haue grievously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that fleeth from the noise of the feare, shall fall into the pit: and he that commeth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth doe shake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolued: the earth is moued exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquity thereof shall be heauy vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shall the Lord visit the host above that is on high, even the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together as the prisoners in the pit: and they shall shut vp in the prison, and after many dayes shall they be visited.

23 Then the moone shall be abashed and the sun ashamed, when the Lord of hostis shall reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glorie shall be before his ancient men.

no more then they did at Noahs flood. ^a There is no power so high or mighty, but God will visite him with his rods. ^a Now with his rods, as I haue said, he shall visite his Church, the glory thereof shall shine, and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the sunne and the moone shall be darkened in comparison thereof.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiving to God in that thou be strength himselfe iudge of the world by punishing the wicked and maintaining the godly.

O Lord, thou art my God, I will exalt thee, I will praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderful things, according to the counsels of old, with a stable truth.

2 For thou hast made of a ^b citie an heape, of a strong citie, a ruine: ^c even the palace of strangers of a citie, it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the ^d mighty people give glory vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, ^e even a strength to the needy in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadow against the heat: for the ^f blast of the mighty is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, as the heate in a dry place: hee will bring downe the song of the mighty, as the heat in the shadow of a cloud.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, ^e even a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine the covering that couereth all people, and the vaile that is spread vpon all nations.

8 Hee will destroy death for euer: and the Lord God will ^k wipe away the teares, from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will hee take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Loe this is our God: we haue waited for him, & he will saue vs, this is the Lord, we haue waited for him, we will reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Moab shall be threshed vnder him, ^e even as straw is threshed in ^m Madmenah.

11 And hee shall stretch out his hand in the midst of them (as hee that swimmeth stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his hands shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The offence also of the height of thy wals shall he bring downe and lay low, and cast them to the ground, ^e even vnto the dust.

i Meaning, that ignorance and blindness, whereby we are kept backe from Christ, & he will take away all occasions of sorrow, and fill his with perfect ioy, Reuel. 17. and 21. 4. 1. By Moab are meant all the enemies of this Church. m There were two cities of this name: one in Iudah, 1. Chron. 2. 29. and another in the Land of Moab, Ier. 48. 2. which seemeth to haue bene a principal place of corne, Chap. 20. 31.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithful, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

IN that day shall this thing be sung in the Land of Iudah, We haue a strong citie: ^b saluation shall God see for walles and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the truth, may enter in.

3 By an assured ^d purpose wilt thou preserve perfect peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For he will bring downe them that dwell on high: ^e the high citie hee will abate: ^e even vnto the ground will he cast it downe, & bring it vnto dust.

6 The foot shall tread it downe, ^e even the feet of the poore, and the steps of the needy.

e changed. e There is no power so high that can let God, when hee God will set the poore afflicted ouer the power of the wicked.

7 The way of the iust is righteousness: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also we, O Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy ^g iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within me will I seek thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne ^h righteousness.

10 Let mercy be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousness: in the land of vprightnesse will hee do wickedly, and will not behold the maiesty of the Lord.

11 O Lord, they will not beholde thine high hand: ⁱ but they shall see it, and bee confounded with the zeale of the people, & the fire of thine enemies shall deuour them.

12 Lord vnto vs thou wilt ordaine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, ^j abide with lords beside thee, haue ruled vs, ^k but wee will remember thee onely, and thy Name.

14 The ^l dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memory.

15 Thou hast increased ^o the nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious, thou hast enlarged all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they ^p visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth neere to the traualle, is in sorrow, and cryeth in her paines, so haue we bene in thy sight O Lord.

18 Wee haue conceived, wee haue borne in paine, as though we should haue brought forth ^r wind: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of the world fall.

19 ^q Thy dead men shall liue: ^e even with my body shall they rise. Awake & sing yee that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: enter thou into thy chambers and shut thy doore against thee: hide thy selfe for a very little while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lord cometh out of his place, to visite the iniquity of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more hide her flaine.

again by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp in ioy when they see the dew of Gods grace. x Hee exhorted the faithful to be patient in their afflictions, and to waite vpon Gods worke. y The earth shall vomite and call out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophesie against the kingdom of Sathan, 2 And of the ioy of the Church for their deliuerance.

IN that a day the Lord with his sore and great and mighty sword shall visite Liuiathan, that piercing serpent, ^e even Liuiathan that crooked serpent, & he shall lay the dragon that is in the sea. 2 In that day shall the vineyard of redde wine.

3 I the Lord doe keepe it: I will water it euery morning: lest any aslaile it, I will keep it night and day.

e Meaning, of the best wine, that this vineyard, that is, the Church, liueth bring forth, as most agreeable to the Lord.

g We haue constantly abid in the afflictions wherewith thou hast afflicted vs. h Meaning, that by afflictions men shall learne to feare God. i The wicked though God shew them euident signes of his grace, shall be neuer the better. k Though enuie and indignation against thy people The fire and vengeance, wherewith thou shalt destroy thine enemies. m The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy word. n Meaning, that the reprobate, even in this life shall haue the beginning of euertlasting death. o To wit, the company of the faithful by the calling of the Gentiles. p That is, the faithful thy rod were moued to pray vnto thee for deliuerance. q To wit, in extreme sorrow. r Our sorowes had none end, neither did we ioy the comfort that we looked for. s The wicked and men without religion, shall not be destroyed. t Hee exhorteth the faithful to their afflictions, shewing them that *eu*en in death they shall haue life, & they shall most certainly rise to glory, the contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14. u As herbes doe in winter flourish.

v The dust, shall rise vp in ioy when they see the dew of Gods grace. x Hee exhorted the faithful to be patient in their afflictions, and to waite vpon Gods worke. y The earth shall vomite and call out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

a At the time appointed. b That is, by his mighty power, and by his word. c Here prophesied here of the destruction of Sathan and his kingdom vnder the name of Liuiathan, Ashtar and Egypt.

d Therefore he will defile, the b Hagdom of Sathan, because he lo-ueth his Church
h his own metelsake, and can not be angry with it, but willerth that he may powe his anger vpon the wicked iudels,
whom he mecteth
by byres and thornes.
e He maraileth that Iſrael will not come by gentle-nelle, except God make them to feele his rodd, and to bring them vnto
to him.
f Though I ſubiſt and diſmiſh my people for a time, yet ſhall the roote being againe and bring forth in great abundance,
g He ſeeketh that God paſſeth his temper, and his mercy is in iuſtice.
h That is, you will not deſtroy the roote of this church though the branches thereof ſeeme to periſh by the blaſphemie of diſſention.
i He ſeeth that there is no penitence, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart
be purged from al
idolatrie, and the monuments thereof deſtroyed.
k Notwithſtanding his knowe that he will thew them after: yet Ieruſalem ſhall be deſtroyed, and graſe for caſtel ſhall grow in it. I God ſhall not haue need of mighty enemies: for the very weo-men ſhall do it, to their great ſhame. m He ſhall deſtroy all from Ephraim to Ninus, for ſome ſtedward Egypte thinking to haue eſcaped. n In the time of Cyruſ, by whom they ſhould bee deliuered: but this was chiefly accompliſhed vnder Cyruſ.

4 Anger d is not in mee: who would ſee the briers & the thorns againſt me in battell? I would goe through them, I would burne them together, 5 Or will hee ſeele my ſtrength, that he may make peace with me, and bee as one with me?
6 Hereafter Iakob ſhall take root: Iſrael ſhall flouriſh and grow, and the world ſhall be filled with fruit.
7 Hath hee ſmitten g him, as hee ſmore thoſe that ſmote him? or is he ſlaue according to the ſlaughter of them that were ſlaine by him?
8 In b meaſure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when he bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the Eaſt winde.
9 By this therefore ſhall the iniquitie of Iakob be purged, and this is all i fruit, the taking away of his ſin: when he ſhall make all the ſtones of the altars, as chalke ſtones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not ſtand vp.
10 Yet the d defended citie ſhall be deſolate, and the habitation ſhall be forſaken and left like a wilderneſſe. There ſhall the calf feed, and there ſhall he lie and conſume the branches thereof.
11 When the boughes of it are dry, they ſhall bee broken: the l women come and ſet them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderſtanding:
therefore he that made them, ſhall not haue com-paſſion of them, and hee that formed them, ſhall haue no mercy on them.
12 And in that day ſhall the Lord theſh from the chanel of the Ruer vnto the ruer of Egypt, and ye ſhall be gathered, one by one, O children of Iſrael.
13 In that day alſo ſhall the great trumpe bee blown, and they ſhall come, which periſhed in the land of Aſhur, and they that were chaſed into the land of Egypt, and they ſhall worſhip the Lord in the holy Mount at Ieruſalem.
14 Notwithſtanding his knowe that he will thew them after: yet Ieruſalem ſhall be deſtroyed, and graſe for caſtel ſhall grow in it. I God ſhall not haue need of mighty enemies: for the very weo-men ſhall do it, to their great ſhame. m He ſhall deſtroy all from Ephraim to Ninus, for ſome ſtedward Egypte thinking to haue eſcaped. n In the time of Cyruſ, by whom they ſhould bee deliuered: but this was chiefly accompliſhed vnder Cyruſ.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Againſt the pride and drunkenneſſe of Iſrael. 9 The vntoward-neſſe of them that ſhall, deſerue the word of God. 24 God doeth all things in time and place.

W O to the crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beauty ſhall be a fading glory, which is vpon the head of the b valley of them that bee fat, and are overcome with wine.
2 Beholde, the Lord hath a mightie and c ſtrong haile like a tempeſt of haile, and a whirle-winde that onerthroweth, like a tempeſt of mightie waters that ouerflow, which throwe to the ground mightily.
3 They ſhall bee troden vnder foot, e vnder the crownes & the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.
4 For his glorious beauty ſhall bee a fading glorie, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that bee fat, and as d the halfe fruſte afore Summer, which when hee that looketh vpon it, ſeeth it, while it is in his hand, hee eateth it.
5 In that day ſhall the Lord of hoſtes bee for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the reſidue of his people.
6 And for a ſpirit of iudgement to him that ſitteth in iudgement, and for f ſtrength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But g they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by ſtrong drinke: the Prieſt & the Prophet haue erred by ſtrong drinke: they are ſwallowed vp with wine: they haue gone aſtray through ſtrong drinke: they faile in viſion:
they ſtumble in iudgement.
8 For all their tables are full of filthie vomiting: no place is cleane.
9 Whom ſhall hee teach knowledge? and whome ſhall hee make to vnderſtand the things that he heareth them that are weaned from the milke, and drawn from the breſts.
10 For i precept muſt be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little.
11 For with a ſtammering k tongue, and with a ſtrange language ſhall hee ſpeake vnto this people.
12 Vnto whom l I hee ſaid, m This is the reſt:
n giue reſt to him that is weary, and this is the re-ſtifying, but they would not heare.
13 Therefore ſhall the worde of the o Lorde bee vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little and there a little: that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and be ſnared, and be taken.
14 Wherefore heare the worde of the Lorde ye ſcornfull men, that rule this people, which is at Ieruſalem.
15 Becauſe ye haue ſaid, We haue made a p couenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a ſcourge runne ouer, and paſſe through it ſhall not come at vs: for we haue made q full ſhood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are wee hid.
16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold,
I will lay in Zion a ſtone, r a tried ſtone, a precious corner ſtone, a ſure foundation. Hee that beleueth, ſhall not make haſte.
17 Iudgement alſo will I lay to the rule, and righeteouſneſſe to the balance, and the s haile ſhall ſweepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters ſhall ouerflow t the ſecret place.
18 And your covenant with death ſhall be diſ-annulled, and your agreement with hell ſhall not ſtand: when a ſcourge ſhall runne ouer and paſſe through them, ſhall ye be troden downe by it.
19 When it paſſeth ouer, it ſhall take you away: for it ſhall paſſe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there ſhall be onely y feare, to make you to vnderſtand the hearing.
20 For the bed is z ſtrait, that it cannot ſuffice, and the couering narrowe, that one cannot wrap himſelfe.
21 For the Lord ſhall ſtand as in mount s Parazim: he ſhall be wroth as in the valley b of Gibeon, that he may do his worke, his ſtrange worke,
and bring to paſſe his aſte, his ſtrange aſte.
22 Now therefore bee no mockers, left your bonds increaſe: for I haue heard of the Lord of hoſtes a conſumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.
23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearken ye, and heare my ſpeech.

f He will giue
conſeill to the gou-ernour ſtrength to driue the enemies in at their owne
gates.
g Meaning the hypocrites which were among them,
and were together corrupt in liſe & doctrine, which is here meant by diſſonance and vomiting.
h For there was none that was able to ſtand any good doctrine, but were fooliſh and as vinctes to yong babes.
i They muſt haue
one thing oftentimes told.
k Let one teach what he can, yet they ſhall no more vnderſtand him,
when ſhall he ſpeake
in ſtrange language.
l That is, the Prophet, whom God ſhould ſend.
m Thus the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to ſtay and reſt.

it is offered, it commeth of their own

they had ſhifted to auoid Gods iudgements, and that they could eſcape though all other periſhed.

phet condemned

hood and vanities,

ſelues, that they would truſt in theſe things.

Chriſt. 1 In the reſtitution of his Church iudgement and iuſtice ſhall reſide, u Gods correſtions and aſſiſtion. z Affliction ſhall diſſeuer their vaine confidence, which they kept ſecret to themſelues. y Terror and deſtruction ſhall make you to learne that, which exhortations and gentleneſſe could not bring you vnto. z Your affliction ſhall be ſo fore, that you are not able to endure it.
a When David ouercame the Philiftins 1 Sam 5. 24. 1 Chron. 14. 11. b Where Iſaiah diſcouered the Kings of the Amorites, Iſa. 10. 12.

e As the plowman hath his appointed time, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lord for diuergence: for the punishment some at one time, & some at another, some a lence one fort and some alterando-ther, for that his chofen feed is beaten, and tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

24 Doeth the plowman plow all the day, to fow? doeth he open, and breaks the clots of his ground?

25 When he hath made it plaine, will he not then sow the fitches, and fow cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rye in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to haue discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For fitches shal not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, & cummin with a rod.

28 Bread come when it is threshed, hee doeth not alway thresh it, neither doth the wheele of his cart still make a noyse, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.

29 This also cometh from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

A prophetic against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God which shall follow the traditions of man.

Altho' an altar, altar of the citie that David dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: let them kill lambs.

2 But I will bring the altar into distresse and there shall be heauinesse and sorrow, and it shall be vnto me like an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a citie, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speake out of the ground, and thy speech shall be as out of the dust: thy voyce also shall be out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaffe that passeth away: and it shall be in a moment, even suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flume of a de-uouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall be as a dream or vision by night: even all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, hee eateth: and when he awaketh his soule is empty: or like as a thirly man dreameth, and loe he is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold, he is faint, and his soule longeth:
so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zion.

9 Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, and make y^eu blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a spirit of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes: to the Prophets, and your chiefe Sees hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the words of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

Meaning, that it is all like either to reade, or not to reade, en- cept God open the heart to vnderstand.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that can not reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And hee shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people come neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour me with their lips, but haue removed their heart farre from me, and their feare toward mee was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore behold, I will againe doe a maruclous worke in this people, even a maruclous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wife men shall periish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe vnto them that seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lord, for their works are in darknesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of diuers shall it not be esteemed as the potters clay? for shall the worke say of him that made it, Hee made mee not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, Hee had no vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and I ebanon shall be turned into Carmel? and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the words of the booke, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darknesse.

19 The meeke of the Lord shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the Holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shall cease, and the scornfull shall be confumed: and all that hastened to inquize, shall be cut off:

21 Which made a man to sinne in the word, andooke him in a snare: which reprobued them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord vnto the house of Iacob, when he that redeemed Abraham: Iacob shall not now be confounded, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when hee feedeth his children, the worke of mine hands, in the midst of him they shall fan-cifie my Name, and sanctifie the Holy one of Iaa-kob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, and shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX

He reprooueth the iews, which in their aduersitie forget their own countrie, and implore for assistance Egyptus, to destroy the Babylonians. 16 Therefore his strength, what vnderstanding shall come against them, 18 his affliction they see to their present.

Woe to the rebellious children, faith the Lord, that take counsell, but not of mee, and couer with a cowering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to doe downe into Egypt: (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came vnto Hanes.

5 They shall be a shamed of the people that cannot profit their, nor help nor doe them good, but shall be a shame and a reproch.

k Because they are
by perities, and doe scurie in heart, as Matth. 23.

l That is, their religion was leaened
by man's doctrine and not by any word.

m Meaning, that whereas God is not a worshipped according to his word
both magistrates and ministers are but fools, and without vnder-standing.

n This is spoken of them which in heart despise Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.

o If thy craft
faile the Lord, you cannot be able to cleape mine hands no more then the clay that is in the potters hands hath power to deliuee it selfe.

p Shall there be a change of all things, and Carmel that is a plentiful place in respect of it, shall be them, may be taken as a forest, as Chap. 1.

q s. k. thus hee speaketh to comfort
the faithful.

r They that went about to find fault with the Prophets words, and would not abide admonitions, but would cuningle them and bring them into danger.

s Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding and knowledge, man cannot but still erre and murmure against him.

t The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in ambassay to seeke helpe, and abode at these cities.

6 ¶ The burden of the beasts of the South, in a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the yong and old lyon, the viper and scierie flying serpent against them that shall beare their riches vpon the shoulters of the colts, and their treasures vpon the bunches of the camels, to a people that cannot profit.

7 For the Egyptians are vanity, and they shall helpe in vaine, therefore haue I cryed vnto e her, Their strength is vnto fit full.

8 Now goe, and write it before them in a table, and note it in a booke, that it may be for the last day and for euer and euer :

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not heare the Law of the Lord.

10 Which say vnto the Seers, See not, and to the prophets, prophesie not vnto vs right things: but leake flattering things vnto vs: prophesie of errors.

11 Depart out of the way: goe aside out of the path: caueth the Holy one of Israel to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus saith the Holy one of Israel, Becau' you haue cast off this word, and trust in violence, and wickednes, and stay therupon, 13 Therefore this iniquity shall be vnto you as a breach that filleth, or a swelling in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly in a moment.

14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potters pot, which is broken without pie, and in the breaking thereof is not found a sheard to take fire out of the hearth, or to take water out of the pit.

15 For thus said the Lord God, the Holy one of Israel, In rest and quietnesse shall ye be saued: in quietnesse and in confidence shall bee your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye haue said, No, but we will flee away vpon horses. Therefore shall ye flee. We will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand as one shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as a ship mast vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon a hill.

18 Yet therefore wil the Lord waite, that he may haue mercie vpon you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of iudgement. Blessed are they that they waite for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he wil certainly haue mercie vpon thee at the voice of thy crye: when he heareth thee, he wil answere thee.

20 And when the Lord hath giuen you the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine shall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy raine.

21 And thine eares shall heare a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walke ye in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And ye shall pollute the covering of the images of silver, and the rich ornament of thine images of gold, and cast them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall hee giue raine vnto thy feede, when thou shalt fowle the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and as oyle: in that day shall thy cattell bee fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen also and the yong asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane prouender, which is winowed with the shouell and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euery hie mountaine, and vpon euery hie hill shall there be riuers and freames of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towres shall fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the Moone shall be as the light of the sunne, and the light of the sunne shall be seuen fold, and like the light of seuen dayes in the day that the Lord shall bind vp the breach of his people, and heale the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the Name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauy: his lips are full of indignation and his tongue is a denouncing fire.

28 And his spirit is as a river that ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it diuideth asunder, to faine the nations with the fanne of a vanitie, and there shall be a bridle to caue them to erre in the iawes of the people.

29 But there shall be a song vnto you as in the night, when a solemn feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lord, to the Mightie one of Irael.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall declare the lighting downe of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a denouncing fire, with scattering and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For with the voice of the Lord shall Ashtar be destroyed, which smote with the rod.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shall passe, it shall cleaue fast which the Lord shall lay vpon him with tabrets and harpes, and with battels, and lifting vp of hands shall he fight against it.

33 For Tophet is prepared of old: it is euen prepared for the King: he hath made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuer of brimstone, doeth kinde it.

34 Here it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented, so that their estate or degree cannot exempt the wicked, speeches are declared the condition of the wicked after this life.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Hee carth seemeth forsake God, and seeketh for the help of man.

2 ¶ Vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they be very strong: but they looke not vnto the Holy one of Israel, nor beseeke vnto the Lord.

3 But he yet is wisest: therefore he wil bring euill, and not turne backe his word, but he wil arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

4 Now the Egyptians are men and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirit: and when the Lord shall stretch out his hand, the helper the superstition & idolatry of the Egyptians, and so forsake God, that they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly not trust in both. e And knoweth their craftie enterprises, not. d Meaning, both the Egyptians and the israelites.

shall

x By these diuers manner of speech he sheweth that the felicitie of the Church shall be great, that none is able sufficiently to expresse it.

CHAP. XXXII.

The condition of good rulers and officers described by the government of Hezekiah, with a description of the figure of Christ.

BEhold, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the Princes shall rule in iudgement.

2 And that man shall bee as a hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a drie place, and as the shadow of a great rocke in a weary land.

3 The eyes of the seeing shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutert shall be ready to speake distinctly.

5 A niggard shall no more be called liberrall, nor the churlerich.

6 But the niggard will speake of niggardnes, and his heart will worke iniquity, and do wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make emptie the hungry soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirftie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: hee deuiceth wicked counsels to vndoe the poore with lying words: and to speake against the poore in iudgment.

8 But the liberrall man will deuise of liberrall things, and he will continue his liberralie.

9 Rise vp ye women that are at ease: heare my voyce, ye carelesse daughters hearken to my words

10 Yee women that are carelesse, shall bee in feare & aboute a yere in dayes: for the vintage shall faile, and the gatherings shall come no more.

11 Yee women, that are at ease, bee alonied; feare, O yee carelesse women: put off the clothes: make bare, and gird sackclothes vpon the loynes.

12 Men shall lament for their teares: even for the pleasant fields and for the fruitful vine.

16 And iudgement shall dwell in the desert, and iustice shall remaine in the fruitful field.

17 And the worke of iustice shall be peace, even the worke of iustice and quietnesse, and assurance for euer.

18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.

19 When it haileth, it shall fall on the forest, and the citie shall be left in the low place.

20 Blessed are ye that low vpon all waters, and drive thither the feet of the oxe and the asse, and they that had some beginning of goodlines, shall bring forth fruit in such abundance that their former life shall seeme but as a wilderness, where no fruits were. n They shall not need to build it in high places for feare of the enemy: for God will defend it, and turne away the stormes for hurting of their communities. o That is, vpon far ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance, or in places which before were covered with waters, and now made drie for your vices.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of Seneherib whom God hath punished by his Church.

WO to thee that spoylest, and wast not spoiled: and doest wickedly, and they did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt cease to spoile, thou shalt be spoiled: when thou shalt make an end of doing wickedly, they shall doe wickedly against thee.

2 O Lord haue mercie vpon vs, wee haue waited for thee: be thou, which wast their arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult, the people fled: at thine exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoyle shall be gathered like the gathering of caterpillers: and hee shall goe against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on high: he hath builded Zion with iudgment & iustice.

6 And there shall be stability of thy times, strength, aluation, wisdom, and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shall be his treasure.

7 Behold, their messengers shall cry without, & the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.

8 The paths are waste: the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the couenant: hee hath contemned the cities: he regarded no man.

9 The earth mourneth and fainthe: Lebanon is ashamed and hewen downe: Sharon is like a wilderness, and Babylon is shaken and Carmel.

10 Now will I arise, faith the Lord: now will I be exalted, now will I lift vp my selfe.

 feasts: thine eyes shall see Ierusalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that cannot be removed:
 and the stakes thereof can neuer be taken away, neither shall any of the cordes thereof be broken.

21 For surely there the mighty Lord will bee vnto vs, as a place of floodes and broad riuers, whereby shall passe no shippe with oares, neither shall great shippe passe thereby.

22 For the Lord is our Iudge, the Lord is our lawgiuer: the Lord is our King, he will faue vs.

 and all their hostes shall fall as the leaue fallth

 Satyre shall crie to his fellow, and the shrill owle shall rest there, and shall finde for her selfe a quiet dwelling.

15 There shall the owle make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather them vnder her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, euery one with her make.

16 Seeke in the booke of the Lord, and readi-none of these shall faile, none shall want her make: for his mouth hath commanded, and his very spirit hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath diuided it vnto them by line: they shall possesse it for euer: from generation to generation shall they dwell in it.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Saneheribh Iudeah Ra. Phakes to besiege Ierusalem. 15 His blasphemies against God.

Now in the fourteenth yeere of king Hezekiah, Saneheribh king of Ashur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, & took them.

2 And the King of Ashur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto king Hezekiah, with a great host, & he flood by the conduit of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came fourth vnto him Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Alaph the Recorder.

4 And Rabshakeh sayd vnto them, Telyou Hezekiah, I pray you, thus saith the great King, the king of Ashur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, Surely I haue eloquence, but counsel & strength are for the warre: on whom then dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede, on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand and pierce it, so as Pharaoh king of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, Wee trust in the Lord our God, is not that he, whose his places, & whose altars Hezekiah took down, & said to Iudah and to Ierusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the king of Ashur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses if thou bee able on thy part to fit riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou despise any captaine of the least of my lords seruantes? and put thy trust on Egypt for charres and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto me, I goe vp against this land and destroy it.

11 Then said Eliakim, and Shebna, and Ioah vnto Rabshakeh, Speake I pray thee, to thy seruantes in Aramites language (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Tewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent mee to thy master, and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall?

And hee would deceiue them, to yeeld himselfe to the Assyrians, and so not hope for any helpe of God, for, I haue becke. Hee reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Saneheribs least captaines. I Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord: but we mult trie the spirits, whether they be of God or no. k They were afraid, left by his wordes he should haue flattered the people against the king, and also pretended to grow to some appointment with him.

that they may eat their owne doung, and drinke their owne pissle with you?

13 So Rabshakeh flood, and cried with a loud voyce in the Tewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Ashur.

14 Thus saith the King, I et not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliue vs: this cite shal not bee giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Ashur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus sayth the king of Ashur, Make appointment with mee, and come out to mee, that euery man may eat of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figge, and drinke euery man the water of his owne well.

17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyards,

18 Left Hezekiah deceiue you, saying, The Lord will deliue vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Asur?

19 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who is hee among all the goddes of these lands, that hath deliuered their cuntry out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliue Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the Kings commandment was saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the Chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Alaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 Hezekiah heareth counsel of Ioah, who prayeth him the Lord. 10 The blasphemie of Saneherib. 16 Hezekiahs prayer. 35 The arme of Saneherib in shame of the Angel. 38 And he himselfe is slain by the ierusalem.

And when the king Hezekiah heard it, hee rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and came into the House of the Lord.

2 And hee sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the Chancellor, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackcloth vnto Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard the wordes of Rabshakeh, whome the king of Ashur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reproch him with wordes, which the Lord thy God hath heard, then I lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the king of Ashur haue blasphemed mee.

that I was not able

o To wit sorrow and griefe both of body and mind.

37 And finde, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept fore.

38 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Ishaiah, saying,

39 Go, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I have heard thy prayer; and senecthy teares: behold, I will adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yeeres.

40 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the King of Asshur, and this cite: for I will defend this cite.

41 And this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe this thing that hee hath spoken,

42 Beholde, I will bring againe the shadow of the degrees (whereby it is gone downe in the dial of Ahaz by the sunne) ten degrees backward: so the sunne returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone downe.

43 ¶ The writing of Hezekiah king of Iudah, when hee had bin sicke, and was recovered of his sickness.

44 I laid in the cutting off of my daies, I shall go to the gates of the graue. I am deprived of the residue of my yeeres.

45 I said, I shall not see the Lord, when the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shall fee man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

46 Mine habitation is departed, and is remooued from me, like a shepherds tent: I haue cut off like a weauer my life: he will cut me off from the height: from day to night, thou wilt make an end of mee.

47 I reckoned 1 to the morning: but he brake all my bones, like a lion: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

48 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter:
I did moune as a dove: mine eyes were lift vp on hie: O Lord, O hath oppressed me, comfort me.

49 What shall I say? or hee hath said it to me, and hee hath done it: I shall walke weakly all my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.

50 O Lord, vnto them that ouerline them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall bee known, that thou causedst me to sleepe, and hast giuen life to me.

51 Behold, for thy felicity I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sinnes behind thy backe.

52 For in the graue cannot confesse thee: death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy trouth.

53 But the liuing, the liuing, hee shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the children shall declare thy trouth.

54 The Lord was ready to saue mee: therefore

God hath declared by his Prophet that I shall die, & therefore I will yeeld vnto him. I shall haue no release, but continually sorrowe while I liue. ¶ They that ouerline them that are ouerlaid, and all they that are in the yeeres shall acknowledge his benefits. ¶ That after that thou hadst condemned mee to death, thou restoredst mee to life. ¶ Whereas I thought to haue liued in rest and ease being deliuered from mine enemy, I had griefe vpon griefe.
¶ Hee effected more the redemption of his sinners, and Gods louing, then a thousand times. ¶ A Fox which had giuen place man in this world to glorifie him, now hee take it as his wrath when they dayes were shortened, either because they seemed vnworthy for their sinnes to liue longer in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glory, seeing that there are so fewe in earth that doe regard it, Plaine 6. 2. and 14. 17. ¶ All posterity shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their duty toward their children shall instruct them in thy graces and merciounesse and me.

we will sing my song, all the dayes of your life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then said Ishaiah, Take a lump of dry figs and lay it vpon the boyles, and he shall recouer.

22 Also Hezekiah had said, What is the signe, that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord?

C H A P. XXXIX.

Hezekiah is reproached because hee flattered his selfe, vnto the ambassadors of Babylon.

AT the same time, as Merodach Baladan the sonne of Baladan, king of Babel sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the gold, and the pices, and the precious oymen-t, and all the house of his armour, and al that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Ishaiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, and sayd vnto him, What haide these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah sayd, They are come from a farre country vnto me, from Babel.

4 Then said he, What haue they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Ishaiah said to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord of hostes,

6 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntill this day, shall be caried to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes that shall proceed out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuches in the palace of the king of Babel.

8 ¶ Then said Hezekiah to Ishaiah, The word of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and hee sayde, Yet let there be peace, and trouth in my dayes.

16 A voice said, cry. And he said, What shall I cry? all flesh is grass, and all the grace thereof was the flower of the field.

17 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people are grass.

18 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.

19 O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain: O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength: lift up thy voice, be not afraid: say unto the cities of Judah, Behold, a your God.

20 Behold, the Lord God will come with power, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

21 Hee shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall guide them with a young.

22 Who hath measured the waters in his fist? and counted heaven with the spanne, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure? and weighed the mountaines in a weight, and the hills in a balance?

23 Who hath instructed the spirit of the Lord? or was his counsellor, or taught him?

24 Of whom took he counsel, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of judgment? or taught him knowledge, and shewed unto him the way of vnderstanding?

25 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the balance: behold, he taketh away the yles as a little dust.

26 And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

27 All nations before him are as a nothing, and they are counted to him, lesse then nothing, and vanity.

28 To whom then a wil ye liken God? or what similitude will ye set vpon him?

29 The workman man melteth an image, or the goldsmith beatech it out in golde, or the goldsmith maketh silver plates.

30 Doeth not a the poore chuse out a tree that will not rot, for an oblation? he seeketh also vnto him a cunning workman, to prepare an image, that shall not be moued.

31 know ye nothing? haue ye not heard? it hath it not bene tolde you from the beginning? haue ye not vnderstood it by the a foundation of the earth?

32 He sitteth vpon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, hee stretcheth out the heauens as a curtaine, & spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in.

33 He bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the iudges of the earth as vanity.

34 As though they were not planted, as though they were not sown, as though their stock tooke no roote in the earth: for he did euen blow vpon them, and they withered, and the weirewind will take them away as stubble.

35 To whom now will ye liken mee, that I should be like him, sayth the Holy one?

36 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, and bringeth about their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatnes of his power and mighty strength nothing faileth.

37 Why sayest thou, O Iakob, and speakest, O Israel, a My way is hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God?

38 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the euellasting God, the Lord hath created the ends of the earth? he neither fainteth, nor is weary: there is no searching of his vnderstanding.

39 But he giueth strength vnto him that fainteth, and vnto him that hath no strength, hee encreaseth power.

40 Euen the young men shall faint, and bee weary, and the young men shall stumble and fall.

41 But they that wait vpon the Lord, shall renew their strength: they shall lift vp the wings, as the eagles: they shall run, and not bee weary, and they shall walke and not faint.

CHAP. XLI.

a God mercy in showing his people, & their idolatry. 27 Delirance promise to Zion.

1 Bepe a silence before me, O ylands, and let the people a renew their strength: let them come neere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgment.

2 Who raised vp a justice from the East, and called him to his foot? and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the kings? hee gaue them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble vnto his bowe.

3 Hee pursued them, and passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 Who hath wrought & done it? he that callest the a generations from the beginning. I the Lord a am the first, & with the last I am the same.

8 But thou, Israel art my seruant, and thou Iakob, whom I haue chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.

9 For I haue taken thee from the ends of the earth, and called thee before the chiefe thereof, and sayd vnto thee, Thou art my seruant: I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afraid, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, and helpe thee, and will susteine thee with the a right hand of my iustice.

11 Behold, all they that prouoke thee, shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that strue with thee shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seeke them and shalt not find them, a nor wilt thou find them, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that warre against thee, as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Feare not, thou a worme Iakob, and yet

^a Because they will not acknowledge the benefit of the Lord, who is ready to deliver them from their sinfulness: they be spoiled of their enemies through their unbelief and incontinence. ^b A The Lord will not move to sinners, who will be the enemies of his elect, who he hath spoiled. ^c Meaning, Gods wrath.

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousnes sake, that he may magnifie the law, and exalt it.
 22 But this people is ^a robbed & spoiled, and shall be al inured in dungeons; and they shall be hid in prison houses: they shall be for a pray, and none shall deliver a spoile, and none shall say, Restore.
 23 Who among you shall hearken to this, and take heed, and heare for afterwards?
 24 Who gaue Iacob for a spoile, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lord, because wee have sinned against him? for they would not walk in his wayes, neither be obedient vnto his Law.
 25 Therefore bee both powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battell: and it set him on fire round about, and he knew not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

CHAP. XLIII.

^a The Lord comforteth his people, who propounde deliverance to his elect. ^b Teturum God will alway.

Be now thus saith the Lord ^a that created thee O Iacob: and he that formed thee, O Israel.
 Fear not: for I haue redeemed thee: I haue called thee by thy Name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee, & through the floods, that they doe not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkest through the very fire, thou shalt not bee burnt, neither shall the flame kinde vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy One of Israel, thy saviour: I gaue ^a Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honorable, & I loued thee, therefore will I giue ^a man for thee, and people for thy sake.

5 Fear not for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Give: and to the South, Keepe not backe: bring my seruants from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth.

7 Every one shall bee called by my Name: for I created him for my glory, foined him and made him.

8 I will bring forth the blind people, and they shall haue eyes, and the deafe, and they shall haue eares.

9 Let all the nations bee gathered together, and let the people bee assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew vs former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be iustified: but let them heare, and say, It is truth.

10 You are my witnesses: saith the Lord, and my seruant, whom I haue chosen: thereore ye shall know and beleue me; and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, even I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Saviour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue sated, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliver out of mine hand: I will doe it, and who shall let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel, For you saie I haue sent to Babylon, and brought it downe: they are al fugitives, and the Chaldeans are in the ships.

15 I am the Lord your holy One, the creator of Israel your king.

16 Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters.

17 When hee bringeth out the charer and horie, the armie, and the power lie together, and shall not rise; they are extinct, and quenched as towes.

18 Remember yee not the former things, neither regard the things of old.

19 Behold I do a new thing: now shall it come forth: that you not know it? I will euen make a way in the desert, and floods in the wilderness.

20 The wilde beastes shall honour mee, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall shew forth my praise.

22 And thou hast not called vpon me, O Iacob, but thou hast wearied me, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought mee the sheepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hath thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue wth an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou boughtest mee no sweete savour with money, neither hast thou made me drunke with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made mee to serue with thy finnes, and wearied mee with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I am he that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy finnes.

26 Put me in remembrance: let vs be iudged together: count thou; thou mayest be iustified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers haue transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I haue prophaned the rulers of the Sanctuary, and haue made Iacob a curse, and Israel a reproch.

e By this diversity of speech he meaneth one thing, that is, that the people shall be holy, and receive the true religion of God, as Psal. 85. 1. I am always like my selfe that is merciful toward my Church and most able to maintain it as Chap. 4. 1. and 48. 2. such. 1. 17. and 12. g And appoint them that shall deliver the Church. h That is, declare vnto me how I ought to proceed herein. i God calleth the Idollaters ancient because he preferred them to all other in his eternal election k Meaning, their idoles. l Reade Chap. 43. 10. m Whatsoever they bestow vpon their idoles to make them to seeme glorious, n That is, the idollaters seeing their idoles blind must needs be witnesses of their owne blindness, and feeling that they are not able to helpe them must confesse that they haue no power. o Meaning that whatsoever is made by the hand of man, it is esteemed as God, is most detestable. p Whereby appeareth their blasphemy, which call images the bookes of the Idollaters, seeing that they are not onely here called vnprescribable, but Chap. 43. 14. abominable. q Ieremy call them the worke of errouers, Iere. 1. 15. e shall be called by the name of Iakob : and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel. 6 Thus saith the Lord the king of Israel and his redeemer, the Lord of hosts, 1 I am the first, & I am the last, and without me there no God. 7 And who is like mee, that shall I call and shall declare it, and set it in order before me, since I appointed the ancient people : and what is at hand, and what things are to come ? let k them shew vnto them. 8 Feare ye not, neither be afraid : haue not I told thee of old, and haue declared it : you are euen my witnesses, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not. 9 All they that make an image, are vanities, and their detestable things shall nothing profit : and they are their owne witnesses, n that they see not, nor know : therefore they shall be confounded. 10 Who hath made a o god, or molten an image, that is profitable for nothing ? 11 Behold, all that are of the fellowship thereof, shall be confounded : for the workemen themselves are men : let them all be gathered together and stand vp, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together. 12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coales, & fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his armes : yea, he is an hungred, and his strength faileth, he drinketh no water, and is faint. 13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line : he fashioneth it with a red dreh, he plaineth it, & hee putteth it in the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, a d according to the beauty of a man, that it may remaine in a house. 14 He will hew him down cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest : he planteth a firre tree, and the raine doeth nourish it. 15 And man burneth thereof : for he will take thereof, and warme himselfe : hee also kindleth it, and baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, and worshippeth it : he maketh it an idole, and boweth vnto it. 16 Hee burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe thereof hee x eateth flesh : he roseth the roste, and is satisfied : also he warmeth himselfe, and saith, Ah, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire. 17 And the residue thereof hee maketh a god, euen his idole : he boweth vnto it, & worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and sayeth, Deliver mee : for thou art my god. 18 They haue not knownen, nor vnderstood : y for God hath thur their eyes that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand. 19 And none t considereth in his heart, neither u there knowledge nor vnderstanding to say I haue burnt halfe of it euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coales thereof : I haue roasted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination ? shall I bow to the stocke of a tree ? 20 He feedeth z of ashes : a seduced heart hath deceived him that he cannot deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand ? 21 Remember these (O Iakob and Israel) for thou art my seruant : I haue formed thee : thou art my seruant : O Israel forget me not. 22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloud, and thy finnes as a mist, turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee. 23 b Reioyce ye heavens : for the Lord hath done it : shout, ye lower parts of the earth : brag forth in praises, ye mountains, O forest, and euery tree therein : for the Lord hath redeemed Iakob, and he will be glorified in Israel. 24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, and hee that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord that made all things, that spread out the heavens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe. 25 I destroy the tokens of the soothsayers, and make them that coniecture, fooles, and turne the wise men backward, and make their knowledge foolishnesse. 26 ¶ He confirmeth the word of his d seruant, and permitteth the counsel of his messengers, saying to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited, and to the cities of Iudah, Ye shall be built vp, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof. 27 Hee sayth to the e deepe, Be dry, and I will dry vp thy floods. 28 ¶ He saith to Cyrus, Thou art my shepheard : and he shall performe all my desire, saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be built : and to the Temple Thy foundation shall be surely layd, and deliuerance. e He sheweth that Gods work should be no less notable in them than when he brought them out of Egypt though the sea. f To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the person by whom it should be more then an hundred years before he was borne.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 2 God is in all his works. 30 The ending of the historie.

T Thus saith the Lord vnto a Cyrus his anointed, whose right hand I haue holden to subdue nations before him : therefore will I weaken the loynes of kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut. 2 I will go before thee, & make thee d crooked straight : I will breake the brazen doores, and burst the yron barres. 3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darkness, and the things hid in secret places, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel. 4 For Iakob my seruants f sake, and Israel mine elect, I will enen call thee by thy name, and name thee, though thou hast not knowne me. 5 I am the Lord, and there is none other : there is no God besides me : I regarded thee though thou hast not knowne me. 6 That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the West, that there is none besides me, I am the Lord, and there is none other. 7 I forme the light, and create darkenes : I knowledge as prophane men may base of his power, & so was compelled to deliuer Gods people. f Not for any thing that is in thee, or for the worthinesse. g I haue giuen thee strength power and authority. h I send peace and warre, prosperitie and aduersitie, Amos. 3. 6.

10 Woe vnto him that sayeth to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?

15 Verily, thou O God, ^a hastest thy selfe, O God, the Saviour of Israel.

16 All they shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shall go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be saved in the Lord, with an euermaking saluation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe that formed the earth, & made it: he that prepared it, hee created it not in vaine: he formed it to be inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secret, neither ^a in a place of darkness in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto the seed of Iacob, Seek ye me: I the Lord doe speake righteousness, and declare righteous things.

CHAP. XLVI.

The destruction of Babylon and of their waies. 3 He calleth the towers in the confiration of his waies.

Babylon is bowed downe: Nebo is fallen: their Idols were vpon the beasts, and vpon the cattell: they which had beare you, were laden with a weary burden.

2 They are bowed downe, and fallen together: for they could not rid them of the burden, and their ^a soule is gone into captivity.

3 Heare ye me, O house of Iacob; and all that remaine of the house of Israel, which are borne of me from the wombe, and brought vp of mee from the birth.

4 Therefore vnto old age, I the same, euen I will beare you, vntill the hoare haire: I haue made you: I will also beare you, and I will carry you, and I will deliuer you.

5 ¶ To whom will ye make me like, or make me equal, or compare me that I should be like him?

6 They draw gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, and they bow downe and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulders, they carry him and let him in his place: fo doth he stand, and cannot remoue from his place. Though one cry vnto him, yet can he not answer, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe to ^a mind, O ye transgressors.

9 Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me.

10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from old the things that were not done, saying, My counsell shall stand, and I will doe what I please.

11 I will call a bird from the East, and the man of my ^a counsell from farre: as I haue spoken, so will I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I will doe it.

12 Heare me, ye stubburne hearted, that are farre from iustice.

13 I bring mineere my iustice: it shall not be far off, & my saluation shall not cary: for I will giue saluation in Zion, and my glory vnto Israel.

f Seeing I haue begotten you, I will nourish and preserve you for ever.

g The people of God, feeling their owne calamity and the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, should be tempted to thinke that their God was not so mighty as the idoles of their enemies: therefore hee denieth the original of all the idoles to make them to be abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can be spoken in their commendation, is but to proue them

5 Sit still, and get thee into darkenesse, O daughter of the Caldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The Lady of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, & given them into thine hand:
thou didst shew them no mercy, but thou didst lay thy very heavy yoke vpon the ancient,

7 And thou saydest, I shall be a lady for euer, for that thou didst not let my minde to these things, neither didst thou remember y^e latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, and dwellest carelesse, she sayeth in her heart, I am & none els: I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the losse of children.

9 But these two things shall come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children & widowhood: they shall come vpon thee in their perfection for the multitude of thy diuinations, and for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse:
thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge they have caused thee to rebel, thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shall come vpon thee suddenly, or thou be ware.

12 Stand now among the inchanters, and in the multitude of thy soothsayers (with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe from thy youth) if so be thou mayest haue profit, or if so be thou mayest haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counseils: let now the astrologers, the starre ga-zers, and prognosticators stand vp, and saue thee from these things that shall come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shall burne them: they shall not deliuer their owne lives from the power of the flame: there shall be no coales to warme, at any light to sit by.

15 Thus shall they see thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, when thy merchants from thy youth: euery one shall wander to his owne quarter: none shall saue thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The hypocrite of the times is reproved. 11 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 His seruants come of Babylon

Heare ye this, O house of Iakob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of the waters of Iudah which sweare by the Name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth nor in righteousness.

2 For they are called of the holy cite, and say themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord our hostes.

3 They have declared the former things of old, and they went out of my mouth, & I shewed them:
I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew that thou art of sinate, and thy necke is an yron sinew, and thy brow brasie,

5 Therefore I have declared it to thee of old:
before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldst say, Mine idol hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, and will not see: I declare it: I have shewed thee new things euen now, and hidde things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of old, and euen before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldst say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest know them, neither yet was thine ear opened of old: for I knew that thou wouldest grievously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressor from the wombe.

9 For my Names sake will I defer my wrath, and for my praise will I refrain it from thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold I haue fined thee, but not as silver,
I haue chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine own sake, for mine own sake will I do it: for how should my Name be polluted?
surely I will not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Iakob and Israel, my called,
I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, & my right hand hath spanned the hea-uens: when I call them, they stand vp together.

14 All your, assemblie you fluney, and heare:
which among them hath declared these things?
The Lord hath loued him: he will do his will in Babel, and his arme shall be against the Caldeans.

15 I, when I haue spoken it, and I haue called him, I haue brought him, & his way shall prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret from the beginning: from the now: that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his Spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee to protest, and lead thee by the way that thou shouldst goe.

18 Oh, that thou hadst hearkened to my com-mandements: I then had thy prosperity bin as the flood, & thy righteousness as the waves of the sea.

19 Thy seed also had bene as the sand, and the fruite of thy body like the grauell thereof: his name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 Go ye out of Babel: see ye from the Cal-deans, with a voyce of ioy: tell and declare this:
shew it forth to the end of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iakob.

21 And they were not thirftie: hee led them thorow the wilderness: hee caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for hee claued the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

What things shall doe thee good. That is, the prosperous estate of Israel.
y After that he had forewarned them of their captivity, and of the reuelation, he sheweth them the greatness that shall come of their deliverance. z Hee sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as hee did their out of Egypt. a Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in whom was neuer faith nor repentance, as Chap 57. 11.

6 Christ is the deliverer of all that believe, and will deliver them from the tyranny of their enemies.

Hear ye me, O yles, and hearken, ye people from farre. The Lord hath called ^a me from ^b the wombe, & made mention of my name from my mothers belly.

² And he hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword: vnder the shadow of his hand hath ^c he hid me, and made me a choisen shaft, and hid me in his quiver;

³ And sayd vnto mee, Thou art my seruant, ^d Israel, for I will be glorious in thee.

⁴ And I sayd, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine, and for nothing: but my iudgement ^e with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

⁵ And now faith the Lord, that formed mee from the wombe to bee his seruant, that I may bring Iakob againe to him (though Israel bee not gathered, ^f yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shall be my strength.)

⁶ And he sayd, It is a small thing that thou shouldst be my seruant to raise vp the tribes of Iakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my saluation vnto the end of the world.

⁸ Thus faith the Lord, ^h In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluation haue I helped thee: and I will preſerue thee, and will giue ⁱ thee for a covenant of the people, that thou mayest raise vp ^j the ^k earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

¹⁰ They shall not be hungry, neither shall they be thirstie, neither shall the heate smite them nor the sunne: for he that hath compassion ⁿ on them, shall leade them: euen to the fountains of water shall he drue them.

¹¹ And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my paths shall be exalted.

¹⁸ Lift vp thine eyes round about and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I live, sayth the Lord, thou shalt surely ^x put them all vpon thee as a garment, and gird thy selfe with them like a bride:

¹⁹ For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land defoyled, shall surely be now narrow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that shall desire thee shall be farre away.

²⁰ The children of thy barrennesse shall say againe in thine eares, The place is strait for mee: giue place to me that I may dwell.

²² Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will lift vp mine hand to the ^y Gentiles, and set vp my standard to the people, and they shall bring thy sonnes in their armes: and thy daughters shall be carried vpon their shoulders.

²⁴ Shall the pray be ^{ab} taken from the mighty? or the iust captiue deliuered?

²⁵ But thus faith the Lord, ^{ac} Euen the captiue-ty of the mighty shall be taken away: and the pray of the tyrant shall be deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will saue thy children,

²⁶ And will feede them that spoyle thee, with their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with sweet wine: & all flesh shall knowe that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Iakob.

m The Prophet doth reſpect here the perſon and charge of them that are iuſtly called to the ministry of Gods word:

n To him that is, oppressed by affliction and miſery.

o Am I too late to helpe you, as I haue holpen your fathers of olde, when I dried vp the red sea, and killed the fish in the ri- uers, and also afterwards in Iordan?

p The Prophet doth reſpect here the perſon and charge of them that are iuſtly called to the ministry of Gods word:

q To him that is, oppressed by affliction and miſery.

i As they that are taught and made meeke by him. k I did not shrink from God for any persecution or calamitie. Whereby he sheweth that the true ministers of God can looke for none other recompense of the wicked but after this sort, and also what is their comfort.

l Shewing that it is a rare thing that any should doe right God true ministers, though they labour to bring them from hell to heauen. m You haue taught consolation by your owne deuises, and haue refused the light, and consolation which God hath offered: therefore ye shall remaine in sorrow, and not be comforted.

a He comforteth the Church, that they should not be discouraged for their small number b That is, to Abraham, of whom ye were begotten, and to Sarah, of whom ye were borne.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, neither turned I backe.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the^k smiters, and my cheekes to the nippers: I hidde not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 Ho is neere that iustificeth me: who wil contend with me? Let vs stand together: who is mine aduersary? let him come neere to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God will helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? loe, they shall waxe old as a garment: the mothe shall eate them vp.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him heare the voyce of his seruant: hee that walketh in darknesse and hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and stay vpon his God.

11 Beholde, all you kinde ^a a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes: walk in the light of your fire: and in the sparkes that ye haue kindled. This shall ye haue of mine hand: ye shall lie downe in sorrow.

CHAP. LI.

1 To trust in God alone by Abraham example. 2 Right to feare men, 17 The great affliction of Ierusalem, 22 and her deliuerance.

HEARE me ^a ye that follow after righteousness, and ye that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the rocke whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone: and blessed him and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: ioy and gladnesse shall be found therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken ye vnto me my people, and giue eare vnto me, O my people: for a Law shall proceed from me, and I will bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My^c righteousness is neere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine^f armes shall iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the^g heauens shall vanish away like smoake, and the earth shall waxe old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall perish in like manner: but my saluation shall be for euer, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken vnto me ye that know righteousness: the people in whose heart ^h is my Law. Feare ye not the reproch of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the mothe shall eate them vp like a garment, and the worme shall eate them like wooll: but my righteousness shall be for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, Rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp as in the old time in the generations of the world. Art not thou the same, that hath cut ⁱ Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dryed the Sea, when the waters of the great deepe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall I returne, and come with ioy vnto Zion, and euermore lasting ioy shall be vpon their head: they shall obtaine ioy and gladnesse: I and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, when I am he, that comfort you. Who are thou, that thou shouldst feare a mortal man, and the sonne of man, which shall be made as grasie?

13 And forgetteth the Lord thy maker, that hath spread out the heauens, and laid the foundations of the earth, and hath feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue^o hatheneth to be loosed, and that he should not dye in the pit, nor that his bread should faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the sea when his waues roared: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

16 And I haue put my words in thyⁿ mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the^o heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Ierusalem, which hath drunken at the hand of the Lord the cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes, whom she hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that she hath brought vp.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who wilt lament thee? desolation and destruction and famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, & lie at the head of all the strettes as a wilde bull in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I haue taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, euen the dregs of the cup of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoile thee: which haue laid to my foule, Bow downe, that we may go ouer, and thou shalt lay thy body as the ground, and as the strette to them that went ouer.

CHAP. LII.

1 A consolation to the people of God. 7 Of the misfortune thereof.

ARise, arise: put on thy strength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beauty, O Ierusalem the holy cite: for henceforth thou shalt no more come into thee the vncircumcised and the vncleane.

2 Shake thy selfe from the dust: arise, and sit downe: O Ierusalem, loose the bands of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter, Zion.

⁴ For this faith the Lord God, My people went downe aforetime into Egypt to sojourne there, and Ashur e oppressed them without cause.

⁵ Now therefore what have I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for nought, & they that rule over them, make them to howle, saith the Lord? and my Name all the day continually is blasphemed?

⁶ Therefore my people shall know my Name: therefore shall they know in that day, that I am he that do speake: behold, it is I.

⁹ O ye desolate places of Ierusalem, be glad and reioyce together, for the Lord hath comforted his people: he hath redeemed Ierusalem.

¹⁰ The Lord hath made bare his holy arme in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth shall see the saluation of our God.

¹¹ Depart, depart yee: goe out from thence and touch no vncleane thing: goe out of the mids of her, be ye cleane, that I beare the vessels of the Lord.

¹² For ye shall not goe out with hast, nor depart by fleeing away: but the Lord wil go before you, & the God of Israel wil gather you together.

¹³ Behold, my seruant shall prosper, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

¹⁴ As many were astonished at thee (his visage was so deformed of men, and his forme of the sonnes of men) so shall hee sprinkle many nations: the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not bene told them, shall they see, and that which they had not heard, shall they vnderstand.

⁴ Surely he hath borne our infirmities, and carried our sorrowes: yet wee did iudge him as plagued, and smitten of God, and humbled.

⁵ But he was wounded for our transgressions: he was broken for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was vpon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

⁶ All wee like sheepe haue gone astray: wee haue turned euerie one to his owne way, and the Lord hath laid vpon him the iniquity of vs all.

⁹ And he made his graue with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though hee had done no wickednesse, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

¹⁰ Yet the Lord would breake him and make him subiect to infirmities: when he shall make his soule an offering for sinne, he shall see seed, and shall prolong his dayes, and the will of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

¹¹ Hee shall see of the trouble of his soule, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous seruant iustifie many: for he shall beare their iniquities.

9 For as the heauens are higher then the earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughts aboue your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine cometh downe, and the snow from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may giue feed to the fower, and bread vnto him that eateth.

11 So shall my word be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall goe out with ioy, and be led forth with peace: the mountaines and the hills shall breake forth before you into ioy, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 For thornes there shall grow fire trees: for nettles shall grow the myrrhe tree, and it shall be to the Lord ^o for a name, and for an euermlasting signe that shall not be taken away.

CHAP. LVI.

x An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against shepherds that despoile their flocke.

THUS saith the Lord, 2 Keepe iudgement and doe iustice, for my saluation is at hand to come, and my righteousness shall be revealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which layeth hold on it: hee that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteh it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which is ioyned to the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separated me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunuches, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth me, and take hold of my covenant,

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine House, and within my walls, a place, and a name better then of the sonnes, and of the daughters: I will giue them an euermlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, and to loue the Name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteh it not, and embraceth my covenant,

7 Them will I bring also to mine holie mountain, and make them ioyfull in mine House of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted vpon mine altar: for mine yea, vnder Christ the dignitie of the faithfull shall be greater: hee that leueth was as to whom the faithfull offer: conuall thanksgiving: yea, themselves and all that they haue, as a liuely and acceptable sacrifice.

h To wit, the Gentiles, which before thou didst not receive to be thy people.

i When he effecteth himselfe by the preaching of his word, hee hereby becometh that repentance must be ioyned with faith, & how we cannot call vpon God aright, except the fruits of our faith appeare.

l Although you are not soone reconciled one to another, and iudge me by your iudges, yet I am most easie to be reconciled.

m I offer my mercies to you.

n If these small things haue their effect as daily experience sheweth, much more all my promise which I haue made and confirmed, bring to passe the things which I haue spoken for thy deliuerance.

o See Chap. 4. 23. and 49. 13.

p To let forth his glory.

q Of Gods deliuerance, and that he will neuer forsake his Church.

a God sheweth what he requirith of them after that he hath deliuered them: to wit, the works of charity whereby true faith is declared.

b Which I will declare toward you, and powere to you heares by my Spirit.

c Vnder the Sabbath he comprehendeth the whole service of God, and true religion.

d Let none thinke I will vncircumcise the graces of the Lords.

e For the Lord will take away all impediments, and will forsake none which will keepe his true religion, and beleue in him.

f Meaning, in his Church.

g They shall be called after my people, and be of the same religion.

h Hee leueth was as to whom the faithfull offer: conuall thanksgiving: yea, themselves and all that they haue, as a liuely and acceptable sacrifice.

Not only for the lowest but for all others, March. 31. 13.

1. Meaning, the enemies of the Church as the Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. thus he speaketh to ease the hypocrites, and to assure the faithful that when this cometh, they may know it was told to them before.

2. He sheweth that this a fiction shall come through the fault of the governors, prophets, and pastors, whose ignorance, negligence, justice, and obsequie provoked Gods wrath against them.

3. We are well yet, and to morrow shall be better: therefore let vs not fear the plagues before they come: thus the wicked comforted the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

4. From the plague that is at hand, and also because God will punish the wicked.

5. The foule of the righteousisable in joy, and their body shall rest in the grave unto the time of the resurrection, because they walked before the Lord.

6. He threateth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of the name of Gods people derided Gods word & his promises: boasting openly, that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithful and obedient as Abraham was, he caleth them bastards & the children of fornicators, which losse God, and is fled to wicked means for succour.

7. Read Luke 18. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

8. Meaning, every place was polluted with their idolatry, or every place that they found, they made an idol of it.

9. In the sacrifices which you offer before these idols, thought you did serve God. To wit, these altars in an open place, like and impudent harlot, that careth not for the sight of her husband.

10. In stead of setting up the word of God in thence places on the posts and doores of these idolatry in every place.

11. That is, diddest increase thine idolatry more and more.

12. Thou diddest see the famine of the Assyrians by gifts and presents, to helpeth against the Egyptians: and when they failed, thou soughtest to the Babylonians, and more and more didst to menthy selfe.

13. All though thou sawest all thy labours to be in vaine, yet wouldest thou neuer acknowledge thy fault, and leave off.

14. Hee denieth their vnprofitable diligence, which thought to haue made a lustre, and yet were deceiued.

15. Hee denieth their vnprofitable diligence, which thought to haue made a lustre, and yet were deceiued.

16. Hee denieth their vnprofitable diligence, which thought to haue made a lustre, and yet were deceiued.

17. Hee denieth their vnprofitable diligence, which thought to haue made a lustre, and yet were deceiued.

18. Hee denieth their vnprofitable diligence, which thought to haue made a lustre, and yet were deceiued.

19. Hee denieth their vnprofitable diligence, which thought to haue made a lustre, and yet were deceiued.

20. Hee denieth their vnprofitable diligence, which thought to haue made a lustre, and yet were deceiued.

house shall be called an house of prayer for all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet will I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye beasts of the field, come to deuoure, euen all ye beasts of the forest.

10 Their watchmen are all blind: they haue no knowledge: they are all dumbe dogs. they can not bark: they lie and sleepe, and delight in sleepe.

11 And these greedy dogs can neuer have enough: and these shepherds can neuer vnderstand: for they all looke to their owne way, euery one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

12 Come, I will bring wine, and wee will fill our selues with strong drinke, and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

13 We are well yet, and to morrow shall be better: therefore let vs not fear the plagues before they come: thus the wicked comforted the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

1 God saith away the good, that hee should see the horrible plagues to come. 3 Of the wicked adulterers, 9 and their waine complaine.

The righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart: and mercifull men are taken away, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken away from the euill to come.

2 A Peace shall come, they shall rest in their beds, euery one that walketh before him.

3 But you c witches children, come hither, the seed of the adulterer and of the whore.

4 On whom haue ye iested? vpon whom haue ye gaped and thrust out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, and a false seed?

5 Inflamed with idols vnder euery greene tree: and sacrificing the children in the valleys vnder the tops of the rockes?

6 Thy portion is in the smoothe stones c of the riuier. they they are thy lot: euen to them hast thou powred a drinke offering: and thou hast offered a sacrifice. Should I delight in these?

7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon a very hie mountaine: thou wentest vp thither, euen thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice.

8 Behind the dores also and posts hast thou set vp thy remembrance, for thou hast discovered thy selfe to another then mee, and wentest vp, and didst enlarge thy bed, and make a couenant betwene thee and them, and loudest their bed in euery place where thou fastest it.

9 Thou wentest to the Kings with oyle, and diddest increase thine oymnts, and send thy messengers farre off, and diddest humble thy selfe vnto hell.

10 Thou weariedst thy selfe in thy manifold iourneys, yet saidst thou not, I There is no hope: thou wast found life by thine hand, therefore

11 In the sacrifices which you offer before these idols, thought you did serve God. To wit, these altars in an open place, like and impudent harlot, that careth not for the sight of her husband.

12 In stead of setting up the word of God in thence places on the posts and doores of these idolatry in every place.

13. That is, diddest increase thine idolatry more and more.

14. Thou diddest see the famine of the Assyrians by gifts and presents, to helpeth against the Egyptians: and when they failed, thou soughtest to the Babylonians, and more and more didst to menthy selfe.

thou wast not grieved.

11 And whom didst thou reuerence or feare, seeing thou hast lied vnto me, and hast not remembered me, neither set thy minde thereon? is it not because I holde my peace, and that of long time? therefore thou fastest not me.

12 I will declare thy righteousnesse and thy works, and they shall not profit thee.

13 When thou criest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the wind shall take them all away: vanity shall pull them away: but he that trusteth in me, shall inherite the land, and shall possesse mine holy Mountaine.

14 And he shall say, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the way: take vp the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For this saith he that is high and excellent, hee that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose name is the Holy one, I dwell in the high and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuiue the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend for euer, neither will I bee alwayes wroth, for the spirit should faile before me: and I haue made the breath.

17 For his wicked countenance I am angry with him, and haue smitten him: I hid mee, and was angry, yet hee went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and wil heale him: I will leade him also, and restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the fruit of the lipps, to bee peace: peace vnto them that are y farre off, and to them that are neere, saith the Lord: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can not rest, whose waters cast vp myre and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

home. 2 Their euill conscience doeth euer torment them, can neuer haue rest, read Chap. 48. 22.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods ministers. 2 The workers of the hypocrites. 6 The fast of the false fast. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

Crie aloud, spare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, and to the house of Iaakob their sinnes.

2 Yet they b seeke mee daily, and will know my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of mee the ordinances of iustice: they will draw neere vnto God, saying,

3 Wherefore haue we fasted, and thou seest it not? wee haue punished our selues, and thou regardst it not. Beholde, in the day of your fast you will seeke your will, and require all your debts.

4 Behold, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednesse: ye shall not fast as ye doe to day, to make your voyce to be heard aboute.

5 Is it such a fast that I haue chosen, that a man should afflict his soule for a day, and to bow neither fast nor religion. e So long as you vse contentions and prayers shall not be heard, n Broken promise with me.

o Meaning, that the wicked abuse Gods lenitie, and grow to further wickednesse.

p That is, they taught in effidencies, and impieties which the wicked call Gods seruice: thus hee denieth their obsequie.

q Meaning, the Assyrians and others, whole help they looked for.

r God shall say to Darius and Cyrus.

s I will not vse my power against fraile man, whose life is but a blast.

t That is, for the vices and faults of the people, which is meant here by countenance.

u Though they were obliuious, yet I did not withdraw my mercy from them.

x That is, I frame the speech and words of my messengers which shall bring peace.

y As well to him that is in captiuitie as to him that remaineth at home.

z And therefore they downe

downe his head, as a bul-rush, and to lie downe in sackcloth and ashes: wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednesse, to take off the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake euery y^e yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from his thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shall grow speedily: thy rightcouenesse shall goe before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the mids of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the hand, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou wilt poure out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the darkness, and thy darknesse shall be as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drouth, and make fast thy bones: and thou shalt bee like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall build the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, & thou shalt be called the repairer of the breach, and the restorer of the pathes to dwell in.

13 If thou wilt turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine Holy day, and call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, nor doing thine owne ways, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

^a The wicked press through their owne iniquities. ^b The confession of faith. ^c God a our will perseuereth in Church though all men faile.

^a Ehold, the Lords hand is not shortened, that it cannot faue: neither is his care heauie, that it cannot heare.

^a But your iniquities haue separated betweene you and your God, and your finnes haue hidde his face from you, that he will not heare.

^a For your handes are defiled with a blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lippes haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

^a No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for truth: they trust in vanitie & speake vaine things: they conceiue mischief, and bring forth iniquitie.

^a They hatch cockatrice^d egges, and weaue the spiders^e web: hee that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trode vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

^a Their webs shall be no garment, neither shall they couer themselves with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands.

^a Their feete runne to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their pathes.

^a The way of peace they know not, and there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked pathes: who ouer goeth therein, shall not know peace.

^a Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, neither doeth iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but loe it is darknesse: for brightnesse, but we walke in darknesse.

^a We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

^a We roare all like i beares, and mourne like doves, we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

^a For our trespasses are many before thee, and our finnes tell thee against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities.

^a In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion conceiuing and vttering out of the heart false matters.

^a Therefore is iudgement turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off, for truth is fallen in the street, and equitie cannot enter.

^a Yea, truch faith, and hee that refraineth from euill maketh himselfe a pray: and when the Lord law it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

^a And when hee saw that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. Therefore his arme did p^r faue it, and his rightcouenesse it selfe did sustaine it.

^a For he put on righteousnes, as an habergeon, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

^a As to make recompense, as to requite the fury of the aduersaries with a recompence to his enemies: he will fully repay thei^r ylands.

^a So shall they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glorie from the rising of the Sunne: for the enemy shall come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shall chafe him away.

^a And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto them that turne from iniquitie in Iacob, saith the Lord.

^a And I will make this my Couenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my words, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seede, nor out of the mouth of the seed of thy feed, saith the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

^a Because the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, he ioyneth the one with the other, & promitteth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

CHAP. LX.

^a The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. ^b They shall come to the Church in abundance. ^c They shall haue abundance though they suffer for a time.

^a Rise, O Ierusalem: be bright, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

^a For beholde, darknesse shall couer the earth, and grosse darknesse the people: but the

^a Signifying, that all men are in darknesse till God giue them the light of his Spirit, and that his light shineth to none, but to those that are in his Church.

^a That you leave off all your extorcion.

^a For in him thou shalt see as a glass.

^a That is, the prosperitie of the Church with which God will blesse thee.

^a The testimony of the goodnesse shall appeare before God & man.

^a Whereby is meant all manner of iniurie.

^a That is, haue compassion on their miseries.

^a Thine aduersitie shall be turned into prosperitie.

^a Signifying, that of the lowes should come such as should build againe the ruines of Ierusalem and Iudee: but chiefly this is meant of the spiritual Ierusalem whose builders were the Apostles.

^a If thou refrain thy selfe from thy wicked workes.

^a The wicked press through their owne iniquities.

^a The confession of faith.

^a God a our will perseuereth in Church though all men faile.

^a Num. 11. 23. Chap. 50. 2.

^a Ezech. 5. 25.

^a Reade Chap. 2. 15.

^a All men winke at the iniuries and oppressions, and note geue about to remedie them.

^a According to their wicked deuices, they hurt their neighbours.

^a Whatsoeuer cometh from them is poison, and bringeth death.

^a They are profitable to no purpose.

^a That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies.

^a Gods protection to defend vs.

^a We are altogether delituate of counsell, and can find no end of our miseries.

^a We expecte one sorrowes or outward signes, some more, some lesse.

^a This confession is generally to the Church to obteine remission of sins, and the Prophets did not exempt themselves from the same.

^a To wit, against our neighbours.

^a There is neither iustice, nor righteousnesse among them.

^a The wicked will destroy him.

^a Meaning, to doe iustice, and to remedy the things that were to be done.

^a That is, his Church, or his arme did helpe itself, and did not feele any other.

^a Signifying, that God hath all means at hand to deliuer his Church, and to punish their enemies.

^a To wit, your enemies, which dwell in diuers places, & beyond the sea.

^a He sheweth that there shall be great affliction in the Church, but God will euer deliuer his.

^a Whereby hee declareth that the true deliuerance from sinne and Saan belongeth to none, but to the children of God, whom he iustifieth.

^a The time of thy prosperitie and felicitie: whereas speaking of Babylon he commanded her to goe downe, Chap. 47. 1.

^a Signifying, that all men are in darknesse till God giue them the light of his Spirit, and that his light shineth to none, but to those that are in his Church.

e Meaning, that Iud a should be the morning star, and that the Gentiles should receive light of her.

d An infinite number, from all countries, as Chap.
9 v. 24.

e For joy, the heart is drawn in for feruor.

f Meaning, that every one shall honour the Lord with thankes-giving, and be able to sing that it is the will of God except we offer our selves to fear his glory,
and all that we have.

g That is, the Ara-bians, that have great abundance
of camels.

h Because the Altar was a figure of Christ, Iud. 13. he sheweth that nothing can be acceptable to him,
which is not offered at his Altar.

i Meaning, what great number shall come to the Church, and with what great diligence and zeale.

k The Gentiles that are no enemies shall become friends, and fathers of the Church.

l Meaning, Cyrus and his succeders, but chiefly, this accomplished in them that feare Christ being converted by his Gospel.

m He sheweth that God hath given all power, and authoritie herein ea ther the
of his Church, and that every which will use a true and profitable Gane, that he de-sireth.

n There is nothing in excess, that will not be for the needful of the Church.

o Signifying, that Gods Mercie
is not limited in the Temple, which is but the place for his service, as Iud. 13. v. 24.

p To worship his head Christ by obeying his doctrine. q Both he and Iud. 13. v. 24. are ready to be helped, and succour thee. r Thy governors shall love thee, and seek the wealth and prosperity. f Meaning, not a temporall felicity, but a future Iud. 13. v. 24. which is fulfilled: Christ's kingdome.

10 And the Gentiles shall walke in thy light, and Kings at the brightness of thy rising vp.

11 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and behold:
all these are gathered, and come to thee: thy Iannes shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

12 Then thou shalt see and shine: thy heart shall be enlarged, and enlarged, because of the multitude of the Sea shall be converted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

13 The multitude of camels shall cover thee:
and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah shall they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring golde and incense, and shew forth the prayes of the Lord.

14 All the sheepe of Kedar shall be gathered vnto thee: the rams of Nebaioth shall ierue thee:
they shall come vp to be accepted vpon mine Altar:
and I will b. autifie the house of my glory.

15 Who are these that fill like a cloude, and as the doves to their windowes?

16 Surely the yles shall waite for mee, and the ships of Tarshish, as at the beginning that they may bring thy Iannes from farre, and thy siluer and thine gold with them vnto the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

17 And the sonne of strangers shall build vp thy walles, and their Kings shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

18 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually:
neither day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

19 For the nation and the kingdom, that will not serue thee, shall perish: and those nations shall be utterly destroyed.

20 The glorie of Lebanon shall come vnto thee, the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for
I will glorifie the place of my feet.

21 The Iannes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall p downe at the soles of thy feet: and they shall say, The city of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel,

22 Whereas thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glorie, and a ioy from generation to generation.

23 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breasts of Kings and thou shalt know, that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the Mightie one of Iacob.

24 For brass will I bring gold, and for yron will I bring siluer, and for wood brass, and for stones yon. I will also make thy government peace, and thine exactors righteousnesse.

25 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither defolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call saluation, thy walles, and praise thy gates.

26 Thou shalt haue no more Sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightness of the Moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shall be thine eu-erlasting light, and thy God, thy glory.

27 Thy Sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shall thy Moone be hid: for the Lord shall be thine euerlasting light, and the dayes of thy for-row shall be ended.

28 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possess the land for euer, the heritage of my planting shall be the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

29 A little one shall become as a thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: if the Lord will hasten it in due time.

CHAP. LXI.

The prophesie that Christ shall be anointed, and sent to preach to the Jews of the faithfull.

The Spirit of the Lord God is upon mee, therefore hath the Lord anointed mee: hee hath sent mee to preach good tydings vnto the poore, to binde vp the broken hearted, to preach liberty to the captiues, and to them that are bound: the opening of the prison.

To preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zion, and to giue vnto them because for ashes, the oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of glad-nesse for the spirit of heauinesse, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

And they shall build the olde waste places, and raise vp the former defolations, and they shall repare the cities that were desolate and waste through many generations.

And the strangers shall stand and feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

But ye shall bene named the Kings of the Lord, and men shall fay vnto you, The ministers of our God: Ye shall eate the riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glory.

For your shame you shall receive me double, and for confusion, they shall reioyce in their portion: for in their land they shall possess the double: euerlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

For I the Lord loue iudgement, and hate grobberie for burnt offering, and I will direct their worke in truth, and will make an eu-erlasting couenant with them.

And their feed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their buddies among the people. All that see them, shall know them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

I will greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shall be ioyfull in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, & covered me with the robe of righteousness: hee hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride-deth herselfe with her iewels.

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lord God will cause righteous-nesse to grow, and praise before all the heathen,

For in times past, now they shall haue done authoritie ouer them, and possess the world. I will not cease, either their offering which are righteous, deceit, hypocrites, or that I will be of my glorie. I thank of the Church, I besheweth what shall be the affliction, when they see the day of their deli-uerance.

1 The great desire that the Prophet hath had for Christes coming. 6 The diligence of the Pastors to Preach.

For Zions sake I will not holde my tongue, and for Ierusalem sake I will not rest, vntill the righteoulnesse thereof breake forth as the light, and saluation thereof as a burning lamp:

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteoulnesse and all Kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also bee a crowne of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royall diademe in the hand of thy God.

4 It shall no more be said vnto thee, Forsaken: neither shall it be said any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called || Hephzi-bah, and thy land || Zeeulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall haue an husband.

5 For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sonnes marry thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: ye that are mindful of the Lord keepe not silence,

7 And give him no rest, till he repaire and vntill he set vp Ierusalem the praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworne by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I will no more give thee corn to be meat for thine enemies, and surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke in the courts of my Sanctuary.

10 I Go through, goe through the gates: prepare you the way for the people: cast vp, cast vp a way, and gather out the stones, and set vp a stander for the people.

11 Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed vnto the endes of the world, Tell the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Saviour cometh: Behold, his wages is with him, and his worke before him.

12 And they shall call him, The holy people, the redeemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A city fought out and not forsaken.

13 For the restoration thereof all the world shall praise him. 1 Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what ye heere would prepare for the restitution of the same, as Chap. 57. 14. m. CHAP. LXIII.

1 God shall destroy his enemies for the Churches sake. 7 Gods benefitions vnto his Church.

Who is this that cometh a from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah? hee is glorious in his apparel, and walketh in his great strength || I speake in righteoulnesse, and am mightie to saue.

2 Wherefore is thine apparel red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 Hee hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe cite of the Idumians: for these were their greath enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision, and the kindred of Abraham claimed to themselves the chiefe religion, & hated he true worshippers Ps 137. b. God answered them that asked this question, Who is this? & said, Yee see now performed is deede the vengeance which my Prophets threatened. c. Another question so them which the Lord answered,

3 I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with mee: for I will tread them in mine anger, and treade them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall besprinkled vpon my garments, and I will staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the yeere of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vpholde: therefore mine owne arme helped mee, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I will tread downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignation, and wil bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will remember the mercies of the Lord, and the prayes of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnesse toward the house of Israel, which hee hath giuen them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For hee said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so hee was their Saviour.

9 In all their troubles hee was troubled, and the Angel of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and he bare them and caryed them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them.

11 Then hee remembered the olde time of Moses & his people, saying, Where is he that brought them vp out of the Sea with the meeke shepherd of his sheepe? where is hee that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 Hee led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, deuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an everlasting Name.

13 Hee ledde them through the deepe, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 I Looked downe from heauen, and beheld from the dwelling place of thine holiness, and of thy glory, Where is thy zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions? they are restrained from me.

16 Doubtlesse thou art our Father: though Abraham be ignorant of vs, and Isaac know vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is || ouer.

17 O Lord, why hast thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holiness haue pos-is led to his pasture. p. Having declared Gods benefites shewed he himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces, and them. q. Thy great action which thou barest towards vs. r. Meaning, from the whole body of the Church. s. Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse thou our Father. t. By reason of thy holy spirit from vs, by whom we were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude didst deliue vs vp to our owne concupiscence, and didst punish for by sinne according to thy iust iudgement. u. Meaning, for the Couenants sake made to Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob his seruants.

d. Shewing that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profite and churche of his Church. e. God sheweth that hee hath w neede of mans helpe: for the deliuerance of his, and though men refuse to doe their duty through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himselfe will deliuer his Church, and punish the enemies, read Chap. 40. 15. f. I will strengthen them, and make them so giddy, that they shall not know which way to goe. g. The Prophete spake this to moue the people to remember Gods benefites in times past, that they may be comforted in their troubles. h. For I did chuse them to be mine, that they should be holy, and not deuee mine expectation. i. He bare their afflictions and griefes as though they had becom his owne. k. Which was a witness of Gods presence, and this was referred to Christ, to whom he lengtheth the office of Salvation. l. That is the people of Israel, being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which hee had bestowed vpon their Fathers in times past. m. Blessing, Moses. n. That is in Moses that he might well gouerne the people: to reuerse this bluing of the Spirit to the people. o. Peaceably and gently, as an holie to his followers, hee to his followers, hee to his followers.

a. The Prophet faith that hee will occur real to declare vnto the people the good findings of their deliuerance. b. Till they haue full deliuerance: and this the Prophet spake to encourage all other ministers to the getting forth of the feds foot of the Lord. c. Thon shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto. d. Hee haue thee as deare and precious as a King doeth his crowne. e. Thon shalt goe to be comforted as a woman forsaken her husband. f. For my deliuerance. g. Or, married. h. Thine may be complemented with children. i. Forasmuch as they confesse one faith and Religion with thee, they are in the same bond of marriage with thee, and they are called the children of the Church, as I say, as Christ maketh them plentiful to bring forth children vnto him. k. Prophets, Pastors, and Ministers. l. Hee exhorteth the ministers neuer to cease to call vpon God by prayer for the deliuerance of his Church, and to teach others to doe the same. m. For the restoration thereof all the world shall praise him. n. 2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire caused the waters to boile, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy preence.

3 When thou didest terrible things, which we looked not for, thou camest downe, and the mountaines melted at thy preence.

4 For since the beginning of the world, they haue not heard nor vnderstood with the care neither hath the eye seen ~~any~~ God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou diddest meete him, & that reioiced in thee, and did iustly: they remembred thee in thy wayes: in them thou art angry, for we haue sinned: & in them is continuance, & we shalbe laued.

6 But we haue all bene as an vncleane thing, and all our righteousnesses as filthy cloutes, and we all doe fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

7 And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that stretch vp himselfe to take holde of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the worke of thine hands.

9 Be not angry, O Lord, & about measure, neither remember iniquitie for euer: loe, we beseech thee, behold, we are all thy people.

10 Thine holy cities lie waste: Zion is a wilderness, and Ieru'salem a desert.

11 The house of our Sanctuary & of our glory where our Fathers prayed thee is burnt vp with fire, and all our pleasant things are wasted.

12 Wilt thou holde thy selfe still at these things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace and stand about measure?

13 Albeit, O Lord by thy iust judgement thou mayest utterly destroy vs as the poore may his yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to thy children. k For so the flesh iudgeth when God doeth not immediately vindiccate. l Which were dedicated to thy service, and to call vpon thy Name. m Wherein we reioiced and worshipped thee. n That is, at the contempt of thine own glory. o Though our sinnes have deferred this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glory thus to be diminished.

imaginationes.

3 A people that provoked mee euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense vpon brickens.

4 Which remember among the graves, and lodge in the deserts, which eat swines flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.

5 Which say, Stand apart come not neere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath, and a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is written before me: I will not keepe silence, but will render it, and recompense it into their bo'ome.

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers, shalbe together (saith the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, & blasphemed me vpon the hills: therefore will I measure their old worke into their bo'ome.

8 Thus sayth the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one hath, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, so will I doe for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

9 But I will bring a feede out of Iacob, and out of Iudah, that shall inherit my mountaine: and mine elect shall inherite it, and my seruants shall dwell there.

10 And Sharon shalbe a sheeplefold, and the valley of Achor shall be a resting place for the cattell of my people, that haue sought me.

11 But ye are they that haue forsaken the Lord, and forgotten my holy Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the multitude, and furnish the drinke offerings vnto the number.

12 Therefore will I p number you to the sword, and all you shall bow downe to the slaughter because I called, and yee did not answer. I spake, and ye heard not, but did euill in my sight, and did chuse that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shall eat, and ye shall be hungry: behold, my seruants shall drinke, and ye shall be thirstie: behold, my seruants shall reioyce, and ye shalbe affamed.

14 Beholde, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, and ye shall cry for sorow of heart and shall howle for vexation of minde.

15 And yee shall leaue your name as a curse vnto my chosen: for the Lord God shall slay you, and call his seruants by another name.

16 He that shall blesse in the earth shall blesse himselfe in the true God, and he that sweareth in the earth, shall sweare by the true God: for the former troubles are forgotten, and shall surely hide themselves from mine eyes.

17 For loe, I will create new heauens and a new earth: & the former shall not be remembered nor come into minde.

18 But ye you glad and reioyce for euer in the things that I shall create: for behold, I will create Ieru'salem, as a reioicing, and her people as a ioy.

19 And I will reioyce in Ieru'salem, and ioy in my people, and the voyce of weeping shall be

IEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet Jeremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whom some thinke to be hee that found out the booke of the Law, and gave it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most euident revelations of prophesie, so that by the commandement of the Lord, he began very young to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yere of Iosiah, and continued eightene yere vnder the said King, and thre moneths vnder Iehozabab, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeres, or three moneths vnder Iehoiakim, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres: vnto the time that they were carryed away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to about seuerie yeres, besides the time that hee prophesied after the captiuitie. In this Booke hee declareth with teares and lamentation, the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatry, contumelious, subtiltie, crueltie, excess, rebellion, and contempt of Gods word, and for the confusion of the Church, runneth the iust time of their delinquence. And here chiefly are to be considered three things. First, the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more subborne and obstinate when the Prophets doe admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next, how the Prophets and Ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly, though God shew his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will hee neuer shew himselfe a preformer of his Church, and when all means seeme to mans iudgement to be abolished, then will hee declare himselfe victorious in preserving his.

CHAP. I.

1 In what time Jeremiah prophesied. 2 Hee acknowledgeth his impietie, and strength of the Lord. 11 The Lord sheweth him his destruction of Ierusalem. 17 Hee committeth him to preach his word: which hee doeth.

a That is, the sermons and prophesies.

b Which is thought to be the book that found the booke of the Law vnder king Iosiah.

c Kings 22 8.

d This was a citie about three miles distant from Ierusalem, and belonging to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, Ioh. 1. 8.

e This is spoken to confute his vocation and office, forasmuch as he did not presume of himselfe to preach and prophesie, but was called thereto by God.

f Meaning the nephew of Iosiah: for Iehozabab was his father, who reigned but three moneths, and therefore is not men named, so more it toucheth that reigned no longer. f Of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah, who was also called Matanah, and at that time the Iewes were carryed away into Babylon by Nabuchadnezzar.

g The Scripture voucheth this manner of speech, in declare that God hath appointed his ministers in their offices: be fourth yere were borne in Ios. 40. 1. 16.

h For Jeremiah did not only prophesie against the Iewes but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other threatening should come upon the world, he was moved with a certain compassion on the one side to pite them that should thus perish, and on the other side by the infirmities of man nature, knowing how hard a thing it was to enterprise such a charge, 2a Ios. 6. 11. 2 Rod. 3. 21 and 4. 1.

He words of Jeremiah the sonne of Hilkiah, one of the Priests that were at Anathoth in the land of Benjamin.

2 To whom the word of the Lord came in the dayes of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iudah, in the thirteenth yere of his reigne:

3 And also in the dayes of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah vnto the ende of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah, the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, euen vnto the carrying away of Ierusalem captiue in the fifth moneth.

4 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Before I formed thee in the womb, I knew thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, and ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the nations.

6 Then said I, Oh Lord God, behold, I can not speake, for I am a child.

7 But the Lord sayd vnto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee, shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee, to deliue thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand, and touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto me, Behold, I haue put my words in thy mouth.

10 Behold, this day haue I set thee ouer the nations, and ouer the kingdoms, to plucke vp, and to root out, and to dectroy, and throw downe, to build, and to plant.

11 After this, the word of the Lord, came vnto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree.

12 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Thou hast seene aright: for I will hasten my worde to performe it.

13 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I sayd, I see a seething p pot looking out of the North.

14 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Out of the North shall a plague be spread vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and euery one shall set his throne in the entering of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the wals thereof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 Thou therefore truste vpon thy loynes, and arise and speake vnto them all that I command k Which declareth God maketh them meet, & assureth them whom he calleth to let forth his glory: giuing them all means necessary for the same, Exo. 4. 13. Ios. 6. 7.

l He sheweth what is the authority of Gods true ministers, which by his word haue power to beat downe whatsoever lieth in itselfe vpon against God: and to plant & assure the humble, as such as they shal trust to the obedience of Gods word.

m He ioyneth the signe with the word: for a more ample confirmation, on signifying by the red of the almond tree, which first budde, the hasty coming of the Babylonians against the Iewes.

n Signifying that the Iudaeans and Assyrians should be as a port to the Iewes which boyled in their pleasure and Affliction were Northward in respect of Ierusalem, which was the Caldeans dominion.

p I will giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters which haue tolken me for their idoles.

in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

29 Wherefore wilt thou yeelede with mee? ye all haue rebelled against me, saith the Lord.

30 I haue invited your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your owne sworde hath deuoured your Prophets like a destroying lyon.

31 O generation, take heede to the word of the Lord: haue I become a wilderness vnto Israel, or a land of darknesse? Wherefore sayth my people thus, Wee are lords, & we will come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a may forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people haue forgotten mee, dayes without number.

33 Why dost thou prepare thy way, to seeke amitie? euen therefore will I teach thee, that thy wayes are wickednesse.

34 Also in thy wings is found the blood of the soules of the poore innocents: I haue not found it in holes, but vpon all the places.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guiltlesse, surely his wrath shall turne from mee: behold, I wil enter with thee into iudgement, because thou sayest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes? for thou shalt bee confounded of Egypt, as thou art confounded of Asshur.

37 For thou shalt goe forth from thence, and thine hands vpon thine head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

CHAP. III.

Cod callistihi people vnto repentance. 1. He promisseth the restitution of his Church. 2. He reprooueth Iuda and Israe, comparing them to a woman adulterous to her husband.

They say, If a man put away his wife, and the goe from him, and become another mans shall he returne againe vnto her? shall not this land be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers: yet turne againe to me saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the high places, and behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the Arabian in the wilderness: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue beene restrained, and the later raine came not, and thou hast defiled a whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4 Diddest thou not still crie vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will hee keepe his anger for euer? will hee reserve it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou dost euill euen more and more.

6 The Lord God also vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebellious Iuda hath done? for the hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I sayd, when shee had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but shee returned not, as her rebellious sister Iuda hath.

8 When I saw, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iuda was not affraide, but shee went also and played the harlot.

9 So that for the lightnes of her whoredome she hath euened out the land: for the hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheless for all this, her rebellious sister Iuda hath not returned vnto mee with her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iuda.

12 Goe & cry these words toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But know thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but yee would not obey my voice, saith the Lord.

14 O yee disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion.

15 And I wil giue you pastours according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreover, when yee be increased and multiplied in the land, in those daies, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The Arke of the covenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visite it, for that shall bee no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, The throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall bee gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thenceforth they shall follow no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those daies the house of Iuda shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the North, into the land that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I sayd, How did I take thee for children, and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and said, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?

20 But as a woman rebellet against her husband: so haue yee rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 A voice was heard vpon the high places, weeping, and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerced their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O yee disobedient children, returne, and I will heale your rebellions. Behold, wee come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly the hope of saine hills is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour, from our youth, their sheepe and their bullockes, their fannes and their daughters,

26 For among my people are found wicked perſons, that lay wait as hee that ſetteth ſnares: they haue made a pit to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, ſo are their houſes full of deceit: thereby they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat and ſhining: they doe ouerpaſſe the deedes of the wicked: they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherleſſe: yet they prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall I not viſite for theſe things, ſaith the Lord? ſhall not my ſoule be auenged on ſuch a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthy thing is committed in the land.

31 They prophets propheticallie, and the prieſts receive giftes in their hands, and my people delight therein. What will ye then doe in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The coming of the Affyrians and Caldeans. 26 He exhorteſt the Iewes to repentance.

O Ye children of Benjamin, prepare to flee out of the mids of Ieruſalem, and blowe the trumpet in Tekoa: ſet vp a ſtandart vpon Bethacerem: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great deſtruction.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zion toda beautiful and dainty woman.

3 The Paſtors with their flockes ſhall come vnto her: they ſhall pitch their tents round about by her, and euery one ſhall feede in his place.

4 Prepare warre againſt her: ariſe and let vs go vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the ſhadowes of the evening are ſtretched out.

5 Ariſe, and let vs go vp by night and deſtroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hoſtes ſayd, Hew down wood, and caſt a mount againſt Ieruſalem: this citie muſt bee viſited: all oppreſſion is in the mids of it.

7 As the ſountaine caſteth out her waters, ſo ſhee caſteth out her malice: & cruelty and ſpoyle is continually heard in her before me with ſorrow and ſtrokes.

8 Behold thou inſtrued, O Ieruſalem, leſt my ſoule depart from thee, leſt I make thee deſolate be deſtroyed, and haue it commeth of themſelues. h He warneth them to amend by his corrections, and to turne to him by repentance.

14 Therefore will I do vnto this house, whereupon my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you, and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethern, euen the whole seede of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp cry or prayer for them, neither increase me, for I will not heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kinde the fire, and the women knead the dough to make cakes to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other Gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke mee to anger, sayth the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the fildes, and vpon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices:

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare but went after the counsels & the stubbornnesse of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, euen vnto this day, I haue sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early euery day and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me nor encline their eare, but hardened their necke & did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also cry vnto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiueth discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine haire, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hath reiected and forsaken the generation of this people.

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, sayth the Lord: they haue set their abominations in the House, whereupon my Name is called to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the hie place of Topheth, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I haue commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore behold, the dayes come, sayth

the Lord, that it shal no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth all there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall bee meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 *Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Iudah, and from the streetes of Ierusalem the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the temes. 4 The Lord admonisheth the people to amendment. 10 Hieroprophetheth the lying doctrine and the counsell of the Prophets and Priests.

AT that time, sayeth the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Iudah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priests, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their graues.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne and the moone, and all the host of heaven, whom they haue loved, and whom they haue serued, and whom they haue followed, and whom they haue sought, and whom they haue worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shalbe as doun vpon the earth.

3 And death shall be desired rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus sayth the Lord, Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetuall rebellion? they gaue themselves to decit, and would not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake a right: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? euery day one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

7 Euen the stork in the ayre knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle, and the crane and the swallow obserue the time of their coming, but my people knoweth not the iudgement of the Lord.

8 How doe ye say, Wee are wise, and the Law of the Lord is with vs? Loe certainly in vaine made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vaine.

9 The wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken: loe they haue reiected the word of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I giue their wiues vnto others, and their fields to them that shall possesse them: for euery one from the least euen vnto the greatest is giuen to couetousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, euery one dealeth filly.

11 For they haue healed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they haue any shame: therefore shall they fall among the slaine: when I shall visite them, they shall bee cast downe, sayth the Lord.

20 The harvest is past, the Summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am fore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people, I am heavy, and astonishment hath taken me.

23 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we onely to relye. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

OH, that mine head were full of water, and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the slaue of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a cottage of waytaring men, that I might leaue my people, and goe from them: for they be all adulterers, and an assemblie of rebels,

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceed from euill to worse, and they haue not known mee, saith the Lord.

4 Let euery one take heed of his neighbour, and trust you not in any brother: for euery brother will vse deceit, and euery friend will deale deceitfully.

5 And euery one will deceiue his friend, and will not speake the truth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will melt them, and trie them: for what should I els doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue as an arrow thout, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart hee layeth wait for him.

9 Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Vpon the mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp, so that none can passe thorow them: neither can men heare the voyce of the flocke: both the fowle of the aire, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I will make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Iudah waste without an inhabitant.

12 Who is his wife to vnderstand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, euen he shall declare it. Why doth the land perish, and is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passe thorow?

13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voyce, neither walked thereafter,

14 But haue walked after the stubbornnes of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them,

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall to drinke.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue known, and I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take heede, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skilfull women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares, and our eyeliddes gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noise is heard out of Zion, How are wee destroyed, and vtterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the wordes of his mouth, & teach your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

CHAP. X.

1 The coultrells in the flarres are not to be feared. 2 The weaknesse of idols. 3 Gods power of God. 21 When Pastors are become as beasts.

Hear ye the word of the Lord that he speaketh vnto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, I came not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the signs of heaven, though the heathen be a raid of such.

3 For the customs of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe.

4 And another decketh it with silver, and with gold: they after it with nailes and hammers, that it fall not.

5 The idols stand vp as the palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they cannot go: feare them not, for they cannot do euill, neither can they doe good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lord: thou art great, and thy Name is great in power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O King of nations? for to thee appeareth the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the Rockes are a doctrine of vanitie.

9 Siluer plates are brought from Tatshish, and golde from Vphaz, for the worke of the workman, and the hands of the founder: the blew like, and the purple in their clothing: all the things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of us: he is the liuing God, and an euertlasting King: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens and the earth, shall perishe from the earth, and from vnder these heauens)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 Hee giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the cloudes to ascend from the ends of the earth: hee turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

b Meaning not only in the obseruation of the flares, but their lawes & ceremonies whereby they confirme their idolatrie, which is forbidden Deut. 18. 10. c The Prophets vnto us plainly and simply to let forth the vaine superstitious of idolaters, that our might learn to be ashamed of, that whereunto their consciences must inuite, read Isa. 44. 12.

d He teacheth the people to liue by their eyes to God, who hath all power, and there are ought in us to be feared: and herein he sheweth them not only the euill they are ought to eschew, but the good which they ought to follow, Re. 1. 4.

e Because the people thought that to haue images, was a meane to serue God, and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errors and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the teachers of lies: contrary to that wicked opinion, that they are the bookes of the lay people. f Whence they found the bell gold: shewing that they thought nothing so rare as for their idoles. Some read: Ophir. 2. King. 10. 28. g This denieth that all that hath bene in this chapter spoken of idoles, was to some the Jewes when they should be in Caldeas among the idolaters, and now with one sentence he instructeth them both how to professe their owne religion against the idolaters, and how to asure them to their shame which should exhort them to idolatry and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeas tongue for a memoriall, whereas all the rest of his writing is Hebrew.

14 Every man is a beast by his owne knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is but fallshood, and there is no breath therein:

16 The portion of Iaaok is not like mine: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rodde of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will throw as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and will trouble them, and they shall finde it.

23 O Lord, I know, that the way of man is not in himselfe, neither is it in man to walke and to direct his steps.

24 O Lord correct mee, but with thy iudgement, not in thine anger, lest thou bring mee to nothing.

6 Then the Lord said vnto mee, Cry all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, ^c rising early and protesting, laying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuerthelesse they would not obey, nor encline their eare: but euery one walked in the stubburnesse of his ^d wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the ^e wordes of this couenant which I commanded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A ^f conspiracy is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: ^g thus the house of Israel and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they cry vnto me, ^h I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem go, and cry vnto the gods vnto whom they offer incense, but they shall not bee able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 ⁱ b For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, ^h ⁱ ^j ^k ^l ^m ⁿ ^o ^p ^q ^r ^s 10 Many paſtours haue deſtroyed my vineyard, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleaſant portion they haue made a deſolate wildeerneſſe.

11 They haue layde it waſte, and it, beeing lieth, mourneth vnto mee, and the whole land lieth waſte, becauſe no man ſetteth his minde on it.

12 The deſtroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wildeerneſſe: for the ſword of the Lord ſhall deuoure from the one end of the land euen to the other end of the land: no fleſh ſhall haue peace.

13 They haue ſowen wheate, and reaped thornes: they were ſicke, and had no profit: and they were aſhamed of vpon their fruites becauſe of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus ſayth the Lord againſt all mine euill neighbours, that touch the inheritance, which I haue cauſed my people Iſrael to inherit, Beholde, I will plucke them out of their land, and plucke out the houſe of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I q will returne, and haue compaſſion on them, and will bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

C H A P. XIII.

The deſtruction of the Iewes prefigured. 13 Why ſhalt manne be ſent to be the people of God, and why they were forſaken, 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

Thus ſaith the Lord vnto mee, Goe, and buy thee a linnen girdle, and put it vpon thy loines, and put it not in water.

2 So I brought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.

3 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee the ſecond time, ſaying,

4 Take the girdle that thou haſt bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and ariſe, goe toward Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes the Lord ſaide vnto me, Ariſe, goe toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

9 Thus ſaith the Lord, After this maner wil I deſtroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ieruſalem.

10 This wicked people haue reſuſed to heare my word, and walke after the ſtubborneſſe of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to ſerue them, and to worſhip them: therefore they ſhall be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, ſo haue I tied to me the whole houſe of Iſrael, and the whole houſe of Iudah, ſaith the Lord, that they might be: my people: that they might haue a name and praiſe, and glory, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay vnto them this word, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Euery bottell ſhall be filled with wine, and they ſhall ſay vnto thee, Do we not know that euery bottell ſhall be filled with wine?

13 Then ſhalt thou ſay vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen the kings that ſit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests and the Prophets and all the inhabitants of Ieruſalem with drunkenneſſe.

14 And I wil daſh them one againſt another, euen the fathers and the ſonnes together, ſaith the Lord: I will not pite, I will not pitie, nor haue compaſſion, but deſtroy them.

15 Heare and giue eare, be not proud: for the Lord hath ſpoken it.

16 Giue glory to the Lord your God before he bring darkneſſe, and or euer your feet ſtumble in the dark mountains, & whiles you looke for light, hee turne it into the ſhadow of death and make it as darkneſſe.

17 But if ye will not heare this, my ſoule ſhall weepe in ſecret for your pride, and mine eye ſhall weepe and drop downe teares, becauſe the Iſraels ſlocke is caried away captiue.

18 Say vnto the King and to the Queene, Humble your ſilues, ſit downe, for the crowne of your glory ſhall come downe from your heades.

19 The cities of the South ſhall bee ſhut vp, and no man ſhall open them: all Iudah ſhall be caried away captiue: it ſhall bee wholly caried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the ſlocke that was giuen thee, euen thy beautifull ſlocke?

21 What wilt thou ſay when he ſhall viſit thee? (for thou haſt taught them to bee captiues, and as chiefe over thee) ſhall not ſorrow take thee as a woman in trauaile?

22 And if thou ſay in thine heart, Wherefore come theſe things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy ſkirts diſcovered & thy heeles made bare.

23 Can the blacke Moore change his ſkin? or the leopard his ſpots? then may ye alſo doe good, that are accuſtomed to doe euill.

24 Therefore will I ſcatter them, as the ſtubble that is taken away with the South wind.

25 This is thy portion, & the part of thy meaſures from me, ſayth the Lord, becauſe thou haſt forgotten me, and truſted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue alſo diſcovered thy ſkirts vpon thy face, that thy ſhame may appeare.

27 I haue ſene thine adulteries, and thy neryings, the filthines of thy whoredome on the hills

CHAP. XLIII.

8 Of the death that should come. 9 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The unfaithfull people are not heard. 11 Of prayer, fasting, and false prophesies that seduce the people.

THe word of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the || death.

1 Ludah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene brought to heauinesse vnto the ground, and the crye of Ierusalem goeth vp.

2 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and found no water: they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and couered their heads.

3 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raie in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and couered their heads.

4 Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsooke it, because there was no grasse.

5 And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, & drew in their wind like dragons, their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

6 O Lord, though our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy name: for our rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.

7 O the hope of Israel, the fauour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by, to tarry for a night?

8 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as a strong man that cannot helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the mids of vs, and thy Name is called vpon vs: for sake vs not.

9 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delighted to wander: they haue not restrained their feete, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but hee will now remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes.

10 Then said the Lord vnto mee, i Thou shalt not pray to doe this people good.

11 When they fast, I will not heare their crye, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the prophets say vnto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

13 Then the Lord said vnto mee, The prophets prophesie lies in my Name. I haue not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I vnto them, but they prophesie vnto you a false vision and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulness of their owne heart.

14 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophesie in my Name, whom I haue not sent, yet they say, Sword & famine shall not bee in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

15 And the people to whom these prophets do prophesie, shall be cast out in the streets of Ierusalem, because of the famine, & the sword, and there shall bee none to bury them: but they and their wines, and their sonnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednes vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word vnto them, Let mine eyes droppe downe! teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgin daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a fore grievous plague.

18 For if I goe into the field, behold the slain with the sword: and if I enter into the city, behold them that are sick for hunger also: moreover, the Prophet also and the Priest go a wandering into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou utterly reiecte? O Iudah, or hath thy soule abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten vs, that wee cannot be healed? Wee looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 Wee acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednesse and the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhorre vs for thy Names sake cast not downe the throne of thy glory: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raie? or can the heauens giue shoue? Is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore wee will wait vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

which is the onely meane to auoid this famine, which was the plague. p Meaning, their idoles, reads Chap. 15.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord would heare no prayer for the Iewes, 3 but threatneth to destroy them with foure plagues.

Then said the Lord vnto mee, A Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet mine affection could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shall we depart? then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, * Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine to the famine: and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I will appoint ouer them foure kinds, saith the Lord, the word to flay, and the dogs to teare in pieces, and the fowles of the heauen, and the beasts of the earth to deuoure, and to destroy.

4 I will scatter them also in all kindomes of the earth, because of Manasse the sonne of Hezekiah king of Iudah, for that which hee did in Ierusalem.

5 Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem? or who shall be sorrie for thee? or who shall goe to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou hast forsaken mee, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand againe thee, and destroy thee: for I am wearie with repenting.

7 And I will scatter them with the fanne in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, and destroyed my people, yet they would not returne from their wayes.

8 Their widowes are increased by me about the sand of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, and against the assembly of the young men a destroyer at noone day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them, and the city, suddenly, and || speedily.

9 Shee that hath borne & cūen, hath bene made weak: her heart hath failed: the sunne hath failed: her, whiles it was day, the hath bene confounded, and ashamed, and the residue of them

1 The false prophets promised peace & assistance, but Ieremiah callethe to teares and repentance for their afflictions, which is at hand, as Chap. 9. 1. Jam. 5. 16. and 7. 18. m Both high and low shall be led captive into Babylon.

CHAP. XVII.

The forwardnes of the leaues. 5 Curfed be those that put their confidence in man. 9 Mans heart is deceived. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The liuing waters are forsaken. 21 The right keeping of the Sabbath is commended.

The sinne of Iudah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond, and grauen vpon the table of their heart, and vpon the hornes of your e altars.

2 They remember their altars as their children, with their groues by the greene trees vpon the high hilles.

3 O my mountaine in the field, I will giue thy substance, and all thy treasures to be spoiled, for the sinne of thy high places throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou shalt rest, and in thee shall be a rest from thine heritage that I gaue thee, and I will cause thee to seeue thine enemies in the land, which thou knowest not: for yee haue kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burne for euer.

5 Thus saith the Lord, 8 Curfed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arme, and withdreweth his heart from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the wilderness, and shall not see when any good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her rootes by the ruer, and shall not feele when the heat cometh, but her leafe shall be greene, and shall not care for the yere of drought, neither shall cease from yeelding fruit.

9 The heart is deceitfull and wicked about all things, who can know it?

10 I the Lord search the heart, and trie the reines, euē to giue euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 As the Partrich gathereth the young, which she hath not brought forth: so hee that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leaue them in the middes of his dayes, and at his end shall be a foole.

12 As a glorious throne exalted from the beginning, so was the place of our Sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall be written in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Lord, the fountaine of liuing waters.

14 Heale mee, O Lord, and I shall see whole: save mee, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praye.

Their own lewd imaginations deceive them, and bring them to these inconveniences: but God will examine their deedes by the malice of their hearts. 1 Sam. 16. 7. 1 Chron. 28. 9. Psal. 7. to Chap. 1. 17. 20. and 2. 12. 23. K As the Partrich by calling gathereth others, which hee facketh, when they see that hee is not their damme: so the covetous man is forsaken of his riches, because hee cometh by them falsely. 1 Shewing that the godly ought to ploy nothing, but in God, who doth exalt him, and hath left a signe of his fauour in his Temple. In their aimes shall hee be registered in the booke of life. Hee desireth God to preserve him that hee fall not into temptation, considering the great contempt of Gods word, and the multitude that fall from God.

15 Behold, o they say vnto mee, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 But I haue not thrust in my selfe for a pasture after thee, neither haue I del. ed the day of misery, thou knowest that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not a terrible vnto me: thou art mine hope in the day of aduersitie.

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: bring vpon them the day of aduersitie, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Goe and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem:

20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord ye Kings of Iudah, & all Iudah & all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heede to your soules and beare no burden in the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem:

22 Neither carrie forth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither doe yee any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their neckes stiffe and would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuertheless, if ye will heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burden through the gates of the city in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that yee doe no worke therein,

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of the citie, and shall sit vpon the throne of David, and shall ride vpon chares, and vpon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and this citie shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, & from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meate offerings, and incense, & shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden, nor to go through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the destroyers of his word. 18 The conspiracy of the leuies against Ieremiah. 19 His prayer against his adversaries.

The word which came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Ari'e, & goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I shew thee my wordes.

3 Then I went downe to the potters house, & behold he wrought a worke on the wheelles.

4 And the vessell that he made of clay, was broken in the hand of the potter, so he returned, and made it another vessell, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

o The wicked say that my prophesie shall not come to passe because they deferre it the time of thy vengeance. I am assured of my vocation, and therefore know that they shall see which thou speakest by me, shall come to passe, and that I speake not of any wordly execution.

q How often the wicked deale rigorously with me, yet let me find comfort in thee. Reade Chap. 71. 20.

r Whereas thy doctrine may be best vnderstood both of high and low.

s By naming the Sabbath day, wee comprehendeth the thing that is thereby signified: for they transgressed in the ceremony they must needs be culpable of the rest reade Exodus. 20. 8 and by the breaking of this one commandement, he maketh their transgressions of the whole Law, forasmuch as the first and second table are contained herein.

b When the Scripture attibuteth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doth contrary to that which he hath ordained in his secret counsell: but when he threateth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatening (which euer conteineth a condition in it) taketh no place: and this the Scripture calleth repentance in God, because it to appeareth to mans iudgement. c As men that had beene disobedient to rebellion, and to their owne felicity will. d As one man that hath this ill: I will thus conduict waters which he hath at home, to goe and seeke waters abroad to quench his thirst: to they ought not to seeke for helpe and succour at strangers, and leaue God which was present with them. e That is, the way of truth, which God had taught by his law, see Chap. 6. 16. f I will wine mine anger and not my fauour toward them. g This argument the wicked haue eneried against the seruants of God, The Church cannot erre: wee are the Church, and therefore whosoever speaketh against vs, they ought to die. h. King 22. 24. Chap. 7. 4. and 30. 3. malice 4. and thus the false Church persecuteth the true Church, which standeth not in outward pompe, and in multitude, but is known by the graces of the holy Ghost. i. Let vs slander him, and accuse him: for we shall be beleued. j Seeing the obstinate malice of the aduersaries which grew daily more and more, the Prophet being moued with Gods Spirit, without any carnall affection prayeth for their destruction, because he knew that it should tend to Gods glory, and profit of his Church.

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this pottor, saith the Lord? behold, as the clay is in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdome to plucke it vp and to roote it out, and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to builde it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my sight, and heare not my voice, I will repent of the good that I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they said e deperately, Surely we will walke after our owne imaginations, and doe euery man after the stubburnesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things? the virgin of Itrael hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which cometh from the rocke of the field? or shall the colde flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to vanitie, and their prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the ancient wayes, to walke in the pathes and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate, and a perpetual derision, so that euery one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and wagge his head,

17 I will scatter them with an East wind before the enemy: I will shew them the backe, and I not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then sayd they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Jeremiah: for the Lawe shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the word from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs not giue heed to any of his words.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lord, and heare the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, I deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, and let their wines be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their young men be slaine by the sword in the battell.

22 Let the cry be heard from their houses when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me tender to death: forgieue not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

He propheseth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

Thus said the Lord, Goe and buy an earthen bottell of a pottor, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And goe forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the East gate: and thou shalt preach there the words that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare yee the word of the Lord, O Kings of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Itrael, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his eares shall bingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken me, and profaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue knownen, nor the kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind)

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsell of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeises will I giue to be meate for the foules of the heauen, and to the besties of the field.

8 *And I will make this citie desolate and an hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and hisse because of all the plagues thereof.

9 *And I will feed them with the flesh of their sonnes, and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitnesse, wherwith their enemies that seeke their liues, shall hold them strait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so will I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a potters vessell, that cannot be made whole againe, and they shall burie them in Topheth till there bee no place to burie.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, sayth the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this citie like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, & the houses of the kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whose roofs they haue burnt incense vnto all the host of heauen, and haue poured out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

Or, gate of the sunne.

a Jeremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching the word of God. 3 He prophesies the captivity of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the kings to preache the word.

When Pashur, sonne of Immer, the priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Ieremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashur imoted Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning Pashur brought Ieremiah out of the stocks. Then said Ieremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but | Magor-misabbib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee to be a terror to thy selfe, & to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall carry them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover I will deliuer all the substance of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, & all the treasures of the kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoile them, and take them away, and carry them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, & there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lord, thou hast deceived me, and I am deceived: thou art stronger then I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision dayly: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cryed out of wrong, and proclaimed desolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision dayly.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the rayling of many, and feare one euerie side. Declare, said they, and wee will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceived: so we shall preuaile against him, and we shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 But the Lord is with me like a mighty gyant: therefore my persecuters shall be ouerthrowen, and shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded, for they haue done vnwisely, and their euellasting shame shall neuer be forgotten.

12 But O Lord of hosts, that triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let mee see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise yet he Lord: for he hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

14 Curfed be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare mee, be blessed.

15 Curfed be the man, that shewed my father, saying, A man child is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man bee as the i cities, which the Lord hath ouerturned and repented not: and let him heare the crie in the morning, and the shouting at noone tide,

17 Because hee hath not slaine mee, when from the wombe, or that my mother might haue bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetuall conception.

18 How is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorow, that my dayes should be consumed with shame?

CHAP. XXI.

He prophesies that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the city burned.

The word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashur the sonne of Malchiah, and Zephaniah, the sonnes of Maaseiah the Priest, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs, (for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wonderous works, that hee may returne vs from vs.

3 Then sayd Ieremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the mids of this cite.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arme even in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this cite, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and hee shall smite them with the edge of the sword. hee shall not spare them, neither haue pittie nor compassion.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this cite, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but hee that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans that besiege you, hee shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a prey.

10 For I haue set my face against this cite, for euill and not for good, sayth the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hand of the king of Babel, and hee shall burne it with fire.

11 And say vnto the house of the king of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

12 O house of David, Thus sayth the Lord, Execute iudgement in the morning, & deliuer the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressour, lest

CHAP. XXII.

Rehereth the King to iudgement, and righteously. 9 Why Jerusalem is brought into captivity. 13 The deathe of Sennacherib the sonne of Isaia prophesied.

Thus said the Lord, Goe downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing.

2 And say, Heare the word of the Lord, O King of Iudah, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, * Execute yee iudgement, and * righteousnesse, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressour, and vex not the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widow: doe no violence, nor fiedde innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye doe this thing, then shal the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this House, * and ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both hee and his seruants, and his people.

5 But if yee will not heare these wordes, I will sweare by my selfe, sayth the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken vpon the kings house of Iudah, Thou art * Gilead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, * surely I will make thee a wilderness, and a citie not inhabited.

7 And I will * prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 * And many nations shal passe by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shall they answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and serued them.

10 * Weepe not for the dead, and be not moued for them, * weepe for him that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his native countrey.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching * Shalum the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither.

12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 * Wee vnto him that buildeth his house by * vnrighteousnesse and his chambers without equitie: hee vnto his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee will make himselfe large windowes, and sicing with cedar, and paint them with vermillion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou clo'st thy selfe in cedar? Did not thy * father eate and drinke and prosper when hee executed iudgement and iustice?

16 When hee iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, sayth the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but only for thy concouitnesse, and for to feed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, * euen to doe this.

18 Therefore thus sayth the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, They shal not lament * him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 Hee shall bee buried as an asse * is buried, euen drawn and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 * Goe vnto * Lebanon and cry: shoute in * Bathan, and crie by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperity: but thou saidst, I will not heare, this hath bene thy manner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wind shall feed all thy paffours, * and thy louers shal goe into captiuitie: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the cedars, how beautiful shalt thou be when sorrowes come vpon thee, as the sorrow of a woman in trauaile?

24 As I liue, sayth the Lord, though * Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carrie thee away, and thy mother that bare thee into another countrey, where yee were not borne, and there shall yee die.

27 But to the land wherunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idle? or as a vessill, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, hee and his seed, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 O * earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the lord, Write this * man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seed that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

Woe be vnto the paſtours that deſtroy and ſcatter b the ſheepe of my paſture, ſaith the Lord.

2 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael vnto the paſtours that c feede my people, Yee haue ſcattered my flock, and thruſt them out, and haue not viſited them: Beholde, I will viſite you for the wickedneſſe of your workes, ſaith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the d remnant of my ſheepe out of all countreys, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they ſhall grow and increaſe.

4 And I will ſet vp ſhepheards ouer them, which ſhall feede them, and they ſhall dreene no more, nor be afraid, neither ſhall any of them bee lacking, ſaith the Lord.

5 Beholde, the dayes come, ſaith the Lord, that I will raiſe vnto David a righteous e branch, and a King ſhall reigne and prosper, and ſhall execute judgement and iuſtice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah ſhall bee ſaned, and * Iſrael ſhall dwell ſaithly, and this is the Name whereby they ſhall call him, * The Lord our righteousneſſe.

7 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, ſaith the Lord, that they ſhall no more ſay, The f Lord lieth which brought vp the children of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt,

8 But, the Lord lieth, which brought vp and ledde the ſeede of the houſe of Iſrael out of the North countrey, and from all countreys where I had ſcattered them, and they ſhall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, becauſe of theſe prophets, all my bones ſhake: I am like a drunken man, (and like a man whom wine hath f ouercome) for the preſence of the Lord, and for his holy wordes.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and becauſe of oathes the land mourneth, the pleaſant places of the wilderneſſe are dried vp, and their h comſe is euill, and their force is no right.

11 For both the Prophet and the Prieſt || doe wickedly: and their wickedneſſe haue I found in mine i Houſe, ſaith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way ſhall be vnto them as ſlipperie wayes in the darkneſſe: they ſhall be driuen forth, and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their viſitation, ſaith the Lord.

13 And I haue ſene fooliſhnes in the prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal, and cauſed my people Iſrael to erre.

14 I haue ſene alſo in the prophets of Ieruſalem k ſilchiſſe: they commit adultery and walke in lies; they ſtrengthen alſo the hands of the wicked, that none can returne from his wickedneſſe; they are all vnto l me as Sodome, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feede them with m wormewood: and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ieruſalem is || wickedneſſe gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they ſpeake the viſion of their owne n heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They ſay ſtil vnto them that deſpiſe me, The Lord hath ſaid, Yee o ſhall haue peace: and they ſay vnto euery one that walketh after the ſtubborneſſe of his owne heart, No euill ſhall come vpon you.

18 For p who hath ſtood in the counſell of the Lord, that hee hath perceiued and heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold, the tempeſt of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwinde ſhall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord ſhal not returne vntill hee haue executed, and till hee haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes yee q ſhall vnderſtand it plainly.

21 * I haue not ſent theſe prophets ſayth the Lord, yet they ran: I haue not ſpoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had ſtood in my counſell, and I had declared my wordes to my people, then they ſhould haue turned them from their euil way, and from the wickedneſſe of their inventions.

23 Am I a God a k and, ſayeth the Lord, and not a God f farre off.

24 Can any hide himſelfe in ſecret places, that I ſhall not ſee him, ſaith the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, ſaith the Lord?

25 Thau heard what the prophets ſayd, that prophesie lies in my Name, ſaying, I: haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? † Doe thy prophets delight to prophesie lies, euen prophesying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cauſe u my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The Prophet that hath a dreame, let him t tell a dreame, and hee that hath my word, let him ſpeake my word faithfully: y what is the chaſtiſe to the wheat, ſaith the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire? ſaith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the ſtone?

30 Therefore beholde, I will come againſt the prophets, ſaith the Lord, that z ſeale my word euery one from his his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I will come againſt the prophets ſaith the Lord, which haue ſweet tongues, and ſay, a He ſaith.

32 Beholde, I will come againſt them that prophesie falſe dreames, ſayeth the Lord, and doe tell them, and cauſe my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I ſent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, ſayeth the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the Prophet, or a Prieſt ſhall aſke thee ſaying, What is the b burden of the Lord? thou ſhalt then ſay vnto them, What burden? I will cuen forſake you, ſaith the Lord.

34 And the Prophet, or the Prieſt, or the people that ſhall ſay, The c burden of the Lord, I ſhew Gods burden, which the ſinners were not able to ſuſtaine, in deciding the word, would aſke of the Prophets, what would ſay You ſeek nothing elſe, but to lay burdens on: thus they recited the word of God as a grievous burden. c Because this word was brought to contempt and deſiſion, I will reach their ſpeech and will cauſe this word to ceaſe, and reach them ſo, that ſhall ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 The vision of the basket of figs, 5 signifieth that part of the people should be brought againe from captivity. 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be carried away.

THe Lord shewed mee, and beholde, two baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had caried away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughtie figs, which could not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then said the Lord vnto mee, What seest thou, Ieremiah? And I said, Figgs: the good figs very good, and the naughty very naughty, which cannot be eaten they are so euill.

4 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord the God off Irael, Like the good figs, so will I know them that are caried away captiue of Iudah to be good, whom I haue sent out of this place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I wil set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this land, and I will build them, and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not root them out,

7 And I will giue them an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be * my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 * And as the naughtie figs which cannot be eaten, they are so euill (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I giue Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem that remaine in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

9 I wil euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproch, and for a proverbe, for a common talke, and for a curse, in all places where I shall cast them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

1 He propheseth that they shall be in captivity fowentie yeeres, 12 And that after the fowentie yeeres the Babyloians should be destroyed. 15 The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

THe word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the people of Iudah, in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah that was in the first yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel:

2 The which Ieremiah the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah the son of Amon king of Iudah, euen vnto this day (that is the three and twentieth yeere) the word of the Lord hath come vnto me, and I haue spoken vnto you * rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising early and sending them, but ye would not heare, nor incline your eares to obey.

5 They * said, Turne againe now euery one from his euill way, and from the wickednesse of your inuentions, and yee shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And goe not after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke me not to anger with the workes of your hands, and I will not punish you.

7 Neuerthelesse, yee would not heare mee, sayeth the Lord, but haue prouoked mee to anger with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because ye haue not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take to mee all the families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations ground about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.

10 * Moreover, I will take from them the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, the noise of the milstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall be desolate, and and an astonishment, and these nations shall serue the king of Babel fuentie yeeres.

12 And when the fuentie yeeres are accomplished, I will visit the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and will make it a perpetual desolation.

13 And I will bring vpon that land all my words which I haue pronounced against it, euen all that is written in this booke, which Ieremiah hath prophesied against all nations.

16 And they shall drinke, and bee moued, and be madde, becaufe of the fword that I will fend among them.

17 Then took I the cup of the Lords hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whom the Lord had fent me:

18 Euen Ierusalem and the cities of Iudah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, and hissing, and a curse, as appeareth this day:

27 Therefore fay thou vnto them, Thus fayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Ifrael, Drinke and bee drunken, and spue and fall, and rie no more, becaufe of the fword, which I will fend among you.

28 ¶ But if they refufe to take the cup at thine hand to drinke, then tel them, Thus faith the Lord of hostes, Ye shall certainly drinke.

29 For Ioe, I begin to plague the city, where my Name is called vpon, and should you go free? Yee shall not goe quit: for I will call for a fword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, fayeth the Lord of hostes.

30 Therefore prophesie thou against them all thefe wordes, and fay vnto them, * The Lord shall roare from aboue, and thrust out his voyce from his holy habitation: hee shall roare vpon his habitation, and cry aloud, as they that presse the grapes, against all the habitations of the earth.

32 ¶ Thus fayeth the Lord of hostes, Echolde, a plague shall goe forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlewind shall bee raised vp from the coasts of the earth.

37 And the best pastures are destroyed becaufe of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

CHAP. XXVI.

2 Jeremiah moneth the people to repentance. 3 Hee taketh of the false prophets a Prefet, and broughte to iudgement. 13 Vnto the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim, contrary to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iofiah king of Iudah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus faith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords house, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which cometo worship in the Lords House, all the words that I command thee to speake vnto them: keepe not a word backe.

3 If so bee they will hearken, and turne every man from his euill way, that I may repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, becaufe of the wickednesse of their workes.

4 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus fayeth the Lord, If yee will not heare me to walke in my lawes, which I haue fet before you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising vp early, and sending them, and wll not obey them,

9 Then will I make this House like, * Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Ieremiah speaking these wordes in the House of the Lord.

8 Now when Ieremiah had made an ende of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of the Lord, saying, This House shall be like Shiloh, and this citie shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Ieremiah in the house of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came vp from the Kings house into the House of the Lord, and fate downe in the entry of the new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests and the Prophets vnto the Princes, and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this citie, as yee haue heard with your eares, your workes, and heare the voice of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands: doe with me as ye thinke good and right.

15 But know ye for certaine, that if ye put me to death, yee shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this cite, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent mee vnto you, to speake all these words in your eares.

16 Then sayde the Princes and all the people vnto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morastite ^a prophesied in the dayes of Hezekiah king of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Zion shall be plowed like a fildes, and Ierusalem shall be an heape, and the mountaine of the house ^b shall be as the hie places of the forrest.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death? did hee not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, & the Lord repented him of the plague that hee had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great euil against our selues.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, ^c one Vrijah the sonne of Shemajah, of Kirjath-jearum, who prophesied against this city, and against this land, according to all the words of Ieremiah.

21 Now when Ichoiakim the King with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the king sought to slay him: But when Vrijah heard it, hee was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Ichoiakim the king sent me into Egypt, ^d euen Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they set Vrijah out of Egypt, & brought him vnto Ichoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, & cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam ^e the sonne of Shaphan was with Ieremiah that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

C H A P. XXVII.

1 Ieremiah at the commandment of the Lord smeth bandes to the king of Iudah and to other kings that were there, whereby they are constrained to be iudels vnto Nebuchad-nezzar. ¶ Hee warneth the people, and the Kings and rulers that they beleene not false Prophets.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Ichoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, & to the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the king of Iudah.

4 And command them to say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man and the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But now I haue giuen all these landes into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and the beasts of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, vntill the very time of his land come also: then many nations and great kings shall serue themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, the same nation will I visit, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets, nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your forerers, which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the king of Babel:

10 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him, tho' e wil I let remaine till in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the king of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the prophets that peake vnto you, saying, Yee shall not serue the king of Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesie a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that yee might perish, both you, and the prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the wordes of your prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Behold, ^a the vessels of the house of the Lord hath now shortly be brought againe from Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare ye may not, but serue the king of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this cite be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them sitt vnder the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bakes, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this cite,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke not, when hee carried away captiue Ierusalem.

The false prophesie of Hananiah. 21 Ieremiah reprooueth Hananiah and prophesieth.

ANd that same yeere in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Iudah, in the fourth yeere, and in the fifth moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to mee in the House of the Lord in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babel.

3 Within two yeeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lords House, that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel took away from this place, and carried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Ichoiakim King of Iudah, with all them that were carried away captiue of Iudah, and went into Babel, saith the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah sayd vnto the Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord,

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah sayd, So bee it: the Lord doo, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is carried captiue from Babel into this place.

7 But heare thou now this word that I will speake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before mee and before thee in time past, ^f prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee known that the Lord hath truly sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Ieremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) saying,

13 Goe and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron,

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue given him the i beasts of the field also.

15 Then sayd the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to tult in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will call thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet ^k died the same yeere in the fueneth moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

Ieremiah writeth vnto them that are in captiuitie in Babylon. 1 Hee prophesieth their returne after seventy yeeres. 18 Hee prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ierusalem. 21 Hee sheweth vnto the Priests howe they shall restore the people. 22 The death of Sennachib is prophesied.

NOw these are the wordes of the Lord which the Lord Ieremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto the residue of the Elders, which were carried away captiues, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchad-nezzar had carried away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel:

2 (After that Ieconiah the King, and the Queene, and the eunuchs, the princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Ierusalem)

3 By the hand of Elasah the sonne of Shaphan and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Iudah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are carried away captiues, whom I haue caused to be carried away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget sonnes and daughters, and take wiues for your sonnes, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that ye may bee increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the profinity of the city, whither I haue caused you to be carried away captiues, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your soothsayers that bee among you, decieve you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, that after seuentie yeeres bee accomplished at Babel, I will visite you and performe my good promise toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts ^g I haue thought towards you, saith the Lord, ^h the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

1 Perseuereth Gods beneficence after his returne from Babylon, 2 And the spiritual way of the faithful in the Church.

At the same time, saith the Lord, will I bee the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

2 Thus saith the Lord, the people which he escaped the sword, found grace in the wilderness: he walked before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me of old, say they: Yea, I haue loued thee with an euerslaſting loue, therefore with mercy I haue drawen thee.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnesse for Iacob, and shoute for ioy among the chiefe of the Gentiles: publish praise, and say, O Lord saue thy people the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the North country, and gather them from the coasts of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woman with childe, and her char is deliuered also: a great company shall returne hither.

9 They shall come in weeping, and with mercy will I bring them againe: I will lead them by the riuers of water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles a farre off, and say, He that scattered Israel, will gather him, and will keepe him, as a shepherd doth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and ranfomed him from the hand of him that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifullnesse of the Lord, euen for the wheate and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increase of sheepe and bullocks: and their soule shall be as a watered garden, and they shall haue no more sorrow.

14 And I wil replenish the foule of the Priests with fatnesse, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voyce was heard on hie, a mourning, and bitter weeping, Rahel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Refraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemye:

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come againe to their owne borders.

y He sheweth how the faithfull vse to pray, that is, desire God to turne them for sinne, which they cannot free of themselves. z In signe of repentance and delectation of my sin, a As though he would say, No, for by his iniquity he did what lay him to cast me off. b To wit, in pitying him for my promise sake. c Marke by what way thou didst go into captiuitie, and thou shalt turne againe by the same. d Because their deliuerance from Babylon, was a figure of their deliuerance from sinne, he sheweth how this should be procured, to wit by Iesus Christ, whom a woman should conceive and beare in her womb. Which is a strange thing in early becaule he should be borne of a virgin without man, or he meaneth that Iewes, which was like a barren woman in her captiuitie, should be fruitful as the chaste is ioyed in marriage, and whom God bleſſeth with children.

Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shal bring againe their captiuitie, the Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocke.

25 For I haue fatiued the weary soule, and I haue replenished euery sorrowfull soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepe was sweet vnto me.

27 Behold, the daies come saith the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah, with the seed of man, and with the seede of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp, and to root out, and to throw downe, and to destroy, & to plague them, so will I watch ouer them, to build and to plant them, sayeth the Lord.

29 In those daies shall they say no more, The fathers haue eaten a fowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But euery one shall dye for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the fowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge:

31 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah.

32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall bee the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After those daies, saith the Lord, I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall I teach no more euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and will remember their finnes no more.

35 Thus saith the Lord, which giueth the sunne for a light to the day, and the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hosts.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the seed of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they haue done saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that the city shall be builded to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall go forth in his presence, vpon the hill Gareb, & shall compass about the whole.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, & of the ashes, & all the fields vnto the brook of Kidron, & vnto the corner of the horsegate toward the East shall be holy vnto the Lord, neither shall it be plucked vp, nor destroyed any more for euer.

CHAP. XXXII.

Ieremiah is cast into prison, because he prophesied that the city should be taken of the king of Babel. 7 Hee saith that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

The word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the tenth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 For then the king of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesie and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this cite into the hands of the king of Babel, and hee shall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the king of Iudah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the hands of the king of Babel, & shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his face.

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he bee, until I visit him, saith the Lord, though ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 And Ieremiah said, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanameel, the sonne of Shallum thine vncle, shall come vnto thee and say, Buy vnto thee my field, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kinred appertaineth vnto thee to buy it.

8 So Hanameel mine vncles sonne, came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, & said vnto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase bringeth vnto thee: buy it for thee. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the siluer, even eleuen shekels, and ten pieces of siluer.

10 And I writ it in the book, and signed it, and took mineests, and weighed him the siluer in the balances.

11 So I tooke the booke of the possession being sealed according to the Law, and custome, with the booke that was open.

12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncle, and in the presence of the witneses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that sate in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Take the writings, even this booke of the possession both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses, and fields and vineyards shall be possessed againe in this land.

16 Now when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

So that Ieremiah had now prophesied from the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah vnto the last yeere of Ieremiahs reigne which was almost forty yeeres.

h And so to hide them in ground, that they might be preserved as tokens of their deliuerance.

17 Ah Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, & there is nothing || hard vnto thee.

18 * Thou shewest mercy vnto thousands, and recompentst the iniquities of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them: O God the great & mighty, whose name is the Lord of hosts,

19 Great in counsel, and mighty in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the waies of the sons of men, to giue to euery one according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his works)

20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this day, and in Israel and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this day,

21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terror,

22 And hast giuen them this land, which thou didst sweare to their fathers to giue them, even a land that floweth with milke and hony,

23 And they came in and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to do, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Behold, the mountains, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it by means of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said vnto me, O Lord God, Buy vnto thee the field for siluer, and take witnesses: for the citie shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD GOD of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for mee?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar, king of Babel, and he shall take it.

29 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this citie, and set fire on this citie, and burne it with the houses, vpon whose roofes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke mee vnto anger.

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Iudah haue surely done euill before mee from their youth: for the children of Israel haue surely prouoked mee to anger with the workes of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto mee as a pronocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day that they built it, euen vnto this day, that I should remoue it out of my sight,

32 Because of all the euill of the children of Israel, and of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, even they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priests, and their Prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

33 And they haue turned vnto mee the backe and not the face: though I taught them, & rising vp early, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receiue doctrine,

34 But they set their abomination in the house (whereupon my Name was called) to defile it.

35 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to cause their lonnes and their daughters to passe thorow the fire vnto Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they should doe such abomination, to cause Iudah to sinne.

36 And now therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken, concerning this citie, whereof ye say, It shall be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence, 37 * Behold, I will gather them out of all countreys, wherein I haue scattered them in mine anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I will bring them againe vnto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be * my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will giue them * one heart and one way, that they may feare mee for euer for the wealth of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an * euerlasting couenent with them, that I will neuer turne away from them to doe them good, but I will put my feare in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will delight in them to doe them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soule.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people, so will I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fields shall be possessed in this land, whereof yefay, it is desolate without man or beast and shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

44 Men shall buy * fields for siluer, and make writings, and seale them, and take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, & round about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah, & in the cities of the mountaines, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, saith the Lord.

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the second time (while he was yet shut vp in the court of the prison) saying,
2 Thus saith the Lord, the maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto mee, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and concerning the houses of the kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the mountains, and by the sword:

5 They come to a fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whom I haue slaine in mine anger, and in my wrath: for I haue hid my face from this citie, because of all their wickednesse.

6 ¶ Behold, I will giue it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reucale vnto them the abundance of peace and truth.

Or, bid.

10 Thus saith the Lord, Again the shall be heard in this place (which ye say shall be desolate without man, and without beast, even in the cities of Iudah, and in the strettes of Ierusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Again in this place, which is desolate, without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall be dwelling for shepherds to rest their flocks.
13 In the cities of the mountains, in the cities in the plaine, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah shall the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.
14 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing which I have promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Iudah.
15 In those dayes and at that time, wil I cause the branch of righteousnesse to growe vp vnto David, and he shall execute iudgement and righteousness in the land.
16 In those dayes shall Iudah be saved, and Ierusalem shall dwell safely, and hee that shall call me her, is the Lord our righteousnesse.
17 For thus saith the Lord, David shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Irael.
18 Neither shall the Priests and Leuites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to offer meat offerings, and to doe sacrifice continually.
19 And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, saying,
20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my covenant of the p day, and my covenant of the night, that there should not bee day, and night in their season,
21 Then may my covenant bee broken with David my servant, that hee should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, and Priests my ministers.
22 As the army of heauen cannot be numbred, neither the sand of the sea measured: so wil I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Leuites, that minister vnto me.
23 ¶ Moreouer, the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what I this people have spoken, saying, The two families, which the Lord hath cholen, hee hath enen cast them off: thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.
25 Thus saith the Lord, If my covenant bee not with day and night, and as if I have not appointed the order of heauen and earth,
26 Then will I cast away the seed of Iakoby, and David my servant, and not take of his seed to bee rulers over the seed of Abraham, Izhak, and Iakob: for I wil cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.
C H A P. XXXIII.
2 He threatneth that the cite, and the king Zedekiah shall be given into the hands of the king of Babylon. 13 Ieremiah shall cry out toward their seruants.
THe word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord (when a Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,
2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Goe, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this cite into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire,
3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely bee taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the face of the king of Babel, and he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.
4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah, king of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword,
5 But thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former kings which were before thee: so shall they burne odors for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, Oh Lord: for I haue pronounced the word, saith the Lord.
6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem,
7 (When the king of Babels hoste fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah that were left, even against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)
8 This is the word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, to proclaim libertie vnto them,
9 That euery man should let his seruant goe free, and euery man his handmaid, which was an Ebrew or an Ebrewesse, & that none should serue himselfe of them, to wit, of a few his brother.
10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the covenant, heard that euery one should let his seruant goe free, and euery one his handmaid, & that none should serue themselves of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.
11 But afterward they repented, and caused the seruants and the handmaids, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants and handmaids.
12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,
13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a covenant

14 * At the terme of seuen yeeres let yee goe, euery man his brother an Hebrew which hath bene sold vnto thee: and when hee hath serued thee fixe yeeres, thou shalt let him goe free from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, neither inclined their eares.

15 And yee were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclaiming libertie, euery man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before mee in ^f the house whereupon my Name is called.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, ye haue not obeyed me, in proclaiming freedome euery man to his brother, and euery man to his neighbour: behold, I will proclaim a libertie for you saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terror to all the kingdoms of the earth.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to returne to this citie, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

He propheseth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby comforteth the spirit of the Iewes.

THe word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the daies ^a of Ichoiakim the son of Iosiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Goe into the house of the Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Ianaaziah, the sonne of Ieremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, & his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the sonne of Igdaiah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was aboue the chamber of Maaseiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, and cuppes, and said vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they said, We will drinke no wine: for Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, I ye shall drinke no wine: neither you nor your ionnes for euer.

7 Neither shall you build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any, but all your dayes ye shall dwell in tents, that yee may liue a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue wee obeyed the voyce of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and wee drinke no wine all our daies, neither wee, our wives, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build we houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyard, nor field nor feed,

10 But we haue remained in tents, and haue obeyed, and done according to all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel came vp into the land, we said, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem, from the hoste of the Caldeans, and from the hoste of Aram: so we dwelt at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Goe, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will I ye not receiue doctrine, to obey my words saith the Lord?

14 The commandement of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab that hee commanded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandement: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, saying, * Returne now euery man from his euill way, and amend your workes, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and yee shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not incline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely the sonnes of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 There ore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vnto Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them, because I haue spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they would not answere.

18 And Ieremiah saide to the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commandement of Ionadab your father, & kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that hee hath commanded you, 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Ionadab the sonne of Rechab shall not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

ulers, and readeth it before them also. 23 The king casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written as the commandments of the Lord.

And in the fourth yere of Iehoiakim the son of Iosiah king of Iudah, came this word vnto Ieremias the son of the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roule or book, and write therein all the words that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euen
b from the daies of Iosiah vnto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them, that they may returne euery man from his euill way, that I may forgive their iniquitie and their sinnes.

4 Then Ieremias called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremias all the words of the Lord, which hee had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule or booke.

5 And Ieremias commanded Baruch, saying,
I am a shut vp, and cannot goe into the house of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou, and reade the roule wherin thou hast written at my mouth the words of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lords house vpon the fasting day: & thou shalt read them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be that they will pray before the Lord, and euery one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger & the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Ieremias the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the words of the Lord in the Lords house.

9 ¶ And in the fifth yere of Iehoiakim the son of Iosiah King of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, & to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the words of Ieremias in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the Secretary, in the hie court at the entry of the new gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the book
all the words of the Lord,

12 Then hee went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the princes sate there, euen Elishama the Chancellor, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the Princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the words that hee had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the Princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the son of Chusih, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule, wherein thou hast read, in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they said vnto him, Sit downe now, and read it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience,

16 Now when they had heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the king of all these words.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, how didst thou write all these words, at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with inke in the Booke.

19 Then said the Princes vnto Baruch, Goe, kide thee, thou and Ieremias, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king to the court, but they laid vp the roule in the chamber of El-shama the Chancellor, and told the king all the words that he might heare.

21 So the king sent Iehudi to fet the roule, and hee tooke it out of Elshama the Chancellours chamber, & Iehudi read it in the audience of the king, and in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the King.

22 Now the king sate in the winter house, in the ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read three or foure sides, he cut it with the pen-knife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king nor any of his seruants that heard all these words.

25 Neuerthelselfe, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the King, that he would not burn the roule: but he would not heare them.

26 But the King commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abd el, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Ieremias the Prophet, but the Lord hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, after that the King had burnt the roule, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremias saying,

28 Take thee againe another roule & write in it all the former words that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the King of Iudah hath burnt,

29 And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the King of Babel shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, He shall haue none to sit vpon the throne of Dauid, & his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visit him and his seed, and his seruants for their iniquity, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Ieremias another roule, and gaue it Baruch the Scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremias all the words of the booke which Iehoiakim king of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there was added besides them many like words.

1 Zedekiah succeeded Iehoiachin. 2 Iehoiachin was king of Iehoiachin. 3 Iehoiachin was king of Iehoiachin. 4 Iehoiachin was king of Iehoiachin. 5 Iehoiachin was king of Iehoiachin.

And king Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah reigned for . . . Coniah the sonne of Iehoiachin, whom Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel made king in the land of Iudah.

But neither honor his servants, nor the people o. the land would obey the word of the Lord which he spake by the ministry of the Prophet Ieremiah.

And Zedekiah the king sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray new unto the Lord our God for vs.

(Now Ieremiah went in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

Then Pharaohs host was come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Ierusalem.)

Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shalt ye say to the king of Iudah, that sent ye vnto me to enquire of me, Echolah, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to help you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this cite, and take it and burne it with fire.

Thus saith the Lord, || Deceiue not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

For though ye had imitten the whole host of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained not wounded men among them, yet should cury man rise vnto his tent, and burne this cite with fire.

¶ When the hoste of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie,

Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the land of Beniamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

And when hee was in the gate of Beniamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Irijah the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and hee tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou shalt flee to the Caldeans.

Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans but he would not heare him: so Irijah tooke Ieremiah, & brought him to the princes.

Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiah, and smote him, and layed him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the Scribe: for they had made that the prison.

When Ieremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the prison, & had remained there a long time,

Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke him out, and the king asked him secretly in his house, & said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for, said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

Moreover, Ieremiah said vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

¶ Where are now your prophets, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come againe if you can gainst this land?

Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou cause mine returne to the house of Iehonathan the Seer, lest I die there.

Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a peece of bread out of the bakers store, vntill all the bread in the cite were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

By the motion of the waters Ieremiah was put into a dungeon, to the river of the fishes, which is called the river of the fishes. Thus saith the Lord, Thus shalt ye say to the king of Babel, Thus shalt ye say to the king of Babel, Thus shalt ye say to the king of Babel, Thus shalt ye say to the king of Babel.

Then Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the sonne of Malchiah, heard the words that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this cite, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall live: or hee shall haue his life for a pray, and shall live.

Thus saith the Lord, This cite shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babels army, which shall take it.

Therefore the Princes said vnto the king, We heerech you, let this man be put to death: for thus hee || weakeneth the hands of the men of warre: that remaine in this cite, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people but the hurt.

Then Zedekiah the king said, Beholde, hee is in your hands, for the king can doe as he will.

Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with coards: so the dungeon there was no water but mire: so Ieremiah stucke fast in the mire.

Nowe when Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, one of the Eunuchs which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon, (then the king fate in the gate of Beniamin.)

And Ebed-melech went out of the Kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

My lord the king, these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon and he dieth for hunger in the place where hee is: for there is no more bread in the cite.

Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Take some bene thirty men with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king, vnder the surrie, and tooke there olde rotten aggr, and olde worne clouts, and let them downe by coards into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore sayde vnto Ieremiah, Put now thee old rotten ragges and worne, vnder thine armeholes, betwene

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke Teremiah the Prophet vnto him into the third entrie that is in the house of the Lord, and the king said vnto Teremiah, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Teremiah sayd to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt thou slay me? and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king swaie secretly vnto Teremiah, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then sayd Teremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, If thou wilt go forth vnto the king of Babel's princes then thy soule shall liue, and this citie shall not bee burnt vp with fire, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babel's princes, then shall this citie be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the king said vnto Teremiah, I am carefull for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, lest they deliuer mee into their hands, and they mocke me.

20 But Teremiah said, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voice of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it be wel vnto thee, and thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt reioice to goe forth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And beholde all the women that are left in the king of Iudahs house, shall be brought forth to the king of Babel's princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perfwaded thee, and haue preuailed against thee, thy feet are fastened in the mire, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt bee taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this citie shalt thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah vnto Teremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, & say vnto thee, Declare vnto ys now, what thou hast said vnto the king, hide it not from ys, & we will not slay thee: also what the king said vnto thee.

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly besought the king that hee would not cause mee to returne to Iehonathans house, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Teremiah and asked him. And hee told them according to all these words that the king had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Teremiah abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and hee was there when Ierusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad nezzar king of Babel, 2 Zedekiah king of Iudah, 3 The Caldeans, 4 His wives are slain, 5 His eyes are put out, 6 Teremiah is brought forth, 7 Ebedmelech delivered from captivity.

IN the ninth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah in the tenth month, came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah in the fourth month, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was broken a vp.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babel came in, and fate in the middle gate, even Neregal, Sharezer, Shammgar-nebo, Sarfchim, Rab-saris, Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Iudah saw them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the citie by night, through the kings garden, and by the gate betweene the two wals, and he went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vnto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where hee gaue iudgment vpon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreouer, he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines to cary him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the poore that had nothing in the land of Iudah, and gaue them vineyards and fieldes at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel gaue charge concerning Teremiah to Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying,

12 Take him and look wee to him, and doe him no harme, but do vnto him as he shall say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebuzar-adan, Rab-saris, and Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babels princes:

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Teremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, that hee should cary him home: so hee dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Teremiah, while hee was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke-Moore, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring my words vpon this citie for euill, and not for good, and they shall bee accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not bee giuen into the hand of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall bee for a pray vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah hath licence to goe whether hee will. 6 Hee dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

THe word which came to Ieremiah from the Lord, after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe from Ramoth, when he had taken him being bound in chaines among all that were caried away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were carryed away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Ieremiah, and sayd vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye haue ^b sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now behold, I looke thee this day from the chaines which were on thine handes: if it please thee to come with mee into Babel, come, & I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with mee into Babel, [†] tarry still: behold, all the land ^u || before thee: whither it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to go, thither goe.

5 For yet hee was not turned: therefore hee said, returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whom the king of Babel hath made gouernour ouer al the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe wherefoer it pleasest thee to goe. So the chiefe steward gaue him vitayles and a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captaynes of the hoste, ^d which were in the feldest, euen they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, that were not carried away captiue to Babel:

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen ^e Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan and Ionathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanemuth, and the sonnes of Ephai the Netophathite, and Iezaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan ^{*} iware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and serue the king of Babel, and it shall be well with you:

10 As for mee, behold I will dwell at Mizpah to [†] serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine and summer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye haue [†] taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in ^f Moab, and among the Ammonites, & in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that hee had set ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driuen, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruites, very much.

13 Moreover Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the host that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,

14 And sayd vnto him, Knowest thou not that ^g Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleueed them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me goe I pray thee, and I will say Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should hee kill thee, that all the Iewes which are gathered vnto thee, should bee scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

C H A P. XLI.

2 Ishmael killeth Gedaliah quietly, and many other with him. 21 Iohanan is slaine after Ishmael.

BVt in the seventh moneth came Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elisama of the feede royall, and the princes of the king, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did eate bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babel had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Ishmael also slew all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, & all the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 Now the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah and no man knew it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samariah, euen foure score men hauing their beards shauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with ^d offerings & incense in their hands, to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as hee went: and when he met them, he said vnto them, Come ^e to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the midst of the cite, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, hee and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that said vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the felde, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of hony: so he staied, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Aia the king had made because of Baasha the king of Israel, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ishmael carried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euen the kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah caried them away captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

Nethaniah had done,

12 Then they all tooke their men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, & found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Ishmael carried away captiue, sawe Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captiue from Mizpah, returned and came again, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the h Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had caried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that hee had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam) with the strong men of wane, and the women, and the children, and the Eunuches, whom hee had brought againe from Gibeon.

enter into Egypt,

them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whom the king of Babel made gouernour in the land.

Egypt.

THen all the captaines of the hoste, and Ioha-nan the sonne of Kareah, and Tezaniah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the most came,

2 And sayde vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, 3 Heare our prayer wee beech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euen for all this remnant (for wee are left but a fewe of many, as thine eyes doe behold)

3 That the Lord thy God may fweue vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may doe.

4 Then Ieremiah the Prophet said vnto them,
I haue heard you behold, I will pray vnto the Lord your God according to your words, & whatsoe-uer thing the Lord shall answer you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Ieremiah, 6 The Lord be a witnes of truth, and saith betweene vs, if we do not cun according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voice of the Lord God, to whom wee send thee, that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ And so after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah.

8 Then called he Iohanan the son of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most.

9 And sayd vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom yee sent mee to present your prayers before him,

10 If ye will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I am repent mee of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the king of Babel, of whome ye are afraid: be not afraid of him saith the Lord:
for I am with you, to saue you, and to deliuer you e from his hand,

12 And I will grant you mercy that hee may haue compassion vpon you, and he shall cause you to dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye say, We wil not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor heare the sound of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye set your faces to enter into Egypt, and goe to dwell there,)

16 Then the sword that ye feared, I shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there shall ye die.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine nor escape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem:
so shall my wrath be powred forth vpon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt, and yee shall be a detestation, and an afflictment, and a curse, and a reproch, and yee shall see this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath said concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: know certainly that I haue admonished you this day.

20 Surely ye dissembled in your hearts when ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God shall say, and wee will do it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which hee hath sent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: in the place whither yee desire to goe and dwell.

CHAP. XLIII.

the command of Ieremiah 8 Ieremiah prophesie that hee desire will
be destroyed.

Now when Ieremiah had made an end of speaking vnto the whole people all the words of the Lord their God for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, and all these words,

2 Then spake Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Iohanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying vnto Ieremiah, 3 Thou speakest falsly:
the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Goe not into Egypt to dwell there,

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce o. the Lord to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste tooke all the remnant of Iudah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had bene diuien, to dwell in the land of Iudah :

6 Euen men and women and children, and the kings daughters, and euery person, that Nebuzardan the chiefe steward had left with Gedalah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, & Ieremiah the Prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: thus came they to h Tahpanhes.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and ihide them in the chare in the bricke kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God o Israel: Behold, I will fend and bring Nebuchadrezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and will set his throne vpon these stones that I haue hid, and he shall spread his pavillion ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: I such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword to the sword,

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burne them and cary them away captiues, & he shall aray him selfe with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

13 He shall break also the images of I Bethshemeth, that is in the land of Egypt, & the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burne with fire.

C A H P. XLIIII.

Here propheth the people for their idolatry. 15 They that feight by the strength of the Lord, are chastened. 26 Thee. I shall be as of Egypt, and of the Iewes therein, is prophesied.

THE word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, that dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Mgdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednesse which they haue committed, to prouoke meeto anger in that they went to burne incense, and to Ierue other gods whom they knew not, neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets rising early and sending them, saying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare, nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednes, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath and mine anger was powred forth & was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, and they are desolate and wasted as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Irael, Wherefore commit ye the great euill against your oules, to cut oil from you man and woman, child and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that ye prouoke me vnto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whether ye be gone to dwell: that ye might bring destruction vnto your selves, and that ye might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickednes of your fathers, and the wickednes of the kings of Iudah and the wickednes of their wiues, and your owne wickednes & the wickednes of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streets of Ierusalem.

10 They are not humbled vnto this day neither haue they feared not walked in my law nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you to euill, and to destroy all Iudah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah that haue set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall then be consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall be a desolation and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproch.

13 For I wil visite them that dwell in the land of Egypt as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence,

14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall scape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah, to the which they haue a desire to returne as dwell there: for none shall returne, but such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burne incense vnto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwell in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The worde that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, we will not heare it of thee,

17 But wee will doe whateuer thinge goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem: for then I had wee k plentie of vitayles, and were well and felt none euill.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre our drinke offerings vnto her, we haue had I Ica: cense of all things, and haue bin consumed by the sword, and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense to the Queene of heauen, and powred out drinke offerings vnto

Hee sheweth that we ought to keepe in memory Gods plagues from the beginning, that considering them, we might live in his care, & know if he haue not spared our fathers, yea kings, priores and rulers, and also whole countiees & nationes for their sinnes, that we vile wormes, cannot looke to escape punishment for ours. 4 Thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto him, The Lord ſaith thus, Behold, that which I haue built, will I o deſtroy, and that which I haue planted, will I plucke vp, euen this whole land.

5 And Ie ſeekſt thou great things for thy ſelfe?
ſeeke them not: for behold, I will bring a plague vpon all Beſh, ſaith the Lord: but thy life will I giue thee for a pray in all places, whither thou goeſt.

CHAP. XLVI.

a He prophesieth the deſtruction of Egypt. 27 Deliuance is promised to Iſrael.

¶ The wordes of the Lord, which came to Ieremiah the Prophet againſt the a Gentiles, 2 A againſt Egypt, againſt the army of t Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the riuer Perath in Carchemiſh, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babel ſmote in the fourth yere of Ie-hoiakim the ſonne of Ioſiah King of Iudah.

3 c Make ready buckler and ſhield, and goe foorth to battell.

4 Make ready the horſes, & let the horſemen get vp, and ſtand vp with your ſallets, ſurbiſh the ſpeeres, and put on the brigandines,

5 d Wherefore haue I ſene them afraid, and driuen backe? for their mightien men are ſmitten, and are fled away, and looke not backe: for I ſcare
m round about, ſaith the Lord.

6 The ſwift ſhall not flee away, nor the ſtrong man eſcape: they ſhall ſtumble, and fall toward the e North by the riuer Perath.

7 Who is this that commeth vp as a flood, whoſe waters are mooued like the riuers?

8 Egypt riſeth vp like the flood, and ha-waters are mooued like the riuers, and he ſaith, I will goe vp, and will couer the earth: I will deſtroy the cities with them that dwell therein.

9 Come vp ye horſes, and rage ye charrets, and let y valiant men come forth, o the blacke Mores, and the Libyans that beare the ſhield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hoſts, and a day of vengeance, that hee may avenge him of his enemies: for the ſworde ſhall denoue, and it ſhall be ſatiate, and made drunke with their blood: for the Lord God of hoſts hath b a ſaſtice in the North country by the riuer Perath.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, k and take balme, O virgine, the daughter of Egypt: in vaiſne ſhalt thou vie many m medicines: for thou ſhalt haue no health.

12 The nations haue heard of thy ſhame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the ſtrong hath ſtumbled againſt the ſtrong, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the Lord ſpake to Ieremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar king of Babel ſhould come and ſmite the land of Egypt.

14 Publiſh in Egypt and declare in Migdol, and proclaim in Noph, and in Tahpanhes, and ſay, Stand ſtill and prepare thee: for the ſworde ſhall denoue round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men put backe? they could not ſtand becauſe the Lord had driue them.

16 Hce made many to fall, and one fell vpon another: and they ſaid, Arise, let vs goe againe to our owne people, and to the land of our natiuitie from the ſworde of the violent.

and of a great multitude, hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I liue saith the king, whose Name is the Lord of hostes, Surely as Tabor is in the mountaines, & as Carmel is in the sea: so shall it come.
19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee geare to goe into captivity: for Noph shall be waste and desolate without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a faire calfe, but destruction cometh: out of the North it cometh.

21 Also her hired men are in the mids of her like leake calues: they are also turned backe and fled away together: they could not stand, because the day of their destruction was come vpon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall goe forth like a serpent: for they shall march with an army, & come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut downe her forest, Cuth the Lord: for they cannot be couered, because they are more then the grasshoppers, & are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit the y common people of No and Pharaoh and Egypt, with their gods, and their kings, euen Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliuer them into the bandes of those that seeke thee: lues, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hands of his seruants, and afterward she shall dwell as z in the old time, saith the Lord.

27 ¶ But feare not thou, O my seruant Iacob, and be not thou afraid, O Israel, for behold, I will deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie, and Iacob shall returne and be in rest & prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Feare thou not, O Iacob my seruant, saith the Lord, for I am with thee, and I will vtterly destroy all the nations, whither I haue driuen thee: but I will not vtterly destroy thee, but correct thee by iudgement, and not vtterly cut thee off.

CHAP. XLVII.

The word of the Lord against the Philistims.

The word of the Lord that came to Ieremiah the prophet against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote Azzah.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise vp out of the North, and shalbe as a swelling flood, and shal ouerflow the land, and all that is therein and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howle.

3 At the noise & stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the noise of his charres, and at the rubbing of his wheels: the fathers shall not looke backe to their children, for feeblenes of hands.

4 Because of the day that cometh to destroy all the Philistims, & to destroy Tyrus and Zidon, and all the rest that take their part: for the Lord will destroy the Philistims, the remnant of the yle of Caphtor.

5 Baldnesse is come vpon Azzah: Ashkelon is cut vp with the rest of their valleys. How long wilt thou cut thy selfe?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long wilt it be or thou cease to turne again into thy scabbard, rest and be still.

7 How can it cease, seeing the Lord hath giuen it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea banke? euen there hath he appointed it.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The word of the Lord against the Moabites, 36 Because of their pride and cruelty.

Concerning Moab, thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Woe vnto Nebo: for it is wasted: Kirithaim is confounded and taken: Migab is confounded and afraid.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshbon: for they haue defiled euill against it. Come, and let vs destroy it, that it be no more a nation: alio thou shalt be destroyed, O Madmen, and the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shalbe from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her litle ones haue caused their cry to be heard.

5 For at the going vp of Luhith, the mourners shall goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee and save your lues, and bee like vnto the cheath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemosh shall goe forth into captiuitie with his Priests and his Princes together.

8 And the destroyer shal come vpon all cities and no citie shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plaine shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 ¶ Curled bee he that deeth the worke of the Lord, negligently, and curled bee he that keepeth backe his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath bene at rest from his youth, and hee hath ferled on his lees, and hath not bene i powered from vessell to vessell, neither hath hee gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remained in him, and his sent is not changed.

12 ¶ Therefore behold, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that I will send vnto him such as shall carie him away, and shall empie his vessels, and breake their botels.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 How thinke you thus, Wee are mightie and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, & his cities burnt vp, & his chosen yong men are gone down to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, The Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hath fast hold.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staffe broken, and the beautiful rod!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come vpon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 Thou that dwellest in Arcer, stand by the way, and behold: aske him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 m Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed: howle and cry, tell yee it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste, h Meaning, it is not possible that the wicked should by any means escape or fly the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

i These were cities of the Moabites, which Nebuchad nezzar took before he came to fight against Nebo king of Egypt.
j Thus shall the Babylonians encourage one another.

k As he calleth of Beth-el, not able to deliuer the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliuer y Moabites, 7 Ebs gone vp, or destroyed.
l How are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches.
m Thus they that see shall weare,

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine country, vpon Halon and vpon Iahazah, and vpon Mephath,

22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Nebo, and vpon the house of Diblathaim, 23 And vpon Kirithaim, and vpon Beth-gaurah, and vpon Beth-neon,

24 And vpon Kirioth, & vpon Buzrah, and vpon all the cities of the land of Moab far or neere.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, & his arme is broken saith the Lord.

26 Make yee him drunken: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall wallow in his vomite, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For didst not thou deride Israel, as though he had bin found among theeues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art as moued.

28 O yet that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, and be like the doue that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 We haue heard the pride of Moab, because exceeding proud his stoutnes, and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the haughtines of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the Lord, but it shall not be low: and his distimulations, for they doe not right.

31 Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab: mine hearts shall mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee, as I wept for Iazer: thy plants are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the sea of Iazer: the destroyer is fallen vpon thy summer fruits, & vpon thy vintage.

33 And ioy, and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull fildes, and from the land of Moab: and I haue caused wine to faile from the winepress: none shall tread with shouting: their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elalch, and vnto Iahazah they made their noise: from Zoar vnto Horonaim, the heifer of three yere old shall goe lowing: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be wasted.

35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the hie places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a shawme, and mine heart shall found like a shawme for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 For every head shall be bald, and every beard plucked: vpon all the hands shall be cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall be vpon all the house tops of Moab, and in all the streets thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessel wherein no pleasure saith the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying, How is hee destroyed? how hath Moab turned the backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, the shal flee as an eagle, and shal spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strong holdes are wonne, & the mighty mens hearts in Moab at y day shal be as the heart of a woman in trouble.

42 And Moab shal be destroyed from being a people, because he hath let y himselfe against the Lord.

43 Ye feare, and pit, and snare shal be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, & he that getteth vpon the pit, shal be taken in the snare: for I will bring vpon it, when vpon Moab, the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood vnder the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force: for the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 Woe bee vnto thee, O Moab: the people of Chemoth perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet wil I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the latter dayes, saith the Lord, Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel.

CHAP. XLIX.

The word of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Idumea. 23 Demetrius. 28 Kedar. 34 and Elam.

Vnto the children of Ammon, thus saith the Lord, Hath Israel no sonnes? or hath he none heire? Why then hath their king possessed Gad? and his people dwell in his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will cause a noise of war to bee heard in 40 Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall bee a desolate heape, and her daughters shall bee burnt with fire: then shall Israel possess those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted cry yee daughters of Rabbah: gird you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall go into captiuitie, and his Princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: thee trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a feare vpon thee saith the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and yee shall be scattered euery man right forth, and none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 ¶ To Edom thus saith the Lord of hostes, I wisdome no more in Teman: is counsel perished from their children? is their wisdome vanished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue some grapes? If theuees come by night, they will destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Esau: I haue vnicouered his secrets, and he shal not be able to hide himselfe: his seed is wasted, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and there shal be none to say,

11 Leaueth my fathers children, and I will preserve them alius, and let thy widows trust in mee.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cup, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shal escape free? thou shalt not go free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

For who is like mee? and who will appoynt mee the time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me?

31 ¶ Arise, and get you vp vnto the weedy nation that dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which hath neither gates nor barres, but dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a boote, and the multitude of their cattell a spoyle, and I will scatter them into all winds, and to the utmost corners, and I will bring their destruction from all the sides thereof, saith the Lord.

33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and a delolation for euer: there shall no man dwell there, nor the sonnes of men remaine in it.

34 ¶ The words of the Lord that came to Ieremah the Prophet, concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedekiah king of Iudah, saying,

35 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will breake the bow of Elam, even the chiefe of their strength.

36 And vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the four quarters of heauen, and will scatter them toward all these windes, and there shall be no nation, whither the fugitiues of Elam shall nor come.

37 For I will cause Elam to bee affrayd before their enemies, and before them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a plague, even the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, and I will den the sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

38 And I will set my throne in Elam, & I will destroy both the king & the princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in the latter daies I will bring againe the captiuitie of Elam, saith the Lord.

CHAP. I.

Here propheseth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliurance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

THe word that the Lord spake concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Caldeans, by the ministry of Ieremah the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and let vp a standart, proclaim it and cencele it not: say, Babel is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken downe, her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

3 For out of the North there cometh vp a nation against her, which shall make her lande waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man and beaſt.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, sayeth the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping shall they go, and seeke the Lord their God.

5 They shall aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetuall couenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 ¶ My people hath bene as lost sheepe: their shepherds haue caused them to goe astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from a mountaine to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

7 All that found them haue deuoured them, & their enemies sayde, Wee offend not because they haue sinned against the Lord, the habitation of iustice, even the Lord the God of their fathers.

8 ¶ Flee from the mids of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and be ye as the hee goats before the flocke.

9 For loe, I will raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mighty nations from the North countrey, and they shall flit themselves in aray against her, whereby shee shall be taken: their arrowes shall be as of a strong man, which is expell, for none shall returne in vaine.

10 And Caldea shall be a spoyle, all that spoyle her,

g That is, Persia, to calles of Elam: the son of Sennacherib. Because the Persians were good archers, he thought that the thing wherein they put their trust should not profit them.

i I will place Nebuchad-nezzar there, and in these propheticall words I speaketh of those countries which should be subdued vnder the fist of those few monarchies who - of Daniel maketh mention.

k This may be referred to the empire of the Persians & Medes after the Caldeans or vnto the time of Christ, as chap. 45. 47.

b Who was king of Syria.

c And hee built the palaces, which were called the palaces of Ben hadad.

d Meaning, the Arabians, and their borderers.

e Because they pleased to dwell in tents, he nameth the things that pertaine therunto.

f The enemies will dwell in your places.

g He sheweth that they of Hazor will flee to the Arabians for succour, but that shall not auail them.

I shall be made rich thereby.

For Ioy of the victory that yee had against my people.

o He speaketh to the enemies of the Medes and Persians.

p Though the Lord called the Babylonians his servants, and their work his works. In punishing his people, yet because they did it not to glorify God, but for the own malice, and to profit themselves, it is here called sin.

her, I shall be satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because yee were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, and because yee are grown fat, as the calves in the grass, and nayed like strong horses.

12 Therefore your mother shall be sore confounded, and the that bare you, shall be ashamed: behold, the vtmost of the nations shall be a desert, a dry land, and a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: euerie one that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, and hisle at all her plagues.

14 O Put your selues in aray against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoote at her, spare no arrows: for shee hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Crie against her round about: these hath I giuen her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as shee hath done, doe vnto her.

16 Destroy the tower from Babel, and him that handleth the steth in the time of harvest: because of the sword of the oppressour they shall turne euery one to his people, and they shall flee euery one to his owne land.

17 Israel like scattered sheepe: the lions haue disperied them: first the king of Asshur hath deuoured him, and last this Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will visite the king of Babel, and his land, as I haue visited the king of Asshur.

19 And I will bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soule shall be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those daies, and at that time, saith the Lord, the iniquitie of Israel shall be fought for, and there shall be none: and the finnes of Iudah, and they shall not be found: for I will be mercifull vnto them, whom I reuerse.

21 Goe vp against the land of the rebels, euen against it, and against the inhabitants of // Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and doe according to all that I haue commanded thee.

22 A crie of battell is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the hammer of the whole world destroyed, and broken: how is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I haue incared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, & hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hostes in the land of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her from the vtmost border: open her store houses, tread on her as on sheapes, and destroy her vterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her bullockes: let them goe downe to the slaughter. Wo vnto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babil, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call vp the archers against Babel all ye that bend the bow, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her worke, and according to all that shee hath done, doe vnto her: for shee hath bene proud against the Lord, euen against the holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her yong men fall in the streets, and all her men of warre shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O proude man, saith the Lord God of hostes: for thy day is come, euen the time that I will visite thee.

32 And the proude shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, & it shall deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.

34 But their strong redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of hostes, he shall maintain their cause, that he may giue rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, sayeth the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wife men.

36 A sword is vpon the footslayers, & they shall doe: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.

37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their chariots, and vpon all the multitude that are in the mids of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoyled.

38 A drought is vpon her waters, and they shall be dried vp: for it is the land of grauen images, and they doe vpon their idoles.

39 Therefore the Jims with the Jims shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation vnto generation.

40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorah with the places thereof neere about, saith the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the sonne of man remaine therein.

41 Behold, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised vp from the coastes of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bowe and the buckler: they are cruel and vnmuricell: their voyce shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, and bee put in aray like men to the battell against thee O daughter of Babel.

43 The king of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: sorrow came vpon him, euen for as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, he shall come vp like a lion from the swelling of Iordan vnto strong habitation: for I will make Israel to rest, and I will make them to halte away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me.

45 Therefore heare the conspell of the Lord, that he hath deuised against Babel, and his purpose that he hath conceived against the land of the Caldeans: surely the least of the flocke shall

6 Why B. bylon is destroyed. 41. The vain confidence of the Babylonians. 43 The vanity of idols. 59 Ieremiash's speech to the people.

Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will raise vp against Babel, & against the inhabitants || that lift vp their heart against me, a destroying wind,

2 And will end vnto Babel fanners that shall fanne her, and shall empie her land, for in the day of trouble they shall empie her on euery side.

3 Al o to the bender that bendeth his bowe, and to him that lifeth himselfe vp in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her young men, but destroy all her hoste.

4 Thus the flaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 For Israel hath bene no widow, nor Iudah from his God, from the Lord of hostes, though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 ¶ Flee out of the middes of Babel, and deliuer euery man his soule. be not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lordes vengeance: hee will render vnto her a recompense.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cuppe in the 4 Lordes hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore doe the nations rage.

8 * Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: howle for her, bring balme for her sore, if she may be healed.

9 * We would haue cured Babel, but she could not be healed: forsake her, & let vs go euery one into his owne country: for her iudgment is come vp vnto heauen, and is lifted vp to the clouds.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our righteounes: come and let vs declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrowes: || gather the shields: the Lord hath raised vp the spirit of the king of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set vp the standard vpon the wals of Babel, make the watch strong: set vp the watchmen: prepare the fouts: for the Lord hath both deuided, and done that which hee spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, even the end of thy countourlesse.

14 The Lord of hostes hath sworn by himselfe, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men as with caterpillars, and they shall cry and shoute against thee.

15 * He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

16 Hee giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the beauen, and hee caufeth the cloudes to a cend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

17 Euery man is a beast by his owne knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

18 They are vanitie, and the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

19 The portion of Iacob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

20 Thou art mine hammer, and weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdomes, 21 And by thee will I breake horse and horfman, and by thee will I breake the charut and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also will I breake man and woman, and by thee will I breake old & yong, and by thee will I breake the yong man and the maide.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepheard and his flocke, and by thee will I breake the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and by thee will I breake the dikes and princes.

24 And I will render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euill, that they haue done in Zion, even in your sight, saith the Lord.

25 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O destroying mountaine, saith the Lord, which destroyed all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and rolle thee downe from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations, but thou shalt be destroyed for euer, saith the Lord.

27 Set vp a standard in the land: blowe the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdomes of Ararat, Minni, and Afhchenaz against her: appoint the prince against her: caule horses to come vp as the rough caterpillars.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the Kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and forow: for the deuce of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her barres are broken.

31 A post shall runne to meete the post, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shewe the King of Babel, that his cite is taken on a side thereof,

32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fire, and the men of warre troubled.

33 For thus sayth the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a threshing floore: the time of her threshing is come: yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come.

34 Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babel hath deuoured me, and destroyed me: hee hath made me an empie vessell: he swallowed me vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

35 The poyle of me, and that which was left of me, I brought vnto Babel, shall the inhabitants of Zion say: and my blood vnto the inhabitants

I When God shall execute his vengeance.

o That is, the true God of Israel is our like: as the idols: for hee can helpe when all things are desperate.

o He meaneth the Medes & Persians, as he did before call the Babylonians his hammer, Chap. 51. 23.

o Not that Babylon stood on a mountaine, but because it was strong and seemed invincible.

p From this strong holds & fortresses.

q By these three nations he meaneth Armenia the higher, and Armenia the lower, and Syria: for Cyrus had gathered an army of diuers nations.

r Turning the course of the riuer on one side was made open, and the reeds that did grow in the water, were destroyed which Cyrus did by the counsell of Gobias and Gabatha Belshazzars captaine.

f When the shalbe cut vp & threshed.

g This is spoken in the person of the leues bewailing their state, and the distressed Babylonians.

Or, of the land that is left.

2 The Medes and Persians that shall destroy them as the winde doeth the chaffe.

3 Though they were forsaken for a time, yet they were not utterly cut off: as though their husband were dead.

4 Heltheweth that there remaineth nothing for them that abide in Babylon but destruction, Chap. 17. 6. and 48. 6.

5 By whom the Lord powered out the drinke of his vengeance to who it pleased him.

of Caldea, ſhall Ieruſalem ſay.

36 Therefore thus ſayeth the Lord, Behold, I will maintaine thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dry vp the ſea, and drie vp her ſprings.

37 And Babel ſhall be as heapes, a dwelling place for dragons, an aſtoniſhment, and an hiſſing, without an inhabitant.

38 They ſhall roare together like lions, and yell as the lions welepes.

39 In their hearts I will make them feaſts, and I will make them drunken that they may reioyce, and ſleepe a perpetuall ſleepe, and not wake, ſaith the Lord.

40 I will bring them downe like lambs to the ſlaughter, and like rams and goats.

41 How is Yſehſhach taken! and how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an aſtoniſhment among the nations!

42 The ſea is come vp vpon Babel: ſhe is covered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

43 Her cities are deſolate: the land is dry and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doeth the ſonne of man paſſe thereby.

44 I will alſo viſit Bel in Babel, and I will bring out of his mouth that which he hath ſwallowed vp, and the nations ſhall runne no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel ſhall fall.

45 My people goe out of the mids of her, and deliuer yee euery man his ſoule from the fierce wrath of the Lord,

46 Leaſt your hearts euen faint, and yee feare the rumour, that ſhall be heard in the land: the rumour ſhall come this yeere, and after that in the other byere ſhall come a rumour, and cruelty in the land, and ruler againſt ruler.

47 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, that I will viſit the images of Babel, and the whole land ſhall be confounded, and all her ſtaine ſhall fall in the middes of her.

48 Then the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, ſhall reioyce for Babel: for the deſtroyers ſhall come vnto her from the North, ſaith the Lord.

49 As Babel cauſed the ſtaine of Iſrael to fall, ſo by Babel the ſtaine of all the earth did fall.

50 Ye that e haue eſcaped the ſword go away, ſtand not ſtill: remember the Lord aſcare off, and let Ieruſalem come into your miade.

51 We are confounded becauſe we haue heard reproch: ſhame hath covered our faces, for ſtrangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lords Houſe.

52 Wherefore beholde, the dayes come, ſaith the Lord, that I will viſit her grauen images, and through all her land the wounded ſhall grone.

53 Though Babel ſhould mount vp to heauen, and though ſhe ſhould defend her ſtrength on high, yet from mee ſhall her deſtroyers come, ſaith the Lord.

54 A found of a cry cometh from Babel, and great deltruction from the land of the Caldeans.

55 Becauſe the Lord hath layde Babel waſte, and deſtroyed from her the great voyce, and her waues ſhall roare like great waters, and a found was made by their noiſe:

56 Becauſe the deſtroyer is come vpon her, aſen vpon Babel, and her ſtrong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lord God that recompenteth, ſhall ſurely recompence, 57 And I will make drunke her Princes, and her wiſe men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her ſtrong men: and they ſhall ſleepe a perpetuall ſleepe, and not wake, ſaith the King, whole Name is the Lord of hoſtes.

58 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, The thicke wall of Babel ſhall be broken, and her high gates ſhall be burnt with fire, and the people ſhall labour in vaine, and the ſolke in the fire, for they ſhall be wearie.

59 The word which Ieremiah the Prophet commanded ſheraiah the ſonne of Neriah, the ſonne of Maſſaiah, when he went with Zedekiah the King of Iudah into Babel, in the fourth yeere of his reigne: and this ſheraiah was a peaceable Prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that ſhould come vpon Babel, euen all theſe things, that are written againſt Babel.

61 And Ieremiah ſaid to ſheraiah, When thou commeſt vnto Babel, and ſhalt ſee, and ſhalt reade all theſe words, 62 Then ſhalt thou ſay, O Lord, thou haſt ſpoken againſt this place, to deſtroy it, that none ſhould remaine in it, neither man nor beaſt, but that it ſhould be deſolate for euer.

63 And when thou haſt made an end of readeing this booke, thou ſhalt binde a ſtone to it and caſt it in the middes of Euphrates.

64 And ſhalt ſay, Thus ſhall Babel be drowned and ſhall not riſe from the euill, that I will bring vpon her: and they ſhall be wearie. Thus ſaith the words of Ieremiah.

CHAP. LII.

4 Ieruſalem is taken. 10 Zedekiahs ſonnes are liſted before his face and his eyes put out. 13 The citie burned. 31 Iehoiachin brought forth of priſon and ſet him a King.

Zedekiah was one and twentie yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eluen yeeres in Ieruſalem, & his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euill in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiachin had done.

3 A Doubteſſe becauſe the wrath of the Lord was againſt Ieruſalem and Iudah, till he had caſt them out from his preſence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled againſt the king of Babel.

4 But in the ninth yeere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, hee and all his hoſt againſt Ieruſalem, and pitched againſt it, and built forts againſt it round about.

5 So the citie was beſieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of the King Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was ſore in the citie, ſo that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the citie was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the citie by night, by the way of the gate betwene the two walles, which was by the Kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the citie round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the armie of the Caldeans purſued after the king, and took Zedekiah in the deſert of Tericho, and all his hoſte was ſcattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the King and caſt him vp vnto the king of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgment vpon him.

10 And the king of Babel ſlew the ſonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes: he ſlew alſo all the princes of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babel bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fifth month in the 4 tenth day of the month (which was the nineteenth yeere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which stood before the king of Babel in Ierusalem,

13 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the walles of Ierusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue certain of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fledde, and fallen to the king of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the land, to dresse the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the pillars of brasie that were in the House of the Lord, and the bafes, and the brazen Sea, that was in the house of the Lord the Caldeans brake, and carried all the brasie of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the s becons, and the instruments of musike, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasie where-with they ministred, tooke they away.

19 And the bolles, and the asphans, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cups, and all that was of golde, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away.

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brazen bulles, that were vnder the bafes, which King Salomon had made in the House of the Lord: the brasie of all these vessels was without height.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eigheteene cubites, and a threede of twelue cubits did compasse it, and the thicknesse thereof was foure fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapter of brasie was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fve cubites with networke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, all of brasie: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto thefe.

23 And there were ninetie and sixe pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranates vpon the networke were an hundred round about.

24 And the chiefe steward tooke Sheraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 Hee tooke also out of the citie an Eunuch, which had the outfight of the men of waire, and seven men that were in the kings prefence, which were found in the citie, and Sophar captaine of the hoste, who mustered the people of the land, and threecore men of the people of the land, that were found in the middles of the citie.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the King of Babel smote them, and slewe them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Iudah was carried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whome Nebuchad-nezzar carried away captiue, in the 7 seuenth yeere, euen thre thousand Iewes, and three and twentie.

29 In the 18 eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar, he carried away captiue from Ierusalem eight hundred thirtie and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue of the Iewes seven hundred and fourtie and sixe persons: all the persons were foure thousand and fixe hundred.

31 And in the feuen and thirtieth yeere of the captiuitie of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, in the twelfth month, in the fve and twentieth day of the month, Evil-merodach king of Babel, in the first yeere of his reigne, lifted vp the head of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, and brought him out of prison.

32 And spake kindly vnto him, & set his throne about the throne of the kings, that were with him in Babel.

33 And changed his prison garments, and he did continually eate bread before him all the dayes of his life.

34 His portion was a continuall portion giuen him of the king of Babel, euery day a certain, all the dayes of his life vntill he died.

i But because of the roundnesse no more could be fene but nicotie and fice.

k Which fered in the high Priests fist, if he had any necessary impediment.

l In the 2. King. 25. 19 is read but of fice: thole were the most excellent, and the other two, which were not so noble, are not there mentioned with them.

m Which was the latterend of the seuenth yeere of his reigne, and the beginning of the eight.

n In the latterend also of this yeere, and the beginning of the nineteenth.

LAMENTATIONS.

CHAP. I.

1 The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Ierusalem. 5 And sheweth that they are plagued because of their sinnes. The first and second Chapter begin euery verse according to the letters of the Hebrew Alphabet. The third hath three verses for euery letter, and the fourth is as the first.

How doeth the city remaine solitary that was full of people? shee is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, and a princeesse among the prouinces, is made tributarie.

2 She weepeth continually in the night, and her teares runne downe by her cheekes: among all her belouers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friends haue dealt vnfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

3 Iudah is carried away captiue, because of a delict, and because of great erudite: she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecutors tooke her in the straits.

4 The wayes of Zion lament, because no man commeth to the solemne feasts, all her gates are desolate, her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and she is in heavinesse.

5 Her aduersaries are the chiefe, and her enemies proper, for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beautie is departed: her princes are become like f For her crueltie toward the poore and oppression of Ieremiahs, Iere. 34. 11.

g As they vied to come vp with, mirth and ioy, Ier. 42. 4.

h Her belouers, i That is, haue rule over her, Deut. 33. 44.

d In the 2. King. 25. 8. it is called the seuenth day, because the fire began then, and so continued to the tenth.

e That is, which was his seruant, as 2 Kings 25. 8.

f Of these pillars, read 2. King. 7. 15.

g Which were also made of brasie, as 2. King. 7. 45.

h It was so much in quantitie.

a The Prophet wondereth at the great indgement of God, seeing Ierusalem, which was so strong and so full of people, to be so destroyed and desolate.

b Which had chiefe rule over many prouinces and countreys. c So that she taketh no rest. d Meaning, the Egyptians and Assyrians, which promised helpe.

h As men pined away with sorow, and that have no courage.

i In her miserie she considered the great benefits and commodities that he had lost.

k At her religion and Ierusalem 20. God, which was the greatest grile to the gollie.

l She is not altered of her sinne, although it be manifest.

m Thus Ierusalem lamenteth mourning others to pity her, and to learne by her example.

n Thus Ierusalem lamenteth mourning others to pity her, and to learne by her example.

o This declareth that we should acknowledge God to be the author of all our afflictions, to the intent that we might seeke vnto him for remedie.

p Mine heauie sinnes are continually before his eyes, as he that ethen a thing to his hand for a remembrance.

q He hath troden down vnder foote as they that tread grapes in the winepresse.

r. ere. 14. 17. chap. 2. 8.

s Which became of her pollutions was separate from her husband, Ier. 17. 19, and was abhorred for the time.

t Eldr. mouth.

u That is, they desired nanger.

h As Harts that finde no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembred the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things that shee had in times past, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did helpe her: the aduersaries sawe her, and d. d. mocke at her Sabbathes.

8 Ierusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore shee s. in der. son: all that honoured her, despite her because they haue seene her filthinesse: yea, shee figheth and turneth backward.

9 Her filthinesse is in her skirts: she remembred not her last end, therefore shee came downe wonderfully: she had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction, for the enemy is proud.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand vpon all her pleasant things: for shee hath seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuary, whom shee thou diddest command, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh and seeke their bread: they haue giuen their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soule: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue ye no regard, all yee that passe by this way? behold and see if there be any sorow like vnto ray sorow, which is done vnto me, where-with the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From aboute hath hee sent fire into my bones, which preuailth against me: hee hath spread a net for my feet, and turned me backe: he hath made me deolate, and daily in heauieesse.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound vpon his hand: they are wrapped, and come vpon vpon my necke: hee hath made my strength to fill: the Lord hath deliuered me into their hands, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lord hath troden vnder foote all my valiant men in the middes of me: he hath called an assembly against me to destroy my young men: the Lord hath troden the winepresse vpon the virgine the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I weepe: mine eye, mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that should refresh my soule, is farre from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy preuailed.

17 Zion stretcheth out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iakob round about him: Ierusalem is as a menstruous woman in the middes of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his commandement: heare I pray you, all people, and behold my sorow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceived me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the cite while they sought their meate to refresh their soules.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heauinesse: the sword spoileth abroad as death aboute at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, haue there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: doe vnto them, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighes are many, and mine heart is heauie.

CHAP. II.

1 Now hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath: and hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beaute of Ierusalem, and remembred not his footstool in the day of his wrath.

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iakob, and not spared: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Iudah: hee hath cast them downe to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the horn of Irael: hee hath drawn backe his right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iakob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersary, and slewe all that was pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion, he poured out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: hee hath deuoted Irael, and consumed all his palaces: hee hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For hee hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden hee hath destroyed his Congregation: the Lord hath coued the Feasts and Sabbathes to bee forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his Altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuary: he hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the wals of her palaces: they haue made a noise in the house of the Lord, as in the day of offlennitie.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he stretched out a line: he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunke to the ground: he hath destroyed and broken her barres: her king and her princes are among the Gentiles: the Lawe is no more, neither can her Prophets receiue any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit vpon the ground and keepe silence: they haue cast vp dust vpon their heads: they haue girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgines of Ierusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liuer is powdered vpon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings liue in the streets of the cite.

12 They haue said to their mothers, Where is bread and drinke? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the cite, and when they gaue vp the ghost in their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take to winnesse for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter

1 Of desiring vengeance against the enemy, read Ier. 1. 16, and 18. 2. 1. For gather them like grapes.

2 That is, brought her from prosperity into adversity.

3 Bath giuen her a mist ere fall.

4 Alluding to the Temple, or to the Ark of the covenant, which was called the footstool of the Lord, because they should not let their minds follow, but liue in low, but liue in low, but liue in low.

5 Meaning, the glory and strength, as Sam. 1. 2.

6 That is, his sin: which he was wont to send vs, when our enemies oppressed vs.

7 Showing that there is no remedy but destruction, where God is the enemy.

8 As the people were accustomed to praise God in the solemn feasts with a loud voice, for now the enemies blaspheme him with shouting and crying.

9 This is a figurative speech, as that was, when he said, the wayes did lament, Chap. 1. 4.

10 meaning, then this sorow was so great that the infernall things had their part thereof.

11 For, fude.

12 For, faine.

13 For, wheat and wine.

14 Meaning, that her calamity was so euident, that it needed no witnesses.

daughter Ierusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?

14 Thy prophets haue looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, and they haue not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false prophesies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clap their hands at thee: they hisse and wag their head vpon the daughter Ierusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call, The perfection of beauty, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs denoue it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found and seene it.

17 * The Lord hath done that which hee had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that hee had determined of old time: he hath thrown downe, and not spared: he hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and let vp the horn of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart cryed vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zion, let teares runne downe like a riuer, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the Watches powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Beholde, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eate their fruit, and children of a spanne long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young and the olde lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fill'd by the sword: thou hast slaine them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed, & not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my || terrous round about, so that in the day of the Lordes wrath none escaped nor remained: thou that I haue nourished and brought vp, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

I Am the man that hath seene a affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: hee turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath hee caused to waxe old, as he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me and compassed me with gall and labour.

6 He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 Hee hath hedged about me, that I cannot get out: he hath made my ch. ineshuane.

8 Also when I cry and shout, hee shattereth out my prayer.

9 He hath stopped vp my wayes with hewen stone, and turned away my pathes.

and eatech them to clinke that they are not heard, which thing they might pray more carefully and the utter. d And keepr eth me in hold as a prisoner.

10 * He was vnto me as a beare lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath stopp'd my wayes, and pulled mee in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, & made me a marke for the arrow.

13 He caused the arrowes of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, & made me drunken with wormewood.

16 He hath all broken my teeth with stones, and hath couered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgot prosperitie.

18 And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord.

19 Remembering mine affliction, and my mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords mercies that wee are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed euery morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord my || portion, faith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them that trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his youth.

28 Hee sitteth alone, and keepeth silence because he hath borne it vpon him.

29 Hee putteth his mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

30 Hee giueth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though hee end affliction, yet will hee haue compass. on according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not punish || willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

34 In stamping vnder his feete all the prisoners of the earth,

35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most high,

36 In subverting a man in his cause: the Lord seeth it not.

37 Who is he then that saith, and it commeth to passe, and the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most high proceeded not euill and good?

39 Wherefore then is the liuing man sorrowfull? he can asseck for his sinne.

40 Let vs search and trie our wayes, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp our hearts with our hands vnto God in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned, and haue rebelled, thou seest thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast couered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slaine, and not spared.

44 Thou hast couered thy face with a cloude, that our prayer should not passe thow.

He hath no pitie on me.

1 Ebr. Iouer, 1 With great anguish and sorrow hee hath made me to lole my sense

2 I thus with paine was in duertion and in betwene hope and despaire, as he godly times: yet in the end the Spirit getteth the victory.

4 Considering the wickedness of man it is marvellous that he remaineth alive: but only that God put his owne mercies to the test, & for his promise, will neuer haue his Church to remaine, though they be neuer so few in number, Isa 1.9.

5 We seee that he benefits daily.

6 The godly put their whole confidence in God, and therefore iooke for none other inheritance, as Psal. 138.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Ichoiachim by the counsell of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yielded himselfe to Nebuchad-nezzar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his princes, and of the people, certaine began to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied, should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should bee still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof hee confirmeth his former prophecies, declaring by new visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the cure should most certainly bee destroyed, and the people grievously tormented by Gods plague, in such that they that remained, should bee brought into cruell bondage. And lest the goale should despair in these great troubles, hee assureth them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies, whiche either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should be chiefly performed vnder Christ, of whose in this booke are many notable promises, and in whome the glory of the new Temple should perfectly bee restored. Hee prophesied these things in Caldea, at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, and there began in the fifth yeere of Ichoiachims captiuitie.

3 The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the river Chebar, where the ^d hand of the Lord was vpon him.
4 And I looked, and beheld, ^e a whirlwind came out of the North, a great cloud and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the middes thereof, ^f to me, in the middes of the fire ^g came out as the likenesse of ^h flamber.
5 Also out of the middes thereof came the like-nesse of ⁱ foure beasts, and thus was their forme:
they had the appearance of a man.
6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.
7 And their feet were straight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.
8 And the hands of man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, and they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were ioyned by their Wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.
10 And the similitude of their faces was as ^h the face of man: and they foure had the face of a lyon on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an Eagle.
11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out about: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two couered their bodies.
12 And euery one went straight forward: they went whither their spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.
13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coales of fire, and like the appearance of lampes: for the fire ran among the beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.
14 And the beasts ranne, and ⁱ returned like vnto lightning.
15 ^j Now as I beheld the beasts, beholde, a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beast, hauing foure faces.
16 The fashion of the wheeles and their worke was like vnto a chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their fashion, and their worke was as one wheele in another wheele.
17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.
18 They had also ^k rings, and height, and were flexible to behold, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them foure.

21 When the beaſts went, they went, and when they ſtood, they ſtood, and when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheels were lifted vp beſides them: for the ſpirit of the beaſts was in the wheels.

22 And the ſimilitude of the firmament vpon the head of the beaſts was wonderfull, like unto chryſtall, ſpread ouer their heads above.

23 And vnder the firmament were their wings ſtraight, the one toward the other: euery one had two which covered them, and euery one had two, which covered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noiſe of their wings, like the noiſe of great waters, and as the voyce of the Almighty, euen the voyce of ſpeech, as the noiſe of an hoſt: and when they ſtood, they met downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce from the firmament that was ouer their heads, when they ſtood, and had lee downe their wings.

26 And about the firmament that was ouer their heads, was the faſhion of a throne like vnto a Saphir ſtone, and vpon the ſimilitude of the throne was by appearance, as the ſimilitude of a man about vpon it.

27 And I ſaw as the appearance of amber, and as the ſimilitude of fire round about within it to looke to, euen from his loynes vpward: and to looke to, euen from his loynes downward, I ſaw as a likenefſe of fire, and brightneſſe round about it.

CHAP. II.

The Prophet is sent to all the people from their errors.

And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, stand vp vpon thy fete, and I will speake vnto thee.

3 And the spirit entred into me, when he had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my fete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

4 And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against mee: for they and their fathers haue rebelled against mee, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are impudent children, and stiffe hearted: I do send thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not heare, neither in deede will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that I have had bene a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man, I charge them not, neither be affraid of their words, although rebels & scorpions: feare not their words, nor be affraid at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my words vnto them, but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeed cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heare what I say vnto thee: be not thou rebellious, like the rebellious house: open thy mouth, and I eat that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, an hand was sent vnto mee, and becau a roule of a booke was therein.

10 And he spred it before me, & it was written within and without, & there was written therein, g Lamentations and mourning, and woe.

11 And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, I charge thee, be not thou rebellious, like the rebellious house: open thy mouth, and I eat that I giue thee.

12 And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, I charge thee, be not thou rebellious, like the rebellious house: open thy mouth, and I eat that I giue thee.

CHAP. III.

The Prophet being fed with the word of God, and with the consolation bolowise of the spirit is sent vnto the people that were in captivity. 17 The office of true ministers.

Moreouer he said vnto me, Sonne of man, eate that thou findest: I eate this roule, and goe, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he gaue me this roule to eate.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, caue thy belly to eate, and fill thy bowels with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate, and it was in my mouth as sweet as hony.

4 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, go and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my words.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an vnknowne tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel.

6 Not to many people of an vknownen tongue, or of an hard language, whose words thou canst not vnderstand: yet if I should send thee to them they would obey thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey me: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiffe hearted.

8 Behold, I haue made thy face like iron, against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therefore, neither bee affaide at their lookes: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He said moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, receive in thine heart all my words that I speake vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares.

11 And goe and enter to them that are led away captiues vnto the children of the people, and speake vnto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not heare neither will they indeed cease.

12 Then the spirit tooke mee vp, and I heard behinde me a noyse of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noyse of the wings of the beasts that touched one another, and the rattling of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noyse of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lift me vp, and tooke me away, and I went in bitterness, and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon mee.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and remained there amongst them seven dayes.

16 And at the end of seven dayes the word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from mee.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou giest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that hee may liue, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednesse, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousnesse, and commit iniquitie, I will lay a stumbling block before him, and he shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning: hee shall die in his sin, and his righteous deedes which he hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and that he doeth not sinne, he shall liue, because hee is admonished: also thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he said vnto me, Arise, and go into this field, and I will there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, beholde, the glory of the Lord stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar, and I fell downe vpon my face.

24 Then the spirit entred into me, which I felt

4 Then take of them againe & cast them into the mids of the fire, and burne them in the fire: for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, This is Ierusalem: I haue set it in the mids of the nations, and countries that are round about her.

6 And he hath changed my iudgements into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreies that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements, and my statutes, and they haue not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Because your multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and yee haue not walked in my statutes, neither haue yee kept my iudgements: no, yee haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I euen I come againt thee, and will execute iudgement in the mids of thee, scilicet in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that I neuer did before, neither will doe any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the mids of thee, the fathers shall eat their sonnes, and the sonnes shall eat their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winde.

11 Wherefore as I liue, saith the Lord God, Surely, because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthinesse, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also destroy thee, neither

13 Thus shall mine anger bee accomplished, and I will cause my wrath to cease in them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know, that I the Lord have spoken it in my zeale, when I have accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations that are round about thee, and in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So thou shalt bee a reproch and shame, a chastisement and an astonishment vnto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute iudgments in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord haue spoken it.

CHAP. VI.

1 He sheweth that Jerusalem shall bee destroyed for their idolatrie.
2 Hee prophesie that a repynce of the sinners of the people, and their assistance.

A Gaine the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

3 Some of man, set thy face towards the * mountaines of Irael, and prophesie against them,

4 And say, Ye mountaines of Irael, heare the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the * mountaines and to the hilles, to the ri- uers and to the vallies, Behold, I, men I will bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your high places:

5 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images of the * Sunne shall be broken, and I will cast downe your flaine men before your idoles.

6 And I will lay the dead carkeies of the children of Irael before their idoles, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

7 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be deolare, and the high places shall be laid waste, so that your altars shall bee made waste and desolate, and your idoles shall bee broken and cease, and your images of the Sunne shall be cut in pieces, and your works shall be abolished.

8 And the flaine shall fall in the mids of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

9 Yet will I leaue a remnant, that you may haue some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countreys.

10 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shall be in captiuitie, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from mee, and for their eyes which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they shall be displeased in themselves for the cruels, which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would doe this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, Smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Irael: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 Hee that is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is nere shall fall by the sword, and he that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then shall ye know, that I am the Lord, when their flaine men shall be among their idoles round about their altars, vpon euery high hill in all the tops of the mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oake, which is the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idoles.

14 So will I stretch mine hand vpon them, and make the land waste, and deolare it: then from the wilderness vnto Diolath in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

The end of all the lawes of Irael, shall suddenly cease.

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Also the vntion of man, thus saith the Lord God, And come vnto the land of Irael: the end is come vpon the eare corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all * thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abominations shall bee in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, one euill, euen one euill is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it is watched for thee behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is nere, and not the founding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I will shortly powre out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have pity, for I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the rod flourisheth: pride hath budded.

11 Cruelty is risen vnto a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of their, neither shall there bee lamentation for them.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 An appearance of the Sonnes of God. 2 Ezekiel bringeth to Ierusalem in the fourth. 3 The Lord sheweth the Prophet the idolatry of the house of Israel.

AND in the sixt yeere, in the sixth month, and in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the Elders of Iudah sat before me, the hand of the Lord God fell there vpon mee.

2 Then I beheld, and loe, there was a likeness, as the appearance of fire, to looke to, from his loynes downward, and from his loynes upward, as the appearance of brightness, and like vnto amber.

3 And hee stretched out the likeness of an hand, and tooke me by an hanie locke of mine head, and the spirit lift me vp betwene the earth, and the heauen, and brought mee by a diuine vision to Ierusalem, into the entry of the inner gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the idole of indignation, which prouoked indignation.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I saw in the field.

5 Then said he vnto mee, Sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward the North. So I lift vp mine eyes toward the North, and behold, Northward, at the gate of the altar, this idole of indignation, was in the entry.

6 Hee said furthermore vnto mee, Sonne of man, seest thou not what they doe? mean the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause me to depaite from my Sanctuary: but yet tume thee and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, behold, an hole was in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, digge now in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, behold, there was a doore.

9 And hee said vnto mee, Goe in, and behold the wicked abominations that they doe here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and behold, here was euery similitude of creeping things, and k abominable beasts, and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seuentie men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the middes of them stood Iazaniah, the sonne of Shaphan, with euery man his censor in his hand, and the vapour of the incense went vp like a cloude.

12 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seen what the Ancients of the house of Israel doe in the darke, euery one in the chamber of his imagerie: for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Again he said also vnto me, Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they doe.

14 And hee caused me to enter into the entry of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and behold, there sate women mourning for O Tammuz.

15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou seene this O sonne of man? Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these.

16 And hee caused mee to enter into the inner court of the Lords house, and beholde, at the doore of the Temple of the Lord, betwene the porch and the altar were about fise and twentie men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne, toward the East.

17 Then he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this O sonne of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they doe here? for they haue filled the land with crueltie, and haue returned to p rovoke me: and loe, they haue cast out their stinke before their noses.

18 Therefore will I also execute my wrath: mine

1 The destruction of the citie. 4 They that shall be saved, are marked: 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

HE cried also with a loud voyce in mine eares, saying, The visitations of a the citie draw neere, and every man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

2 And behold fixe men came by the way of the big gate, which lieth toward the North, and every man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among them was clothed with linnen, with a writers inkehorne by his side, and they went in, and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone vp from the Cherub, whereupon he was, and stood on the // doore of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linnen, which had the writers inkehorne by his side.

4 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Goe through the mids of the city, even through the mids of Ie-rusalem, and // set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that I bourned, and cry for all the abominations that moue in the mids thereof.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, Goe ye after him through the city, and limite: let your eye spare none, neither haue pity.

6 Destroy vnto the old, and the young, and the maid, and the children, and the women, but touch no man, vpon whom is the marke, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the banciet men, which were before the house.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the flaine, then goe forth: and they went out and flew them in the citie.

8 Now when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and crvied, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

9 Then said he vnto me, The iniquitie of the house of Israel & Iudah is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the city full of corrupt iudgement: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth us not.

10 As touching mee also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pity, but will recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And behold the man clothed with linnen, which had the ynhorne by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

1 Of the men that took the burning coales out of the middle of the wheels of the Cherubims. 8 A rebuke for the vision of the wheels of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

ANd as I looked, behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the Cherubims, there appeared vpon them like vnto the similitude of a throne, as it were a saphir stone.

2 And hee spake vnto the man clothed with linnen, and sayde, Goe in betweene the wheels, even vnder the Cherub, and fill thine hands with coales of fire from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord went vp from the Cherub, and stood ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloudes, and the court was filled with the brightnesse of the Lords glory.

5 And the found of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vtter court, as the voyce of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And when hee had commaunded the man clothed with linnen, saying, Take fire from betweene the wheels, and from betweene the Che-rubims, then hee went in and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hand from betweene the Cherubims vnto the fire that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linnen: who tooke it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenesse of a mans hand vnder their wings.

9 And when I looked vp, behold foure wheels were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a Chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance (for they were all four of one fashion) was as if one wheeled had bene in another wheele.

11 When they went forth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went; but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their // rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even in the same four wheels.

13 And the Cherub cryed to these wheels in mine hearing, saying, O wheele.

14 And every beast had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifte vp: * this is the beast that I saw at the riuer Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifte vp, they lifted themselves vp also: for the spirit of the beast was in them.

18 But the glory of the Lord departed from above the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lift vp their wings and mounted vp from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were besides them: and every one stood at the entrie of the gate of the Lordes House at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

20 * This is the beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I knewe that they were the Cherubims.

21 Every one had foure faces, and every one four wings, and the likenesse of mans hands was vnder their wings.

22 And the likenesse of their faces was the selfe same faces which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and the appearance of the Cherubims was the selfe same, and they went every one straight forward.

f It seemeth that this noble man died of some terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared some strange iudgement of God toward the rest of the people. g They that remained still at Ierusalem thus reproched them that were gone into captiuitie, as though they were cast off and forsaken of God.

h They shall be yet a little church: shewing that the Lord will euer haue some to call vpon his Name, whom he will preferre and restore, though they be for a time ascribed.

21 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that thou haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are prolonged, and all visions shall faile?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of euery vision.

24 For no vision shall bee any more in vaine, neither shall there bee any flattering diuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, and will performe it, saith the Lord God.

26 Again, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that hee seeth, is for many dayes to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God: All my wordes shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

¶ The word of the Lord against the prophets, whoe teach the people the counsailes of their owne hearts.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

29 Sonne of man, prophesie against the prophets of Israel, that prophesie, and say thou vnto them, that prophesie out of their owne hearts, Heare the word of the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe vnto the foolish prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes in the waste places.

5 Ye haue not stien vp in the gappes, neither made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they haue made vnholy to hope that they would confirme the word of their prophesie.

7 Haue ye not seene a vaine vision? and haue ye not caught a lying diuination? y say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie and haue seene lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God.

9 And mine hand shall be vpon the prophets that see vanitie, and diuine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceived my people, saying, Peace, & there was no peace: and one built vp a wall, and behold, the others daubed it with vntempered mortar.

11 Say vnto them which daube it with vntempered mortar, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great shewre, and I will send hailestones, which shall caue it to fall, and a stormy wind shall breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not bee said vnto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will cause a stormy wind to breake forth in my wrath, and a great shewre shall be in mine anger, and hailestones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I will destroy the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered mortar, and bring it downe to the ground, so that the foundation therof shall bee discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the mids thereof, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered mortar, and will say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof.

16 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophesie vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, let thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their owne heart: and prophesie thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe vnto the women that owe y pillows vnder all arme-holes, and make vailes vpon the head of euery one that standeth vp, to hunt soules: will ye hunt the soules of my people, and will ye giue life to the soules that come vnto you.

19 And will ye pollute mee among my people for handiuls of bariley, and for pieces of bread to slay the soules of them that should not die, and to giue life to the soules that should not liue, in lying to my people, that heare your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will haue to doe with your pillows, where-b Watching to destroy the vineyard.

c He speaketh to the gnostics and true mariners that should haue refilled them.

d Ye promised puerce to this people, and now ye see their destruction, so that it is manifest that ye are false prophets.

e That is, in the booke of life, wherein the true Israelites are written.

f Rede Iere. 6. 14

g Whereas the true Prophets prophesied the destruction of the citie to bring the people to repentance, the false prophets spake the contrary and flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false prophet said, (which is here called the building of the wall) an other false prophet would asseme, though he had nei- ther occasion nor good ground to asseme him.

h Whereby is meant whatsoever men of himselfe setteth forth vnder the authority of Gods word.

i These iniquitious women were here would prophesie and tell euery man historie giuing them pillows to leane vpon, & kettichies to couer their heads, so the intent they might the more allure them and bewitch them. k Will ye make my word to serue your bellies.

l These forgers made the people beleene that they could preclude life or destroy it, & that it should come to euery man according as they prophesied.

d When the king shall thinke to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net as Chap. 17. 20 and 23. 3.

f Because they did not immediately see the prophetie accomplished, they concerned them as though they should neuer be fulfilled.

g Or, take none of it.

c That is, shall not come to passe in your dayes, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked couer abuse Gods patience and benignitie.

21 Your vailes also will I teare, and deliuer my people out of your hand, and they shalbe no more in your hands to be hunted, and yee shal know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with your lies yee haue made the heart of the righteous fadde, whom I haue not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that hee should not returne from his wicked way, by promising him life.

23 Therefore yee shall see no more vanitie, nor diuine diuinations: for I will deliuer my people out of your hand, and yee shal know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

4 The Lord sendeth false prophecies for the multitude of the people. 22 He reuereth a small portion for his Church.

Then came certaine of the Elders of Israel vnto me, and a tale before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idoles in their heart, and put the stumbling blocke of their iniquitie before their face: should I being required, answer them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Every man of the house of Israel that stretch vp his idols in his heart and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquitie before his face, and cometh to the c^c Prophet, I the Lord will answere him that commeth, according to the multitude of his idoles:

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me through their idoles.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and withdraw your seules, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from mee, and setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquitie before his face, and cometh to a Prophet, to enquire of him for mee, I the Lord will answere him for my selfe.

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an example and prouerbe, and I will cut him off from the mids of my people, and yee shal know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the Prophet be deceived, when hee hath spoken a thing, I the Lord haue deceived that Prophet, and I will stretch out mine hand vpon him, and will destroy him from the mids of my people of Israel.

10 And they shal beare their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shalbe euen as the punishment of him that asketh.

11 That the house of Israel may goe no more astray from mee, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 The word of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

13 Sonne of man, when the land sinnech againe

a Hee sheweth the by possitoe of the idolaters, who will dissemble to heare the Prophets of God, though in their heart they follow nothing lesse then their admonitions, and also how by one meate or other God doth discouer them. b They are not onely idolaters in heart, but also worshipping their filthy idoles openly, which lead them in blindness, and cause them to stumble, and cast them out of Gods fauour, so that he will not heare them when they call vpon him, reade here so. 5. c To enquire of things which the Lord hath appointed to come to passe. d As his abomination hath descended: that is, he shall be led with lies according as hee delighted euery day. e Thee. f. 1. 10. e That is, conuince them by their owne conscience. f Or, by my selfe. g The Prophet deliuereth that God for his ingratitude punisheth vp false Prophets to induce them that deliue in lies rather then in the truth of God, and thus hepaueth some by sinne, 1. 14 Though these three men, i Noah, Daniel, and Iob were among them, they should deliuer but their owne soules by their righteousness, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noisome beasts into the land and they spoile it, so that it bee desolate, that no man may passe through, because of beasts:

16 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I lue, saith the Lord God, they shal saue neither sonnes nor daughters: they only shal be deliuered, but the land shalbe waste.

17 Or I will bring a sword vpon this land, and say, Sword goe thorow the land, so that I destroy man and beast out of it.

18 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I lue, saith the Lord God, they shal deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but they only shalbe deliuered themselves.

19 Or if I send a pestilence into this land, and powre out my wrath vpon it in blood, to destroy out of it man and beast.

20 And though Noah, Daniel, and Iob were in the mids of it, As I lue, saith the Lord God, they shal deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shal but deliuer their owne soules by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, How much more when I send my four fore iudgements vpon Ierusalem, even the sword and famine, and the noisome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it.

22 Yet behold, therein shalbe left a remnant of them that shalbe carried away, both ionnes and daughters: behold, they shal come soorth vnto you, and yee shal see their way, and their enterprises: and yee shalbe comforted, concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, even concerning all that I haue brought vpon it.

23 And they shal comfort you, when yee see their way & their enterprises: and yee shal know that I haue not done without cause all that I haue done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

As the unprouisable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Ierusalem shall be burnt.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, what cometh of the vine tree aboue all other trees? and of the vine branch, which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood bee taken thereof to doe any worke? or will men take a pin of it to hang any yessell thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the endes of it, and the mids of it is burnt. Is it meet for any worke.

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for any worke: how much lesse shall it be meete for any worke, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As the vine tree, that is, among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so will I giue the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shal goe out from one fire, and another fire shal consume them: and yee shal know, that I am the

The Prophet declares the benefits of God toward Ierusalem. 15 Their own misdeeds. 46 He justifies the wickedness of other people in comparison of the sinners of Ierusalem. 49 The cause of the abominations, inasmuch as the Sodomites resist. 61 Miracles promised to the repentant.

A Gaine, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

1 Sonne of man, cause Ierusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Ierusalem, Thine habitation and thy kindred is of the land of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy nativitie when thou wast borne, thy nauell was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor fawdled in clouties.

5 None eye piced thee to do any of these vnto thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open field to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I saw thee polluted in thine owne blood, and I said vnto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I saide vnto thee, Thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, thine haire is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, behold, thy time was as the time of loue, and I spread my skirts ouer thee, and covered thy filthinesse: yea, I swore vnto thee, and entered into a couenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oile.

10 I clothed thee also with brodered worke, and shod thee with badgers skinne: and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and I covered thee with filke.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets vpon thine hands, and a chaine on thy necke.

12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earerings in thine eares, and a beautifull crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt with gold and siluer, and thy raiment was of fine linnen, and filke, and brodered worke: thou didst eate fine flour, and hony oyle, and thou wast very beautifull, and thou diddest grow vp into a kingdom.

14 And thy name was spread among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perishe through my beautie which I had set vpon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Now thou didst trust in thine owne beautie, and playdest the harlot, because of thy raiment, and hast powdered thy fornications on euery one that passed by, thy desire was to him.

16 And thou didst take thy garments, and deckedst thine high places with diuers colours, and playdest the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither hath any done so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire iewels made of my gold and of my siluer, which I had giuen thee, and maddest to thy selfe images of men, and diddest commit whoredome with them,

18 And thoukest thy broyded garments, and coueredst them: and thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before them.

19 My meate also which I gaue thee, as fine flour, oyle and hony, wherein I fed thee, thou hast euen set it before them for a sweete sauour: thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreover thou hast taken thy sonnes and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne vnto mee, and these thou hast sacrificed vnto them, to be devoured: is this thy whoredome a small matter?

21 That thou hast slain my children, and deuoured them to cause them to passe through fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and whoredomes, thou hast not remembered the daies of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy wickednes (wo, wo vnto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 Thou hast also built vnto thee an hie place, and hast made thee an hie place in euery street.

25 Thou hast built thine hie place at euery corner of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy fete to euery one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbors, which haue great members, and hast increased thy whoredome, to prouoke me.

27 Behold, therefore I will stretch out mine hand ouer thee, and will diminish thine ordinance, and deliuer thee vnto the will of them that hate thee, euen to the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast inatable: yea thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weake is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, euen the worke of a presumptuous whorish woman?

31 In that thou buildest thine hie place in the corner of euery way, and makest thine hie place in euery streete, and hast not bene as an harlot that despiseth a reward,

32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband:

33 They give gifts to all other whores, but thou giuest gifts vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them that they may come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication,

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornications shall be after thee: for in that thou giuest a reward, and no reward is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, heare the word of the Lord.

36 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Because thy shame was powdered out, and thy filthines discovered through thy fornications with thy louers, n Thou hast converted thy vessels and instruments, which I gaue thee to serue me with, to the use of thine idoles, 38 And I will iudge thee after the manner of them that are harlots, and of them that shedde blood, and I will giue thee the blood of wrath, and ioulesse.

39 I will also giue thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thine hie place, and shall breake downe thine hie places: they shall strip thee also out of thy clothes, and shall take thy faire jewels, and leaue thee naked and bare.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my ioulesse shall depart from thee, and I will cease to be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the daies of thy youth, but hast prouoked me with all these things, behold, therefore I also haue brought thy way vpon thine head, saith the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

44 Behold, all that vse proverbs, shall vse this prouerbe against thee, saying, As the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter that hath cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of my sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thy elder sister is Samaria, and her daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and thy younger sister, that dwellect at thy right hand, is Sodom, and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it had bene a very litle thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I liue, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither thee nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, pride, fulnes of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her, & in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and needy.

50 But they were haughty, and committed a bomination before me: therefore I tooke them away, as plea'd me.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed halfe of thy finnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast defiled thy sisters in al thine abominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iustified thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy finnes, that thou hast committed more abominable then they which are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captiuitie, with the captiuitie of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters, euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the middes of them,

54 That thou mayest beare thine owne shame and mayest bee confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state: Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, & when thou and thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom I was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride,

57 Before thy wickednes was discovered, as in that same time of the reproch of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistims round about her which despise thee on all sides,

58 Thou hast borne therefore thy wickednesse and thine abominations, saith the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might euen deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou didst despise the oath, in breaking the covenant.

60 Neuertheless, I will remember my covenant made with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will confirme vnto thee an euerslasting covenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue thy sisters, both thy elder & thy younger, and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord, 63 That thou mayest remember, and be ashamed, & neuer open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

u Whereby he sheweth that among the most wicked he had euer some seede of his Church which he would cause to fruishe in due time: and here he declareth how he will call the Gentiles. o But of my free mercie. p This declareth what fruits Gods mercies worke in his, to wit, sorrow and repentance for their former liue.

5 He tooke also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful ground: hee placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded vp, and was like a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the roots thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shor forth buds.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this vine did turne her roots toward it, & spread forth her branches toward it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soile by great waters, that it should bring forth branches, and beare

d He joyeth the oblation of the commandments with repentance; for none can repent & be saved, except he labour to keep the Law. 107. nati. 10. h. charge.
e That is, in the fruits of his faith which declare that God doth accept him.

f He speaketh this to commend Gods mercie to poore sinners, who rather is ready to pardon, than to punish, as his long suffering declares, Chap. 33. 11. Albeit God in his eternall counsell appointed the death and damnation of the sinner, yet the end of this counsell was not their death onely, but chiefly his owne glory. And also because he doth not approve sinne, therefore it is here said that he would haue them to turne away from it, that they might liue. 107. nati. 10. h. charge.
g This is the false opinion that the hypocrites haue of their righteousness. In punishing the father which is children.
h He saith that man cannot forsake his wickedness, till his heart be changed, which is the worke of God.

be vpon him, and the wickednesse of the wicked shalbe vpon himselfe.

21 But if the wicked will returne from all his finnes that hee hath committed, and keepe all my statutes, and do that which is lawfull and right, he shall surely liue, and shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned vnto him, but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall liue.

23 I haue I any desire that the wicked should die, aith the Lord God? or shall hee not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

24 But if the righteous turne away from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and do according to all the abominations that the wicked man doth, shall he liue? all his righteousness that he hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that he hath committed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not be equalled now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equal? or are not your wayes vnequal?

26 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and commiteth iniquitie, hee shall euen die for the same, hee shall euen die for his iniquitie that he hath done.

27 Again, when the wicked turneth away from his wickednes that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawfull and right, he shall saue his soule aliae.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that hee hath committed, he shall surely liue, and shall not die.

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my wayes equal? or are not your wayes vnequal?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, euery one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne therefore, and cause others to turne away from all your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed, & make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For I desire not the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: cause therefore one another to returne, and liue ye.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The captivity of the king of iudah signified by the lions whelpes and by heliun. 10 The prosperity of ierusalem that is promised and the miseriee thereof that is present.

THou shalt take up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And say, Wherefore lay thy b mother as a lionesse among the lions? the nowified her yong ones among the lions whelps.

3 And he brought vp one of her whelps, and it became a lion, and it learned to catch the pray, as it deuoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, and hee was taken in their nets, and they brought him in chaines vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when shee sawe that hee had waited, and her hope was lost, shee tooke another of her d whelps, and made him a lion.

6 Which went among the lions, and became a lion, and learned to catch the pray, and hee deuoured men.

7 And he knew their widowes, & he destroyed their cities, and the land was wasted, and all that was therein by the noyse of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on euery side of the countreys, and layed their nets for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison and in chaines, and brought him to the king of Babel, and they put him in holds, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

10 Thy mother like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: shee brought forth fruit and branches by the abundant waters.

11 And shee had strong rods for the scepters of them that beare rule, and her stature was exalted among the branches, and shee appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But shee was plucked vp in wrath: shee was cast downe to the ground, and the East winde dried vp her fruit: her branches were broken and withered: as for the rod of her strength, the fire consumed it.

13 And now shee is planted in the wilderness in a drie and thirstie ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath deuoured her fruit, so that shee hath no strong rod to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

1 The Lord denieth that he will answere them when they pray because of their unkindnes. 33 He promitteth that his people shall returne from captivity. 46 By the foresight that should be borne, is promised the burning of ierusalem.

AND in the seventh yeere, in the sixt month, the tenth day of the month, came certaine of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, and saue before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, speake vnto the elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I liue, saith the Lord God, when I am asked, I will not answere you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man? wilt thou iudge them? cause them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers,

5 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when I choe Israel, and I lift vp mine hand vnto the seed of the house of Isaacob, and made my selfe knowne vnto them in the land of Egypt, when I lift vp mine hand vnto them, and said, I am the Lord your God,

6 In that day that I lift vp mine hand vnto them, to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had provided for them, flowing with milke & hony, which is pleasant among all lands,

7 Then saide I vnto them, Let euery man cast away the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me and would not heare me: for none cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, and in whose sight I made my selfe knowne vnto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

f Nebuchad-negar with his great army which was gathered of sundry nations.

g He speaketh this in the reproch of this wicked king, in whose blood, that is, in the face of his predecessors, ierusalem should haue bene blessed according to Gods promise, and should haue been a fruitful vine.

h Meaning, that the Cald. and should destroy ierusalem: the East wind deeth the fruit of the vine.

i Desolation is come by Zedekiah, who was the occasion of this rebellion.

a Of the captivity of ierusalem. b This declares the great iudgement and vengeance of God which shall follow to recompence before hee condemne them. c I say that I would be their God, which maner of words was objected from all antiquity, whereby they were selfe-witted and handwrote the heathen, acknowledging God the author of truth, and the defender thereof and also the iudge of the heart, wishing that he should take vengeance, if they concealed any thing which they knew to bee treith.

d God hath forbidden them to make mention of the idols. Exod. 32. 13. Psal. 104. 4. e Which thing declares the wickednes of mans heart, which iudges Gods seruice by their eyes and outward deces.

f God had done this respect to his glory, that hee would not haue his Name null spoken of the Gentiles for a That is, iehozabab and iehoiakim: iustifications, who fortie yeilde and euery are compared vnto lions. b To wit, iehozabab mother, or ierusalem. c By Pharaoh Nebuchad-negar king of Egypt, 2. King 23. 33.

d Which was iehoiakim. e He saith of the Prophets, and that hee feared God, and raised their whies.

10 Now I caried them out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gaue them my statutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them,* which if a man doe, he shall liue in them.

12 Moreover I gaue them also my * Sabbaths to bee a signe betwene mee and them, that they might know that I am the Lord, that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my iudgements, which if a man doe, he shall liue in them, and my Sabbaths haue they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them* in the wilderness to consume them,

14 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not bee polluted before the heathen, in whose fight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheless, I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had giuen them, flowing with milke and hony, which was pleasant aboue all lands,

16 Because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue polluted my Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idoles.

17 Neuertheless, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I said vnto their children in the wilderness, Walke ye not in the ordinances of your fathers, neither obserue their manners, nor desire your selues with their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God: walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements and doe them,

20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, and they shall bee a signe betwene me and you, that yee may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my iudgements to doe them, which if a man doe, hee shall liue in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.

22 Neuertheless, I withdrew mine hand and had respect vnto my Name, that it should not bee polluted before the Heathen, in whose fight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, & disperse them through the countries,

24 Because they had not executed my iudgements, but had cast away my statutes, and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I gaue them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements, wherein they should not liue.

26 And I polluted them in their owne gifts in that they caused to passe by the fire all that first openeth the wombe, that I might destroy them, to the end that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, yet in this your fathers haue blasphemed me, though they had before grievously transgressed against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to them, then they saw euery high hill, and all the thicke trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they preferred their offering of procuration: there also they made their sweet saviour, and powred out there their drinke offerings.

29 Then I said vnto them, What is the high place wherunto yee goe? And the name thereof was called * Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore, say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are yee not polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your gifts, and make your sonnes to passe through the fire, you pollute your selues with all your idoles vnto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue saith the Lord God, I will not answer you when I am asked.

32 Neither shall that bee done that cometh into your mind: for ye say, we will bee as the heathen, and as the families of the countreys, and serue wood and stone.

33 As I liue, saith the Lord God, I will surely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out, 34 And will bring you from the people, & will gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and will bring you into i bond of the covenant.

38 And I will chuse out from among you the rebels, and them that transgresse against me: I will bring them out of the land where they dwell, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, & you shall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, * Goe you, and serue euery one his idole, seeing that yee will not obey mee, and pollute mine holy Name no more with your gifts and with your idoles.

40 For in mine holy mountaine ~~in~~ in the high mountaine of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, & all in the land serue me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweet savor, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye haue bene scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And yee shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to your fathers.

43 And there shall yee remember your wayes, & all your workes, wherein ye haue bene defiled, and ye shall giue your selues worthy to be cut off, for all your euils that ye haue committed.

44 And yee shall know, that I am the Lord, when I haue respect vnto you for my Names sake, and not after your wicked wayes nor according to your corrupt workes, O yee house of 47 And say to the forest of the South, Heare the word of the Lord: thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will kinde a fire in thee, and it shall deuoure all the greene wood in thee, and all the dry wood: the continuall flame shall not be quenched, and euery face from the South to the North shall be burnt therein.

48 And all flesh shall see, that I the Lord haue kindled it, and it shall not be quenched. Then said I, Ah Lord God, they say of mee, Doest not hee speake 2 parables?

CHAP. XXI.

3 Hee sheweth the sword and destruction to Ierusalem. 23 He sheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 28 He is commanded to prophesie the destruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threatneth to destroy Nebuchadrezzar.

The word of the Lord came to me againe, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face toward Ierusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesie against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I come against thee, and will draw my sword out of his sheath, and cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous & wicked, therefore shall my sword goe out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the North,

5 That all flesh may know that I the Lord haue drawn my sword out of his sheath, and it shall not returne any more.

6 Mourn therefore, thou sonne of man, as in the paine of thy reines, and mourn bitterly before them.

7 And if they say vnto thee, Wherefore mournest thou then answer, Because of the bruit: for it commeth, and euery heart shall melt, and all hands shall weake, and all minds shall faint, and all knees shall fall away, as water: behold, it commeth, and shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Again, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, say, A sword, a sword both sharpe and fourbished,

10 It is shapened to make a fore slaughter, & it is fourbished that it may glitter: how shall we reioyce? for it contemneth the god of my sonne, as all other trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to be fourbished, that he may handle it: this sword is sharpe, and is fourbished, that hee may giue it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry, and howle, sonne of man: for this shall come to my people, and it shall come vnto all the princes of Israel: the terrors of the sword shall vpon my people: I finite therefore vpon thy thigh.

13 For it is a trial, I and what shall this bee, if the sword contemne euen the rod? It shall be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, sonne of man, prophesie and finite hand to hand, and let the sword be doubled: let the word that hath killed, returne the third time: it is the sword of the great slaughter entering into their priue chambers,

15 I haue brought the feare of the sword into all their gates, to make their heart to faint, and to multiply their ruines. Ah, it is made bright, and it is dreifed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee alone: goe to the right hand, or get thy selfe to the left hand, whither soeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will also finite mine hands together, & will caule my wrath to cease, I the Lord haue laid it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came vnto mee againe, saying,

19 Also thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sword of the king of Babel may come, both twaine shall come out of one land, and chuse a place, and chuse it in the corner of the way of the citie.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbah of the Ammonites, and p to Iudah in Ierusalem the strong citie.

21 And the King of Babel stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, consulting by diuination, and made his arrowes bright: hee consulted with idoles, and looked in the luer.

22 Arhis right hand was the diuination for Ierusalem to appoint captaynes to open their mouth in the laughter, and to lift vp their voice with shouting, to lay engines of war against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a forresse.

23 And it shalbe vnto them as a false diuination in their fight for the othes made vnto them: but he will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembered in discouering your rebellion, that in all your works your finnes might appeare: because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou prince of Israel polluted, and wicked, whose day is come, when iniquitie shall haue an end.

26 Thus saith the Lord God, I will take away the diademe, and take off the crowne: this shall be no more the same: I will exalt the humble, and will abase him that is high.

27 I will ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it shalbe no more vntill he come, whose right it is, and I will giue it him.

28 ¶ And thou sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemie: say thou, I say, The sword, the sword is drawn forth and fourbished to the slaughter, to consume because of the glittering.

29 Whiles they see vanity vnto thee, and prophesied a lie vnto thee, to bring thee vpon the neckes of the wicked that are slaine, whose day is come, when their iniquitie shall haue an end.

30 Shall I cause it to returne into his sheath? I will iudge thee in the place where thou wast created, euen in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will poure out mine indignation vpon thee, & will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the hand of beastly men, and skilful to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be in the fire to be deuoured: thy blood shall be in the middes of the land, and thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord haue spoken it.

n Provide for thy life: for thou shalt see Gods plague on all parts on this country.

o This was spoken because that when Nebuchadrezzar came against Ierusalem, his purpose was alio to go against the Ammonites: but doubting in the way, which enterprise would take first, he consulted with his soothsayers, and went against Ierusalem.

p That is, to the tribe of Iudah that kept themselves in Ierusalem.

q To know whether he should goe against the Ammonites, or the city of Ierusalem.

s Because there was a league betweene the Iewes and the Babylonians, any thing of Ierusalem that shalbe nothing leste that this thing should come to passe.

t That is, Nebuchadrezzar will remember the rebellion of Zedekiah, and so come vpon them.

x Some referre this to the Priestly attire: for the Priest went into captivity with the king.

y That is, vnto the comming of Messiah: for though the Iewes had some signe of gouernment afterward vnder the Persians, Greeks, and Romans, yet their situation was till Christ came.
